Comment

Linlithgow & Linlithgow Bridge (page 89)

I am a resident of Linlithgow and would like to register opposition from myself and my wife to the proposed local development plan on the following two grounds; My primary concern is that the increase in housing on the East side of Linlithgow will further overload both the local schooling and transportation infrastructure and thus will have a great detrimental impact on the local area. Already it is very difficult to drive through Linlithgow as the High Street is the only means of getting from the East side of the town towards the West (going to Glasgow) or the North of Scotland and the large increase in housing proposed for Edinburgh Road (Wilcoxholm Farm/Pilgrims Hill) will make this much worse. I am a resident [redacted] and commute to work by walking to the train station, a method of transportation I believe should be encouraged. However I am aware that even so I need to drive to drop my children at school and nursery and that most of my neighbors drive to work/school and so a large residential development here would cause a large increase in traffic through the Linlithgow High Street which is already congested. The existing local plan states; "6.30 The adopted Linlithgow Area Plan (1994) established the principle that Linlithgow had reached its environmental capacity. Problems of traffic congestion and parking in and around the High Street and station area are particularly acute and of justifiable concern to the community." The concerns and underlying reasons for them have not been removed but have become worse since them as even during the period of restraint many houses have been built in the Linlithgow area. There are opportunities to mitigate some of the negative effects through the creation of a new local access road as proposed by the Linlithgow and Linlithgow Bridge Community Council (<http://llbcc.org.uk/wp-content/uploads/2013/03/Plan-for-Future-Ed1-Sept-2015.pdf>). And by upgrading the M9 junction to the east of Linlithgow to a two way junction so that traffic to the North and West would not need to go through the center of Linlithgow. In my opinion these two upgrades to the local infrastructure would be essential before building more housing on Edinburgh Road. The draft plan recognizes some of this difficulty where it states on page 199 "Junction improvements required...impact on road capacity need detail consideration" however this is a very simplistic statement of a very difficult problem which would require significant and expensive infrastructure improvements to address. Similarly the local schooling is at capacity and so additional facilities would have to be built to accommodate the additional demand. What is needed in Linlithgow is high density, affordable housing (flats) built closer to the train station to reduce any extra traffic. There is opportunity to do this with a brownfield site available closer to town on Edinburgh Road which is currently earmarked for commercial development (a supermarket) despite only being a few minutes walk from another commercial development which currently has vacant lots. This principle is acknowledged in "POLICY EMG 6 Vacant, derelict and contaminated land" which states that "The redevelopment of vacant and derelict land is supported in principle provided that the proposal is compatible with other policies of the LDP". We believe that the redevelopment of this site into high density housing would best fulfill the policies in the LDP and only after this and other opportunities similar to it are fully explored should development onto green field sites further out from town be considered. My second area of concern is the encroachment of housing onto what is a beautiful countryside area. Linlithgow is a fantastic place to live, surrounded by pasture and arable farm land. The land immediately opposite the proposed Edinburgh Road development is part of the Bathgate Hills West Lothian Candidate "Special Landscape Area" which is also a West Lothian "Area of Great Landscape Value" (www.westlothian.gov.uk/media/4841/West-Lothian-Local-Landscape-Designation-Review/pdf/WestLothianLocalLandscapeDesignationReview\(LLDR\)-FinalReportJune2013.pdf-FinalReportJune2013.pdf)). Building on Edinburgh road will encroach onto this land and could damage some of the beautiful character of the town. This is in contradiction to "POLICY EIV 1 Landscape character and special landscape areas" which states that "Development will not be permitted where it may significantly and adversely affect local landscape character...". The land that it is proposed to build upon is a beautiful rolling hill which is a natural continuation of the Bathgate hills area and as such we believe that it would be more appropriate to designate this land a "Special Landscape Area" or a greenbelt area than to build a large estate upon it.
