Comment

Linlithgow & Linlithgow Bridge (page 89)

I am objecting in the strongest terms to the site HLL12 Preston Farm Field being included in the LDP. It has AGLV status already because it provides stunning views to it from most parts of the south and west of town, and stunning views of the town and surrounding countryside from the field. It provides the historical setting for the Grade A listed Preston Hall, and Historic Scotland states that settings of such properties should also remain protected. The council itself has recommended that this field remain a special landscape area, so why is it not heeding its own advice? 4 species of bat (including one on the 'red' list) and a badger sett operate in the field, and they are protected under EU law. Indeed the proposed development would affect greatly the animals' ability to feed, and relevant wildlife groups are concerned their very survival would be put at risk. The site also borders the canal, now a National Monument, and building along it would not only crowd the canal, it would spoil the pastoral view (which is incidentally the first bit of countryside from the canal basin to the west) of the thousands of tourists who enjoy the canal. The field is 3.1 prime agricultural land, of which there is only 8% in Scotland. The Scottish Government advises that this type of land should not be built on, unless it's of benefit to the rural community. Linlithgow is now in no way rural - so this is surely another reason to hang on to the agricultural heritage of the town by preserving this beautiful piece of land. I am very concerned that the council has simply redrawn the boundary of the town to include EXACTLY the developer's plans for the site. It's as if the developer's 'calling the shots', and I wonder how much conversation on this issue has already taken place between the developer and the council. At this stage in the process, this sort of contact would be worrying indeed, especially as almost 40 objections from local residents to this site being included in the plan last October seem to have been ignored entirely. I am also incredibly concerned about the extra 140 cars (at least) that this development would introduce onto Deanburn Road and Preston Road. There are already traffic calming measures on both roads, and I have had meetings with councillors in the past over fears of child pedestrian safety. This site is as far as you can get from any public transport in the town, and the type of housing proposed leads me to believe the residents would primarily use private vehicles to travel. Air pollution is already a massive problem in a town which not only has a very busy high street, but is also bordered by a motorway. The Scottish government has started yet another campaign to combat air pollution, as previous ones don't appear to be working, and it concerns me very much that WL council is considering this site for housing when so many more vehicles would then be added to our already very crowded roads. There is strong local opposition to this site being included in the Proposed Plan, and I feel the 60-70 houses planned for the site are such a small percentage of the 20,000 WL Council has planned, that perhaps the council's time and resources should be spent on building homes where they are wanted and needed.

HLL-12 Preston Farm Field should not be re-zone from AGLV status for all the reasons given in my previous objection. The council has said it should stay a special landscape area (but is not heeding it's own advice: The site is rich in protected species, including bats, badgers and kingfishers: It is prime agricultural land (3.1), and the Scottish Government states this type of land should not be built on: It provides the historical setting for grade A listed Preston House, and the boundary of the field follows exactly the boundary of the parkland the house once inhabited: The field provides a breathing space for the increasingly traffic congested west of town, and can be seen and appreciated from most of the west of town: It is the introduction to Cockleroy: It houses the well-head that used to supply the Palace, and is therefore an even deeper part of our cultural heritage: It's more than greenbelt, it's AGLV.
