Comment

The retention of the renamed HKn4 housing site at Station Road (south extension) is supported. The site was previously known as the HKn10 in the West Lothian Local Plan. The site owner is actively seeking development of the site, having submitted a planning application for the development of 35 retirement homes in 2014. Although the planning application was refused at committee earlier this year, it had been recommended for approval by planning officers. The outcome of a planning appeal is pending. The planning application has confirmed that the principle of retirement housing is acceptable as a means of overcoming the lack of primary school capacity in the short term. However, the site owners would be happy to develop either family housing or housing for older people should primary school capacity become available. The planning application has clarified the requirement for additional land to facilitate the primary school extension. The Council's Education Services has stated there is a need for an additional 0.2432 hectares of land to meet open space ratios for the expanded school. The planning application also facilitated transfer of the land required for the school extension to the Council at zero value by offsetting charges for affordable housing provision. This presents good value for the Council at a time of budgetary constraint. The arrangement will be secured if the planning appeal is successful and can be incorporated into any new planning application if necessary. Without allocation of the site, there is no option for the Council to acquire the land at no cost. It is noted that the Proposed LDP suggests the site has sufficient capacity to accommodate 30 houses on site area of 2.1 hectares. The site area currently includes a narrow strip of land at the north west boundary which is in other ownership and unlikely to be available for development. Other land at the north east of the site is also in other ownership, although access could conceivably be provided to enable development of a small number of houses. The site is considered to have a capacity greater than 30 units should smaller houses or retirement houses be proposed. This matter is currently being tested through the planning appeal. The LDP requires flood risk and drainage impact assessment for the site. These studies were undertaken in conjunction with the planning application and no significant issues were identified. It is noted that the Council expresses a commitment in the LDP to address local school capacity issues. This matter has been the subject of lengthy discussion between the Council and the site owners over a number of years and it has not appeared to be a priority for the Council in recent times. The Proposed LDP has presented the Council with an opportunity to resolve this issue directly by revising its housing land allocations for Kirknewton. Unfortunately, the council has not chosen to do so. The site owners would encourage the Council to revisit this issue and use its development planning powers to enable land owners to deliver the primary school extension. It would be helpful to clarify the true extent of remaining housing land at the HK11 site. Development at this site began perhaps 25 years ago but is not yet complete. The allocation could more accurately indicate the land available for further housing at this site. Whilst it is noted that the Council has established commitments to Comprehensive Development Areas elsewhere in the district, it is important that the quality and viability of existing settlements is also fully supported. Enabling housing development to proceed at Kirknewton is a sustainable means of accommodating the significant housing completion targets for West Lothian required by SESplan. As well as contributing towards housing completion targets, development of this site will help to support local services at Kirknewton, which are easily accessible. In addition, it is well located for access to regular train services to Edinburgh, Glasgow, Livingston and local stations. The site is within a hundred metres of Station Road, where local bus services run.
