3011	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I do feel that there is little enough children that get involved with music and feel that any further reductions would reduce music until it no longer exists as a subject. I feel that music is very important for children to express themselves and that exam results will be reduced greatly in music in west Lothian as the children no longer have the required assistance. I also think that it would create an unfair factor on the children who cannot afford music lessons as they will not improve as well as those who can afford lessons.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All pupils will experience Instrumental Music Tuition in Primary School through the Youth Music Initiative. It is proposed that some access to tuition will remain. 3012	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	This reduced instrumental tuition is a good idea as it goes mostly to wealthy pupils who could afford it anyway. 3013	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Cutting back instrumental staff would be a huge mistake. Music students (s1-s6) need the support from EVERY single music staff member. You cannot expect one music teacher to teach a class of 20, 2 instruments each. It's impossible and the teachers are amazing they do so much. For example my music teacher specialises in teaching piano, xylophone, vocals, keyboard and violin and she does a fantastic job. However this only satisfies 50% of her students. What about the students who want to play guitar or bass or drums or brass? What if they need extra support? Instrumental staff and music teachers really provide the support and passion that music needs as a subject. Both music teachers and instrumental staff are so inspiring and brilliant they have inspired me to become a music teacher. So please do not cut music by any means. It struggles as it is. Music provides so much. It's the only subject that I enjoy and it's provided me with so many life skills and has taught me so many lessons. So please don't take away what little Music has. 3042	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Reducing instrumental tuition is absurd. For most kids music is an escape and something to bond with others over. 3043	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I think this cut back is disgusting and unnecessary. Especially the reduced instrumental services as pupils will fail their music exams without these amazing members of staff and their music teacher doesn't have enough time to be teaching and constantly checking up on 30 people in a class, it's impossible! If this cut is made so many people will be so lost as the subject music will die as it's so difficult to learn from the teacher in short amounts of time and people won't bother. There is so many students the same age as myself who feel so passionate about this as this is our lives and you are taking this away from us. There are pupils who struggle academically but have a place to go in music where they get help from instrumental teachers on a 1 to 1 basis and can put all of their time and energy into an art in order to express themselves, resulting in them getting great exam results. If these services weren't here many pupils wouldn't know what to do with themselves and drop out of school without a job or anything. So in the long term this will cost the council and government more money in benefits.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3048	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I am completely devastated at this proposal. As the parent of a 6th year girl who has been playing clarinet since p6, this will have a profoundly detrimental effect on her mental well being. Music, is where my daughter excels, just as other children do in other subjects, if this were to be taken away from her I fear for her self esteem. She has been TOTALLY committed to lessons, rehearsals, band camps, concerts and competitions, week in week out for years, this is who my girl is, it's what makes her special. Research has shown that learning and playing an instrument makes children calmer, less stressed it's so beneficial to them in so many ways. I would also remind the council that our Wind Ensemble (in which my daughter plays) were awarded PLATINUM at Perth Concert Hall this year, which is almost unheard of, they are something to be cherished and proud of, not thrown aside. 3049	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Regarding the IMS: West Lothian has had a world beating service in it's music education, which is the envy of so many council areas. The concept that a classroom teacher, no matter how dedicated and skilled could provide the specialist knowledge associated with such a wide range of practical skills associated with the performance aspects of such different musical instruments as there are, to such a level as to be able to prepare students to be able to participate in an orchestra, or wind band, or brass band, or jazz band, or pipe band, or fiddle band, or accordion group, or traditional music group, or rock group is ludicrous. Even if the individual school had 6 classroom teachers in its music department they would not be able to scratch the surface of such a diverse subject area, and I very much doubt that there are ANY music departments with 5 whole time equivalents. And that is just for the knowledge - not the time required to train and encourage the individuals at a level they would require.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3050	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The benefits of music education are legion and transferable - in terms of language development, interpersonal relationship building, skills in working individually or as part of a team, team dynamics and leadership skills, foreign language skills, mathematic skills, physical education abilities, co-ordination and cognitive ability, not to mention the benefits given in raising self esteem and confidence. The extra benefits of having the IMS being able to advise schools and coordinate performance ensembles, the support the school ensembles, and being able to provide a conduit to further education in specialist environments such as the Royal Conservatoire of Scotland, or the Royal College of Music is unparalleled. The benefits to children and young adults using this service are huge, giving them opportunities they might never otherwise aspire to in performance, gaining qualifications, gaining life skills, being able to participate in a team environment, being ambassadors for West Lothian and Scotland in music festivals and exchanges around the world. Many of these students may not be able to do this in any other way because of pressures of family, finance, interpersonal abilities, background. The council would be incredibly shortsighted to lose this resource, not easily regained.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3053	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	You should not be reducing access to music tuition within schools! This is a vital role within schools and would deprive pupils of the opportunity to excel in an area they may not have access to otherwise. It would also push the workload onto already stretched teachers who may not be as experienced in particular instruments. I would strongly object to this happening as my son is currently beginning to learn to play the saxophone.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3054	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The proposal to reduce instrumental services in West Lothian makes frankly no sense whatsoever. The instrumental services have been vital to improving the overall educational experience of every student receiving this tuition. Attending music lessons and learning to sing or play an instrument informs the way in which pupils will go about their studies and life in general. Music lessons improve your time management skills, organisational skills, self-discipline and focus amongst many other things that sitting in a classroom cannot do. Not to mention the countless studies that prove music ameliorates your overall intelligence, due to the fact you must multi-task incessantly and use parts of your brain that you use for but all else. Then there is the social element. Playing in bands, orchestras or singing in choirs for example brings together people from all different backgrounds uniting for a sole purpose: to make music. These are the places that many young people meet friends for life and learn to work as a team, have respect for others, as well as how to process emotions.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3055	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Personally, I have been fortunate enough to have had access to instrumental services and a school wind band which has taken me to countries I had never been to previously. The instrumental services and the dedicated staff provide countless opportunities for young people who might not otherwise have the chance to be involved. It is quite frankly appalling that the council would find it just to allow only those with money to have such experiences and opportunities to grow as a young person. Several people from the high school I attended alone have studied, or are currently studying, at the 3rd ranked institution for performing arts in the world. This includes myself. I would not have gotten to this position without the tremendous effort of my teachers and instrumental instructors during my time at secondary school, and I know for a fact that many of my peers feel the same. I would hate for younger pupils to miss out on the experiences that I had.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3057	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Further reducing music provision in schools is not a good idea. Music increases attainment, confidence and wellbeing and should not be seen as an "add on" or "nice to have". In the 80s Music was curtailed in English schools and they've spent decades and millions trying to reintroduce it. Given the importance of music to Scottish culture, it would be disastrous to reduce the already limited opportunities for young people across West Lothian.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3062	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	As a parent I do not believe that cutting music lessons for the children is a good way to save money. Learning an instrument helps the children build confidence, and improves their abilities academically, many studies have been done showing this. My own child was struggling at school requiring learning support. Through the music programme his confidence has improved and he is doing exceptionally well at school. Also I have seen 1st hand how not only music, but art and PE are often overlooked as being less important academically, working with children and young people in residential care I know the true value of these subject. 3065	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I would like to strongly object to cuts being made in instrumental tuition in West Lothian schools. Music is a very important subject in children's lives and many will go on to make a career from playing or teaching musical subjects. 3070	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Music can be fundamental to a child's learning ability and can promote the child's learning ability on other subjects so rather than reduce music keep the existing levels and those pupils that show an ability for music should not be disadvantaged. 3072	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I am extremely concerned about cuts to music provision. This is the only opportunity many children have to experience music tuition. Music can be a fantastic way into education for many children who do not engage with traditional read/write learning and I feel that a lack of music lessens the education our children receive. As higher music requires 2 instruments, lack of music tuition would mean that only children who can afford to pay for private tuition would be able to gain the qualifications, going against GIRFEC and the principles of raising attainment across the board. 3073	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. 3074	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I agree with this budget proposal. The council should not be prioritising scarce resources on free instrumental music tuition to children whose families could afford to contribute a payment for this as an extra curricular activity. I would rather core Education curricular provision is protected than the council spending money on Instrumental Music.	Instrumental music provision	1. 3078	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Reducing instrumental music is a straight up bad decision. I have been lucky enough to have had brass tuition from Primary 5 onwards. Through this I have achieved an ABRSM Grade 5 pass; something which I have been able to show on both my CV and my UCAS personal statement; something which demonstrates a high level of dedication and commitment. I have also been a part of the well recognised and well achieved West Lothian Schools Brass Band, which I fear will disappear with these proposed cuts. I was lucky enough to travel to Germany with the band to attend masterclasses and workshops, as well as playing in concerts; another thing which I have been able to put on my CV and UCAS personal statement. It taught me the importance of teamwork and learning from others. It taught me discipline and I was able to embrace other cultures. I have kept in touch through social media with people my age from the German band for a number of years. 3082	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I feel very strongly that free music services within education is fundamental to maintaining the mental health and general well being of young people. This in turn means less load on health services. A way out of poverty is through education and learning and music provides a practical life skill. I have first hand experience as all my 3 children have benefited from the amazing instrumental music services provided. I see the joy and feeling of wellbeing and achievement this gives the kids and families and it can't be underestimated the benefit music provides to kids of all abilities. I leave a quote by West Lothian council on the benefits. "As well as musical development, the many general benefits gained from learning to play a musical instrument include: enhanced listening and concentration, discipline, co-ordination, language development, memory and social skills. It helps your child to become part of a team and to respect other team members whilst increasing your child's confidence and participation in the wider school and community." I don't believe it should be an optional extra to education - rather an essential component. I would be more than happy to pay a fee, and to subsidise families who would struggle financially. 3083	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I feel very strongly that free music services within education is fundamental to maintaining the mental health and general well being of young people. This in turn means less load on health services. A way out of poverty is through education and learning and music provides a practical life skill. I have first hand experience as all my 3 children have benefited from the amazing instrumental music services provided and in particular the bands. Loss of the bands would be a real tragedy... I see the joy and feeling of wellbeing and achievement this gives the kids and families and it can't be underestimated the benefit music provides to kids of all abilities. 3087	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I am deeply concerned about any further reduction in extra-curricular activities such as music provision. There is already a lamentable lack of arts provision in many schools - there are no longer art rooms and libraries are barely existent. 3090	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	As a member of staff in charge of raising attainment for Numeracy at a West Lothian Secondary School I find it hugely dismaying to find that WLC would even consider stopping instrumental music tuition in schools. The benefits that pupils receive from getting these lessons are simply massive. These lessons not only support their personal and artistic development but also enhance their learning skills in many other education areas. The evidence from studies in the USA has shown that students who participate in music education do better than their peers on many measures of academic achievement. Much of this research is based on large state wide or national datasets. For instance, at state level, Abeles (2007) reported that groups of second grade children who participated in a weekly violin programme (3 lessons every 2 weeks) outperformed non-violin group controls in performance on state wide mathematics and language tests. Morrison (1994), using data from the National Centre for Educational Statistics representing over 13,000 students, showed that high school students who participated in music reported higher grades in English, Mathematics, History, and Science than those who did not participate. Similar outcomes have been reported by Trent (1996), Cardarelli (2003) and Fitzpatrick (2006). In a study of four regions of the USA, Johnson and Memmott (2006) studied 4,739 elementary and middle school students and showed a strong relationship between third and fourth grade students' academic achievement and their participation in music programmes. Studies have also demonstrated that engagement with music is related to positive attitudes towards school and better attendance. It has also been well documented how much a child can benefit from playing a music instrument in terms of their mental and psychological well-being. The Instrumental Music Service is unique to any other area of the school curriculum in that the sheer number of benefits, other the obvious link to attainment in Music which would be significantly adversely affected, that cross over into so many other areas of the curriculum. By removing this vital service, we risk losing all the advantages stated above which, with all the obvious direct links to current National and Local priorities, in my opinion, would be one of the worst decisions that our authority could make and without doubt, would be one that the authority would regret in the future. Once the decision is made it cannot be undone.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 3091	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Absurd that restrictions on instrumental music should even be a consideration West Lothian has historically been known for its excellence in music. Take this away or reduce? Perish the thought 'What do parents look for at end of year? A concert showing the skills and commitment of both pupils and staff! 3094	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Music is vital in schools it helps to control behaviour and teach life skills such as the ability to listen and wait for instruction, it promotes self worth and children get a lot of joy from it. It brings communities together when we go to their concerts. We get to meet their friends and their friends parents and grandparents, uncles and aunts. It teaches them timing when they play and when to let others play. It improves their focus as they have to stay alert to know when it's their time to play and when to stop. It teaches others perspectives when they learn how together they sound better. It is brilliant for their mental health. They stary inn the present moment more instead of getting caught up in future and past thinking. It gives them a form of escape and also helps them understand how to work as part of a team. 3096	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Funding for music should be increased. In this day and age where the mental health issues of youngsters is spiralling downwards, music offers so many benefits for mental health and a means to counteract them. It improves their ability to be present in the moment. It improves their focus staying alert through complex pieces of music to know when it's their time to play and when they should stop. It teaches them why it's great to work together to create something truly breathtaking. It teaches timing, when to do things, which translates in to other parts of their life. It teaches empathy, compassion and seeing others perspectives, as they see have to depend on others to be able to complete a piece of music. And it offers a kind of mental escape from their thoughts as they play their mind loses track of time. And it's great for communities and families. We go to concerts with stunts and uncles, grandparents. We meet their friends parents. And they make friends for life and learn a life skill. Learning a music instrument should be made available for every child. West Lothian can be a leader on this. They can impact the mental health of west Lothian for generations to come. 3097	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Cuts to education are not good no matter how much they are sugar coated, and by cutting a large section of people's music education many people will be missing out on opportunities to develop their talents to a level that allows them to be successful in what they want to do. Independent music sessions allow many people to improve their musical abilities to a level that can give them a step into becoming a professional musician. So much talent will be wasted if this is allowed to happen and it would be a tragedy for people's passions to be cast aside like this.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3098	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Music in schools should be increased not reduced. It brings families together going to your kids and grandkids concerts. It teaches them to conquer their nerves when standing in front of large gatherings. It is also especially important for their mental health. Kids learn the importance of staying in the present moment, to play the tune, not rushing to get to the end of a piece of music and this transfers to their lives. They learn the importance of working together, that they are part of something bigger when they play in their school concert bands and can create amazing things when they work in unison with others. They learn the importance of timing and patience. They learn that gaps in sound are just as important as the note they play because the gaps make the music else it would be just one continuous note. This transfers to how they communicate with others. The benefits are huge for them and society.	Instrumental music provision	2. You would not believe the difference in their nature and I see this as being a lot to do with the youngest learning music at school. His social skills and patience with others is amazing. Hoping to school concerts at WCHS has been one of the greatest blessings in my life. Bringing my elderly Mum and neighbour to school concerts had brought us all closer, they have met his friends and their parents. The community gains so much from it. 3104	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I totally disagree with reducing music provision in schools. Taking part in school music activities has so many other impacts including promoting teamwork in children and encouraging children to practice their instruments outside of school. The idea that someone has decided music lessons are not important is disgusting, without . Music lessons school would be meaningless to me, music lessons have greatly influenced me and my peers, the idea of a generation growing up without music lessons is abominable. why is music any less important than other lessons? you wouldn't cut maths lessons to save some money, you wouldn't cut english lessons to save money, you wouldn't cut science lessons to save money, why should music be any different. 3108	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Music tuition is a known differentiator for overall attainment of children. It would be unbelievably short sighted to remove this and would spell the likely end of school orchestras. 3118	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Music education is vital at my school. Our general music teachers don't have the time or skills necessary to take on the enormous task the specialised instructors we have do, and losing them would cause the school's various music ensembles to close down, limiting the available extra curricular activities at our school. For me personally, the tuition I've received at school for my cornet has been priceless. Subsequently I've made many friends throughout the school and enjoyed taking part in events as an ensemble. My instructor is fantastic and very patient. Also my instrument was bought through the school at a discounted price, as many others do. If the school music program was changed in the way you propose, it would be so detrimental that it could not continue for long. Please keep our music program alive in West Lothian. 3120	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Instrumental tuition should only be removed if it is definitely going to be replaced by funding by the scottish government. learning an instrument at school kept me out of trouble, where many other school mates have mine have gone on to unemployment and even crime in some areas, I learned an instrument which kept me in school and in other safe clubs after school that allowed me to socialise and not cause trouble. Resources like this being removed only give teenagers the complaints that "there's nothing for them to do" and end up causing more difficulty in the long run. Also, the west lothian schools brass band (which i was a part of) did a great job of promoting west lothian and its talent and it won't have any talent if you don't teach anyone. 3129	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Music lessons should not be cut. Music gives student opportunities that they wouldn't usually have. It gives them a chance to express themselves. These lessons are hugely beneficial to students wanting to further explore music as teachers within music departments don't have the specific instruments like the teachers that come in to do. It also means that the people that teach these lessons are losing jobs that they love to do and teach the students that want to learn this instrument.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3130	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I do not support reduced instrumental music provision as I believe music to be important for wellbeing and a positive impact on young people in schools. I question whether money spent on technology in schools is spent wisely for example, do pupils share equipment etc or does each individual need to be provided for. Perhaps schools should buy less equipment and let pupils share.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3131	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Education of our children in the future of West Lothian. The Instrumental music provision has greatly benefited both my children who have received tuition since P5 and played in school band throughout high school. This I believe has benefited them not only attainment wise (it is proven that reading music and playing an instrument develops both sides of the brain) but they have benefited socially, mixing with children they would not usually mix with in an environment where the usual social pressures of teens do not exist. They have had a discipline instilled in from a very young age which is valuable to any child and received emotional and educational support from dedicated instrumental teachers. They have developed teamworking skills valuable to and recognised by colleges, universities and employers. To put this into mainstream curriculum would be a disaster. Any child with an interest or a natural talent would be lost in the basic music tuition offered in the mainstream curriculum. The instrumental tuition has already been reduced by children receiving group lessons rather than individual lessons. Educational psychology is something that needs invested in, many teens by the age of 16 seem to have issues of some sort because of the pressures of school, teen life and social media and I do not think schools are doing enough to make support available. Anxiety, depression and self harm seem to be becoming the norm.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3132	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Instrumental music provision and the associated participation in orchestras, bands, concerts and music camps is a key aspect of life at Linlithgow Academy. These whole school activities bring the young people, staff, parents and the community together. Availability to all irrespective of ability to pay ensures equity and equality across our school community. Skills in playing a musical instrument provide many people with a hobby or indeed a career which can shape the rest of their life. Surely this is the very definition of positive outcomes and destinations for our young people. If we do not introduce these skills in the formative years, individuals and communities will suffer for it. Linlithgow Marches and Gala Day would be very quiet affairs without our bands. Loss of this provision would have a very significant negative impact on our young people, our school and our community as a whole. Linlithgow Academy Parent Council urge the Council to re-consider any plans to remove or reduce this important provision.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3133	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Given that schools now have ring fenced funding and as a result, it is only right that the support to schools is reduced further. Instrumental music is not a statutory function and could be seen as a free service to the middle classes. The council needs to focus on statutory services and helping the most vulnerable. 3136	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I feel very strongly about the reduction of the music programme. As you can probably guess, I benefited from it, and it shaped my school experience to be amazing, helped me make the friends I still have and taught me discipline and passion in attending orchestra and lessons. School curriculum music lessons could never begin to replace what the external instrument lessons did. It is one of the greatest joys of my life and I still tell many people proudly that I play cello and I got that wonderful opportunity because my district area council provided the lessons and the great teachers. I am full of gratitude for the West Lothian music programme. I would be incredibly sad and disheartened to know this inspiration would not continue to be given to children now in West Lothian schools. In regards to giving more responsibility to the school, there is always two sides with this, in that this can empower someone who could do a lot of good for the school, or it could empower people who are not qualified to take these decisions or would not have positive motives or influence. This should be done carefully and still be monitored and assessed in itself.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3138	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	As someone who benefited from council funded in-school music tuition, I firmly believe that this should remain for all pupils within West Lothian. Learning an instrument doesn't just teach music skills, it also improves time-management and organisational skills, as well as harboring perseverance, commitment and diligence. 3139	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	If one of your main priorities is to improve the attainment gap, then you cannot rightly cut instrumental music courses from schools. Thanks to the free tuition we receive in schools, many students are able to learn a musical instrument and go on to have a good chance at a career in music - cutting these classes only punishes those who can't afford external lessons. Cutting the jobs of instrumental music instructors will also cause school bands / orchestras to stop, as they are conducted and run by them. It would also rob so many of the chance they deserve.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All pupils will experience Instrumental Music Tuition in Primary School through the Youth Music Initiative. It is proposed that some access to tuition will remain. 3140	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Stop trying to sugarcoat this - call it what it is. Cuts to music. The aim is NOT to "embed activities within schools", because you are just removing them. Instrumental music is a vital service to those on the poorer end of families, and music can be a chance for those who don't do well academically to perform and make a career for themselves. How can you want to increase your attainment gap if this is what you do? You don't realise how many young people you will harm by doing this, along with removing the jobs of the instructors. Without them, students wouldn't be able to learn instruments. Curriculum based music classes are at no where near the same level as music lessons from instructors are - curriculum lessons cater to a whole class, and teach a limited selection of instruments, whereas music lessons from instructors facilitate for 1 on 1 meetings to ensure that every student can improve. Curriculum music teachers can also only play 2 to 3 instruments, whereas most instructors can teach whole sections of the orchestra. If the instructors were to leave, pupils would have to seek costly lessons elsewhere, which would increase the attainment gap - directly opposing one of your key goals. Not to mention the fact that without the instructors, bands and orchestras wouldn't exist, once again removing a huge opportunity from students. Please, do not make drastic cuts to the music department, because you are harming so many students by doing so.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 3141	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	You can make a better West Lothian without cutting educational things such as free instrument lessons and bands. By doing so you are cancelling at least 20 bands in West Lothian and depriving children with the gift of being able to study a instrument, which doing so improves the life of said children and would make a better West Lothian. 3142	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Reducing the instrumental programs and others such as this will decrease the educational system greatly by doing so you are causing children's life to be limited to mainstream education only musical programs improve the life of many unbenefitted children and give these children a way to improve their own life weather this be through social skills meeting new people broadening their minds on what is possible or giving them a outlet in which they are able to create express and maybe give them selfs to make a life out of what they enjoy. Musical education doesn't only benefit the students musical ability but it also streams into there other subjects causing them to be more creative and to be able to make something out of them selfs. 3144	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I DO NOT think that integrating a reduced instrumental music provision into the mainstream curriculum should happen. Instrumental music provision in schools is SO important. Numerous studies have shown the benefit children have in all aspects of their life from learning a musical instrument - higher attainment, improved social skills, much higher self esteem and confidence - great benefits musically and educationally. As a person who received instrumental music lessons at school, I cannot stress enough how much I gained through this opportunity - much more confidence and many, many lifelong skills including being able to work independently as well as part of a team from experiencing this at an early age. This service is vital especially for children who have very few other opportunities in their lives due to their family / financial / social circumstances, as well as being so important to pupils with additional support needs. This opportunity to have specialist small group lessons can help integrate them into mainstream education. Instrumental lessons have a massive impact on raising attainment in SQA Music exams as well as playing a large part in the wider school life with concerts and performances. This opportunity for children to 'unlock' their inner talents is priceless. School Ensembles and Area Ensembles help these children to flourish in smaller groups and to make new friends as well as allow children to potentially join 'national levels groups. 3145	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I strongly disagree with the integration of a reduced instrumental provision into the mainstream curriculum. As a child who was introduced to West Lothian's instrumental service when i started high school in 2011, and I am now studying a degree in music at the University of Glasgow, I can say I am disgusted and disheartened at the thought of the instrumental programme not being available in the future. Firstly, this excellent programme did not only give me the essential music skills I require for my choice of career path, it honestly shaped me as a person and gave me so many transferable skills. Attending one-to-one music lessons every week throughout my entire 6 years of high school taught me an act of commitment and practice I couldn't have learned any other way and to think that other pupils may not be given this opportunity in the very near future is sickening. Furthermore, the extreme opportunities to connect with other talented pupils and perform within the community creates a spirit that I find so unique. Whilst playing in both of the school bands at West Calder High throughout my high school career, the Junior Concert Band and West Lothian Schools Wind ensemble - which I am currently still a member of - I learned so many skills and attributes (not only musically) which have allowed me to develop in a way I wouldn't otherwise have. The confidence and determination that the instrumental programme has given me is tremendous and I feel it would be shocking for the council to decide that this amazing programme is not worth keeping in schools in West Lothian. I am extremely grateful for the opportunities that I have been given due to this programme and for this not to be available to many more children in the future I find appalling. Due to this fantastic opportunity I, as well as many others, have found a passion that we can share and grow together through and I believe the instrumental programme should be valued much more highly and should definitely not be abolished. 3155	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I am of the belief that no matter what funding to any branch of education should NOT be cut in any way shape or form, especially in the case of the reduced musical provision in the above case. Music allows the pupils to build vital skills for future employment, including teambuilding, planning, confidence and showcasing the ability to learn something and retain the knowledge. This cut to budget would also cripple the capacity for schools all across Scotland to fuel upkeep for their local bands, severely limiting the ability for a pupil to have pride in their school and represent the Scottish education system as a whole on a possibly world stage. 3157	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Free music tuition within schools for guitar, brass, strings, woodwind and percussion is incredibly beneficial to so many people. Personally guitar lessons within school have helped me a lot, not just for guitar but for confidence and motivation in other things in life. Music teachers don't always have the training withing specific instruments and shouldn't need to. A lot of gifted people wanting to get into music can afford to pay for private lessons and not only do these help people's skill in the instrument but it gives people something that helps them get through life. If these cuts are made it also means a lot of people are losing their jobs, they love their jobs and it means so much to them coming j to schools to teach people who have a genuine interest in learning. These cuts will damage music within school and also the people who get these lessons, especially with exams coming up we really need the help of woodwind, brass, strings, percussion and guitar lessons. They provide extra help for students who really need it with support and learning from someone who specialises in that instrument and can provide the help that is needed. The free music tuition in schools allows students access to instruments and learning opportunities that they wouldn't have without getting these lessons within school, they are hugely beneficial to so many people and students learning will suffer because of these cuts	Instrumental music provision	2. 3162	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Reducing the musical provision within West Lothian schools will be detrimental to the education and development of our children. The music program enhances all aspects of our children's education. Providing them with skills not only to play an instrument but to work as part of a team. It builds confidence and friendships so not only helps with education but also the social and emotional development of the children involved. Both of my children (one primary aged and one at high school) have benefitted from the fantastic music program which follows them through primary school from p5 right through high school. I believe that having the same tutor from primary 5 has encouraged my daughter (now in 2nd year) to continue with her instrument and develop the skills and confidence needed to enhance her learning. Not only is music a skill or something fun but it helps kids cope with things going on around them. Just look at the success West Lothian has achieved here (e.g. Platinum award for the West Lothian Wind Ensemble at this year's SCBF competition). Learning an instrument and playing in a band/orchestra provides many benefits both intellectually and socially to our young people and it would be short sighted to see this as an easy target for savings. As a band player it is really satisfying to go out into the community and play at events and see smiles on other peoples faces and you can tell that they have enjoyed it. 3168	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The current schools music program is one of the few areas where West Lothian Council excels at a national level. In addition to the pupils getting the chance to learn instruments that they would not otherwise encounter, they also benefit from the chance work together in a true team environment in the school bands scheme. The reward that these young people gain from the national success of the West Lothian wind bands is immeasurable, and excellent value considering the small amount of money invested by the council in this program. Any reduction to the current system would be a disaster for may pupils and they families and make them feel that they have been specifically targeted by the present incumbent political parties. 3169	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	A reduction to an already very limited instrumental music provision would be depriving young people in West Lothian from an extremely valuable part of their education. Curriculum for excellence is supposed to create a broader education for children not restrict their education. I would be extremely angry at such a decision which will have far reaching consequences of missed opportunities and result in the musically talented young people of West Lothian being put at a distinct disadvantage even worse those will potential talent being lost. The progression of those with musical abilities will be severely affected and will be disastrous for some who may be considering music as a career path. Music class teachers are not necessarily sufficiently qualified to teach a variety of instruments. The expertise of specifically trained instrumental teachers is therefore essential for pupils to progress on any instrument. This seems a very backwards move for a council which claims to be progressive and personally I am incredibly disappointed it should even be considered. This drastic cut would not be saving much money in the grand scale of things but would have a terrible impact on schools, music staff and the young people of West Lothian. The wonderful shows and concerts which are consistently packed out to capacity in every school across West Lothian throughout the school year would become a thing of the past. These events are a great display of what can be achieved by those would are allowed to develop their abilities and passion for music and a wonderful for the whole community to enjoy. It would be very sad if this was all lost. There must be other less important areas of council services which would save more money.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3181	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I think that reducing the instrumental music provision would be a disastrous mistake by West Lothian Council, and have a much larger negative impact than expected on the educational outcomes of children in West Lothian. This would in effect decimate the musical life of the schools. Music in schools has been shown to help develop learning across the curriculum, including language and reasoning, coordination, and overall engagement levels of the pupils. Students in bands or orchestras are less likely to abuse substances over their lifetime, and the proposed changes would lead to a massive reduction in the number of pupils taking part in bands or orchestras. Music tuition in schools allows Christmas/end of term concerts and musical/drama productions to take place. These greatly enhance the overall life of the school, and can enhance the sense of community. After reading the following link, the question would be whether funding for music tuition should be increased! https://www.theguardian.com/education/2017/oct/03/school-results-music-bradford In summary, I am very disappointed that the reduction in instrumental music provision has been proposed, but will be appalled if the proposals are carried forward following the consultation. 3184	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Music in all its forms plays a huge role in Scotland's culture and life. Learning to play a musical instrument provides enormous benefits for young people in terms of their cognitive development as well as very significant cultural and economic benefits to society as a whole. The evidence from correlation studies in the USA has shown that students who participate in music education do better than their peers on many measures of academic achievement. Much of this research is based on large state wide or national datasets. For instance, at state level, Abeles (2007) reported that groups of second grade children who participated in a weekly violin programme (3 lessons every 2 weeks) outperformed non-violin group controls in performance on state wide mathematics and language arts tests. Morrison (1994) using data from the National Centre for Educational Statistics representing over 13,000 students showed that high school students who participated in music reported higher grades in English, mathematics, history, and science than those who did not participate. Similar outcomes have been reported by Trent (1996), Cardarelli (2003) and Fitzpatrick (2006). In a study of four regions of the USA, Johnson and Memmott (2006) studied 4,739 elementary and middle school students and showed a strong relationship between third and fourth grade students' academic achievement and their participation in music programmes. Studies have demonstrated that engagement with music is related to positive attitudes towards school and better attendance (Davalos et al., 1999; Eccles & Barber, 1999; Taetle, 1999; Miszak, 2010). The young people in our schools provide music for many events in their school contributing to the school ethos. They play at Christmas concerts, Summer concerts, coffee mornings, sky TV, lots of assemblies and services in school such as remembrance day, xmas, easter, P7 leavers, harvest and so on. They take part in school shows, band festivals, young musician competitions, and outside school events such as stellar awards, spring concert series to name but a few. The students love performing at these events and build confidence and self-esteem doing something they enjoy doing as part of a team representing their school. They feel proud to represent their school in this way. Instrumental music opens opportunities to play together in various types of ensembles. These ensembles include students from all year groups working together, learning together and performing together. The older students mentor the younger students and the younger students aspire to those older students in a musical family of students and staff. The skills and abilities these children learn from working	Instrumental music provision	2. 3186	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I am particularly concerned about the impact on instrumental music provision which I see as one of the major benefits of state education in west lothian. It delivers equity and vital skills of creativity/team work/resilience etc which will be vital for our young people as they leave school. The level of this provision will inevitably suffer as a result and only those children who's parents have the financial means will be able to enjoy the benefits which are currently available to all. 3187	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I am opposed to the reduction of instrumental musical provision into the mainstream curriculum. West Lothian schools have an outstanding record and reputation for music over decades, both in Scotland and overseas. The support for musical education has made West Lothian Council stand out and it's something that has benefited generations of families, including my own, as musical education has given pupils the support and opportunities to develop their talents, learn new skills, extend their horizons and produce better students as a result. 3188	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	We believe the current level of instrumental music provision in West Lothian provides a significant and positive opportunity for many young people to experience and develop their musical talents. Through community involvement, for example public concerts and entering national competitions, the youngsters in the various bands are putting something tangible back into the community. By providing such a great opportunity, the instrumental music services helps to provide beneficial outcomes to young people whatever their background. The Big Noise project at Raploch in Stirlingshire is an example of how music can be used to positively impact the lives of children and the community. Through West Lothian's music service we're sure similar benefits are being experienced here. The other point to make is that our experience has shown that through the band structure a member of our family has developed many skills not necessarily achieved through the curriculum, such as team work, discipline, loyalty and dedication to band members. It would be such a shame if all the hard work, not to mention the great reputation built up nationally by the hard working staff and pupils, was lost. This service is a feather in the cap for West Lothian and shows what can be achieved when striving for a gold standard.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3191	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I feel very strong against the reduction in instrumental music provision. West Lothian's concert bands and music provisions are exceptional and this would be a great loss for the children, parents and community. This is an art that MUST be preserved and a passion for many children. There is a great talent in West Lothian and that is to the credit of the fantastic music teachers in the area and should not be lost.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3192	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	As a citizen who very much needs music in their life does not agree as all. Reducing instrumental lessons doesn't just affect pupils taking music this year within schools but the next generation of pupils who need music. Not only does it make it a lot harder for pupils who have a music performance exams and need extra lessons to help them pass their exams but you are affecting school productions and concerts! Music helps with mental health, it's scientifically proven that people who take/ do music in school do better in their exams than people who don't take music. Think about it, there is not enough money going into the mental health system, a large amount of people in our community have mental health issues! An extremely concerning percentage of people suffer because of this but professional doctors have stated that music helps massively with mental health!! So now you decide to reduce music instrumental lessons and making it a lot harder for people to play music? Another issue in this society it that people struggle with money and you expect people to get outside lessons and pay up to £25-£30 an hour so that they can pass their exam! What about all the people who go on to study music after high school? If lessons get cut then it's going to be extremely difficult to get in to university. Personally I am not an academic person, I am creative and so are a lot of the population and you don't realise how many people this is going to affect. 3193	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I do not agree with your choice of integrating a reduced instrumental music provision into the mainstream curriculum, I feel the music services in west Lothian are outstanding and are taken for granted. Its been proven that Students score higher in test/exams with music education than people without, not only does music improve the intelligence of their students it can also help people with emotional development. People who struggle with mental health and/ or low self-esteem are able to cope with their anxiety better and it boosts their confidence.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3195	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I am writing with concern at the proposal in Section 1B of the WLC consultation document, regarding the reduction of instrumental music. As a former pupil at Bathgate Academy, I was lucky to be involved in a busy music department. I had violin lessons, played in the orchestra and folk group, sang in the choir and soul band. Outwith school, I played in West Lothian Schools Junior Strings, Little Big Band and Big Band. All these musical experiences made me the person I am today and I could not imagine life in schools without instrumental music. School concerts and shows will not exist. The music instructors of the council are all highly qualified, professional, committed teachers who inspire the next generation of musicians and teachers. Without them, those who aspire to study music will have no chance. The proposal states that you plan to integrate a reduced instrumental music provision into the mainstream curriculum. You may not be aware that while all universities require Grade 8 practical music, the SQA Advanced Higher Music only requires practical skills of Grade 5 standard. Class music teachers will not be able to provide the time or necessary skills to push students to Grade 8 level whilst still having to teach to the SQA Syllabus in classes which usually range from Nat. 5 to Advanced Higher. There are many reports that learning a musical instrument helps with confidence, social skills and improves attainment. Why then, at a time when the council is looking to improve prospects for the young people, are they planning to take away something which is proven to improve life chances? West Lothian Council's instrumental music service has been a shining beacon to many other authorities, and I sincerely hope that it will not be lost to future generations. 3196	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	As a loyal and committed Instrumental Music Instructor with West Lothian Council for over twenty six years, I was extremely dismayed to discover in the council newspaper, The Bulletin, that my job was under threat. If the council is planning to remove Instrumental Music provision, it would have been more considerate had we been informed before it was published in this way. The wording in the consultation is deliberately vague: 'integrating a reduced instrumental provision into the mainstream curriculum' This implies that the only experience of instrumental music will be in the classroom on instruments such as keyboard and glockenspiel. Not very exciting. For your information, the SQA level reached at Advanced Higher (grade 5) is no where near the level required to study music at university (grade 8+). It is the Instrumental Instructors who bridge the gap between classroom and university. Learning a musical instrument has been proved in many studies to improve attainment, well-being and life chances. It is ironic then, at a time when the government and councils are trying to improve academic results that this vital service is going to be cut. West Lothian Council's Instrumental Service is, without doubt, one of the best in Scotland. Over the years, the various bands have won national and international competitions. This shows the quality of musical education being provided. In the past, many other music services have looked to West Lothian for advice. I am sure that they will be as shocked as I and my colleagues are, that West Lothian Council are prepared to end music lessons so abruptly.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3197	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Please, please please reconsider proposals to reduce instrumental music provision. Access to music is important to young people and restricting access will result in our children not being offered to opportunity to develop ALL their skills. Youth bands and choirs need to thrive in our community and need to know children and given FREE opportunity to learn music from professional and qualified teachers. West Lothian has a rich culture of music and song - we need this to continue. It's also good for our mental health - to be able to play, sing or listen to music.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All pupils will experience Instrumental Music Tuition in Primary School through the Youth Music Initiative. It is proposed that some access to tuition will remain. 3198	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The music classes should be available through other venues for those young people requiring this. For example the colleges should develop outwith only adult learning. Funding is the problem, and it is feasible to reduce these classes. If a young person wants to be able to learn about music then they can out source privately if they have the finances/ family support. Poorer children must also have opportunity to have access via the school.	Instrumental music provision	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed. 3199	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Reducing instrumental music provision would be a travesty. To deny children in West Lothian the wonderful opportunity to be involved in music is unthinkable. Many successful musicians have come through this amazing and overwhelmingly worthwhile avenue over the past 40 years or more. As one such pupil, I personally can say the experiences around instrumental tuition at school, shaped the adult I became, giving me a love and appreciation of music for the rest of my life and which I now have passed on to my children and whom this will directly affect. The hugely successful Spring Concert Series and individual school concerts held around West Lothian will be impossible to hold if there are no instrumental teachers and even more incredulous the obvious negative impact this will have on music students in school studying for national 5 and higher exams. What happened to curriculum for excellence and the broad education offered to children in Scotland? I cannot believe that West Lothian Council could contemplate this regressive step. How many talented young people will be lost, never able to fulfil their potential?	Instrumental music provision	2. 3200	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	As for Instrumental Music - I would suggest this follows the model adopted for several sports activities - whereby links are forged with local groups who can provide opportunities for those pupils who want to participate. I feel being involved in music not only facilitates and nurtures creativity but can offer a layer of protection to children who are living in difficult home circumstances or find other academic subjects difficult. 3205	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I think the reducing of funds for activities such as school bands and arts education is unnecessary and unsolicited as it has been studied and proven that students who have partaken in activities such as musical studies do better in other academic areas during their school career. It is also important that students are able to participate in musical and sport activities as an escape from troubles they may be experiencing in other aspects of their lives. 3207	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	As for Instrumental Music - I would suggest this follows the model adopted for several sports activities - whereby links are forged with local groups who can provide opportunities for those pupils who want to participate. This concept has worked really well in Linlithgow for Schools Rugby - both for facilities and Coaching. I see no reason why this concept cannot be expanded to encompass many other non core educational activities.	Instrumental music provision	6. This is a positive suggestion. 3208	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	the phrase "integrating a reduced instrumental music provision" is unclear. How do you integrate a reduced provision? Is it simply reduction? If it is, I would not be in favour. I am also unclear as to why this is an option under "rationalisation of central support", which I thought would cover letting schools be more autonomous, rather than reducing provision of instruments. Poorly worded statements.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 3209	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I disagree with cutting music provision we have a lot of talented musicians in West Lothian and taking away tuition could limit the chances of a young person being able to afford to continue to play. 3210	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The proposal to reduce instrumental music provision is short-sighted. The positive benefits of music provision to school children are substantial and extend across the curriculum in terms of increased confidence, focus and concentration. The benefits to the school and to the local community are often significant and unquantifiable bringing pupils across the year groups together and fostering real pride in the team work that is involved in staging concerts - often the highlight of the school year for many. 3211	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Absolutely disagree with reducing instrumental music provision and "advisory approaches". 3213	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Support to pupils who are not reaching their full potential is essential. Services such as music provision would leave young people at a disadvantage. Music can enhance the overall well being and build up confidence and self esteem.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3214	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Music provision in West Lothian is exemplary and has provided opportunities for many children who would not necessarily have the chance to play an instrument. Playing an instrument in a band allows pupils to grow in confidence and promotes positive mental health. The recent experiments in the Raploch estate have shown how beneficial music tuition can be to those in poverty.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 3215	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I am outraged at this proposal to no longer fund music tuition in schools. I full heartedly believe that the service provided by music tutors is essential. It is fact that music improves academic skills as well as develops social skills. Music boosts self esteem and refines discipline and patience. Taking away funding from the Youth Music Initiative would be a grave mistake as many children facing adversity use music as their sanctuary, if the services of music tutors were no longer provided it would severely impact the lives of children. If this service was no longer provided music would become an interest to only the elite, those with the additional money to pay for private tuition, this would be heartbreaking for children of less fortunate backgrounds and wouldn't allow such children to escape from their home lives and the troubles they may face. It would close the numerous opportunities for young people to develop varieties of skills as well as understanding of cultures. I am completely against this proposal to no longer provide funding and I am shocked and ANGRY at the mere suggestion that it should no longer be funded. This is a mistake and should not happen, it is outrageous that the council would even consider this change and I am appalled. I beg of you to not allow this change to happen, and to continue funding music tuition and the Youth Music Initiative.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All pupils will experience Instrumental Music Tuition in Primary School through the Youth Music Initiative. It is proposed that some access to tuition will remain. 3216	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I strongly disagree with this proposal. Reducing the instrumental music provision would be a significant loss. Many pupils are able to learn a musical instrument, when they might not otherwise have the chance. Both my children have learnt to play the violin from P5 and thoroughly enjoy this. It teaches them discipline, that practise does help and that if they work hard at something they can improve. These are life skills, that will be vital in the workplace. Orchestra teaches team work and that you don't have to be the best, or lead, to play your part. Everyone can take part no matter what their level. Overall music provision is a fantastic resource to have and it would be detrimental to the pupils if this was reduced or lost.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3217	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I don't believe integration of music is a good idea. My eldest daughter is currently in S6 and has benefited from music tuition. I believe that this has helped her not only with music but has also helped her mathematical skills. She recently passed her higher maths and I think the music Tuition played a part in this. Where we are coming to the end of schooling I would like to think that musical Tuition would help other borderline students achieve passes in other mathematical based subjects. 3222	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Serious concern with reducing instrumental music provision. The one thing West Lothian can be proud of is the wonderfully talented individuals in the instrumental music service without which there would be no award winning bands. The asset it is to the young people in our community, developing so many skills, is truly inspiring. I have witnessed young boys and girls struggling perhaps with social skills or lacking in confidence developing into wonderfully talented individuals who in turn encouraging other younger members of the bands to greater achievement. I once asked a small local company if they would be interested in sponsoring the local school band. They had considered inviting them to an opening ceremony for new premises but the event never happened. Nevertheless they donated a one off Â£1000 to the school. The service (and schools) could engage more with the community to ensure its continuation.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3223	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	i don't agree that services for our children should be reduced at all!! The music programme alone is a fundamental part of learning for our children who otherwise couldn't afford to learn the new skills at home. The programme offered is used by hundreds of children all over west Lothian and would be horrendous to remove such a facility for them all. whilst I fully understand cuts must be made I think this would be far too much of a loss for our children!!! 3224	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The school instrumental music service has been of great benefit to my children and they have gained so much from being part of orchestras and exchange trips with German students. 3226	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	This proposal makes me quite upset. I benefited a huge amount through music tuition. West Lothian council should be able to see the positive outcomes that come from music. The successes of JYHS wind band and WCHS band should be enough evidence of the exceptional skills and opportunities that come from the musical tuition service. If you cut this more than you already have over the years it will be a complete disaster. Music has been proven to be so beneficial for so many problems; behaviourally, for children with additional support needs, for improving concentration and discipline. It would be a poor decision to stop this. There are definitely places that you can make savings without touching the music department.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3227	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Music in West Lothian is vital. I have taken part in 3 of my school bands, West Lothian youth wind band and West Lothian youth brass band. I got the chance to travel to Frieberg in 2015 with the youth brass band, this was an amazing experience and I am aware I was very lucky to get this opportunity. It was only due to West Lothian's brilliant music services that this was possible so I feel that this is one of the main reasons music funding is so important in West Lothian. I also feel that the 3 school bands I am in have given me so much. Not only have they given me the opportunity to perform and compete on behalf of my school, they have allowed me to meet fellow pupils throughout the school that I would have otherwise never met. I finally would like to say that if I do get into uni, it will be down to the many opportunities and experiences that the music programme in West Lothian has given me so it would be tragic to have to reduce it. 3228	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Music lessons in primary and additional needs education should remain a priority. There is evidence suggesting that music can be used as a therapy for children, it builds confidence and hobbies can be discovered. Children in mainstream who feel like they are not able to achieve in other subjects (maths/English) can remain engaged and enthusiastic about their education if they can join in with something they enjoy. Music lessons could be reduced in frequency (i.e. one taught lesson per class per month) and the rest of the time scheduled "music lessons" could be a sing-a-long in the class room and resources could be shared between classes. 3229	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	As a pupil of the IMS, I feel strongly about the continuation of dedicated specialist instrumental instructors separate from music as a subject. There is insufficient detail about what any "integrated" "reduced" "mainstream" provision would mean for county ensembles and school bands. I hope senior council officials are aware of the track record of West Lothian's world class school and county bands and the showcasing of West Lothian's musical talents on the national stage at Perth (brass and concert bands) and Glasgow (pipe bands) each year. It would be helpful to know how much it would cost per pupil for parents (that can afford to) to pay for instrumental lessons before you go deciding to ruin the heritage associated with West Lothian's young musicians. The instrumental music service also allows the students who are unable to take music as a subject, due to you reducing our senior phase subjects to six and five, to continue to develop our music education - much of it our own time, other than the twenty minute lessons once a week. Surely West Lothian Council should want to develop young peoples musical abilities to represent you.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3230	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	A reduced instrumental music provision in our schools would be a great loss to the pupils who benefit from this teaching. Music education is known to improve academic skills, develop physical skills, cultivates social skills, refines discipline and patience, boosts self esteem and introduces children to other cultures. All children should be given the opportunity to benefit from some form of music tuition in our schools.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3231	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The provision of instrumental music is an essential part of a holistic approach to a child's education. Little can be obtained in a full class music lesson and for those interested in music this is not a viable alternative. The instrumental music teachers also form a vital role in bringing school communities together through concerts and competitions. To remove the opportunity to play a musical instrument from a child's education would be to remove an entire aspect of a rounded education. External music lessons are prohibitively expensive for many children. Not all children are sporty or academic, some only find their true area of interest through music and to deny them this would be a dispiriting approach to a rounded education. Instrumental music lessons should continue to be provided.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3232	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Reducing Instrumental Music provision within schools is a massive issue. Thousands and thousands of young people benefit from instrumental music services and many go on to study music at University and The Royal Conservatoire of Scotland. Instrumental music services give young people a chance to extend not only their music skills but also their skills in other subjects such as maths and modern languages as well as allowing them to build many skills such as social skills, teamwork skills, and the ability to listen, learn and discuss. It also improves their confidence. The same young boy who in S1 had trouble speaking to anybody and had so much social anxiety that he couldn't make friends or answer in class, stood up in front of over a hundred people and spoke to them about the quartet he had formed and conducted in S6. That growth and improvement came through his music tuition in percussion. There are many other kids, teenagers, and young adults who have the same experiences. They are given time management skills as they have to learn to juggle music lessons, exams, band, and everyday life. And they manage. They also do Associated Board for the Royal Schools of Music exams and pass with flying colours. This gives them UCAS points which in turn gives them opportunities in the future. I play the trombone through the instrumental music services and I can tell you that I would not have the confidence, skills, or amazing experiences I have without the Instrumental Music Services. I've had the experience of standing on a stage at Perth Concert Hall with many of my friends, who are in the band I play in, and receiving tremendous applause for the performance we just gave. I don't think I have ever been more proud, not only of myself and the others around me, but of my school and region. I don't think I have ever been more thankful for the amazing conductors and music staff that got the band to the stage of receiving Gold Plus awards. I also attend other bands such as the West Lothian Schools Wind Ensemble and I have had the experience of working under some of the best conductors, I believe, there is. The experiences and skills that I have been given through instrumental music are beyond anything I could imagine. I don't want that taken away from me, and thousands of other young people across West Lothian.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 3233	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Instrumental music cannot be cut. As a member of James Young High School Wind Band and the West Lothian Wind Ensemble it would be an ABSOLUTE disaster not just these 2 but all the amazing bands West Lothian has to offer. West Lothian has one of the best (if not THE BEST) music tuition that Scotland has to offer. I have benefited so much from free school tuition in school as it has offered me an opportunity that I might not have been able to do if I had to pay for tuition or if it wasn't available at all. It has also helped SO many other people from SO many different backgrounds. If you make cuts to the INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC SERVICE you would be stopping so many talented and amazing musicians from being able to learn an instrument or take part in amazing opportunities like playing in school bands and area bands. Lastly, who ever came up with the IDIOTIC idea of making budget cuts to music should be sacked as they obviously DO NOT realise how beneficial the programme is. The opportunities I have been able to do like go to summer schools at the ROYAL CONSERVATOIRE OF SCOTLAND and perform and rehearse with world class conductors has been amazing and it would be a horrible thought to not have music anymore in schools.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 3234	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The proposition for reduced instrumental music provision is extremely saddening and concerning. As an ex-school pupil who greatly benefited from the musical tuition provided I am angry that this has even been considered to be cut. The skills acquired through musical instruction expand far beyond that of the physical skill of playing an instrument. Having the opportunity to play within a band allows for children to learn vital team work skills. At a social level the ability to participate in lessons and band with other pupils allows for friendships to be created. This is a vital resource for individuals who struggle to make friendships on their own but also creates a vital network of support for everyone within the band. Musical tuition allows individuals to gain confidence and pride from learning, performing and progressing. I think it is devastating that this service may disappear as it would prevent the next generation from experiencing the ability to learn to play an instrument, where other wise they may not have the resources or funds to do so privately, but it also prevents pupils from experiencing the wider social and emotional benefits. As I say as a benefiter of the service I continue to benefit from the skills I gained. Learning to play an instrument, participate as part of a school band and attend music related outings were the highlights of my school career. It provided my with a positive outlet and escape when other aspects of the school curriculum failed to provide the support I needed. In many ways it was this opportunity that maintained my positive outlook on education.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 3235	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Reducing music provision sounds rather vague! And why music? Why not a @reduced religious provision@. Religion is a personal choice and nothing to do with school. Music is an extremely important part of personal development and has been scientifically proven to develop both sides of the brain, enhancing performance in all other subjects. For many pupils it is the only subject from which they derive joy, and for most students it is in school that they are first given the opportunity to play an instrument and join a band - something they could not afford to do or would not occur to them to do outside of school. My children are high achievers and BOTH are heavily involved in music and musical instruments (since primary school). I have found it has contributed enormously to their overall development and all round enjoyment of education. There are other more effective ways to cut costs in schools without chopping out key subjects! You might as well say we are not going to teach History any more - you seriously need to re think this one. Improving job prospects in West Lothian does not include making music teachers redundant. (For the record I am not a music teacher).	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 3237	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	There is evidence that learning to play a music instrument at an early age exercises the same part of the brain as Maths. This is a big mistake to reduce instrumental music in schools as it contributes to young people developing their mathematical ability, and having access to the growing employment/skill area of Science, Technology, Engineering and Maths (STEM). This is a key to engaging our young women especially in engineering careers. Instrumental music is a lot more than an unnecessary luxury.	Instrumental music provision	2. West Lothian schools pride themselves in their music accomplishments and are frequently reported in the local press with their achievements. 3239	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The removal of individual instrumental tuition from schools would be a massive backward step. 3241	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	While I agree with the idea behind this I totally disagree with any plans to reduce instrumental music provision. I have seen so many examples where free instrumental music provision has increased confidence of young people. All three of my children are getting brass lessons and are part of West Lothian Schools Bands and Inverlmond CHS band. If this provision was to go or become chargeable it would severely limit chances for young people to work with others and build confidence. I feel that it would lead to a situation where only children from families with a lot of disposable income would be able to learn an instrument. At the moment the system is inclusive regardless of financial status and I am very worried that this would change.	Instrumental music provision	2. It provides a huge confidence boost, higher self esteem, wider friendships groups, cultural awareness and appreciation. It has also been show to boost cognitive development (through many studies eg increased mathematical ability). The benefits are not just to the individuals but to the whole school community (and wider community) through concerts and cultural enrichment more generally. 3244	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Musical instrument teaching adds enormously to the educational experience of pupils in West Lothian. It is already restricted in that not all pupils who wish to play an instrument get the opportunity to do so please do not reduce this service further. Music provides a huge boost for a child's self confidence; provides culturally enriching experiences which they can gain in no other way; broadens friendships; aids emotional well being; and aids cognitive development all round. There have been many studies which indicate a link between playing an instrument and mathematical attainment.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 3245	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Reducing instrumental music provision in schools would undoubtedly be detrimental to the development of future generations of WL children and young adults. As someone who was fortunate enough to be involved with the music service throughout my whole education from primary to secondary I have no doubt that without the opportunities, discipline and friendships that I made from attending lessons/school orchestra/school folk group/west lothian strings orchestra/WL folk group/WL symphony orchestra (as well as representing them at local, national and international events) I would not be where I am today, currently working as a Doctor in the NHS. The skills learnt from receiving free music tuition during the years where we are growing and developing into young adults do not stop at being able to play an instrument, which in itself is a fantastic way to allow people to express emotions and creativity and also provides excellent entertainment during school concerts etc; it teaches the importance of dedication, hard work, discipline, communication skills, time management, team working... The list could go on for days, all things which are undeniably of importance in terms of future employability/applications to further and higher education. I'm sure that the importance of music in the curriculum is not doubted and that people are aware of this, however the other vital aspect to be able to deliver these opportunities and positive benefits is that the service of providing music lessons on a one to one basis must remain free or we are denying the people who need the additional support most to reach their potential and gain these skills; i.e. people from low income areas who are statistically more likely to be unemployed/have poorer physical and mental health outcomes/not have opportunities to travel. 3246	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Music and the playing of instruments has been proven over and over again in academic research and literature to improve the learner experience of young people, which in turn raises attainment. Music classroom teachers do not have the time nor skills to deliver this to young people therefore having instrumental music provision is a must. By reducing this service you will be jeopardising young peoples' success and also growing the gap between affluent and poor - those whose parents can afford it may privately pay for continuing tuition but many families will not be in a position to do so.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 3247	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I think arts and cultural activities which enrich society teach young people more by way of responsibility, working for a collective gain, and to contribute to society are vital and are probably one of the more successful outputs of the education system in west Lothian. However, if there must be a cost, this should be structured in such a way the children from more deprived or low-income backgrounds do not miss out on the opportunity to participate.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 3248	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Instrumental lessons are great if they lead to take-up later on. I do not believe that anything that is free is truly valued. 3249	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The Music Instrumental service is critical to many young people throughout West Lothian. Without it, we are unable to provide children with the chance to flourish in an area that they will not have access to without the Instrumental service that the council provides. 3250	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I feel passionately that there should be no reduction in instrumental music provision. The learning of music has been shown to improve intellectual ability through increased pathways in the brain. Also, with the staggering increase in rates of teenage depression and anxiety it seems ludicrous and short sighted to reduce provision of an aspect or learning which is both mood boosting and distracting from the stresses of modern life. Personally, both my daughters have benefited in countless ways from music - both playing in school bands and attending annual music camp which has been an annual highlight for them. Music is so good for children in terms of boost to mood, self-esteem and development of teamwork skills. Please please please do not make cuts to this vital aspect of education. 3251	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Music provision, along with arts and sports, should not be seen as an easy target for savings. These areas are as important to a well rounded education as the more 'academic' subjects and for some young people they are a lifeline. West Lothian has a strong music provision that it should be proud of and the young people who are part of it have benefited greatly from it in terms of team working, discipline, hard work and all gain increased confidence. I would oppose cuts to this area.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All pupils will experience Instrumental Music Tuition in Primary School through the Youth Music Initiative. It is proposed that some access to tuition will remain. All children will retain appropriate music, art and PE provision through curriculum for excellence.
3252	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Taking the opportunity to learn an instrument away from children within schools will exclude those who are less fortunate. And will only benefit the privileged who can afford to pay for private lessons. I feel that giving more responsibility to head teachers may benefit more children in the long run, in particular children who's parents are worse off financially.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 3253	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Why not offer music provisions at an additional cost to the parents, like a music club. This would be give people the option rather that cutting it out altogether.	Instrumental music provision	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed. 3254	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I would strongly oppose cuts in these areas. The focus on purely 'academic' attainment is detrimental to many young people. Music provision is so important. It facilitates learning in a group setting, it teaches discipline and the importance of working hard to get result. It improves confidence. West Lothian has always been strong in music provision and this has benefited many young people. Having dedicated music teachers moving around schools will provide more opportunities than an integrated approach which will cut the choices available and overall greatly reduce the music provision in the region. Music provision should not be seen as an easy target for cuts.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 3256	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I think it is shocking that you want to do away with instrumental music this is a great asset to children helping them with a variety of skills this can lead to a wide career choices to take this away from children especially ones that do not have the money to pay for this private would be an absolute disgrace. 3257	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Music is one of the aspects of happiness for pupils all over Scotland, therefore the fact the council is cutting back on music is not fair and may take a great opportunity away from many deprived children. In Scotland a lot of children cannot afford private lessons for music so school is the only chances to play and learn an instrument. Music is a great creative skill and builds confidence to help in later life. The chance for a performance and excursions also come with music so if you cut back children could also be losing their chance to go for a trip and more. This can help children gain friends and social skills to work well with others, playing in an orchestra can help children get team building skills. On a CV music shows employers creativity and commitment. Universities not only like academic subjects they like someone to show that they have a creative flare. An example of jobs that many assume would not require something creative is dentistry, veterinary and jobs within medicine, this is because you need to show manual dexterity so learning an instrument could be a possibility for those. Universities like to see the fact you have a great commitment towards something outside of your school subjects, learning a musical instrument is an example of this as many people play instruments for years. Music is a chance for pupils to release their deepest emotions and feelings in what seems like a language that everyone can understand.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All pupils will experience Instrumental Music Tuition in Primary School through the Youth Music Initiative. It is proposed that some access to tuition will remain. 3258	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Reducing music provision will be a loss, as a lot of our children in west Lothian do not get these opportunities elsewhere, as some parents/carers cannot afford them, or else do not take their children to any out of school activities. This will only increase the gap between life opportunities for young people.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3259	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Does West Lothian want to be the 1st and ONLY Scottish local authority to completely remove Instrumental Music tuition? 3266	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The instrumental programme must remain a priority for West Lothian. My oldest daughter went through the programme and was a part of the award winning West Calder High School Band. This helped her develop into a confident, happy student, who is a credit to her school and her community. Learning the flute taught her not just music, but the importance of hard work and commitment, something which she has carried through into her further education. We would not have been able to afford Flute lessons and without the instrumental programme she would have missed out on this opportunity. Now my 2nd daughter is in P7 and is also going through the programme. She is much less confident in her own abilities than her sister, but I know that the programme will help her shine and believe in herself. The West Lothian music programme brings great kudos to the region and to lose it, I fear would do irrevocable damage. Making and sharing music is such an uplifting experience. It is not an add on. It can literally change a child's life. All of our children have developed incredible confidence and resilience through music. This just can't be replicated. If cut off, this experience will return back to privileged children whose parents can afford to give them this opportunity. 3268	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	There are countless articles and documents stating how important extra-curricular activities are to children in schools, so it is confusing and very much frustrating as to why West Lothian Council would want to reduce one of those available. As an former pupil of a West Lothian high school, who had great involvement with the Instrumental Music Provision, I would be deeply saddened to see it reduced. A very large proportion of the practical and life skills I developed throughout my school years is due to being part of both Junior and Senior School Wind Bands, as well as the Regional Concert Band and Regional Wind Ensemble. I was only able to be part of these music groups due to receiving Instrumental Music Provision at school and, not only did this experience give me the opportunity to make new friends, but also increased my confidence and improved a vast range of skills (including team-working, time management and leadership skills). The skills I developed through the Instrumental Music Provision has assisted me in securing a number of jobs, as it highlights dedication, the ability to honour commitment in addition to all the skills previously mentioned. The Instrumental Music Provision has essentially made me the person I am today. My younger sibling has also gone on to take up an instrument through the music provision in the school, which came about from when I was involved in the music programme. I still regularly attend concerts and competitions where the impact of the instrument music provision setting is so clearly evident on the children and young people's confidence, skills and overall schooling experience. It would be an immense shame to take away this amazing opportunity from future musicians which makes West Lothian so unique. A price tag cannot be put on the benefits that the Instrumental Music Provision provide young people with.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3269	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Speaking as an admissions advisor for Heriot Watt university, we in the university feel that the instrumental music provision made by West Lothian council has been fundamental in improving the chances for unconditional acceptance of West Lothian students. The opportunity to show long term commitment to a band or orchestra gives us evidence of a student who is willing to commit to a voluntary programme. This is over and above the known benefits in student's confidence.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 3270	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	As a parent of 2 young adults who have been involved with West Lothian Schools instrumental programme for over 9 and 7 years respectively, I am extremely concerned that there may be further cuts to this area. I firmly believe my boys would not be the young adults they are today without being involved in the Instrumental programme. It has helped them become confident and committed individuals who help contribute to many aspects within school due to the skills learned taking part in the programme. If this service is reduced further, it will ultimately result in the school being unable to go ahead with their concerts throughout the year which enables the children to show their skills to parents and carers. School bands may end up being either reduced or disbanded completely. Therefore ultimately being unable to take part in Local and National competitions which both individual schools and area Ensemble groups have taken part in every year as long as my kids have been involved, and have one out of these with the highest awards. The Instrumental teachers show a huge commitment to their job and the kids they instruct and the time they give over and above their given hours often goes unnoticed. As a family we firmly believe that being involved in such a programme has assisted our oldest son in being admitted to Heriot watt University this year due to examples he was able to show in commitment and personal skills to name a few which were gained through the programme. If this service is cut any more than it is future generations of children West Lothian may even start to lose out on University places due to reduction in skills and commitment required at entry level. We have also heard first hand from an admissions tutor from a Uni that commitment is a big part of what they look for in personal statement, being involved in music and being part of the band shows a huge commitment throughout school life. The council keeps talking about addressing inequality and minimising poverty yet funds extra music for middle class kids. Can't be a priority	Instrumental music provision	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal. 3272	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I strongly disagree that taking away the schools instrumental music provision is necessary. Thousands of school pupils rely on the instrumental service and not every person will be able to afford the instrumental lessons of they were to be changed. Pupils who religiously attend orchestras, bands, folk groups ECT. Pupils Gain confidence through meeting new people, building self esteem and better their playing. If West Lothian council wants to 'level up' the number of employees through the council, why get rid of the instrumental teachers when there is a shortage anyway. There could be the future Mozart who was never discovered because they couldn't afford lessons. Maybe instead of completely getting rid of the instrumental music provision I suggest that you consider asking people to buy their own music and instruments. Getting rid of the instrumental music provision would damage many people's self esteem and social skills. Music camps are also a way of getting better and improving your social skills. Instead of getting rid of the instrumental music provision West Lothian council could change little things that would not make big changes but helping with the proposed budget savings. 3273	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Reducing instrumental service ???? Thought the council followed the charter which promotes child development both socially and academically. The children who play an instrument within the wind ensemble and school bands build a wider social circle of friends and also build their confidence playing to members of the public. They feel great pride when they achieve awards (platinum at the SCBF final with West lothian wind ensemble). I know children who were once shy and quiet, now after being part of this wonderful music opportunity have become confident and wonderful young adults who take skills they have learnt from being part of these groups into adulthood. I am applied that this can be considered, when we learn that the council wants to rebrand their logo (why, who knows) with a huge cost ££££££. What is more important I ask - a brand or an investment in our young that allows them to become confident/social young adults who will take skills learn into the workforce ? 3275	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Reducing the the instrumental music provision would be a huge loss to the children of West Lothian. As a parent of two children who are part of school bands and ensembles, I cannot stress enough the importance music has played in both their lives. Apart from learning a new skill, it also provides opportunities to improve confidence and team building skills. West Lothian has few school groups of which it can be justifiably proud, but it's musicians are an exception. They have won multiple awards within Scotland and the UK and are a credit to the music leaders who coach them. It is also a fact that the experience of being in an instrumental group is seen as a benefit when applying for university admission. Any reduction in instrumental music provision may have a direct reduction in West Lothian students being admitted to university.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3277	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I am very concerned at the proposal to reduce instrumental music provision. Surely there should be an opportunity to keep the current system but to charge a fee if that is necessary. I strongly feel that learning an instrument and being part of a bigger group such as Band and Orchestra is, for some children, so key for good health & well being, as well as improving social interaction& confidence, & learning to work effectively within a team. It would be a complete travesty to lose the Senior Band and individual brass lessons from [REDACTED] has worked exceptionally hard to get them to the point of winning a Gold Award at National Level. They are one of the best in Scottish schools and have grown in confidence individually and collectively as a result. Obviously I'm keen for instruments to be available to all. I think it is time to go back to Means Testing, so that those able to, will pay for some of these wonderful things that we enjoy and appreciate that have been provided free up to this point. Council need to look at how to generate revenue, I think many people would rather pay for services they value than have them taken away!!	Instrumental music provision	2. 3280	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Music is a fundamental part of my children's life for the past six years. Through music they have developed my skills required in life. Initially when they began to play flute, they learned patience and good manners. I believe this has helped them with other academic courses such as maths through problem solving, understanding beats, rhythm and scales these help with division and fractions. Music helps in applying good social skills by peer interaction, communication and teamwork. A major factor in playing an instrument teaches discipline and perseverance of practising for many years. becoming part of a larger ensemble they learn respect for others they become attentive after having to sit for long periods of time. Music has also helped boost self confidence which helps in skills such as public speaking. Music in schools is already stretched and would not be able to offer children the skills and expertise of the instrumental department. Children would not be able to be part of a larger band or wind ensemble. Many parents would be unable to afford private lessons. The instrumental department goes above and beyond the jobs. The extra time they give for extra rehearsals. The band received a platinum award this year, through the hard work of the music team. Music is just as important to wellbeing as sport. I believe strongly my children have excelled in life due to music, it has shaped the young adults they have become. My oldest child is now studying music at university but is still part of the wind ensemble.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3284	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Students should be entitled to have a choice of what is important in their learning. My son has been playing music for 8 years and he has found this rewarding in so many ways. He has grown in confidence through the years and music has brought a sense of relief as they go through exams which lead to increased stress levels. Some children may prefer Art, drama, PE but the choices should be varied. Music has had such a positive outcome on my child and hope that this continues. West Calder High School are playing in the annual Scottish Band Festival on Sunday 3rd December at 6.30. 3287	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	My biggest concern is that reducing the availability of free musical tuition has potentially larger repercussions than might be imagined. It gives children a sense of belonging, an outlet for emotions, discipline and self-discipline, responsibility, team-work, solo practise, and accountability. West Lothian should be fiercely proud of the musical talent found in its young people and this self-expression should be nurtured, not silenced. Many families would not be able to afford music lessons for their children otherwise, and I am not doubtful that there would be a sudden decrease in musical activity in the region. We are very lucky to have free musical education, as other local councils have seen to remove it from their areas, but we can't afford to not offer this service in West Lothian. 3288	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The loss of the IMS support to schools would have a massively detrimental effect on the culture, ethos and attainment in music within schools. Without IMS provision school concerts and shows, where pupils learn to be confident individuals, effective contributors etc will be unachievable. I could not over state the importance of trying to find a way to maintain the IMS provision within schools.	Instrumental music provision	2. Instrumental music provision	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Parents do not have to contribute to core curricular activities.
3290	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I think that continuing to provide an instrumental music service in schools is very important. Without this, many pupils would not be able to enjoy the benefits of learning to play an instrument, and of playing instruments in a group setting. Benefits include enhanced language, cognitive, social and emotional development.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3292	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The world without music would be an empty place . Education is all about adding value to each pupil and success cannot be judged by formal qualification attainment alone. Children from all backgrounds benefit from exposure to music and this part of curriculum should be maintained . Define attainment as the above statement is unclear.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3293	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I do not agree with reduced music provision. Can not the system of free tuition be subsidised by the council with parents paying some (say 50 or 75%) towards lessons? 3294	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Please don't cut funding for music in schools too much. 3295	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Education should be more of a nurturing, varied process instead of purely academic. Mental Health issues in children and young adults can be addressed by way of allowing a creative outlet. Reducing music provision is wrong. Music is one of these creative outlets. Pupils should feel that school inclusive of all types of children whether they are gifted academically or gifted in other ways such as music or sports. Music is a lifeline to some school children. 3296	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I would be very disappointed if instrumental musical provision was cut. 3300	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	As a high school pupil in West Lothian I am very concerned about a proposed reduction in instrumental music. This year I achieved 4 A passes and 1 B pass in my highs. One of my A passes was music, playing keyboard and violin. Without my strings teacher I would not have been able to achieve the great results. My music class teachers are not able to teach a variety of instruments,, generally only keyboard and glockenspiel. There is a great variety of instrument options for music students at present in West Lothian Schools. Many talents would be lost without this nessecary service. Numerous concerts are held all aver West Lothian which would not be possible if the cuts in staff and instruction happen. To deny children the opportunity to experience the making of music would be a travesty. PLEASE RECONSIDER AND MAKE SAVINGS ELSEWHWHERE DO NOT CUT MUSIC INSTRUCTION. This would have a huge impact on pupils hoping to study music to exam level, making their career choices impossible and cause a terrible loss of young people growing up without an oppportunity to enjoy music. 3302	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I am a third year pupil at a high school in West Lothian. I am very worried about the proposal to cut music instrumental lessons. How am I supposed to continue to progress and pass my National 5 music exam at the end of 4th year without instrumental instruction ? My music class teachers are not trained to teach different instruments. There will be no concerts at school or West Lothian Schools Area Ensemble rehearsals and concerts without music instrumental teachers. The council will deprive children of the amazing opportunities that music brings, this will affect decisions young people make when choosing subjects to study and many talents will be lost, PLEASE CONSIDER THE IMPLICATIONS OF NO MUSIC. 3303	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I would urge the council not to cut the budget for music provision. Both my children have play instruments and have the enjoyment of performing with the cluster and school bands. My son was bullied badly in S1 and has a terrible year and his only comfort and escapism was music. He suffers from anxiety as a result of the bullying and being part of both the Cluster School Brass Band and the School band he is able to cope better in this environment. He is not sporty and therefore music is his main interest which along with guitar lessons he is self taught in keyboard and drums. Please, please reconsider any cuts to this provision. 3306	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Most young people only have access to musical instruments within school and cannot afford to get their own instruments. 3308	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The proposal to reduce the instrumental music provision in schools concerns me greatly. As an alumni of Linlithgow Academy, I know I am not alone among my peer group in recognising the continuing positive impact of having received instrumental lessons through the council while at school. In my own case, I would quite literally not have been able to access the career I currently hold without those lessons. As a starting point, my access to these lessons and the musical ensembles they enabled me to participate in throughout my school career constituted the bulk of the extracurriculars I was able to include on my university applications. I read Biochemistry at Durham University, an institution that highly values involvement in extracurriculars, and so I wonder if my application would have been accepted without these experiences. I began this course with the intention of pursuing a career as a research scientist; however, following my graduation, I came to the conclusion that this was not for me. I decided instead to pursue a career as a music therapist, which required completion of a Masters qualification. Usually, either a music degree is a prerequisite for this course - as I did not have this, it was only by virtue of my extracurricular musical experiences at school and at university that carried me through with my irrelevant degree subject. Now, my income consists of my work as a music therapist, as a community musician and as a performer, none of which would have been possible without the instrumental music lessons at school. I would like to emphasise that I am specifically referring to the extracurricular instrumental lessons, and not the classroom music tuition. The proposal to integrate these lessons into the classroom tuition is unrealistic and would not be a true replacement by any stretch of the imagination. The format of individual/small group lessons is crucial to musical development if an instrument is to be learnt to any real standard. The opportunity for effective mentoring, of instrument-specific knowledge and technique, of individual attention and understanding of the needs of the individual child, or the development of a trusting relationship necessary for nurturing a child in the emotionally vulnerable pursuit of learning an instrument - none of these can be replicated in classroom lessons. Personally, while I greatly valued my classroom music tuition, as an adult I can see that my musical and personal development primarily happened in the instrumental lessons and resulting ensemble playing, whereas the classroom tuition was a more appropriate environment for developing my understanding of music on an academic level - while I valued this and still hold an interest in the topics I began studying in those classes, I doubt I would still actively make music myself today if the classroom curricula was all I had experienced. As a final point, I would like to direct your attention to the two following articles, which specifically consider the effects of instrumental study on development. Please note emphasis on the distinction between instrumental programmes and generic music programmes. http://digitalcommons.library.umaine.edu/cgi/viewcontent.cgi?article=1022&context=honors http://www.vh1saveethemusic.org/sites/default/files/BenefitsofMusicEd%20%281%29_1.pdf I hope you will	Instrumental music provision	2. 3309	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The culture of West Lothian is closely tied to music, with many of the young people accessing IMS as a vehicle to be included in collegiate activities such as concerts, camps even simply group rehearsals. Schools are important in providing the young musicians of the future and there is a concern that a removal of the service would exclude large numbers of pupils from being included if they cannot afford private tuition. Allocating a cost for music lessons is not equitable for the reasons mentioned but perhaps means tested somehow?	Instrumental music provision	2. 3310	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Music staff in schools do not have expertise in the range of instruments required to simply replace the IMS service and the quality of SQA attainment is likely to suffer as a result of a removal of the service. The cost of Guitar tuition has been absorbed by schools but there is no capacity to replicate that model across all specialist areas.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3311	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	With schools now having the pupil equity fund, a review of the central support provided would be appropriate. I do not understand why cost recovery charges are not applied for instrumental music, so that the families that can afford it and want their child to participate can pay and the more disadvantaged don't have to. I understand there are links between music and attainment, however I would expect that the children who currently participate in instrumental music are from more affluent backgrounds and will already be more pre-disposed to better attainment than children from poorer backgrounds. Therefore the priority should be on the pupils from the poorer area who might need the additional support, instead of providing a 'nice to have' to the more affluent.	Instrumental music provision	6. 3318	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I do not agree with reducing instrumental music provision - I think all children should have the opportunity to learn an instrument. It fosters self-discipline, mastery and opportunities (e.g., to join orchestras/bands) that increase confidence and self-identity. These are skills for life and West Lothian has a good reputation for music.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3320	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Any reduction in the instrumental music programme would be an act of child abuse.you don't take away children's rights to learn.as an avid supporter of the instrumental programme with my two children, I would be deeply offended if this service was to be cut. ██████████ also attends these magical musical events with his foreign dignitaries and friends.what is he going to tell them in the future when they can't attend because west lothian council has robbed these children of their right to learn and exceed. Your comment has been noted. It is not proportionate to equate the proposal with child abuse.
3321	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Again, greater efficiency in these areas is essential. Consideration should be given to charging for instrumental music to avoid cuts that would reduce opportunities for young people to develop their talent and enhance their lives. It is not unreasonable to ask those who could afford to pay for lessons to do so - this does happen in other areas of Scotland.	Instrumental music provision	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	All pupils will experience Instrumental Music Tuition in Primary School through the Youth Music Initiative. It is proposed that some access to tuition will remain. All children will retain appropriate music provision through curriculum for excellence.
3322	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I think the cutting of instrumental music lessons in schools is incredibly short sighted. It is well evidenced that music enhances a child's education in many ways and investing in music improves school outcomes and success in many areas not only relating to music. Reducing the lessons will lead to the disappearance of bands, orchestras, drama productions and remove an invaluable outlet for many children to whom other subjects at school have not been engaging. There is no way this sort of tuition can be catered for within a standard school music lesson. Those who can afford lessons outside of school will need an ensemble to play in so no doubt will be siphoned off to private schools. Yet again the inequality gap will widen. Please to not allow this poor decision to be made. We must keep music as a top priority in our schools. It is fundamental to our education.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All pupils will experience Instrumental Music Tuition in Primary School through the Youth Music Initiative. It is proposed that some access to tuition will remain. 3323	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I believe that reducing instrumental provision would not be a good move for the council. Having music tuition in children's lives and being part of a music ensemble not only encourages children to communicate better with their peers but also keeps their brains active which can help with other subjects of the curriculum. I know the huge benefits my son has experienced in the 3 years since taking up a brass instrument and whilst some of his friends now laze around playing video games, my son is part of a family that contribute greatly to the wider community making him a more responsible and respectful member of society. 3324	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Music is such an important part of children's lives, I think it's crucial that the instrumental programme stays in West Lothian. The West Lothian ensembles are so highly thought of and have done extremely well in the Scottish concert band festivals over the years. The benefit to the children and young people who take part is clear for everyone to see, it encourages good friendships, good work ethics and confidence. I quote from the West Lothian council page "As well as musical development, the many general benefits gained from learning to play a musical instrument include: enhanced listening and concentration, discipline, co-ordination, language development, memory and social skills. It helps your child to become part of a team and to respect other team members whilst increasing your child's confidence and participation in the wider school and community." With all these benefits to our young people it would be extremely sad to see this disappear from the county.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3325	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Do not agree with the reduction in instrumental music provision. This is a wonderful service provided in West Lothian and should be maintained where possible. Not all parents would afford private music lessons and children will lose out. For pupils completing personal statements for university the instrumental music provision can play a significant part, certain courses actually stipulate manual dexterity as shown through musical ability. 3326	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I wouldn't want to see reduced music provision in schools; too much evidence to show how playing a musical instrument can help a child's brain growth etc - not to mention their mental wellbeing. 3327	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	With regards to reducing instrumental provision you would see a dramatic decline in children with arts talent. Money is already tight in households for Parents to pay for children to get lessons on instruments, well it would not be a priority and then you would see a massive reduction in learning about music. How is this giving children a breadth of curriculum. Not every child is academic and rely on art programmes to further their learning.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3329	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Hi, I'm a music student receiving the lessons and I really enjoy them. I would like say there are plenty of other ways to save money. I know the money is going towards a good cause, but there are loads of music teachers that may be without a job. I am among a group of music students that really would like it if we could keep on getting the same amount of lessons.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3331	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	My daughter has gained highly from the free music tuition and because of this, it has improved her social skills/ confidence. It would be a real shame if this opportunity were to be unavailable to other children to get this chance. I am not in support of these cuts and feel that West Lothian student music would become poorer in ability if the responsibility of teaching the students specialist instruments were to lie of subject music teachers rather than instrument qualified teachers. 3332	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I am strongly in support of continuation of musical tuition and specialist teaching given the huge benefits my daughter has gained from this for her development/increased confidence/social skills had she not had this opportunity provided for her via specialist tuition and orchestra she partakes in on her West Lothian school. With news that this may be withdrawn means that this will limit the availability of all the benefits of specialist music department/teaching can bring to west lothian's children to just a chosen few and the education system all the poorer for it. 3333	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The provision of instrumental music teachers in our authority is essential in allowing our children and young people to develop their full potential through expressive arts. Any departure from this would be a sad loss for our authority. Music provides an outlet for many young people and enables them to cope effectively with the stresses which arise in modern society. This dedicated service provision should be maintained.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3335	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	My son has greatly benefitted from the music tuition provided to him at school. This has already been cut but his school headmaster has employed their music tutor so the children can still benefit from their one on one tuition. Music and sports are just as important as the other subjects in fact can give children a purpose. Music has kept my son busy and he is never wandering the streets causing trouble like some of his peers. Also, my daughter, who has autism but is mainstream educated, is learning an instrument and is now part of the West Lothian band ensemble. This has really helped her confidence and social skills. You only have to see some of the concerts and shows put on to see how many talented children there are in our schools. We couldn't afford private tuition and this helps give our kids more of an even footing with their more advantaged peers.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3336	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	There should be no reduction in the instrumental music provision - it will not be possible to bring this into the mainstream curriculum. it is important to continue with the provision as it is as it maximises the opportunities for young people to develop their talents. 3337	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	West Lothian's provision of instrumental services for young people is the envy of many other council areas in scotland. 3338	An individual	1b. 3342	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Reduction in these services will in time produce a very negative effect for all users and beneficiaries of the current system. For example, skills developed by learning a musical instruments include good study habits and practice regime, commitment and resilience, cognitive development, organisational skills, problem solving, perseverance, decision making, accuracy and team work. Research has shown that music can have a positive impact on the following qualities: self confidence, self discipline, imagination and creativity, communication skills, social skills, self respect, listening skills, concentration skills, commitment, loyalty and co-operation. These are all life skills and transferrable from school, to further education, employment, good citizenship and beyond. As such failure to provide instrumental music provision could have wide ranging negative effects. All children should have accessibility to music and instrumental musical tuition. West Lothian Council have a very well attended and successful schools pipe band being Champion of Champions and picking up numerous titles and trophies over the years, including 4th place at this years Pipe Band World Championships. This comes through hard work, study, drive, determination and dedication. Approximately 50 children put in hours of practice as individuals on a daily basis and at band practices several times a week and proudly represent their schools and Council, whilst upholding the traditions of our national instrument. 3346	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Very important that instrumental music provision continues. 3347	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Finally, the proposed cuts to instrumental music service is ludicrous and needs to be addressed. 3348	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. 3349	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I would not support a reduction in instrumental music provision and integration of it into the mainstream curriculum. Many music teachers in West Lothian would inevitably lose their jobs and young people would lose the opportunity to learn an instrument. It has been shown in scientific studies that there is a developmental gain from the opportunity to learn a musical instrument as well as taking part in concerts at school, regional and often international level and music pupils gain a lifelong superior ability to work within groups and provide support to their peers, something that has not been shown from other subjects offered in the mainstream curriculum. Music touches the lives of everyone. While it would be absurd to suggest that removal of the current level of support within West Lothian would result in a silent world, it is not appropriate to attack one subject suggesting it has less value in the overall school curriculum or to those students studying it especially as many of those who do gain qualifications will go on to achieve at a professional level and gain employment continuing to pass on their skills and enable access to the benefits of music at a worldwide level. West Lothian Council has already previously removed financial and practical support from music education in a previous budget shake up. I would suggest therefore that the other subjects within the curriculum are considered for their share of the cuts. On a personal level, although not a musician, I find it offensive to place less value on an Arts subject and it demonstrates a lack of understanding of what pupils gain from music instruction. 3350	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I am strongly opposed to cutting instrumental music. It is wrong to lump this in with cutting central support to schools, as you could easily embed the whole budget within schools, so this proposition is disingenuous. One of my sons owes his career as an orchestral musician to the tuition he received at school in West Lothian, and if you are keen to promote positive destinations for school leavers then why cut this? There are huge positive benefits for children who take up a musical instrument, my son is learning to play the violin. this has moved his confidence, self-esteem and over all academic ability, school in West Lothian are lucky because the music department in the schools have dedicated hard working teachers who inspire the young people they teach. this is evident in the regular achievement of the various school choirs, orchestras, woodwind, brass, pipe, strings. this is a vitality important part of my sons education that i could not provide if it was not offered at school. I have noticed with great admiration that the positive and level of self belief in pupils who normally would shy away and retract into them selves, the positive moral that these pupil achieve with being in the west lothian band is truly amazing. 3357	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Instrumental music provision in schools is incredibly important! A reduced service doesn't bear thinking about. Many young people would have absolutely no access to this type of art at all, if not for the already limited opportunities they have in schools. Many many young people who have the opportunity to express themselves through music & instruments may have found themselves down a very different route without this opportunity in their lives. Music promotes confidence, self-esteem, positive mental well-being, being part of something, sharing a common interest. It can keep young people off the streets, or getting mixed up in anti social behaviour. It is a discipline and a skill, and it crosses boundaries within the educational curriculum. Cutting or reducing this service doesn't feel like a successful saving, it feels like a punishment for the children and young people who would be affected, and a missed opportunity to nurture accomplishment. 3364	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	On the subject of reduced instrumental music provision. When I was at school in the fifties there was no musical instrument tuition available. Likewise when my children attended school. In adulthood they have both learned instruments but they regret the lack of opportunity when they were children. Now my grandchildren may not have the opportunity. It makes me sad to think that my local council for 70 years may be throwing the achievements of the past 20 or so years away. I understand that West Lothian are highly respected for their various school bands and it would be depressing if this was discontinued as we all know if something is cut off it is lost forever. She is not particularly academic and she will be hoping to study music at high school. It will be so disappointing if this is taken away from her. There are lots of children who would lose out on this who need the creative side of the syllabus in order to achieve qualifications. It is not all about academic qualifications. 3366	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Strongly disagree especially regarding the Instrumental Music Service. West Lothian has an enviable reputation with their music service and ensembles. The Music service provides immeasurable benefits to young people - not just in learning an instrument, but all the social benefits, confidence, raising of self esteem, opportunities, improved attainment. Pupils with additional learning needs benefit even more especially if they are trying to integrate into mainstream education, as the small groups or 1 2 1 classes give them focus and support. Many young people have little opportunities outside school dependent on their home / family / financial / social situations, and this chance to learn to an instrument, then move into an ensemble as well as gaining friendship with other young musicians is priceless. It would be criminal to remove this very valuable resource.	Instrumental music provision	2. I am fifteen and have been getting lessons since I was in s1, this is the only way I have been able to get them because they are too expensive otherwise. Music has made me a whole different person, I have learnt so much about music and about myself. If you take music away, I won't be able to play my saxophone anymore, there won't be anymore Christmas concerts, there won't be any music camp. I have finally found my passion please don't take it away from me now.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3373	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	To lose or change the current Instrumental Music Service would be a total travesty. This is a fabulous opportunity for West Lothian school children and enhances the lives of those who take a full part in it. As someone who grew up with getting this opportunity it makes me feel utter devastation that there has even been a consideration to remove this. Investing in young people is the future. Music provides so many benefits to health and wellbeing as well as all the success for personal exams. Pupils meet and make friends with other like minded pupils from other schools that they would probably have never met and get to work together to create special concerts. Please do not change this. More investment is needed in this valuable service that West Lothian is renowned for. West Lothian Council should be very proud of this service and protect it from these cuts. Keep giving the West Lothian pupils this chance to enhance their lives.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3374	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The Instrumental Music Service should not be reduced because it provides opportunities to children such as meeting and befriending other players of all ages and allowing them to further develop their skills. Reducing the Service means less children or none at all would be able to have the same great experiences I have gained as a result of the teachers and all the hard work they do. Playing an Instrument of any kind allows players to develop skills such as their perseverance, discipline, social skills, commitment and their school attainment in general. As a result of the Instrumental Music Service I feel more confident in myself and my abilities and had excellent attainment over all my National 5s and Highers which the Instrumental Music Service has aided me in. Within Schools there is a selection of unique bands which pupils of all ages can take part in, this allows players to get to know people of different ages and skill levels. This also creates a welcoming environment in which students can assist each other in developing their playing skills and social skills. Band is an enjoyable place to be and is a break from the usual school routine and gives people something to do rather than doing nothing with their spare time. As a result of these bands, players can participate in local events and competitions which encourages them to be the best they can be, this mind set of striving to be the best is not only used in music but in school subjects and adult life as well. These are valuable skills which are developed in a fun and exciting way thanks to the Instrumental Music Service. Outwith Schools there are even more opportunities to play in local bands. Personally I have been able to represent Scotland in competitions on numerous occasions which have given me valuable experiences such as playing in Freiburg, Germany as well as Cheltenham, England. I have also been able to play at Murrayfield Stadium during the Six Nations. This generates a sense of pride as each individual player, not matter what band, has something they can be proud of which has made their life more interesting. Being able to play in a band includes you in the local community by playing at local events such as Galadays, Christmas Concerts, Carolling at The Centre and Remembrance Days. This allows players to feel more included in the area they live in and bring a little joy to many people's lives, because who doesn't enjoy Christmas. Without the Instrumental Music Service bands will become less common as there will not be enough players in the local area to support at these events will forever change the community. Not only do bands take part in local events, they also support charities by playing at charity events with organisations such as	Instrumental music provision	2. 3375	An individual	1b. 3379	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I am really concerned about a reduction in instrumental music provision. Music brings much wider benefits than just being able to play an instrument, and the fact that different feeder primary schools learn different instruments means that the Area Ensembles can continue to be successful year on year. If you cut the music provision at the roots, then it will only be a matter of a few years before the Area Ensembles will start to wither. It would be a shame to throw this all away, after all the hard work, dedication and commitment from both the children and their tutors and teachers. You only need to see the number of schools that participate in the SCBF competitions, and the awards that they achieve, to see that West Lothian should be proud of their schools' performances. I didn't grow up in this area, and one of the things I always admired about the set up in West Lothian was the fact that the children came together in a spirit of collaboration to play together in the Area Ensembles. Not only do they get to meet new people and make new friends, it stops a culture of "them and us" from developing. In the local authority area where I went to school, music provision and teaching was solely conducted within individual schools. This led to rivalry developing between schools at competitions, and ill feeling between some children - unfortunately across sectarian lines in some instances. I would urge councillors and those responsible for making these decisions to think very carefully about this, and also think about the wider implications of losing the Area Ensembles. 3380	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	With regards to instrumental tuition it's sad to have to cut it but if it could be retained at secondary schools it would be ideal. At the primary level many children lose interest quickly anyway but by secondary school many children are studying for exams which require them to receive quality instrumental tuition to pass. Also in a council which once had the World Championship winning schools brass band it seems a crying shame to lose this tradition.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3381	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Reduced instrumental service would have a huge negative impact on our children. Provides our children with so many opportunities and opens so many doors for them later in life. Helps aid learning in other areas of the curriculum. Helps to bridge the attainment gap. Class teachers are NOT music specialists and cannot provide the specialist tuition these teachers give.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. It is proposed that some access to tuition will remain. All children will retain appropriate music provision through curriculum for excellence.
3383	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I have seen first hand the impact instrumental lessons provide to pupils, and know that this cannot be delivered by class teachers. It has to be a specialist, and it has to be considered as more than an 'add on' to education. It is essential. Instrumental lessons shape the pupil for life, teaching focus, application, team working, resilience, organisation, leadership and emotional intelligence. Add to this the proven brain development that takes place while learning an instrument and there is an argument for increasing instrumental lessons. If instrumental lessons are taken from schools, becoming a musician is placed once again into the hands of those who can afford to pay for lessons and instruments. There is no reason why a child from a poorer background cannot be as good as one from a wealthy background apart from the availability of experience. I strongly disagree with removing instrumental lessons from schools. There is a case for headteachers employing instrumental teachers but unless they are given a ring fenced budget to do so, this is unlikely to be maintained. The carefully nurtured and nationally admired instrumental service built up by West Lothian Council will become no better than a token nod at providing quality musical education. All pupils will experience Instrumental Music Tuition in Primary School through the Youth Music Initiative. It is proposed that some access to tuition will remain. 3384	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Reducing the instrumental service even further will be devastating for youngsters and remove access to music and arts for many. Learning an instrument is proven to improve young people's attainment across all subjects not just music. This would be an unwise, short sighted move by West Lothian.	Instrumental music provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All pupils will experience Instrumental Music Tuition in Primary School through the Youth Music Initiative. It is proposed that some access to tuition will remain. 3385	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	To reduce instrumental tuition would be a disgraceful move and have a major impact on young people. Music provides extreme amount of skills for learning, life and work and has been proven in many researches. Any pupil, parent, family member and the School community will support the positive and motivational impact on instrumental tuition which should not be reduced or removed. Due to ongoing and increasing mental health issues with young people, changing educational psychology to an advisory role may have a very negative and hugely concerning impact on the health and wellbeing of all young people. EP department should be further invested in to ensure appropriate support is available for young people.	Instrumental music provision	2. 3495	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Don't agree about marvellous school estate. The school I know of has a PFI contract which means serious repairs like roof leaks are left for years. Don't suppose you can get out of these contracts as Unison has suggested but at least there could be no future PFI schemes or ones with much higher penalties for repairs not done. 3496	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Priorities need to be in teaching reading, writing and arithmetic. Ensuring all children are provided with the same level of teaching.	Quality assurance in schools	4. The council is already doing this.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
3497	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Need to ensure an appropriate number of suitably qualified members of staff to carry out the Council's Statutory duties. IT systems and support needs to be appropriate to needs to services	Quality assurance in schools	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to implementing agreed proposals without detriment to pupils. The Council will retain an appropriate number of suitably qualified staff to deliver its priorities.
3498	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The level of education of primary children moving on to secondary education varies greatly between schools. Some secondary schools are having to repeat the basics of reading and writing before they can start more advanced lessons. Standards within some primary schools need to be improved and progress should be overseen by teachers from secondary schools.	Quality assurance in schools	4. The council is already doing this.	This comment reflects council practice in increasing collaboration between schools and improving support at transition.
3499	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Quality Improvement Officers, Education Officers, Development Officers.... Can we get back to actually teaching the kids!!!!!!!!!	Quality assurance in schools	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The proposals will affect the balance between front line staff and those in support roles but recognise the contribution of both.
3500	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	If help is needed from third party providers to ensure that a service can be provided is a good thing but they should only be used after all options of in house services have been exhausted.	Quality assurance in schools	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	In general third party providers are used where this is more efficient or provides a higher quality service than can be provided in house, or in some cases where specialist experience is not available in house. The proposals do not alter this.

3501	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Hopefully an overview of consistency of attainment between schools in the area will be maintained.	Quality assurance in schools	4. The council is already doing this.	Maintaining a consistent approach to raising attainment is a key priority for the Council.
3502	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	HMI at Scotland wide level should ensure less quality assurance by the council is necessary. Make Head teachers answerable for attainment in schools. Good reasons for poor formal exam results in areas of social deprivation Options required. Not all young people are exam orientated. Time we looked at other routes.	Quality assurance in schools	4. The council is already doing this.	The new Regional Improvement Collaborative will provide additional support to schools for quality assurance. Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review. Headteachers, and the council, will provide a curriculum appropriate to the needs of individual pupils.
3503	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Agree with restructure but would not wish to see a reduction in quality improvement or quality assurance activities.	Quality assurance in schools	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Quality assurance and improvement is a key building block of raising attainment. The embedding of expertise in schools through the Validated Self Assessment process, and the new Regional Improvement Collaborative will ensure these activities remain strong within West Lothian.
3504	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	By working in partnership with more partners, other professionals for example childhood practice graduates they could benefit from their skills and qualities and involve them more in quality assurance and self evaluation systems. Likewise school teaching staff could complete this in early years settings.	Quality assurance in schools	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	This suggestion will be considered by appropriate officers as part of the implementation of early learning and childcare.
3505	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	25% of West Lothian's children do not get a 27-30 month development review (allegedly universal) that is supposed to identify a range of development domains - many of which are required to undertake statutory learning in an EY or school environment. Education legislation requires any changes to take account of how service changes will impact upon those in the lowest SIMD quintile (and education specific aspect of the broader socio-economic duty). I am not convinced that those proposing cuts have an understanding of legislative procedures etc. that have been varied in recent updates to existing education acts or recently introduced ones.	Quality assurance in schools	4. The council is already doing this.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. This appears to the 'socio-economic duty' introduced by the Education (Scotland) Act 2016. The Council is aware of, and is following, its provisions.
3506	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Some teachers are great, some are good and some are god-awful. How do you measure performance? Pay the best Teachers more, get rid of the under-performers.	Quality assurance in schools	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Teachers pay and conditions are set nationally, and it is not within the gift of West Lothian Council to offer performance related pay. Standards are set nationally by the GTCS, which also sets the framework for monitoring and addressing underperformance. This framework is applied within West Lothian.
3507	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Centrally run quality assurance is not necessary. Headteachers and PTCs should be able to quality assure their staff effectively and are already doing so. The VSE system would continue to work without the input of QIOs who haven't been in a classroom setting in years.	Quality assurance in schools	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The proposal to reduce central quality assurance is a result of the on-going programme to embed expertise in schools.
3508	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The reduction in quality assurance activities is unacceptable. During a key period of change the ability to evaluate its impact is essential and necessary to allow appropriate governance. To allow schools to self report reduces the Council's ability to appropriately ensure quality. I strongly oppose this element of this proposal but broadly support other elements.	Quality assurance in schools	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The reduction in central support for quality assurance is the result of an ongoing process to embed expertise at school level through the Validated Self Evaluation process.
3509	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Quality assurance is vital but with training could be carried out by the headteacher with support from the secretaries.	Quality assurance in schools	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Quality Assurance activities are being embedded at school level through the Validated Self Evaluation process, resulting in less need for central support.
3510	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Reads as if the council is almost washing its hands of educational difficulties. There needs to be QA processes in place at council to ensure equity of treatment for our young people. The council should also act as a conduit for sharing best practice which could be achieved through a quality assurance process leading to continuous improvement.	Quality assurance in schools	4. The council is already doing this.	Robust Quality Assurance processes are in place. In future these will become the responsibility of the Regional Improvement collaborative, which will also be responsible for sharing best practice.
3511	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Better teachers are needed Some children being let down by the education system	Quality assurance in schools	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
3512	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Concerned that education is taking a bit. Provided it doesn't impact teaching standards I am supportive	Quality assurance in schools	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has put forward proposals across the full range of its activities.
3513	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	EQAC, VSE, WLAM should be absorbed under collective HT role and not Councilors etc	Quality assurance in schools	5c. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is not consistent with the council's values and priorities.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted

3516	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I absolutely agree that quality assurance activities can be and should be dealt with at school level. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Rigorous Quality Assurance will continue, with a greater focus on peer review by school based staff.

3520	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	As per answer for 1b. How is the efficiency of each school audited and evidenced?	Quality assurance in schools	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Schools will remain subject to legislation such as Best Value and national audit arrangements will remain.
3521	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Quality assurance of all services is necessary so that we know they are meeting local and national standards. We need to make sure our young people receive the best education they can so ensuring quality is an absolute must do. Providing good, strong education will in itself help to meet some of the council's priorities, particularly around early years, attainment and positive destinations. The public need to have faith that these services are adequate and fit for purpose, quality assurance is a key means to ensure this.	Quality assurance in schools	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Rigorous Quality Assurance will continue, with a greater focus on peer review by school based staff, supported by the new Regional Improvement Collaborative.
3522	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I think that savings can definitely be made in terms of quality assurance activities.	Quality assurance in schools	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Rigorous Quality Assurance will continue, with a greater focus on peer review by school based staff, supported by the new Regional Improvement Collaborative.
3523	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	In my experience, Head Teachers do not always have the skills required to facilitate this proposed change. In my opinion there still requires a central degree of quality assurance and compliance.	Quality assurance in schools	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Support will continue to be available from the council and the new Regional Improvement collaborative. Rigorous Quality Assurance will continue, with a greater focus on peer review by school based staff, supported by the new Regional Improvement Collaborative.
3524	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I disagree - there needs to be quality control and fairness across schools. This proposal will mean we have variable quality of schools and variable access to provision (such as music) across WL depending on how good the school HT is (and that can be variable).	Quality assurance in schools	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Support will continue to be available from the council and the new Regional Improvement collaborative. Rigorous Quality Assurance will continue, with a greater focus on peer review by school based staff, supported by the new Regional Improvement Collaborative.

3526	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	If quality assurance is to have an 'advisory approach' where will that leave the standards required for our pupils. Again Head teachers need to have someone to support and confirm that progress is being maintained on a regular basis.	Quality assurance in schools	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Quality Assurance will be undertaken by the new Regional Improvement Collaborative. The Collaborative will deploy existing staff ensuring the continuation of the existing excellence of approach.
3527	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1b. 3529	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I agree consistency is needed. My child went to secondary school with significantly different abilities and competencies than children from other feeder schools. This was unfair on the pupils and teachers and took the whole of first year to balance out.	Quality assurance in schools	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Current council practice designed to maximise quality of provision, consistency of delivery of the 3-18 curriculum, effective early intervention, effective transition and best value.

3531	An individual	1b. 3532	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Reduction in the quality assurance of schools is worrying. The standards in West Lothian schools is hardly all that excellent. 3534	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. The Council has embedded quality assurance within schools through the Validated Self Evaluation programme which focuses on peer review rather than external inspection. 3543	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The Quality Assurance team has already shrunk over the years, with more collaborative working and peer support between schools replacing some of the functions the team used to provide. However, the Quality Assurance team still provides a level of advice, support and challenge that Headteachers cannot get purely through peer support. They are involved with Headteacher recruitment and ensure that only the best candidates are appointed. They support new Headteachers, and have the authority to challenge experienced Headteachers. They ensure that national strategies are considered and implemented effectively across our schools. The Quality Assurance team act as mediators to help resolve very complex situations to ensure children are well supported in schools. I would have real concerns about further reductions to the team.	Quality assurance in schools	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Quality Assurance remains a vital function, that will continue to be provided through the VSE approach supported by a central team, with the Regional Improvement Collaborative taking increasing responsibility.

3548	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Get rid of quality assurance in schools. From non-promoted staff it's widely viewed as a paper exercise to pat ourselves on the back and justify the existence of senior promoted staff in the education sector such as Education Officers. 3610	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	This is a joke and reflects an ignorance of how much is already 'devolved' to schools and HT's. The whole point of community planning is to: identify needs, assess how best needs can be met, and by whom.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposal is a serious one aimed at increasing autonomy and responsibility at the front line. A need was identified, the Scottish Government consulted on how to address it, and appropriate action is following.
3611	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I am not informed on this but this does seem to make sense but perhaps there still needs to be a system to achieve consistency, standards and outcomes across all schools. 3622	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Seems reasonable, but I would imagine the success of this would lie solely on the Head and Depute teachers within individual schools. 3629	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. 3634	An individual	1b. The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
3635	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I agree. Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The proposal is, however, to decentralise, not centralise.
3636	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. 3640	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Head teachers cannot do everything and decentralised approach does not always generate better outcomes. Heads are generally not business people and may lack knowledge and skills. Also how do you share best practices and leverage opportunities when there is no central approach	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. This will include balancing workloads, and deciding on an appropriate management structure.
3641	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	This makes sense as it would allow schools to best serve the needs of their pupils within the limitations of their budgets. Not every school will have the same requirements or expectations and this can be best addressed by staff within the schools. I support this suggestion of decentralisation.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. This will include balancing workloads, and deciding on an appropriate management structure.
3642	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	This all sounds sensible if you do not work in education. Headteachers are currently hampered by having to maintain pupil:teacher ratios at a particular level regardless of whether they need these teachers. Until the council honestly puts the pupils first and trusts their Headteachers, this is a false economical premise. The Closing the Gap agenda requires the support of specialists to enable schools to make a difference.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. Headteachers will have the ability to determine where resources should be spent for the benefit of children.
3643	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I think this makes sense. Give Head teachers more flexibility. No teacher should be getting a pay cut though, indeed it should be rises across the board (from the govt)	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Teachers pay is set nationally
3644	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Headteachers should have responsibility as they know their environment best. 3645	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Nope this sounds like a cop out. Yes head teachers should have a chance to direct aspects of their budget. But any cost savings within a already established central support facility MUST be passed onto increasing the schools budget.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	5b. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is likely that the costs of this proposal would outweigh the benefit.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. 3646	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	As an existing Head Teacher I am greatly concerned about the impact of the proposed changes. Many Headteachers are already struggling with workload and corporate demands. The level of support received is already variable across HUBS and Clusters. I worry that HT morale is already very low - and it does not have to be. I think more could and should be done centrally to tackle this. This is more about the way in which the central teams support schools. Perhaps a survey should be taken to analyse this following this consultation and a clear action plan created to find a way through these necessary changes. We have to be more solution focused as a service and create more positive, supportive networks. More focus on staff wellbeing - we do this in our school for our teams and it works!	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. Headteachers will have the ability to determine where resources should be spent for the benefit of children. The national direction of travel, echoed in these proposals is for greater responsibility for decision making to lie at school level.
3647	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Give Headteachers enough money to provide a proper service.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council has made proposals across the whole range of its activities, including Education. A reduced funding settlement for local government results in less resources, not more, available from local government for schools.
3648	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	As long as the actual budgets handed to the schools is not reduced. This would also need to be monitored closely to ensure attainment is going up not down and if it does reduce the council would need to step in to provide support again.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council has made proposals across the whole range of its activities, including Education. A reduced funding settlement for local government results in less resources, not more, available from local government for schools. Raising attainment will remain a key strategic responsibility for the Regional Improvement Collaborative.
3649	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Centralisation of educational support is a bad idea. I know I work in this area. I provide out reach support within schools in a one to one basis. I work with kids the schools can't manage in class. I take the kid for a class and work with them on conflict resolution anger management and all issues impacting in their behaviour. We have training and skills school staff don't have. We are a vital service for schools social policy police families and young people. Our flexible adaptable approach to youth support is far more effective as an external assistance than in house work. I have seen the ace programme set up by myself taken and implemented in schools. Other types of worker do copied into education. Yet we still get asked to come support their pupils in school. Why cut out budget to pull into a curriculum that these young people already struggle with. Keep the external workers like me funded to continue supporting teachers heads and pupil support managers.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals are for more decentralisation of decision making to schools.
3650	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Sadly, the underlying fact which is driving this is that local and national government cannot fund the education system properly and are offloading the problem onto schools, effectively divesting themselves of the blame when the system continues to fail under the flawed Curriculum for Excellence and attainment continues to decline because of lack of specialist schools to deal with the comparatively small number of pupils with learning disabilities and other pupils with behavioural issues which drag down the overall, sound attainment of the majority of children who would achieve and attain much more if teachers and pupils were enabled to concentrate on teaching and learning without having to cope with the unworkable demands of keeping pupils whose needs cannot be met in main stream education. Expecting 'responsibility for attainment and more direct control over funding' to make any difference is ridiculous when schools are hidebound by outside political strictures, dictat and influence. One example is the farce of non-exclusion irrespective of the problems being caused.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council has made proposals across the whole range of its activities, including Education. A reduced funding settlement for local government results in less resources, not more, available from local government for schools.
3651	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. This is in line with the proposals.
3652	No Response	1b. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. This is the purpose of the proposals.
3653	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Not sure this really helps - surely for some services it is more efficient to provide a shared resource across the council? However having seen the recruitment process in action there must be efficiency that can be achieved.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals are for greater local autonomy and not greater centralisation, in line with national proposals.
3654	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Schools are under enough pressure. They already have too much to deal with and will just have to spend money that should go on educating children to paying more staff. We already need to donate books to our local school, don't make the problems worse.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 3656	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	This will only work if funding to schools is protected to enable head teachers to still purchase and access these services. If school and education attainment is a strategic aim of the council you must continue to ensure your obligations are maintained, particularly in terms of such important provision as ed psychology and music.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Would this not mean more pressure on the staff that are left?	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school.
3661	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Makes sense. Could pupil placement make better use of IT? Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	5b. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is likely that the costs of this proposal would outweigh the benefit. 3673	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I do not support any cut to funding schools or support services to schools. Our schools are underfunded and understaffed as it is. Making due is NOT good enough. Providing support for children is essential to helping them develop into productive members of society. 3674	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. 3686	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	It is really important that schools continue to receive central support/resource for children who are have learning support needs including dyslexia, autism and adhd as Schools themselves and staff in schools are often not equipped to deal with all these needs. In our online society, music and sport are increasingly important to ensure children have a balanced childhood. Academic performance is important but should not be the only goal of education. 3689	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Reduction and education aren't really good together in the same sentence. 3690	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Interesting that devolving of powers and decisions eg to schools, is contradicted in this area, where amalgamation and effectively centralisation is proposed ... is this truly going to save money ? The saving is given but not the current spend, or the cost required to achieve the 4 million, or the time for return on investment. I am puzzled that after 10 years of cuts the service is thought to still have enough fat to achieve this saving without impact on service. There is a lot of building going on in WL. If the current funding (even with the resulting increase in council tax) is not sufficient to cater for the increased population this expansion should be stopped, or the developers charged to cover the cost. 3698	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I would have a concern for any reduction in support to schools. Money is required to invest in our young population in order to give them the most varied learning we can. 3708	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Although this sounds good I have great concerns over this as schools and Head teachers have enough additional duties currently to undertake without adding to them. And this would be adding to them. HTs and management teams should be concentrating on learning and teaching and we are losing that focus with all of the other responsibilities already being tagged on. HTs simply do not have the space and time required to support staff, families and pupils because of the other bureaucracy already put onto them. 3714	An individual	1b. 3721	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Again this seems like a sensible suggestion. 3723	An individual	1b. 3731	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I do not agree that centralisation should be carried out and Council should hold the purse strings for all budgetary matters within education. If we go down the route of giving schools and head teachers responsibility for funding, they will always spend their budget whether it is useful or not. It is preferable that the Council control the full education budget and route funding as required.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. 3732	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I strongly disagree with the proposals here. I have concerns over the policy of giving Head Teachers more power as I believe the Council should ensure a basic standardised approach across the Council. I also have concerns that the schools will get 'bogged down' in admin and this will be repeated over a number of schools so will be more costly in the long run. I do however understand that part of this is a central government policy.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. 3734	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Agree with embedding teaching resources within schools so long as the schools are given the resources to employ the support they need directly and it does not put more burdens on the teaching staff and take them away from their main role of teaching. Some head teachers may not have the business skills required and may require some business / financial / project management advisors to be employed by the schools / grouping of schools.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. 3736	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I am opposed to the National government's plans to take some education funding away from local authorities. However, under your proposals above it sounds as though head teachers may have more direct funding but massively reduced support from the local authorities. 3737	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Again what does this mean exactly? Embedding teaching resources etc within schools sounds good, but school management moves on and new leadership brings in new ideas, leading to more change on top of curricular changes. Teachers need more time to teach, not less. This model would suggest more responsibilities would land on the shoulders of teaching staff.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
3738	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Head Teachers are already stretched implementing education priorities as set out by the Scottish Government, some already have little to no class contact time and perform a more managerial role rather than teaching. Any move of support would need to be carefully considered and take full account of the already full role of school management staff and teachers while still ensuring that Scottish Government priorities were met. The Education Governance review and Next Steps paper does begin to devolve some responsibilities to headteachers, however i think it is crucial that they still receive an adequate level of support from the centre to ensure this does not have the opposite impact than is intended. Schools and Headteachers will remain subject to rigorous performance measures. Support will be available from the Council and the new Regional Improvement Collaborative.
3745	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	This would work if there is an effective head teacher in post who really works with their population of pupils and parents to identify and work towards shared priorities, however I have concerns that our local head teacher makes decisions that the parents are not consulted on. Therefore if decision making is devolved to individual schools there needs to be a way of monitoring whether these are effective.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. 3747	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	There needs to be a corporate approach to teaching provision in West Lothian. The current position could lead to an inefficient use of a valuable resource. This money needs to be allocated to projects by the council, not senior school managers. 3749	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Please see the above response where I have stated that an example of remote management from the civic centre is wasting money in our schools and putting some staff under great stress and pressure while others are laughing all the way to the bank. In my experience of schools at present, any redesign of School Management also needs to be handled very carefully. Head teachers are extremely stressed and busy individuals and increasing their remit any further could be dangerous. PTC's and Business Manager's are literally cracking (in some cases dying) from the stress of their remits. So, if school's have greater authority to choose their staff and their management style (bring back Principial Teachers for subjects for a start) there is some potential for a positive outcome.s	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school. Headteachers will have greater autonomy to set their own management structure.
3750	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Individual schools should be responsible for their budget to tackle the need of individual communities. 3751	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	A restructuring of the central education services is welcomed, however should not be rushed as Education systems have gone through many changes recently, education staff need time to embed change and then stick to procedures, constant change is unsettling and time consuming for staff. Funding streams such as PEF, are allowing Head teachers to add additional supports into schools but it was rushed this year, it is also time limited funding , therefore careful consideration should be given to the sustainability of these provisions. 3752	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	As long as this is not going to create an additional burden on teaching staff and Head Teachers, then the responsibility for attainment and control over funding would probably sit best within the schools. Head Teachers generally know what the needs of their particular school are.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
3753	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The system offered to schools should be flexible as it is crucial in improving the effectiveness of learning, teaching and supporting learners. Headteachers should benefit from having the capability of making funding decisions that suit their particular school. Consultations with staff can be carried on an individual school basis to best determine the needs.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	1. 3755	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Firstly, I'm not sure schools and Head Teachers have enough training and expertise to be given responsibility for attainment and more direct control over funding. The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
3756	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	This reads very much as 'we, centrally, have run out of answers and so we will now pass the buck to the Head Teachers' (under the guise of giving Head Teachers more control and/or freedom). What in effect will happen is that you will pass the responsibility of managing a reduced budget to teaching professionals who's focus should be teaching and not budgeting. Many teachers simply move up the chain through time in various roles and eventually become Head Teachers and are then expected to know all about financial modelling, budgeting etc. In all of this the start point should be what is needed to improve child education - think of the child first, not box ticking in central government.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	National proposals have been formulated within a climate of teachers and headteachers requesting more 'freedom to teach' and less central control.
3757	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	There are not enough hours in the day for Head Teachers and teaching staff to complete their current tasks, far less giving them even more. The good will of professionals is running education into the ground. The more they do out of good will, the more they are asked to do. Staff are already in school before 8am and many there until after 6pm.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. 3758	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The central role of the Council has been very important and has led to exceptional results in educational attainment and music provision. Centralisation will lead to a loss of governance and likely diminishing standards. Local governance will lead to different priorities and standards across schools, and likely greater impact on schools with the most social and economic problems. Central infrastructure such as business support, purchasing and ICT needs to be maintained.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 3760	An individual	1b. 3762	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Will a reduction in central educational services lead to an increase in local admin/ management resources at each school?	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The proposals seek to reduce expenditure, not increase it as suggested.
3763	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I do not currently have a personal stake in education services and feel unable to comment on how things may be improved. Educational attainment is key in addressing inequalities and other social issues and I do not support any change that leads to fewer chances for young people in West Lothian. I therefore support rationalisation where this addresses duplication and achieves administrative efficiencies rather than measures that would cut activities of direct benefit to children and young adults. 3764	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Head teachers will come under much greater stress whilst taking on this additional responsibility whilst carrying out the wealth of responsibilities they already have. Centralised support is vital and will not be replaced or prioritised by HT's as their school resources are already stretched at the moment. I believe this will result in a poorer education provision and poorer support services to students and parents.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. Some support will continue to be available from councils, and a new source of support will be the new Regional Improvement Collaborative.
3765	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Responsibility for head teachers for their own schools sounds positive in that the head teachers will know what their priorities are and that may not be the same for each individual school, however, that may create disparities between schools in the authority area with certain provisions being available in some schools and not others. That may not promote equality depending upon where each head teacher directs their funds. Funding to schools should not be reduced. Children throughout West Lothian should have access to a full and varied curriculum and the reduction in certain provision is not going to be supporting that. If children do not have access to these opportunities then they are at a detriment to other areas and they should all have access and focus on schools not purely be on academic subjects, but promotion of the expressive arts and music and other subjects too to enhance skills and opportunity.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. 3768	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I am concerned that teachers, who already have a high level of admin/paperwork to do in the current educational climate, will be required to do yet more admin work, in the form of financial management/control over funding etc. This might impact negatively on the amount of time they have available to spend on their primary work, which is to assist our children with their educational needs This might also make the teaching profession a less attractive career option to people who primarily want to teach children.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 3770	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I believe given the head teacher control over there budget will put more pressure on the head teacher. The head teachers responsibility is already huge and to add extra pressure onto them may have a negative effect not only on the school but also the staff and pupils within the school. The head will ultimately feel that they have to sacrifice staff, essential services and resources. This will ultimately result in job losses, probably support worker who provide an invaluable service to not only the teaching staff but the pupils and carers. It is the support staff that are the invisible driving force that makes the smooth running of the school and it is the support staff that are always the first to be targeted in consultations.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. 3771	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Has an equality impact assessment been carried out for each of the budget proposals? 3772	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	National levels focus on increased responsibility to schools and Headteachers is a cop out. Teaching resources, processes and activities embedded in school is what has stagnated our Education system. Schools are not factories. 3774	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	There is a huge problem in the Scottish education system which needs addressed and properly funded, if the council's central education support services are reduced the financial resources need to go to the schools and head teachers to properly administer the direct controls. Overall I cannot understand how the council proposes to save money from central services and pass the workload onto the schools without providing them with the resources. Without adequate funding our school staff, teachers and pupils continue to suffer under a strained service.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. 3776	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I can see this leading to disaster. Schools are already stretched to the limits as it is. They need all the support they can get if we are to raise standards. Teachers are not psychologists nor are they business managers. Head Teachers and teachers need the support of these areas to enable the school to run smoothly so they can spend there time in school teaching and supporting their staff . In West Lothian music provision has always been an area envied by others as it allowed children with talent to be identified early and encouraged. It has already been scaled back over the years. 3789	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. 3806	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Giving head teachers responsibility for running their school and attainment levels is good especially in areas where you would expect high levels to be achieved. 3807	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Head Teachers are already involved in quality assurance processes across the LA and this should continue to ensure that our schools are moving forward in the right direction. This has been promoted at school level over a number of years although visits by Education Scotland inspectors still has a focus on support from the local authority - how will this be managed when central support for quality improvement is at school level? Will HMI (Education Scotland) have an understanding that this is the case? Senior Leadership Teams through workstream involvement have been developing the curriculum, quality improvement processes etc during the last few years and this will continue with a reduction in central support.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	4. The council is already doing this. 3819	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I understand why schools want responsibility. Schools aims and objectives are completely different to other services and my concern is a school, like other services (reactive) just want to achieve the end result and this could be at the detriment of the councils budgets. I agree schools should have the power to manage their business, however, strict guidelines must be put in place to ensure monies are not being frittered away by each school procuring goods, services and works from their chosen suppliers. Strict controls need to be in place and economies of scale put to the best use. Contracts that meet the needs of the West Lothian Schools should be tendered to ensure schools have access to the materials they need, at a competitive price and with the correct terms and conditions. 3847	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I agree that it would be good for the individual schools themselves to have more control over funding and attainment. However for the future well being of everyone making cuts in education is already proving to be disastrous. This is the Scottish government's fault in the main, although it is apparent that there is a great deal of inequality in funding to schools across West Lothian. My daughter was not provided with textbooks in 2 of her highers last year and what was available in school had pages missing and had to be shared. As well as that many of the facilities in the school e.g computers are very old and unreliable. At the same time other schools appear to have state of the art technologies and facilities. I know there are many deprived areas in West Lothian but surely every child deserves an equal chance. If necessary I personally would be happy to see a means tested small fee applied to each child at the start of each academic year to help pay for better facilities.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Funding is distributed to schools in terms of the scheme of devolved school management, but Headteachers determine how it is spent, reflecting the priorities within their own schools. 3848	An individual	1b. 3849	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Hopefully Head Teachers will reduce the time spent by teachers in writing about how they are doing things and just let them get on with the actual teaching! Parents could become even more involved by being required to assume more responsibility for their child/children's behaviour at school thus reducing the amount of time teachers must spend on controlling the troublesome percentage who have the biggest impact on the attainment possibilities of the bulk of the school population.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	The Scottish Government is currently consulting on 'empowering schools' including parental involvement, but does not propose increased direct responsibility by parents for the behaviour of their child. This comment could be made to the Scottish Government by the person concerned.
3850	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I find this extremely worrying. The idea of fragmenting services, and reducing support to the educational services, thereby denying to them the advice and practical support of specialists in whichever area of work is disgraceful. Each school would end up with different business processes and QA strategies. So much work would be duplicated in every school to plan and try to implement systems for work. When personnel move to different schools, they will have to learn the idiosyncrasies of the various systems which have been developed independently, to do a similar role. These are exactly the differences that the council is proposing to eliminate in it's own structure to save money.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and resultant accountability, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review. The proposal is not to centralise support services, but to embed them within schools.
3853	An individual	1b. 3854	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Giving more autonomy to schools is generally a good thing as the members of staff within the establishment are much more likely to be able to use money where it is most needed as they have knowledge of the school on a grass roots basis. It seems logical to save money on large, centralised support systems provided that schools are then able to use the extra funding in a much less restricted way. 3856	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Teachers and schools need to be quality assured. I don't believe Head Teachers can simply be left to their own devices re budget provision as the future generations deserve much better scrutiny on the education provided to them.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 3858	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	As a national policy there is very little the council can do to change the impact already being pushed through against the wishes of the EIS. Head Teachers are there to ensure their pupils have the best education and support available. Spending time on funding and budgetary controls reduces their capacity to do the aforementioned tasks, which is why as a national strategy this does not work and is why our national education system is failing pupils and teachers alike. 3860	An individual	1b. 3862	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I think this will be a good way to go only if Education in WL really can run their school as an effective business and all that entails. Giving more control to schools for their funding without them seeing themselves as business managers will be a disaster.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	1. 3863	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Remember Head teachers are first and foremost educationalists. Support has to be available to them when needed for non education tasks. Also if they are to do all these management tasks there cannot be an expectation or need for them to undertake teaching tasks. Is the pressure on them at present manageable? Integrating specialist services cannot mean expecting ordinary teaching staff to deliver these services to the same standard. Similarly staff who have been delivering specialist services would need support if they are to return to mainstream teaching. Staff have to be valued not put upon. Care has to be taken that rationalisation does not equate to poorer education and scunnered staff!	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. 3865	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Agree that Head Teachers should be in charge of their own budget. 3866	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	As previous comments. In addition, and specific to education services, a large amount of resourcing, professional learning and time has been spent in developing a sustainable model of validated self evaluation in schools. This is becoming increasingly robust, collegiate and effective in assuring quality and consistency across the authority. I would recommend that this continues and that schools (in line with the Governance Review at national level) are provided the space and autonomy to work within the National Improvement Framework and existing Quality Assurance structures (such as How Good Is Our School 4) both individually and with cluster colleagues to improve schools.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The Council has embedded quality assurance within schools through the Validated Self Evaluation programme which focuses on peer review rather than external inspection. 3867	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I think this is a good idea, sometimes I feel the school could fund thing better if they were accountable rather than depending on other sources. Fund raising for other causes instead of the school is one that really annoys me. I have four children, who dress down monthly and the money should be going to the school not external charities.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed. 3870	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I agree. Give head teachers more responsibility to manage budgets, but recognise exceptions as and when they arise. Hopefully this will help the head teachers who are capable, to have more control over their own schools - and the additional responsibility may help drive out the poorer head teachers. My caveat is that funding needs to be focussed upon schooling- head teachers can't run on empty pockets!	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	1. 3871	An individual	1b. 3872	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I totally disagree with giving head teachers greater powers in running schools. It is impossible to get good experienced head teachers at present and the ones who are in post are overworked and stressed. As an ex teacher I think we have to simplify the curriculum and waste less time on filling in paperwork, which nobody looks at. Children need to be taught to read and count and learn about the environment and how to interact with others. We are trying to do too much and none of it done properly. At present we have some uniformity in Education provided by each Authority. Giving more power to head teachers will allow Heads to implement their own, perhaps doubtful, ideas and a child moving schools could end up finding the new school fatally different to the last. This is the worst proposal for Education!!!!	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. 3873	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Schools should have more of an input and control for everything within the school. 3877	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I believe schools with low attainment and high poverty areas may struggle with their budget and schools in more affluent areas may benefit incorrectly. If this were to go ahead the money would need to be carefully proportioned on different criteria and not just the number of pupils in a school. Schools with extra support hubs eg Balabardie and boghall should have additional funding due to the extra support some of their children may require. If attainment is the responsibility of the school then it may be the case that further staffing would be required for schools that have low attainment levels to meet with parents and children to try to resolve any barriers the child or parent may have. However this is something that could be considered under the equity funding (money given to schools for every child that receives free school meals) that was given to each school so may not cost the council any extra money. I am not sure by cutting the instrumental music provision would benefit children that struggle academically and require more hands on subjects. I	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	4. The council is already doing this. 3878	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	We would like to know whether these changes will apply to special needs schools. 3881	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Whilst this looks good on paper, different schools are already spending their PEF money on different resources - some better than others. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and resultant accountability, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review. This will include managing their school within available resources, national conditions, and the scheme of devolved school management. They will have freedom to meet the individual needs of their school, but within set national and local frameworks.
3899	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	This is all very well, however teachers are already over worked. To find time for additional responsibilities could be at the detriment of our children's education. That said it is important teaching staff are consulted.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Teaching Staff are employed according to national conditions of service, which set out clearly the duties they will perform.
3900	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Giving power to the head runs the danger that their priorities take over and children's education is focused on the heads passions and which closes opportunities to chikdren with alternative interests. So if you have a sports orientated head who's no interest in music for example then the funding within that school is put into sport and not music which will have a detrimental effect on those who are musical but not sporty.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and resultant accountability, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review. Headteachers have a responsibility to meet the needs of all children within their school.
3901	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Hope this does not lead to Elite schools who are better able to attract more funding/help for wealthier parents compared to schools in poorer areas. Also hope it means Heads will be given training in financial resource management.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Reducing the poverty based attainment gap remains a key strategic priority for the Council.
3902	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Head teachers can only take on so much! I think they are already near breaking point with all the additional responsibilities the council has brushed off on to them without proper support. 3903	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Most Head Teachers in West Lothian are incredibly and under huge pressure. There is already minimal support. 3904	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	This could be positive if schools leaders have adequate training for the management of this. 3906	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	This is one I feel strongly about. I think that head teachers already have a top heavy work load, taking them away from the classroom. Reducing business support is a huge mistake, as head teachers are not trained in accountancy or business management. Their focus is in developing the curriculum to help raise attainment and ensure positive outcome for our pupils. Taking this support away will lead to added stress and work load on head teachers. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Availability of e-forms has increased over the last year, and this will continue.
3908	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Is it really more cost effective to make large numbers of senior staff to struggle with the same issues? Would central support allow them to focus on using their own professional expertise and ensuring high educational attainment for all. Specialist services such as educational psychology are already underfunded. What will this mean in practice?	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	5b. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is likely that the costs of this proposal would outweigh the benefit.	The proposals are made on the basis that savings are achievable. The contribution of Educational Psychologists is valued by parents, schools and by the council, but the council is consulting on budget reductions across the full range of its activities. The council is committed to implementing proposals whilst continuing to meet the needs of every child.

3914	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I think it a bad idea to give head teachers more power. 3920	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Once again, this is all very vague. The council's future role following the change in the governance of education in Scotland will still be to provide administrative and business support to schools. What do our current supports look like? What support functions will we not need to provide? How will the supports we do provide be restructured and redesigned? What reduction in support is there to be? We will still be responsible for the number of schools, administration of placing and admissions, provision of back-office support and also recruiting these head teachers who will be driving curriculum. What is the reduction in the council's role? The council cannot just cut its support and then leave the blame on head teachers.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The response contains many questions but no suggestions for action. The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. The Council is still responsible for providing support services.
3921	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I do not think there should be a reduction in the central support to schools. Schools have a big enough task at present without removing the additional support. However, I think that instrumental music could be supported by parents as in other Local Authorities.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. The Council is still responsible for providing support services.
3922	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Pupils who need extra support would suffer. Not all pupils are academic so pupils who have talents that lie elsewhere (e.g. musical or artistic) will most definitely lose out.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will continue to deliver the 3-18 curriculum with opportunities to pursue art and music, and tailor the curriculum to meet the needs of every pupil.
3923	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	These strategies appear to be a positive move however this will only work if staff have the time, resources and peer support to tailor the educational needs of the children. Increased class sizes are proven to be detrimental to children's education so this needs to be managed appropriately. Our children are the future of West Lothian therefore we need to provide the support and education they require on a needs led basis. Parents should be made aware of the cost to the council of providing their children with free education.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Support to schools will be available from the Regional Improvement Collaborative and from West Lothian Council. Class size limits will be adhered to.
3924	No Response	1b. 3926	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	It would be unfortunate to lose the effective practices and culture of sharing that has been established across WL as a result of reduced strategic direction from the centre as this would negatively impact on the quality of provision for our young people.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	It is expected that the new Regional Improvement Collaborative will perform these functions in future.
3927	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Head teachers begin their careers as people hoping to impart their love for their subjects and interests to young people and also seeking to give them the best experience of education they can. They are usually promoted because they are good teachers, they are required to become managers of people and finances but repeated examples from the whole of the UK show they often don't make that transition in one aspect or the other. I am strongly opposed to this proposition, it will not improve education in the whole of West Lothian, it is not likely to be more efficient it is simply cheaper. Cheap and poor quality.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.

3929	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Headteachers already spend a significant amount of time on Business and Admin functions when the focus should be on Learning and Teaching. Continued support to advise on finance within council policies etc is essential. Central support from greatly reduced QI team / PP team and CC team also assists HTs to manage additional issues, e.g. Quality Improvement to meet local and national standards, Pupil Placement issues, placing requests and appeals, frequent customers and concerns raised by parents.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Continued support will be available from the Regional Improvement Collaborative and Council.
3930	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Head teachers have already got so much to do especially with the PEF funding which was allocated to schools this year and is already giving Head Teachers, deputy head and principal teachers more work as they are having to show how they are going to spend the money and have evidence on what they are spending the money on. Giving some Head Teachers who have had positive role models to guide them with their leadership role will thrive with managing attainment, funding and changes to central support however some Head Teachers may find this new role too much to take on, on top of their other responsibilities they may become stressed and off for long periods of time which would have a negative impact on the life of the School. Council needs to offer support.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Continued support will be available from the Regional Improvement Collaborative and Council.
3931	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Broadly agree. However with more children requiring support for mental issues, it is vital that they get help and support rapidly within the school environment.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The Council will continue to meet the needs of individual pupils.
3932	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The most important thing is making sure children have access to support staff and resources when they are required. Schools require funding in key areas to ensure our children are educated properly.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council has put forward proposals across all areas of its responsibility.
3933	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Giving Head Teachers more responsibility to deliver services that were previously supported through centralised provision is unlikely to lead to increased attainment for pupils. If services will be provided at school level, how will resources be utilised effectively across an authority?	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school.
3934	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Attainment will only rise if more teachers and support assistants are provided.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals seek to identify opportunities for budget reductions not areas where expenditure can increase
3935	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I feel strongly that this proposal should be resisted in all its elements. Schools require essential support provided from central services to allow them to deliver education at a local level. This provision of central support ensures that there is consistency of approach in a number of key policy areas across the authority. It is important that head teachers can seek advice on key issues such as child protection and additional support needs issues.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Support will be available from the new Regional Improvement Collaborative and from the Council.
3936	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I think this might work but the school secondary school could change possibilities for more trade and services to get involved with s5 and s6 sort of inline with the apprenticeships.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Schools are encouraged to form links with local business and this will continue.
3937	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	If delegating responsibility to schools, it is imperative that this will be subject to scrutiny by National Audit Office and Public Accounts Committee. 3938	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I agree with this. I also think you should look at inclusion in schools. Money is still being wasted in secondary schools in West Lothian on providing 1:1 and small group literacy lessons by extracting pupils from classes. This has little or no impact on attainment and actually disadvantages young people. They are made to feel different and miss out on other classes. Other authorities have taken a much stronger approach to inclusion, so should West Lothian, money could be saved by stopping support for learning practices that don't work. The support for learning staff that are there should be used to increase capacity in staff through collaborative working. Also, is it cost effective to have the boghall literacy outreach service? They only seem to work with individuals and small groups. In my experience these services and the extraction of pupils from classes are questionable and there is no robust evidence that they improve outcomes for pupils. They are very expensive with little or no real impact. It would be far more cost effective to allocate those staff to schools, to work collaboratively and team teach with them, to increase capacity. There appears to be no direction or leadership from the authority on this issue and there needs to be.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment which will be considered as part of any service redesign

3940	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	So the Scottish Government gives more money directly to schools to help attainment and councils think that means they can take money away from schools? This extra money should mean schools have more money not the same or less than last year. To improve attainment more money is needed to employ more support assistants to work with children stuck in the poverty trap. The more resources our schools have, the more they will be able to do to reduce the attainment gap. It is all to do with funding. Just to make sure the message is understood, you DO NOT have permission from the residents of West Lothian to reduce the education budget because money is going directly to Head Teachers.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for this clear message. The fact that schools now receive some funding directly from the government does not protect them from the impact of budget reductions affecting the Council as a whole.
3941	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Sounds fine and in line with the current Scottish Government's policy. 3947	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	This seems a good idea in principle but is very much dependant on the views and priorities of head teachers. 3953	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Have concerns about more control for Headteachers meaning more work for headteachers with less central support. 3957	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	I agree school should be able to use their own budgets, but not full control and that there still should be support regarding the children's wellbeing health and psychology. 3958	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Although the overall aim is good a lot of this appears to be happening in schools - I am concerned at Teacher and Head Teacher remit and responsibility to take on extra tasks when the education system is in the state it is.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school.
3959	An employee of West Lothian Council	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Whilst I agree with giving HTs more autonomy and direct control over certain things, e.g. Financial budgeting, I do worry that this cut will reduce the amount of support schools will receive from specialist services.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school.
3960	No Response	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	The council should refrain from a centralised approach in teaching and immediately reduce the number of education staff not based within schools. The council must immediately abort attempts to go against national policy such as demanding unit assessments be completed or the unnecessary paperwork associated with tracking and monitoring of benchmarks.	Rationalisation of central support to schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
3961	An individual	1b. Rationalisation of Central Support to Schools	Head teachers are already under a lot of pressure. This sounds like it could burden them further rather than be a helpful move. 3962	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	If this can provide a saving at no detriment to teaching staff then it should be pursued. 3982	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Much as I would want to support employment with the council, having worked in a large organisation there are many improvements to how the back office/support areas are ran. I'm fully supportive of this so long as the relevant investment is made to systems, processed and staff are fully trained. This initial investment, along with the loss of jobs that'll go along, must provide a real change to the support service provided within and by the council. If it is not then the initial saving might be delivered, but it will not be sustainable.	Agrees with proposal	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. 4160	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	However I would like class sizes to be capped at an agreed level to prevent this from growing to an unacceptable level.	Changes to class sizes	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council will continue to adhere to national class size limits set by statute or national agreement.
4161	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Class size is not a factor when everybody, students and teachers alike know what is required of them.	Changes to class sizes	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	The Council will continue to adhere to national class size limits set by statute or national agreement.
4162	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	See above re curriculum and teaching. Larger class sizes do not necessarily mean lower standards of teaching if everybody has a clear notion of what the destination is. In the 'baby boomer' years, class sizes of over forty were not uncommon simply because the birth rate exploded and kept ahead of teacher numbers for many years. This did not have a detrimental effect on literacy and numeracy if we compare theirs with today's achievement in these areas.	Changes to class sizes	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Class sizes are set by statute, or national agreement and so are not within the control of West Lothian Council.
4163	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	OK - my comments won't go down well but here goes: If you consider the way a private school that runs from Nursery through Primary and Secondary is run, there is, to my knowledge, one Headteacher that all pupils know and respect. This person rarely changes and this brings stability, which most of our Primary and Nursery Schools don't have with the constant influx of different Headteachers. The sole Headteacher has a Depute Head that is also known by all pupils and respected, again bringing stability. There are Principal Teachers from each area, e.g. Nursery, Primary and Secondary. This is a very efficient management system and the pupils know exactly who is who when it comes to Management Staff. Not only this, but it also brings all of the students together at times to work and play therefore bringing about a sense of community that is supportive. I personally feel that finding Headteachers is problematic at the moment and I think it will get worse as time goes on. I realise to change to another method would involve the Unions - maybe even Government - but surely even the Unions and Government must realise that stability is a good thing for our children and, to be honest, that is something many of our students in our schools just don't have at the moment with the constant changing of Primary Headteachers.	Changes to class sizes	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
4164	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	If, as per the last para, the Council has informed opinion that these changes can be made while level of service remains then fair enough.	Changes to class sizes	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
4165	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	This seems in line with other administrative support functions.	Changes to class sizes	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
4166	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I agree it is essential that devolved school budgets are reduced significantly, particularly in light of the £5m additional pupil equity funds that have been given directly to Head Teachers to spend.	Changes to class sizes	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.

4167	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	See previous comments - Schools, like every other service in the council, are already stretched to their limit. Giving the schools and head teachers responsibility for attainment and more direct control over funding is just another way of saying you're going to take away jobs at the back end and give more work to the teaching staff, causing more stress. Teachers already spend a lot of their own money and time to support the schools and what is being proposed is completely unfair (I am not a teacher but I do know what's happening in our schools)	Changes to class sizes	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. There is no expectation that teachers use their own money to support learning and teaching. Teacher duties are set out clearly in national conditions, and all teachers work within a working time agreement.
4168	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Again, good idea providing you have looked at the bigger picture and what impacts this will have across the board... often these things are down without careful consideration to the various outcomes.	Changes to class sizes	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
4169	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	If national DSM can be reviewed to improve it and make it workable for West Lothian then ok	Changes to class sizes	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
4170	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I don't think there is any need to get 3rd party's in when you probably have someone who already works for the council that could do it.	Changes to class sizes	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will consider outsourcing where it cannot provide a service itself, or where there are clear quality or efficiency benefits, but the proposals are not for large scale outsourcing of school provision.
4171	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Also, administration within schools is woefully inefficient. Just one example - I have three children at the same school and I get three copies of every letter plus my wife and I get e-mails telling us the same information.	Changes to class sizes	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for this positive observation, which will be considered by officers.

4174	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	this must include enhanced opportunity for parents, carers and communities to be involved in the school management	Changes to class sizes	4. The council is already doing this.	These outcomes are likely to result from the current Governance Review.
4175	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Seems a rational proposal if it protects service provision. As long as the third party providers have the best interest of the schools at heart and are not just number crunchers.	Changes to class sizes	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The Council will consider outsourcing where it cannot provide a service itself, or where there are clear quality or efficiency benefits, but the proposals are not for large scale outsourcing of school provision.
4176	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Any information from schools at this point highlights they are under staffed. I don't understand how revising staffing levels can provide any savings.	Changes to class sizes	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The proposals are designed to deliver savings, including through changes to the staff allocated to each school.
4177	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	We should never become a call centre for members of the public. Directed to relevant departments is fine - but to tackle poverty there needs to be face to face. No matter your position within WLC if you are face to face with a member of public in their own home at any time they should be made aware of the services available within the council. We all need to look outside the box and think of a diagnostic service - not just what we are actually there to do at that time. An easy opt out referral would be a great idea.	Changes to class sizes	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4178	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I agree entirely with " There is a need to review current service provision to make sure that it is providing the best and most efficient service". However I'm sure a lot of decisions over the years have been made to trim budgets already - the importance is on attainment of pupils and quality of support.	Changes to class sizes	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
4179	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	agreed. Education Scotland have introduced some of the changes Devolved Funding, so Education Scotland should be doing the work.	Changes to class sizes	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
4180	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	There needs to be a commitment that this will not impact on class sizes and, ultimately, the quality of education received by children. Support Staff can be a valuable asset to schools and can greatly assist children who require that bit more help and assistance and there is a danger that revising the numbers of support staff too much could have an adverse impact on vulnerable children.	Changes to class sizes	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Nationally agreed class sizes and supervision ratios will be maintained.

Like the group calls and emails and ipay impact. Much more reliable than a note sent home with a child (even teenagers!)	Changes to class sizes	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council is committed to channel shift and effective electronic communication, where appropriate.
4186	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I will bet the spend to achieve this will outweigh the proposed savings.	Changes to class sizes	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The proposals have been costed carefully, and implementation will be project managed effectively, to ensure that this prediction does not come to pass.
4187	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Smaller classrooms with smaller ratios would help. One teacher to 20 children ensures quantity not quality!	Changes to class sizes	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will continue to meet nationally agreed supervision ratios and class size limits.
4188	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Classes are already too large and Teacher's posts going unfilled.	Changes to class sizes	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The proposals are not intended to affect class sizes or the filling of vacant posts.
4189	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	It feels like teachers and these services are already completely stretched. 4190	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Pupil support staff must be protected . My grandchildren value there work.	Changes to pupil support workers	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to implementing agreed proposals without detriment to pupils
4191	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	All roles within a school should be protected where possible. Pupil support workers provide vital support to teachers and pupils. However, they are usually either on 'supply' or term by term contracts with no real job security and poor pay. I firmly believe it is PSWs who are the backbone to any school but unfortunately they don't always get the recognition they deserve.	Changes to pupil support workers	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Non-teaching staff are employed to undertake important roles within schools, and are valued by their teaching colleagues, including senior management. The Scottish Government has made maintaining the Pupil/Teacher ratio a condition of funding, and so the council and schools are compelled to focus on the employment of teachers where, in some cases, they may prefer to increase non-teaching staff in preference to this.
4192	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	i personally believe there is not enough support workers and my experience has been that alot of the existing workers have been relocated and used more as classroom assistants	Changes to pupil support workers	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Headteachers are responsible for the deployment of staff within their schools, and will concentrate on those tasks most necessary to support learning and teaching at any given time.
4193	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Schools for children with additional needs are already pushed to the limit and the loss of any more staff in these areas can only have a negative effect on the outcomes for the child and on the staff team. The children are in these places for the reason they need more help and the need is not currently been met. At current seems schools, at times, are sometimes used as place to merely babysit the children as opposed to teach as support needs and physical needs of the children vary to much without the correct support.	Changes to pupil support workers	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council intends to implement the proposals whilst still meeting the need of every child.
4194	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	We need more staff in schools. Children relate better to staff than technology. Support staff are not well paid but do an amazing job and have great relationships with the pupils. However more and more is being put on these staff.	Changes to pupil support workers	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Staffing ratios set by statute or national agreement will be maintained. The Scottish Government has made maintaining the Pupil/Teacher ratio a condition of funding, and so the council and schools are compelled to focus on the employment of teachers where, in some cases, they may prefer to increase non-teaching staff in preference to this.

4195	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The level of support in schools has increased over the years, largely down to behaviourable problems. Better agreements and responsibilities commitments with the parents of these children is required.	Changes to pupil support workers	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The Council continues to consider how best to meet the needs of all children, and this comment will be passed to the service's inclusion and wellbeing manager.
4196	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Disabled and special needs children are being badly let down by the current system. This is evidenced in their lack of attainment, social inclusion (excluded in an inclusive environment), future job opportunities, the curriculum and the new qualification system, which requires even greater ability in English where language is perhaps part of their disability. Basically under this current system they have no chance of an independent life and are destined to be poor, deprived with a very limited benefit safety net to support them in life. This group of children belong to all social groups.	Changes to pupil support workers	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	West Lothian Council will continue to meet the needs of every child.
4197	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	getting more teachers should be a priority the pupil support is vital for a lot of children as well as the help teacher get as well.	Changes to pupil support workers	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Staffing ratios set by statute or national agreement will be maintained. The Scottish Government has made maintaining the Pupil/Teacher ratio a condition of funding, and so the council and schools are compelled to focus on the employment of teachers where, in some cases, they may prefer to increase non-teaching staff in preference to this.
4198	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	If money is being given to schools and they can choose how to spend it, then it should be up to the school to determine their need for peripatetic staff and not central education. This would prevent schools having to bid for support for each individual pupil. If they are given money for ASN support within their devolved budget then the school can determine which type of person they need for their ASN support work and that service would not be within Education Central but may be off the supply list and the school would determine if they were willing to pay for it.	Changes to pupil support workers	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. Individual Headteachers can consider this suggestion within the context of the needs of their school.
4199	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Why not introduce the job of support for learning to pupil support workers jobs ? Supported by the teacher, the PSW could help children with basic reading , writing and number work. A lot of PSWS would like to do this job. It would free up teachers to actually teach. I believe they have this position in England.	Changes to pupil support workers	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 4200	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I do not believe that reducing support staff in schools will be of benefit to teachers, pupils and schools overall. 4201	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I have been teaching for over 20 years. Teacher moral appears to be at an all time low and stress is at an all time high. A lot of pressure comes from supporting children with particular learning and behaviour needs. Any cuts to pupil support would result in more long term teacher absence from stress. It would also affect attainment as children with specific needs take up a lot of teaching time.	Changes to pupil support workers	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. Individual Headteachers can consider this suggestion within the context of the needs of their school.
4202	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The increasing needs of children in school means the support provided by administrative and support staff is invaluable. There is a huge number of children with additional support needs in mainstream schools who require adult support to get the best out of their education. Removing or reducing support staff would be detrimental to children's education.	Changes to pupil support workers	2. 4207	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The use of technology in schools has developed well in recent years with pupils using their own devices to access the Internet and other online resources at school . This must have allowed there to be a reduction in paper based resources such as textbooks and photocopying . Administrative and support functions in schools seem to be school specific currently with no overall expertise relevant to needs of the pupils requiring it. I feel it would be beneficial to have support specialists le for Autism which spend time in different schools with children requiring that support rather than have someone in one school providing support to a mixed group with mixed needs. 4213	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	However caution is required when looking at support staff. With integrated education, support staff are absolutely necessary to ensure that challenging pupils and those with additional needs can be supported and indeed assist the teaching staff hugely. It would be a false economy to reduce the support staff and this can only mean more teachers required in the long term.	Changes to pupil support workers	2. 4216	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	More and more kids are coming into the education system with additional needs. 4218	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	There appears to have been an increase in secondary school management tiers over the last 10 years, or so, which has seen a move from PT to PTC and an increase in DHT's. There has also been an increase in support with the introduction of Pupil Support and Learning Support Departments with some schools utilising teachers for these functions when they should be in a classroom. This has seen a massive increase in costs without the benefits being realised by pupils and/or parents. These could be integrated and streamlined. Instead of reducing office support in schools more integrated processes would allow teachers to teach and support functions to be managed better to support attainment for all pupils. 4222	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I understand huge savings have to be made but not at the expense of young people. Do not cut PSWs within schools. They do a fantastic job in very difficult circumstances. What seems like extras within schools - nurture groups, ed psy, behavioural outreach depts, etc as what makes a school. Work more efficiently. If you take away this sort of support the children with behavioural issues can easily dominate a school and the rest of the children within a school can suffer. This absolutely effects children with special needs within mainstream schooling as well. It is impossible to raise the attainment level within a school if there is not enough support within a school for the children that need it most. Keep the number of PSWs - do not reduce them or other vital services that allow schools to function. The alternative would be very short sighted. You may save money but the long term effects would be so very unfair on a great number of children.	Changes to pupil support workers	2. 4223	An individual	1c. 4224	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. 4225	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The Council will continue to meet the needs of every child. Staffing ratios set by statute or national agreement will be maintained. 4239	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Our most vulnerable learners are supported expertly through pupil support workers in schools.It is vital that this source of support is protected as far as possible in order to ensure that our pupils are best supported within their mainstream school settings. There is a knock-on effect on costs within our special school estate and, when necessary, outwith education providers, when support provided at the early stages of intervention is ineffective.	Changes to pupil support workers	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 4240	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Reducing support staff within schools is detrimental to the education of children needing support and also the other children within the class. With reduced support, teachers are required to carry out responsibilities and support for children and therefore cannot focus on teaching all children in their class. Again education is affected, teachers are given more responsibilities and roles which is not effective to raising attainment.	Changes to pupil support workers	2. 4243	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	West Lothian has a well recognised and respected approach to supporting children with learning difficulties to achieve their potential. I have 4 children who have moderate to severe dyslexia and with the additional support given to them and the teaching staff they have all attended university and now have work within the local community. All children should have this support available to teaching staff to ensure all our children achieve their potential and not just the children who learn in a traditional manner.	Changes to pupil support workers	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. The proposal would continue to fulfilling the council's duty to meet the needs of every child.
4244	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Iâ€™m not sure anymore support staff can be cut back. Children who desperately need help in class already rarely see a PSW.	Changes to pupil support workers	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school.
4245	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	There is already a shortage of Pupil Support Workers and Teachers. Vulnerable pupils are already being disadvantaged further.	Changes to pupil support workers	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. Individual Headteachers can consider this suggestion within the context of the needs of their school.
4246	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Please ensure that PSW are maintained in schools - they are vital for children!!!	Changes to pupil support workers	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school.
4247	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Furthermore, pupil support workers play a significant role in our schools, positively impacting on the progress and development our children and young people make. Therefore, it is important that West Lothian Council continue to recruit pupil support workers.	Changes to pupil support workers	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. This will include the appropriate mix of staffing, although maintaining the pupil/teacher ratio may require the employment of teachers in preference to support staff.
4248	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I would be very worried if support staff are cut as they allow teachers to teach and with class sizes and poorly behaved students they are what makes a difference.	Changes to pupil support workers	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. Headteachers will have the ability to determine where resources should be spent for the benefit of children, although a continuation of the Pupil/Teacher ratio may result in expenditure on teacher posts where support staff would have a greater impact on learning and teaching.
4249	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	My main concern regarding school budgets is the retention of support staff. We have been told that in real terms these cuts mean a loss of support staff such as Pupil Support Workers. You have already cut specialist provision - now weâ€™re expected to deal with increasingly difficult needs in our classrooms and losing pupil support workers would intensify this. Be prepared to increase your budget on staff cover due to mental health sick leave for teachers if this is the case!	Changes to pupil support workers	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will only consider outsourcing where this would bring efficiency or effectiveness benefits, but the proposals do not include large scale outsourcing of education services. The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school.

4252	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As England already have this in schools should have own responsibility for budget, they could manage much better as they will know own school needs and prioritize them.	Devolved School Management Funding	4. The council is already doing this.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review.
4253	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Allowing head teachers greater control over budgets seems like a good idea but funding should remain for extracurricular activities.	Devolved School Management Funding	4. The council is already doing this.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review.
4254	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	schools have too much money and no control over spending better management of resources is required	Devolved School Management Funding	4. The council is already doing this.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review.
4255	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I think giving the head teachers budget responsibility is not right, I think they have enough work to do without the added pressure of running budgets.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review.
4256	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Not all head teachers have the ability or insight to spend funding appropriately - there should still be a control mechanism in place.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review.
4257	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	All teachers should be expected to use modern technology. It is a lottery for many children who have teachers who do not know how to use resources properly. Budget wrongly used by head teachers can result in technology provisions (I-pads) not being adequately available	Devolved School Management Funding	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	All teachers are trained and support is available in the use of appropriate technology. Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy in relation to use of their budgets, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review.
4258	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	sometimes involving a third party may increase admin and management requirement and so care should be taken when looking into using third party providers to complete tasks which are currently done by WLC staff.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will only use third party provision where there are quality and or cost benefits.
4259	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Devolved School Management is not going far enough. WLC has a duty to provide Catholic school education. There is no legal requirement that says this needs to take place in desperate schools. Provision can be made within existing schools eg. 8 year 1 classes could be split into 3 Catholic educated classes and 5 non denominational classes. This would save the council significantly more money.	Devolved School Management Funding	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The council has no plans to close or amalgamate schools as part of its budget saving proposals.
4260	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Agree, let individual schools take control of budgets and what they offer	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review.
4261	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Leave schools in charge of their own budgets.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review.
4262	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	All teaching resources should be embedded. Direct control over funding should be encouraged.	Devolved School Management Funding	4. The council is already doing this.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review.
4263	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Yes provided head teachers are not chained to computers explaining things to bean counters.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review. Increased autonomy will inevitably lead to increased responsibility, and accountability.
4264	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Council officers/ managers need a course on plain English and how to undertake a public consultation. What is DSM, what does third party providers etc. mean to the layperson. Management 'speak' to cover up the detail of what the cuts actually mean for ordinary people.	Devolved School Management Funding	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4265	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	It would be good to see what these revised staffing models are and whether they are the best for schools. Head Teachers are already overworked and having to juggle many different jobs - they should be allowed to concentrate on the LEARNING of children - not have to deal with funding,etc.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review.
4266	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I would support the Heads of schools being given more control of the budgets.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. 4267	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I am very much for the DSM in West Lothian schools.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The scheme of Devolved School Management will continue to be the main mechanism for allocating funding across schools.
4268	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Yes I think giving the schools more control over their own financial position is a good idea	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review.
4269	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	This is in principal a good idea however once again each school would need to have investment to ensure they are all starting off on equal footing and that no one area was being disadvantaged over another especially when it comes to investment in technology	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Funding to schools is distributed through the scheme of devolved school management to ensure equality.
4270	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	This can work although reckon the key here is "continuing to protect service provision". Focus on raising attainment - as is one of the most recent education models and initiatives in West Lothian is of top priority.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The Council intends to implement the proposals whilst focusing on key priorities for pupils, parents/carers and staff. Raising Attainment will remain one of the key strategic objectives of the Council.
4271	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Absolutely, give teachers and more senior teaching staff more responsibility. 4274	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The Council intends to implement the proposals whilst still delivering key priorities for pupils, parents/carers and staff, and to equip staff to do so.
4275	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	A good thing that schools have their own budget.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review.
4276	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4277	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Schools receive an increasing proportion of their funding from central government. Schools are being empowered to take more decisions at school level, with Council responsibility reduced. The Council should take the opportunity to reduce its funding for schools, in light of these national trends	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Whilst PEF funding cannot be used as a direct replacement for all Council funding included in the proposal, this comment reflects the national direction of travel. The Council will only seek efficiencies and service transformation where core, statutory services can be maintained.
4278	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	This could work with the right training and clear information regarding new DSM procedures.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
4279	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Schools, like every other service in the council, are already stretched to their limit. Giving the schools and head teachers responsibility for attainment and more direct control over funding is just another way of saying you're going to take away jobs at the back end and give more work to the teaching staff, causing more stress. Teachers already spend a lot of their own money and time to support the schools and what is being proposed is completely unfair (I am not a teacher but I do know what's happening in our schools	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
4280	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	It would be a good idea to give more responsibility for 'attainment' to head teachers as they 'know' there school and are therefore likely to know how best to make improvements	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
4281	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Granting larger spending powers to each head teacher may be beneficial in terms of experience to children and teachers, however, this would create more spending inefficiencies such as maverick spend, whereby standing orders and procurement procedures are not adhered to - effectively promoting non compliant spend.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.

4282	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Scooby Doo - (corporately you don't appear to have a clue!) Educators (teachers, CLD, Nursery and pupil support etc.) are the experts at creating and delivering learning with and for learners of all ages. ANY redesign of DSM MUST ensure that it enables and supports educators in the delivery of learning - ensuring that this, and the management/development of learning is the focus of these employees employment is critical. The research and evidence base (internationally) overwhelmingly indicates that teachers /educators in education systems being freed to do what they're trained to do is one of the most critical factors to improve education. Tinkering at the margins by deluding yourself that a £3.6m cut will be creating a 'fit for purpose' DSM scheme borders on insanity. Again the absence of detailed proposals on how the system is resourced/works now - compared to that proposed is not reassuring!	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for this comment. It is precisely to deliver more responsibility and accountability to staff at school level that the Council at corporate level has made this proposal. Proposals have been costed and the implementation will be project managed to ensure saving are achieved. West Lothian Council has made £92m worth of savings over the last 10 years, and therefore significant experience and success in this area.
4283	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Will it work I doubt it as the schools don't have enough resources at present far less restructuring	Devolved School Management Funding	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. This will include the appropriate mix of staffing, although maintaining the pupil/teacher ratio may require the employment of teachers in preference to support staff.
4284	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Again this looks like an exercise in increased workloads for already overstretched staff. It may not be cost effective when WLC may need to rely on very expensive bank staff to cover for extended periods of stress related sickness caused by increased workloads on existing staff.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. West Lothian Council has a robust Sickness Absence Policy which includes appropriate support for managing stress.
4285	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	See above comments. 4287	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Giving heads may be a good idea but what experience do they have about handling large sums of money and who is to say that they won't waste it e.g. building bird tables in the grounds, etc. When they blow the budget who will suffer and who will step in.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. The Council will continue to provide financial support.
4288	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	You could explain what Devolved School Management actually is for us. However Greater use of existing resources again means that people/staff/workers will be under greater strain as they try to cope with more work but less staff or facilities. Changing management may work depending on how many managers are realistically needed.	Devolved School Management Funding	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. This will include balancing workloads, and deciding on an appropriate management structure.
4289	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	By devolved school management does this potentially mean the expansion of Head Teachers being shared amongst several cluster primary schools? A flawed idea and one that is deeply unpopular with staff and parents	Devolved School Management Funding	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council has already put in place arrangements for shared headships where appropriate, and will continue to do so.
4290	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I have concerns about ASN budgets and how these would be calculated to ensure equity and equality. PEF money is given to narrow poverty related attainment gap. GIRFEC agenda is NOT the same as PEF. Some of my GIRFEC learners are not PEF.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	It is correct that the Pupil Equity Funding allocation is not given to meet the aims of GIRFEC. With the new autonomy to be given to Headteachers, it will be for each Headteacher to determine the best use of available funding to meet the needs of pupils in each school, using each funding stream appropriately.
4291	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I don't have sufficient knowledge of this as I have no children of school age. However, I know from friends that they are constantly being asked to fund school projects, books, trips and visits so I responsibility and accountability already rested with the various school boards. 4295	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I have no objection to a revised DSM funding model provided that it is evolved after thorough investigation. In England there are management companies which run a number of schools. While this looks attractive at first sight there are disadvantages; the company will need to make a profit for its investors, the company may have scholarship and attainment low on its list of priorities. The company cannot or will not take account of the culture of the school in the particular community it serves.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	With the Head teachers being in control of their budget - if the funds are there then there should be no need to also pay a council member of staff to work within funding	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. The Council is still responsible for providing support services including financial support.
4298	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Feel giving HTs more control would be beneficial. The HT is in the best position to deploy her budget and resources accordingly.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school, and ensure they have appropriate opportunities.
4299	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I think head teachers having more direct control over funding could have a positive impact.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school, and ensure they have appropriate opportunities.
4300	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I do not support any cut to funding schools. Our schools are underfunded and understaffed as it is. Making due is NOT good enough. Providing support for children is essential to helping them develop into productive members of society. School, teachers and support staff are so important, I absolutely oppose any cuts that would affect their ability to "get it right for every child"	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has put forward proposals that cover the entire range of its activities.
4301	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	No issues with the redesign of DSM however schools cannot do more with less including potentially less management time, administrative and support staff who are the staff who keep the school running on a daily basis and are relied upon to complete roles and responsibilities that allows teachers to teach and HT's to lead learning and teaching.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The Council, Schools, Parents/Carers and Pupils all value the contribution of support staff. Headteachers will have the ability to determine where resources should be spent for the benefit of children, although a continuation of the Pupil/Teacher ratio may result in expenditure on teacher posts where support staff would have a greater impact on learning and teaching.
4302	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	This proposal is what regularly happens in the private sector. Make the council more like a business in the private sector with rationalized staffing and management.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school, and ensure they have appropriate opportunities.
4303	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Gif this brings more resources in to schools and away from the centre I am supportive	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school, and ensure they have appropriate opportunities.
4304	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Schools are already being asked to do more with less. Reduction in support staff, educational leadership and administration will directly impact on our learners with teachers being asked to continue to do more for less.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school, and ensure they have appropriate opportunities.

4305	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As long as its done with plenty of effective communication and not just lots of pointless and expensive consultations	Devolved School Management Funding	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Implementation will seek to strike an appropriate balance between the effective and the ineffective, as suggested.
4306	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The Head Teacher should have a budget based on the pupil numbers that covers everything including minor repairs/decoration ect. The Council should still be responsible for large upgrade and improvement type work	Devolved School Management Funding	4. The council is already doing this.	The scheme of devolved school management addresses these issues.
4307	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	How will schools be assessed - by population - by exam results - by social needs? I do see the saving in shared management/administration but how will that be possible if you then look at DSM giving each area their own scope for delivery. Education is not a competition between areas, each pupil should be given the same opportunities, funding regardless of school achievements.	Devolved School Management Funding	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school, and ensure they have appropriate opportunities.

4314	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The working 'provision by third party' does not sit right with me - in the current time of austerity why are the Council looking at third parties when they have current Council staff who if give the opportunity could provide an in house service.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will only consider outsourcing where this would bring efficiency or effectiveness benefits, but the proposals do not include large scale outsourcing of education services.
4315	An individual	1c. 4317	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	If its outsourcing you're talking about then why not just say that instead of dressing it up in gobbledeyook. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will only consider outsourcing where this would bring efficiency or effectiveness benefits, but the proposals do not include large scale outsourcing of education services.
4318	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Although this sounds good I have great concerns over this as schools and Head teachers have enough additional duties currently to undertake without adding to them. And this would be adding to them. HTs and management teams should be concentrating on learning and teaching and we are losing that focus with all of the other responsibilities already being tagged on. HTs simply do not have the space and time required to support staff, families and pupils because of the other bureaucracy already put onto them.	Devolved School Management Funding	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
4319	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Unclear what third party support means. 4328	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Front line teaching staff and front line resources are fundamental and cutting back on the 'tail' should be encouraged if this leads to little change to the teaching outcomes of our children. Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. The Council will only consider outsourcing where this would bring efficiency or effectiveness benefits, but the proposals do not include large scale outsourcing of education services.
4330	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Under the Standards in Scotland's Schools etc. Act 2000, every education authority is required to have a Devolved School Management (DSM) Scheme and to delegate to headteachers the preparation of school improvement plans. DSM schemes set out the functions and control over a portion of the local authority's education budget that is delegated to individual schools and headteachers. The education authority is free to decide to which schools the scheme should apply, i.e. it does not have to apply to all schools. Savings in funding should address the benefits to the individual school and any case for a change to the current DSM model should answer two questions. What were the reasons for this action not being addressed previously and second what research has been undertaken which would lead the Council to presume that this action will lead to greater benefits and be cost effective.	Devolved School Management Funding	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4331	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	It is unclear what impact this proposal will actually have on schools and pupils. The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.

4334	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I feel having a DSM system is putting a lot of additional pressure on schools and changing the role of HT significantly, as they are having to become business managers for their schools on top of everything else. I feel having a more centralised budget for schools across west lothian is not only more equitable but allows supports to be centralised and managed rather than potentially having duplication of work across the schools. It allows for support services to be centralised and managed rather than schools buying in supports when they require them.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.

4340	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	This is long overdue , and I support this proposal. It is unfortunate that a mechanism can not be set up that allows unspent funding from one financial year to be carried over into the next year , as this "rush" to spend remaining funds , not solely in education but in many departments , does not always result in best value being obtained.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. Education Services permit a carry forward.

4342	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Devolved school management will only result in an even more strained education system, than the currently failing model nationally. This appears to be nothing more than cost cutting rather focusing on the best quality service to support learning in schools.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
4343	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I agree with these comments from the review document "There are situations where larger schools are working to the same arrangements as smaller schools in the same council areas, but have far greater capacity to make decisions because of the scale of their budgets. This challenge will become more severe in the difficult financial circumstances that we currently face. Local Authorities and national government have both made considerable efforts to protect funding to schools by absorbing savings elsewhere. These efforts need to continue if schools are to retain any autonomy in this climate."	Devolved School Management Funding	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4344	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Giving Head teachers more budgetary control is a very bad idea. They are very good at delivering educational outcomes but are not trained as financial managers and many do not realise the level of external support required to keep schools safe and good learning places	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
4345	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1c. 4347	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Perhaps devolved school management would not give a constant approach to teaching - it would be harder to have standards and there would need to be some kind of benchmarking process to allow us to check that standards were being maintained. The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
4350	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	We have no objection to a revised DSM funding model evolved after thorough investigation but would be extremely apprehensive of school management provision by third party providers. Before taking any action look very closely at the Free School concept operating in England where an administrative company takes over the administration of a number of schools. Much could be learned from that experience by contacting people who are locally involved - phone headteachers and Councillors.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. The Council will only consider outsourcing where this would bring efficiency or effectiveness benefits, but the proposals do not include large scale outsourcing of education services.

4352	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	1c In many schools throughout West Lothian Head Teachers are in "Acting" positions for years, sometimes Acting over several primary and secondary schools. Though this is appropriate for small village primary schools, it happens over larger schools as well. There is no real consistency for the children. Management already appears to be spread thin, how will a devolved school management improve the current situation.	Devolved School Management Funding	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The proposals do not seek to address the issue of headteacher recruitment and retention, which is a national issue. As all local authorities face similar budgetary pressures, it is unlikely that proposals will place West Lothian at a competitive disadvantage in terms of recruitment.
4353	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	DSM is a new concept and I hope it will work.	Devolved School Management Funding	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council has a well established scheme of devolved school management.
4354	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I don't want to see anyone lose their jobs and if DSM if possible then so be it. However if the attainment gap is to be closed then these people must be kept to increase struggling literacy and numeracy levels within the area.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Raising attainment, and specifically literacy and numeracy will remain a key focus for the council.
4355	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The DSM scheme in schools has changed over the years with the centralisation of certain financial aspects of budgets, reducing the control Head Teachers have over their budgets to mainly staffing, training, supplies and in the secondary sector, responsibility for Scottish Qualification Agency payments for pupils exams. Will the scope for the changes in the staffing arrangements be curtailed with pupil teacher ratios?	Devolved School Management Funding	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Headteachers have a very high degree of autonomy and this will increase as a result of the Scottish Government's governance review. The requirement to maintain PTR doers, however, curtail the ability of Headteachers and the Council to choose the mix of staff best suited to the needs of individual schools and services, by requiring the employment of teachers where other staff might make a greater impact.
4356	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I find the above statement confusing. If the DSM scheme involves looking at support staff within the classroom it is vitally important that this provision is not cut.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals seek to strike an appropriate balance between front line, management and support functions, all of which play an important role in the service.
4357	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Don't go down any road that allows private enterprise into schools especially in the running of them. It is a shambles in England	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will consider outsourcing where it cannot provide a service itself, or where there are clear quality or efficiency benefits, but the proposals are not for large scale outsourcing of school provision.
4358	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Yes think this is a good idea to give schools their autonomy.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review. This will include managing their school within available resources, national conditions, and the scheme of devolved school management.

4360	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Schools are a vital part of our community and future. I feel that giving schools more control of their own affairs will allow them to thrive and improve in many of the above areas. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Headteachers have a very high degree of autonomy and responsibility and this will increase as a result of the Scottish Government's governance review.
4362	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Head teachers are managers and should run their areas of the service with the same resources available to other managers in non-education services. There is no room for giving them more than everyone else to run their parts of the council's business.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review. This will include managing their school within available resources, national conditions, and the scheme of devolved school management.
4363	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Headteachers have a very high degree of autonomy and responsibility and this will increase as a result of the Scottish Government's governance review.
4364	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I would agree that schools and Head Teachers are in a unique position to make these decisions knowing the locality and each individual school better than most. It would be obvious to say that there should be the correct checks and balances in place to protect all those involved and an independent complaints system should the need arise for any problem solving.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review. This will include managing their school within available resources, national conditions, and the scheme of devolved school management. A central complaints system, conforming to SPSO requirements, will be retained.
4365	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The huge stumbling block for DSM is the teacher ratios set by the Scottish Government. Maintaining these ratios restricts HTs into making decisions.	Devolved School Management Funding	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	The council is required to maintain a pupil teacher ratio with the result that spending on teaching staff cannot be reduced, thus increasing the impact of any savings required on support staff, even when these staff may play a significant role in supporting learning and teaching.
4366	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	No objection to a revised DSM funding model evolved after thorough investigation but do not put school management in the hands of private management firms.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	This is emphatically not proposed.
4367	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Can only try but will it really save money in the long run...	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4368	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I agree with this proposal. 4369	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	In managing schools and considering further devolution of decisions, it is important that the senior management team within secondary schools is not overloaded that it compromises the level of education that is provided. Each secondary school should have at least a Head teacher and 3 Deputy head teachers to run the school as a minimum. .	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals seek to strike an appropriate balance between front line, support and management staff, all of whom perform an important function within the service, within available resources.
4370	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I think this will be a good way to go only if Education in WL really can run their school as an effective business and all that entails. Giving more control to schools for their funding without them seeing themselves as business managers will be a disaster.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Headteachers have a very high degree of autonomy and responsibility and this will increase as a result of the Scottish Government's governance review.

4371	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Cut the management structure and have a business person oversee the money etc side of a school and have a head in charge of the staffing and pupils. This would reduce the need for DHT and PT in the roles and being non-teaching. I think PT should all be teaching at least four days a week rather than some schools having an HT a DHT and PT all non teaching. Surely this would save money and allow arts to be funded and mental health.	Devolved School Management Funding	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Individual Headteachers will be responsible for management structures and can consider these suggestions.
4372	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The third party should not be made up of volunteers e.g. parents etc. Schools should be run by professionals otherwise standards will slip even further. Technology is not the answer to everything.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Nationally agreed staffing levels, and the pupil/teacher ratio will be maintained.
4373	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	A review of the DSM in schools is welcomed but again must not impact on the capacity for HTs to do the core business of the job as leaders of the curriculum, learning and teaching.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Headteachers have a very high degree of autonomy and responsibility and this will increase as a result of the Scottish Government's governance review.
4374	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I feel that HTs should have control over how to spend their budget as they know the priorities and needs of their school.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Headteachers have a very high degree of autonomy and responsibility and this will increase as a result of the Scottish Government's governance review.
4375	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	This would be beneficial as long as there is support available. Head teachers are teachers first and business managers second. Their talents would be best suited to working directly with children and not stuck behind a desk.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Headteachers have a very high degree of autonomy and responsibility and this will increase as a result of the Scottish Government's governance review.
4376	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Linlithgow Academy Parent Council are very aware of the restrictions which the Scottish Government's Pupil Teacher Ratio imposes on Head Teachers in terms of their ability to allocate resources in the most effective manner for their school. Can the Council please confirm whether our Head Teacher will have real flexibility in terms of allocation of resources under the new proposals or whether this will continue to be almost entirely dictated by the PTR?	Devolved School Management Funding	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. This is not yet known.
4377	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I would question of devolved school management actually saves money. It may be central government desire to devolve school management but economies of scale would dictate otherwise.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Increased devolution of finance, responsibility and accountability is proposed in the current national Governance Review.
4378	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	DSM sounds promising, but again do not assume technology can immediately be introduced and benefits realised. What are the timescales for any technology solution and how quickly can the benefits be realised. Can contracts with suppliers always have penalties for delays or failed delivery? Public money must always be protected with such contracts.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will only use third party provision where there are quality and cost benefits. Education Services has concentrated on IT resources used nationally, and provided through the public sector, such as GLOW and SEEMIS.
4379	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The head teacher must be retained, and ways of reducing clerical tasks can be realised through efficiency measures.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	All but three pre-school establishments are already managed by primary headteachers. The proposal is to reduce clerical tasks.
4380	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Not sure that this is the best use of resources. If a Head Teacher is in charge of the school budget what oversight is in place to ensure that the money is being used to the best advantage of the community that the school sits in. Is there an overall strategy for the area that the Head Teacher has to be mindful of.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review. This will include managing their school within available resources, national conditions, and the scheme of devolved school management.
4381	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As outlined previously Head Teachers will be in charge of their budget. Some schools are located in area of greater affluence and therefore their parents may be willing to make up the shortfall for any activities that are not part of the usual curriculum. How does the Council propose to ensure that each child is given the same resources regardless of their schools location.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council has no plans to transfer funds raised by parents at more affluent schools to schools in areas of deprivation. It would be open to parents to take initiative themselves to raise money for children in less affluent areas.
4382	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I fully support the concept of devolving the decision making and assessment of educational resources required, from a Local government control to either larger schools or a group of smaller schools combined into a hub. I presume the Schools Inspectorate will continue to operate - as a check these devolved schools will still achieve the quality of attainment and meet any other statutory requirements.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review. This will include managing their school within available resources, national conditions, and the scheme of devolved school management. Education Scotland will continue to monitor standards in school, and the new Regional Improvement Collaborative will also have a role in this process.
4383	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Agree, if there's a DSM scheme - one the major savings has to come from the Local Education Department in the Council	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The Council has put forward proposals relating to all areas of activity including education.

4384	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Direct funding to schools rather than resources being allocated to local government is something that should be opposed at a national level. West Lothian Councillors should dictate the allocation of resources in West Lothian, as they are elected to do.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The framework for Education funding is set nationally. There is an increasing trend of direct, ring-fenced funding from national government to schools.

4386	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I think West Lothian has a great reputation in Education. Why change something that works really well.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has put forward proposals for budget reductions across the full range of its responsibilities.
4387	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	How will revising the DSM scheme result in reducing administration when more and more jobs are coming from teachers and FM services via the school office.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals seek to strike an appropriate balance between front line, management and support functions, all of which play an important role in the service.
4388	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. 4390	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I'd hope that sufficient support is provided for head teachers in managing their devolved budget, as it is no easy task. Again, head teacher's should be left to focus on improving the curriculum, raising attainments, supporting health and well-being and ensuring positive destinations for our pupils.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Headteachers have a very high degree of autonomy and responsibility and this will increase as a result of the Scottish Government's governance review.
4391	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Don't agree. too much responsibility on Head Teachers who are already carrying too much work.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Headteachers have a very high degree of autonomy and responsibility and this will increase as a result of the Scottish Government's governance review.
4392	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I would agree to the DSM, as streamlining would save money. But I do not agree with utilising third party providers as this would involve further costs.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will use external providers where it lacks capacity or expertise to make provision itself, or where there are quality or efficiency benefits.
4393	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Private firms are there to make money for themselves.....I am not sure of their reliability	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will use external providers where it lacks capacity or expertise to make provision itself, or where there are quality or efficiency benefits.
4394	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Again not clear what it all means - if changes can be made and service provision be protected seems reasonable.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4395	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I think decisions on School policy should remain with the Council and not heads. We need uniformity in the Council so that children do not meet entirely new codes of conduct if they move schools. Heads have enough to do managing schools without planning curriculums.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
4396	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	It is not a bad thing for Head Teachers to have a more direct control over funding. However the reduction in funding from WLC should not be done as a reaction to the Scottish Government funding schools directly. Head Teachers' primary responsibility is the raising of attainment but how can this go hand in hand with the reduction in central services - with only 'advisory approaches' to certain areas and the removal of some others (eg non mainstream places for children with greater support needs.)	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The respondent advised that they did not agree with the proposal.
4397	No Response	1c. 4400	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I agree that head teachers should have a bigger say in their own school budgeting as long as they trained to do so - and be able to allocate resources where needed. The Council intends to implement the proposal whilst still fulfilling its duty to meet the needs of every child.
4401	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Minimal redesign may be required in forming DSM, hence further savings.	Devolved School Management Funding	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4402	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	1c Colleagues have expressed concern about what is left to cut from the DSM budget, given that the Pupil Teacher Ratio is fixed, and in particular how this would impact on smaller schools.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school.
4403	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Is the council proceeding on the basis that it will continue to receive the same level of funding for education from Scottish Government once the reforms to school management take place? Once again, absolutely no detail is provided of the council's plans beyond empty management speak about restructuring and maximising efficiency. What are you actually consulting on here? 4405	No Response	1c. 4406	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	A review of DSM and existing staffing structures is welcomed and will hopefully reflect the different approaches required for efficiency in both large and small schools. There is a concern that any changes will not reflect immediate savings in a school due to the requirement to conserve salaries following a period of change. Support would be required to allow schools to afford to move to new models of staffing. There additional concern is the lack of flexibility created by the Pupil Teacher ratio which is currently restricting HT ability to be creative but will be equally problematic if suddenly removed due to the increased number of permanent staff who have been employed to meet the target.	Devolved School Management Funding	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The response reflects substantive issues that will require to be addressed during implementation.
4407	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	as schools/head teachers have PEF, then all the DSM budgets may no longer be required.	Devolved School Management Funding	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	PEF funding cannot be used to replace core functions already provided.
4408	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Why is there no shared resource system for schools? Teachers are pulling resources continually each year yet there is no central repository for lesson plans etc. Will this devolved management approach further affect this? More funding should be focused at primary education level to tackle under achievers and reduce the number of children moving to secondary with poor reading, writing and mathematics.	Devolved School Management Funding	4. The council is already doing this.	Collaboration is encouraged and this will continue. Investment in literacy, numeracy and transition has been made.
4409	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Devolving more of the decisions around school staffing to schools and head teachers is in principle desirable as it allows individual schools to employ the best model for their own needs as opposed to a one size fits all approach. I would though worry that if spending continues to be cut around administrative and support staffing then schools will be unable to change to the models of DSM that they would wish to employ. If support staff continue to be cut from schools the onus will be placed on teachers to do more on top of the workload they already have. With funding cuts being proposed in school's partner agencies there will be less and less options for support for some of our most vulnerable children and young people. I worry the impact that this will have on these children. We cannot expect teaching staff to continually fill the gaps that cuts to these services leave and increase attainment etc.	Devolved School Management Funding	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school.

4437	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Could cluster schools be asked to work together to gain efficiencies of scale when ordering paper, jotters etc?	Education Services (general)	4. Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review.
4453	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	agree that if schools have direct control of funding then it would seem appropriate to reduce central support.	Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal. 4459	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	West Lothian is currently so obsessed with attainment that it is neglecting all the children who achieve great things but won't attain the wholly unrealistic targets set by overpaid officers in power.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Raising attainment is a key statutory responsibility and policy objective of the council, due to the benefits that it brings to each young person. Targets are set taking account of the potential of each child.
4460	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Start looking at pupil needs not just numbers. Pupils are not currently placed according to need, you simply look at numbers, it's wrong	Education Services (general)	7. Each mainstream can meet the needs of mainstream pupils.

4462	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	get rid of religious education and religious schools, its a luxury we cant afford	Education Services (general)	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	Religious education is a statutory requirement. The provision of denominational schools is governed by statute.
4463	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Seems a reasonable approach however, whilst attainment for children and young people is important, children and young people need to have a positive experience that also addressed learning for life as opposed to academic qualifications. 4464	An individual	1c. Education Services (general)	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	The provision of denominational education is governed by statute.
4465	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	more working closer together between schools collages,,, share services invite local businesses to be more involved more private funding	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The council is pursuing many of these initiative already, including through the Developing the Your Workforce Board, but this suggestion can usefully be reinforced to all schools.
4466	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Teachers are overworked already - with having to improve on literacy and numeracy attainment, as well as the almost unachievable 1 + 2 in modern languages. They should be focusing on what CfE is and should not be expected to also deliver comprehensive music and PE curriculum when there are specialists available to support.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Teachers in West Lothian are employed to deliver curriculum for excellence, as directed by their headteacher, within the confines of national conditions and their working time agreement.
4467	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	perhaps look into ways of utilising what you have here	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The proposals seek to make most efficient use of existing resources.
4468	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Funding for school supplies has always been lacking. With friends and relatives who are and were teachers, I've seen the reality of them having to pay for supplies for their classrooms out of their own pocket. I agree that allowing schools to make funding decisions and giving them autonomy over spending is a good step forward, but with proper support. It should not be used to transfer the buck, i.e spending pressures to schools, and then use it as a stick to beat them for not achieving savings that the council themselves could not achieve	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review. Staff in west Lothian have a collective responsibility for delivering high quality services in as cost effective manner as possible. It is not the expectation of the Council, however, that staff purchase resources necessary to fulfil their role.
4469	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Will this be added into head teachers roles, in addition to spending responsibilities and running the school? How is one person expected to effectively and efficiently deliver all of this? If consistency is key, why not have a key role who oversees all nurseries in any given catchment area/ geographical area and hold them to account for the operation and consistency of these services	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review. All but three nurseries are already managed by primary HTs. This arrangement ensures continuity of the 3-18 curriculum and eases transition from nursery to primary. A central quality assurance resource will continue, in addition to a national inspection regime.
4470	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Teachers need to be able to teach to do that in mainstream schools they need support workers in every class. Inclusion is great in theory but in practise it is disruptive for the children and no child is benefiting from it at all. Come into a school (try Uphall Primary) and see for yourself!	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council must look at opportunities for efficiency and service transformation in all areas of its responsibility. The Council intends to implement the proposal whilst still fulfilling its duty to meet the needs of every child.

4471	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I'm fully supportive of this so long as the relevant investment is made to systems, processed and staff are fully trained. This initial investment, along with the loss of jobs that'll go along, is necessary to bring the council towards a more business like environment. If it is not then the initial saving might be delivered, but it will not be sustainable. Whilst I appreciate extracurricular activities the primary focus of a school is to provide quality education and other funding could be identified to support activities outwith the norm. Paperwork seems to get in the way for educators so a review of that, or challenge to the government may be a requirement for success.	Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4472	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	would some of the above not cost money instead of saving it	Education Services (general)	3. 4473	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Central govt should be putting in enough money to fund attainment based learning.	Education Services (general)	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	West Lothian Council has no control over decisions taken by the Scottish Government on the allocation of funding to local government.
4474	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	ALN provision should be protected ,not dismantled as it is being now.	Education Services (general)	2. 4476	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Pupil discipline is a necessary prerequisite for improving attainment. 4477	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Good teachers will only be attracted to the profession if they are paid correctly.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	If required to pay increased salaries for staff the council will have to consider further cuts to services, which could include further reductions in staff numbers.
4478	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	One head teacher over several small schools would achieve economies of scale	Education Services (general)	4. 4479	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Rationalise to ensure the new school clusters are better managed.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Opportunities for collaboration within schools, clusters and across the authority should reduce the burden on individual members of staff.
4480	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Use of third party providers will work if control of the quality of the service they provide can be achieved	Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	In general third party providers are used where this is more efficient or provides a higher quality service than can be provided in house, or in some cases where specialist experience is not available in house.
4481	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Don't like the idea of using third part providers to maximise efficiency, tend to be a very expensive way to optimise systems instead of asking the people who do things day to day	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	In general third party providers are used where this is more efficient or provides a higher quality service than can be provided in house, or in some cases where specialist experience is not available in house.
4482	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review. The Council intends to implement the proposals whilst focusing on key priorities for pupils, parents/carers and staff.
4485	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Agreed, but the council actually needs to listen to schools on the best way to educate children.	Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review.
4486	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	It is the Council's responsibility to ensure that the teaching standards for the basics, reading, writing, arithmetic, physical education, etc. are the same throughout the region. The Council needs to ensure there are an appropriate number of suitably qualified and competent persons capable of delivering the standard of education required. These people need staff to provide administrative and support functions so they can carry out their statutory duty	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Staffing ratios set by statute or national agreement will be maintained. The Scottish Government has made maintaining the Pupil/Teacher ratio a condition of funding, and so the council and schools are compelled to focus on the employment of teachers where, in some cases, they may prefer to increase non-teaching staff in preference to this.
4487	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I support this as long as best value is achieved and standards are not compromised.	Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The duty to achieve best value will remain. The Council intends to implement the proposals whilst focusing on key priorities for pupils, parents/carers and staff.
4488	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Support proposal but review should be undertaken to determine why so many young people are in this position and it maybe that the education been given in schools has been inadequate. 4491	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I believe the council has been doing this continuously. The question is, why have these changes not been made already since efficiency and effectiveness are two cornerstones of Best Value.	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4492	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Concentrate on core responsibilities.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The proposals are designed to ensure an enhanced focus on core responsibilities
4493	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	pupil equity fund should be used to embed resources within schools	Education Services (general)	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	Pupil Equity Funding is provided by the Scottish Government in order to address disadvantages that pupils experience as a result of poverty.
4494	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	So what are the changes the council believe that can be made? Be more transparent in what the changes should be explain?	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4495	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	WLC cannot have experts in every field. Commercial companies can provide a more efficient service	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	In general third party providers are used where this is more efficient or provides a higher quality service than can be provided in house, or in some cases where specialist experience is not available in house.
4496	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Whilst mainstream education plays a very important role more should be done to help the educational system to diversify with extra circular activities being developed to help educationally challenged and vulnerable children and young people find other ways of obtaining life skills. Educationally rounded and confident children and young people, whether this be through mainstream education or other means will save us millions in the future.	Education Services (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information. The Council will continue to produce and deliver a statutory Community Learning and Development plan, with delivery increasingly through the learning communities based on non-denominational school catchment areas, and greater partnership between schools and the third sector. 4497	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Agree with these proposals for the most part. Provision for outreach services hopefully not being diminished but worked differently.	Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The Council intends to implement the proposal whilst still fulfilling its duty to meet the needs of every child.
4498	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	More job losses.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council intends to implement the proposals whilst focusing on key priorities for pupils, parents/carers and staff. It is not possible to quantify job losses, or reductions in hours, as the Scheme of Devolved Management gives Headteachers considerable freedom to spend their total budget according to the priorities within their school.
4499	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	We need the education back to where it once was. We need crime free streets, better health for young and old	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Curriculum for excellence includes a strong focus on respectful relationships, citizenship and health and wellbeing.
4500	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	In addition to the comments made in 1b, senior (Education) management must ensure effective communication and provided the support to employees to enable transition to new working practices.	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Communication will be an important element in the proposed programmes of change.
4501	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Lack of respect and discipline in schools has led to a generation of children (and some parents) not taking responsibility for their actions. The council is too good at protecting the rights of others e.g. pupils etc. but not the rights of the employee e.g. teachers. Discipline and respect must be re-introduced.	Education Services (general)	5c. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is not consistent with the council's values and priorities.	There is a strong focus on respectful relationships in curriculum for excellence. The council is committed to protecting the rights of children, and also ensuring that employees are protected and supported where necessary
4502	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	If we have a sensible curriculum that is aimed at excellence as well as achievability and teachers are given the correct support in bringing that curriculum to the students then the results will speak for themselves. Literacy and numeracy, or the lack of, are a real problem for employers. The fact that a software program called "Grammarly" is popular speaks volumes for the failure of teaching to subscribe to the needs of the employability of students.	Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The Council intends to implement the proposals whilst focusing on key priorities for pupils, parents/carers and staff.
4503	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Efficiency should always be sought, but quality must be maintained. Ensuring you have the best teachers teaching their specialist subjects and not babysitting other subjects is important.	Education Services (general)	3. The Council will continue to attempt to attract the best candidates to support broad educational opportunities and subject choice in all secondary schools.
4504	An individual	1c. 4505	No Response	1c. Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council must look at opportunities for efficiency and service transformation in all areas of its responsibility.
4506	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	With the need for early education and childcare managers / lead practitioners now being required by law under the regulation of care scotland act 2001 to be qualified to graduate level teaching staff could be best used within schools as opposed to nurseries and early years centres.	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	This will be considered as part of the expansion of early learning and childcare.
4507	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	My fear is that the review will cost more than the potential savings.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 4508	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Simple integrate Catholic schools into main stream schools.....instant savings of millions	Education Services (general)	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	The provision of denominational education is governed by statute.
4509	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	see 1a - councils should be coming together to deliver services rather than divided. in house support should be provided similar to when the lothian regional council was about. providing this support across multiple councils would reduce costs	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The new Regional Improvement Collaborative provide an additional opportunity to pursue this idea.
4510	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	How many jobs would be gone by applying this measure?	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	It is not possible to quantify job losses, or reductions in hours, as the Scheme of Devolved Management gives Headteachers considerable freedom to spend their total budget according to the priorities within their school.

The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council must look at opportunities for efficiency and service transformation in all areas of its responsibility. Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review.
4512	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Sounds to me as though you plan to increase staff workload with no added benefit to staff.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals primary aim is to protect core services for their recipients rather than provide added benefit to staff.
4513	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Reduce school clothing grant to national average.	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. 4514	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Again better knowledgeable property trained staff has to be the way forward in regards to greater and better use of all facilities and resources to maximise efficiency	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	All teachers access professional update to maintain their knowledge and skills, backed up by the collaborative and collegiate approach adopted across West Lothian schools. Non-teaching staff have access to appropriate training opportunities.
4515	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Would suggest the council would need to look into ways that children can access the additional resources that they will lose out on through various charities or local community projects.	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thanks you for comment. Your feedback has been noted. This is a positive suggestion. Increased partnership working is the focus of one of the council's transformation projects.
4516	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Schools should be protected.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. The Council has put forward proposals relating to all areas of its responsibility.
4517	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I agree with this and I feel that the voluntary sector are sometimes missing when it comes to working with our children who are no longer engaged in education for one reason of another. If you look at the development of the Super Power Agency in Leith, this creation came with the direct help of Jack Simpson, Head of Leith Academy (Founder Member). Please visit superpoweragency.com and consider following this for West Lothian and our non-engaged children who have social, emotional and behavioural difficulties. I know plenty of people who have been fundraising for this in Edinburgh and plenty of volunteers who work for them. I don't see why West Lothian can't do the same for their children. It doesn't cost much and staffing is free.	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Partnership working is a key feature of Council provision, and new opportunities should be explored.
4518	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	All schools should be supplying the same services to pupils regardless of areas.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school, taking account of local context where appropriate but providing consistently high quality services.
4519	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Sharing a home with three local authority teachers I am acutely aware of the work demands and pressures experienced by teaching staff, which are well beyond the average experience in other areas of council employment. Further increasing education staff responsibilities without a corresponding increase in staffing or resources is more likely to erode the work-force than increase efficiency, which will in turn reduce service and morale and ultimately result in increased costs. I advocate any measures that free teaching professionals from the many and increasing additional demands, for example picking up the slack in reducing social services, so they can focus on what they do best.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. There is no expectation that teachers use their own money to support learning and teaching. Teacher duties are set out clearly in national conditions, and all teachers work within a working time agreement.
4520	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Local Govt's inability to improve the life chances of the most disadvantaged in our communities, through education, will probably result in the removal of ALL education responsibilities from Local Govt. Consideration should be given to delivering cuts from Non-statutory services and investing much more in early years/education. Recent Scottish Govt proposal seems to have been interpreted by local gov't as 'license to asset strip education' via accountants ill informed view of the costs and 'bottom line'. West Lothian education services have improved (overall) in recent years - but could do so much more with political and senior management investment!!!! Beware of imminent "Section 70" complaints to Scottish ministers over the coming years	Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The proposals focus on maintaining statutory service whilst focusing proposed reductions in non-statutory service areas.

4521	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Schools and Head Teachers are being increasingly burdened by political demands and expectations to 'fix' societal and macro-economic problems that they have very little leverage (through learning) to change. adding to this burden under the guise of £1.6m efficiency is unlikely to assist in closing the attainment or opportunity gap for those children already furthest behind their most affluent peers.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. 4523	An individual	1c. 4524	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.

Or should you re-design this job to ensure a contribution to closing the gap and raising attainment is made and can be measured?	Education Services (general)	1. 4533	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	There should be no further cuts to education. Savings can & should be made elsewhere.	Education Services (general)	2. 4534	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	It sounds like education will be removed from Local Government control and would fit with the Education Secretary's view on delivering better learning outcomes. However, learn from the past and please revisit the learning techniques. We all want to build a stronger, better educated community from pre-school through to the workplace but we never seem to truly join the dots between what is required (the gaps in the job markets) to what we teach. Certainly, how we teach is still in the dark ages and really needs to be more appropriately delivered.	Education Services (general)	5d. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it has been previously considered and will not be progressed.	Through initiatives such as developing the young workforce and community planning the Council works in partnership to align provision with opportunities, but this is an area where a continued focus would be beneficial.

4548	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	For 'third party providers' read businesses driven by profit. Politicians have failed to learn from the Private Finance Initiative which continues to drain the public purse. Calling it other names doesn't make it any better. These providers generally spring up and employ ex-council staff who have been paid off and pay them much less than they earned with the council. A typical political solution which is then hailed by the politicians as a successful outcome. It is an indictment of our political system and those within it. 'The council believes changes can be made in management restructures and support arrangements' We also use to believe the earth was flat. Stating a belief without concrete facts to back it up is what politicians are good at until their unfounded belief collapses at some point, usually at everyone else's expense. 4570	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I'm sorry, but I think education should be removed from individual councils and moved to a centralised Scottish Education structure. There's way too much overlap of services which, like the police, could save millions. It's a big part of your budget, but it's also not your core skill set. There should be some control and monitoring/inspection of what the funds are used for.	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	It is intended that implementation of any agree proposals will be monitored and evaluated.
4578	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	This should be something that parents have a view on and be visible and accessible to the public to comment on. Transparency is needed to all affected sides and engagement with the public before taking any big decision.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	This is why the Council has undertaken its consultation.
4579	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Service provision is actually being disrupted by "third party providers". No clear ownership of processes or Service Level Agreements are in place to ensure quality of service.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will consider outsourcing where it cannot provide a service itself, or where there are clear quality or efficiency benefits, but the proposals are not for large scale outsourcing of school provision.
4580	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Making better use of school buildings out of school hours would maximise return on expensive capital resources. This could include an option to review the length of the school day / possible split day schooling rather than expansion of existing accommodation.	education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted and will be considered as part of any development of the proposal.
4581	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Quick answer. Individual people in any job will make their own decision on how best to do the job. I do not agree with national curriculum but it would be impossible to give every child their own personalised education. It pains me to say it but I think there should be a standardised education system which would cater for most of the children in each year. I have no facts to support my theory, but it may not be far off 15 percent may excell and require additional support, and 15 percent may require a different approach to learning if they have difficulties for reasons specific to that child. My opinion is that the headteacher/principal should focus on managing the standardised curriculum for as many children as they can without having the extra duties - or salaries - of trying to manage or advise on children which require additional support. Investment in a few specially trained staff will help gifted children thrive and help encourage those who so often feel frustrated and angry because they are unable to keep up.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Thank you for your detailed response. The Council seeks to meet its statutory duty to meet the needs of all children including the most and least able, and will continue to consider how best this can be achieved.
4582	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As stated previously, our school Operates with a management team too small for our establishment. I hope the exercise would take into account schools that require more staff that donâ€™t currently have it in place through the current allocation system. It doesnâ€™t seem fair that a large Primary school of similar pupil role to a secondary school should have such a reduced number of management members!	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	In future Headteachers will have greater autonomy to set their own management structure, within the total budget allocated. Pupil numbers should be one of the major factors determining total budget.
4583	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Providing free school meals for children in primaries 1-3 is a huge waste of money. Many families can afford to pay for school lunches so why should they be given for free? Parents of these children are only taking up the offer as a matter of convenience as they donâ€™t have to prepare a lunch. The quality and minuscule portions of the food provided by the catering companies is deplorable, I certainly wouldnâ€™t encourage my children to eat it.	Education Services (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Provision of free school meals to P1-3 is a statutory requirement. Operational Services monitor satisfaction with provision, and take action in response to any complaints.
4584	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Schools are critical and should be exposed to the least possible cuts as, if anything, they need increased budgets and more resources to properly implement a vague curriculum (CfE) which essentially took many of the resources out of schools.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has put forward proposals across the whole range of its activities.
4585	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	No idea what this means in reality. Surely if the council believes they can be more efficient they don't need to consult on that - working efficiently should be at the heart of what you do without having to ask!! If though what you are suggesting here is that head teachers are going to have even more control of money then I think this must be met with a requirement for head teachers to have meaningful discussion with parents about the local school budget. It seems to be a mystery about how school budgets are spent within each school.....	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The ongoing governance review will result in increased parental involvement and engagement.
4586	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I would ask that when considering workforce arrangements that my subject of PE is protected as too often we are seen as dispensable. Can I remind the council that not only is Health and Wellbeing and by proxy Physical Education one of their three key curriculum areas alongside Literacy and Numeracy; but noone has ever died from too few fractions. Health and Wellbeing in the form of Physical Education should be protected as children learn about the physical, emotional, social and mental aspects of their being.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Headteachers will require to determine the optimum mix of staff to meet the needs of pupils in their school. Health and Wellbeing and the delivery of 2 hours of PE per week remain priorities for the Council.
4587	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Do not cut funding to our schools. children are the future.	Education Services (general)	2. 4588	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Support services and agencies are essential to the running of schools. If we are to remove specialist support from schools such as counsellors and Ed psych etc. We must train the existing guidance staff to be able to fill these gaps. This will require guidance staff to come out of their subjects and be more hands in these roles, increasing their responsibility. Therefore guidance staff should be trained in the above and promoted to Principle Teacher of Guidance to allow them to fill these holes. Let's be honest, the council will require and expect guidance staff to do this anyway, but will be reluctant to provide the pay, support, training, time and authority to enable this to be effective. If the council want this to work, they must invest in their existing staff.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school, and ensure they have appropriate mix of staff to support the needs of pupils.
4589	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The council cannot expect schools and attainment to improve if they continue to take resources and staff away from them. The council must therefore, lower their expectations and provide greater support to schools if they are to obtain positive outcomes for learners.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council has put forward proposals relating to all areas of its activity.

4592	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	reduce numbers of schools and no longer have denominational education mixed is more appropriate	Education Services (general)	5c. Denominational provision is governed by statute.
4593	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Excellent idea but usually this results in cuts in resources to schools as well. Increased class sizes, dealing with difficult children in class, inclusion etc	Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	National class size regulations will be met, and the Council will continue to meet its duty to meet the needs of every child.
4594	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	It is important that efficiency is the real result not just saving money.	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Efficiency is the aim of the proposals.

4596	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Get third parties out look how schools rented back are costing a fortune	Education Services (general)	5b. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is likely that the costs of this proposal would outweigh the benefit.	Changing existing contracts is unlikely to prove cost effective.
4597	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Start clearing out your own staffing issues and leave the Headteachers to address theirs!!	Education Services (general)	3. This will include an appropriate mix of management, support and front line staff.

Officers will consider how this could be developed.	It is the case, however, that this proposal might prove inconvenient for parents who have put in place arrangements to support attendance based on the current pattern of provision.
4604	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Education always require input and changes made are not always the correct ones. 4605	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Support for people working with children is the most important priority in my eyes, and cuts in child care and education should be avoided at all costs. For example, supporting childcare enables the ability to work, particularly those on lower incomes, and thus it pans across many of the priorities.	Education Services (general)	2. 4609	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Biggest problem in schools the need for teacher pupil ratio to be maintained. Because of the increasing number of problems and children with special needs schools have to support now they need more support staff not less. They are not miracle workers they need support. If you are talking about Education Officers etc then fine.	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. This will include the appropriate mix of staffing, although maintaining the pupil/teacher ratio may require the employment of teachers in preference to support staff.
4610	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Why is it the council's job to parent children? 4611	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The concern is that the loss of these vital services will have a detrimental impact on individual schools and on the workload for school management and class teachers, which is already overloaded, as these services are vital to the delivery of high quality learning and teaching This will also have an impact on the policy of inclusion as some pupils and schools need the additional support to reach their potential and have a successful experience in school and schools are already struggling to provide the intensity of support these pupils need to succeed in mainstream.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school.
4612	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	There can be savings made within educational services. Is it really necessary to have so many education officers? 4624	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I believe school management structures are currently at their limit. Before completing this survey, I read an online job description for a secondary school Depute Head Teacher. The remit for one person in a supposed 35-hour week almost made me laugh aloud. Secondary schools are dealing with in-excess of 1000 pupils in the course of a day. They have already had their management structure and support services reduced to be tighter than any other local authority in Scotland. Above, it says "there is a need to review current service provision to make sure that it is providing the best and most efficient service". If the BEST service is sought then reduction is not the way forward. The pupils currently being educated at secondary school level are the people that, by the end of this period of cuts, will be the workers and tax payers of West Lothian. If we reduce their opportunities now, what will the outlook be for the end of this? Unemployed, disengaged, emigrating?! I know I have seriously considered emigration over the past few years. As a professional, high band tax payer, I would seriously consider taking my expertise and life to a different country. This will only increase.	Education Services (general)	2. 4643	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Would schools be expected to commission services no longer provided by the council?	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The Council will only consider outsourcing where this would bring efficiency or effectiveness benefits, but the proposals do not include large scale outsourcing of education services.
4644	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Would there be adequate expertise and skill within schools to take on these new roles? Would there be adequate knowledge, skills and expertise remaining in the council to offer high quality support and challenge to schools, as and when required?	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Support will continue to be available from Councils and the new Regional Improvement Collaborative.
4645	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Every school should provide the same EXCELLENT service, if you look after the young, inspire and encourage them they will be better citizens in the long run and provide tax etc in the future. If they are left to feel there is no future what inspires them to work and earn rather than live on benefits. You need to allow children to aspire to be the best they can be whatever their background.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4646	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Any reduction in budget to schools will have a negative impact on attainment, achievement and workload for teachers in school.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has put forward proposals across the whole range of its activities.
4647	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	What about PE in primary schools? I'm concerned about the huge reduction in quality of PE my children have been offered over the past few years. Surely this should be a priority given the health crises caused by poor lifestyle choices	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	There is no proposal to reduce PE in primary schools.
4648	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Bad ideas. Do not change this facility - as existing services are foundations For prosperous and rewarding future for our children	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has put forward proposals across the whole range of its activities.
4649	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Third parties inevitably cost more - but efficiencies may be achieved - any third party services must come with guarantees and agreed fines if service is inefficient	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will only consider outsourcing where this would bring efficiency or effectiveness benefits, but the proposals do not include large scale outsourcing of education services.
4650	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Generally staff such as head teachers must have the right jargon and buzz words to progress. Their teaching ability is secondary.	Education Services (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4651	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The child is at the centre and there still has to be a good quality of input for all children. Covering the basics of the curriculum and especially resources required for those with specific needs/disabilities. The system has to start with early years in order to try to attain the quality of basic education all children should have. That there is also support for all children who really need one to one and ASN support.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4652	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Existing resources in some cases are pretty poor already and can cause hardship.	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4653	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As above - lets have a root and branch review of the service and delivery. It isn't necessary to increase costs when efficiencies can be identified. A business approach is what is needed, and perhaps with the best intentions, the educational staff are not professionally competent to carryout the many of the 'business' services. The education staff should be doing what they are trained for, and not unfairly being expected to carryout task which they are perhaps not suited for. This business approach will ensure the correct spending on items needed is controlled.	Education Services (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. The proposals are designed to increase efficiency.

4655	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Schools should all be non-denominational and reviewed against efficiency criteria to rationalise building provision.	Education Services (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	The provision of denominational education is governed by statute. The Council has not put forward proposals to rationalise buildings.

4656	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Effectively employing more people at a higher wage and with a better working environment while cutting on the number of people that actually deliver the day to day services. This is particularly evident in education (you can almost trip over the amount of Depute Head Teacher's in some schools) and blindingly obvious in the Instrumental Music Service whom, 2 years ago, lost approximately 6 members of teaching staff yet were somehow allowed to increase the amount of man-hours in the administration of the service? An utter disgrace.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school.
4657	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As I've said in this consultation already, enhancing our education system (and not cutting it) will equip (especially young) families and young people in general, with better life skills and a stronger sense of social responsibility	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has put forward proposals across the whole range of its activities.
4658	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Perhaps redeploying some of the money to build and staff a specialist educational provision within west lothian would be not only more cost effective for the council but also beneficial for the pupils and their families, providing specialist supports for pupils such as art therapy, play therapy, EMDR to help pupils with social and emotional behavioral difficulties and ultimately increase their attainment potential. The number of pupils suffering adverse childhood experiences (trauma) is constantly increasing and it is essential that these pupils receive the support and early intervention they require to not only benefit them in the longer term but also save the council money.	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted and will be considered as part of any development of the proposal.
4659	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	More parent volunteers would help , there is do many cut backs teachers are not managing on the scarce resources they have . An amnesty onschool leavers bringing back books they have taken away etc . Appeals for resources from either private individuals or companies may help too . Jotters with only one page used are often sent home at the end of term to be binned . Get youngsters involved in this kind of recycling . Teaching them at school about good use of resources	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted and will be considered as part of any development of the proposal.
4660	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	There are also many screening groups within Education with the same individuals/ organisations involved and attending meetings, perhaps this process could be reviewed, and streamlined to save money and time. Meetings are important to share information, however, they are costly, if technology allows perhaps more virtual meetings. conference calls could be used?	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted and will be considered as part of any development of the proposal.
4661	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Review the education system at government level..... length of holidays not effective for child development and attainment gap. Removing subjects that have a practical element for instance music will impact those who struggle with the academic side and use practical lessons for their learning, thus impacting on their employability, attendance and class disruption. look into more practical based models and relevance to todays life skills.	Education Services (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	A national review would not be the responsibility of West Lothian Council.
4662	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	If you can achieve the above, then great. My comments in previous item stand. Do you genuinely believe you are able to do this? Who will be held accountable if it is not achieved? Greater use of existing resources can often mean current staff are expected to deliver the job function of two roles as opposed to one. The resultant effect is neither role being delivered satisfactorily (to receiver and deliverer), an increase in workplace stress, which in turn results in an increase in costs or a dramatic reduction in service quality. Again you make reference to third party providers - how are the third party providers financed? Do not rely on the 'volunteer community' as it is already being stretched to the point that 'volunteers' are reviewing just how much volunteering they are doing (including finances they put in to such activities) with the possibility that third parties are overstretched and unable to meet your aims.	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	West Lothian Council has a proven track record of designing and implementing programmes of change to deliver budget savings.
4663	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I think one would have to be in the teaching profession - an 'insider' to fully understand what you're describing - ? business support + quality assurance. A 'paring down' to the basics might result in cost savings	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.
4664	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Use of third party providers must be on the basis that they meet existing and projected standards and requirements.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will only consider outsourcing where this would bring efficiency or effectiveness benefits, but the proposals do not include large scale outsourcing of education services.
4665	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	In this section as in others, the description is vague and unclear and whilst it seems to broadly be of benefit in reducing budget, what are the implications? what is lost? Again as in other sections where references to staff changes take place, it is vital that remaining staff are supported and motivated as a demoralised workforce delivering reduced services will be miserable for everyone. And whilst I certainly don't support the idea of replacing paid staff with volunteers, would you consider using a volunteer programme to offer experience to young people, long term unemployed, people with disabilities or chronic health conditions who can benefit from confidence & CV-building opportunities to become a greater part of our local communities and workforce, reducing poverty etc as part of the 8 priorities.	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	No increased reliance on volunteers is proposed.

4666	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Service provision must be protected in education. Support staff are vital in the current system where children with additional needs are taught in mainstream classes. However there needs to be recognition that, in some cases, this is not conducive to a calm and consistent learning experience for others in the class. There should be more access to specialist provision and centres.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has put forward proposals across the whole range of its activities.
4667	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Teacher entitlement to RCCT and McCrone time costs a fortune, as additional teachers are required to cover this time. No other professionals are afforded this luxury and spend the working day doing what they get paid for. Their job!	Education Services (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Teachers are employed under national conditions which set out their duties.
4668	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I am sure like my comments above that there are still many savings to be made, but these should protect service provision.	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted

Teachers are employed under national conditions which set out their duties.
4670	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Teachers etc are there to teach not to be managers or support workers and the same is true of all statutory services.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school.
4671	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Education is failing looked after children at the moment, there is nowhere near enough provision and support for the demand that we are facing and this in return has a wider impact on care placements, anti-social behaviour and lack of attainment. Embedding resources within schools should allow for less red tape to get services put in place for our most vulnerable children.	Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
4672	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Schools/parents should have input into restructure of schools as it impacts on them - not the council.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. Schools will have additional responsibilities in relation to parental engagement as a result of the forthcoming Education Bill.
4673	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Teacher entitlement to RCCT and McCrone time costs a fortune, as additional teachers are required to cover this time. No other professionals are afforded this luxury and spend the working day doing what they get paid for. Their job!	Education Services (general)	8. Teachers are employed under national conditions of service.
4674	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Education need to prioritise their resources. They currently do not provide an education to many looked after children with challenging behaviour who are cared for by the council. Music tuition should be way down the list.	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.
4675	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Children with disabilities should be dealt with separate than in main stream schools. They require specialist treatment. Take strain of main stream teachers.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council will continue to make decisions in the context of the presumption of mainstream.
4676	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Why not remove schools completely from Council control, or at least allow 'opting out'? Removal of Council control has worked very well for the FE college sector, and opting out seems to be producing positive results in English schools.	Education Services (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	The forthcoming Education Bill will set out where responsibility for each aspect of Education will lie.
4677	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Again there is too much politics in teaching ie meeting a target which actually doesn't tell anyone anything apart from a head teacher getting a bonus for meeting something. These are also for the politicians benefit and no one else's. Schools and the teaching staff should be pulled and centralised so best practices etc can be shared more across schools. Teachers should be more mobile so if there is a poorly performing class the teacher can be moved out and a better one put in their to help. All Schools should be centrally administered.	Education Services (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Headteachers are not paid bonuses. Poor performance is addressed. Responsibility for administering schools will be set out in the forthcoming Education Bill

4679	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	How will these changes be made? Where is the meat on the bones of these proposals? If the changes can be made then where are the proposals and what if it doesn't work?	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4680	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	All pupils should go to their own local primary school.	Education Services (general)	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	Parental choice legislation is the responsibility of the Scottish Government.
4681	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The placing of children with special needs into mainstream education causes in many cases disruption of class and it is essential that each child with special needs continues to have a classroom assistant to help them develop and in many cases control their emotions.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school.
4682	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	How can bringing in third parties reduce costs?	Education Services (general)	3. 4684	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Maybe cutbacks need to be made on other services some schools are overstaffed, too many workers out on small jobs, workers sitting drinking coffee in vans and reading papers for hours etc. Local school has about 8 staff for small amount of pupils.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Schools are staffed efficiently. Teachers do not sit in vans drinking coffee during school hours.
4685	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Regrettable to narrow the curriculum	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4686	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The Civic Centre Education Department needs streamlining.	Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	This is the purpose of the proposals.
4687	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Close schools that have no potential to reach capacity and where there are available places nearby,	Education Services (general)	5c. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is not consistent with the council's values and priorities.	The Council has not put forward any proposals to close schools.
4688	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Chartered teachers are a waste of resources. Reduction in teachers' holidays - far exceeds all other staff - why?	Education Services (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Teachers are employed on national conditions.
4689	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Sixth year study should be rationalised across West Lothian under one head teacher on one site and better prepare highly talented students for access to tertiary education.	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	There are, however, significant benefits to having 6th year students in each school.
4690	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Not sure why education needs continued improvement, we have been doing it for centuries while hard up. Can we not just keep status quo apart from any compulsory government differences.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The current proposals are necessary to enable the Council to balance its budget.
4691	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Need more specialised teachers for children with autism. Encourage schools to have a garden where children can be taught how to grow vegetables then how to cook them. Over the years Beechgrove garden have visited school gardens and shown how effective they are to all concerned. Music is also an essential for children. We hear a lot about autism - we need more special classes not only in primary but secondary schools for autistic children. Maybe Chris Packham's tv show will encourage local authorities to think more about the needs of the children.	Education Services (general)	5b. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is likely that the costs of this proposal would outweigh the benefit.	The proposals seek to increase efficiency. The suggestion seeks to increase expenditure.

4693	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	We have recently been made aware of WLC's budget cuts and are concerned that our primary school will lose much needed funding needed to help improve our children's learning, facilities and resources required on a day-to-day basis. Over the past few years we have seen other schools in the area either be renewed or renovated and provided wonderful outdoor facilities such as new equipment for their schools/ Currently, we have our children in a school which we are very happy with due to the ongoing commitment of the staff however removing funding would reduce the staffing and resources that we currently have. Our school is also in great need of repair and freshen up to make it more appealing to parents who will be within the catchment of the primary school when the new homes are built in Deans South. With the proposed cuts to school funding and the upcoming new homes this will put a huge strain on the school and staff we currently have.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has put forward proposals across the whole range of its activities, but will continue to maintain and improve the school estate as appropriate.
4694	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Education - will the deputy chief executives and their support teams be surplus to requirements when headteachers take control of Education?	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council will consider the implications of the Education Bill.
4695	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	School infrastructure is creaking badly. It has already been squeezed so tightly that it could easily cease to function in any meaningful way. Cutting school budgets further will not result in increased attainment or positive outcomes for pupil, training of the workforce, or the health and sanity of existing staff.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has put forward proposals across the whole range of its activity.
4696	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Also - give serious consideration to rationalising school provision. RC and non-RC pupils go to the same school - not bussing all over the authority. I believe this could be done without jeopardising RC education.	Education Services (general)	5c. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is not consistent with the council's values and priorities.	The Council has not put forward any proposals to close schools. The provision of denominational School is governed by legislation.
4697	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	School transport savings would be substantial if the council ended the provision of separate Catholic schooling needing to take place in separate schools.	Education Services (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	The provision of denominational education is governed by statute. The Council has not put forward proposals to rationalise buildings.
4698	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	More focus of Education In schools around Drug 7 Alcohol issues would be helpful as the funding for this has been cut year on year.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Drug and alcohol education is provided.
4699	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Some social services should also be moved in to schools such as youth work and social work where schools are encouraged to be more widely accepting of different versions and styles of education. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Pupils could attend secondary schools Monday -Thursday only, with the time missed from a Friday being spread over Monday to Thursday (e.g. starting 30 mins earlier and finishing 30 mins later). This would reduce costs in school transport, energy, school meal provision and facilities management as schools would only be open for 4 days a week instead of 5. School swimming pools/gyms could open on Fridays to bring in money to the council.	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	Free School meals are governed by statute.
4703	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Cut down on bureaucracy. Education Officers- are they needed? Get them out into schools. Close small schools, surely when facing a teacher shortage having 1 teacher for 10- 12 kids is ridiculous? Do not offer free breakfast clubs, ask for payment for this for those who are not receiving free school meals. I would happily pay £1- 2 per day for my son to attend breakfast club as I see this as a provision of childcare. Please do not make any further cuts to library services, libraries are a vital resource in communities.	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The proposals include a reduction in Education Officers. The council has made no proposals to close schools. Breakfast clubs have health and education benefits.

4706	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Close smaller schools	Education Services (general)	5c. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is not consistent with the council's values and priorities.	The council has made no proposals to close schools.
4707	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Partner organisations are already stretched especially those providing support to our most vulnerable children and families. Many have introduced a cost to schools since the introduction of Pupil Equity Funding which will not be sustainable if PEF monies are to be used to 'plug' the gaps created from efficiency savings. Will voluntary partner agencies be able to meet the increased demands with no funding available directly available to schools. It is yet to be seen what the results of the Governance Review will have on schools so difficult to know what will be available to schools directly from Scottish Government and the terms and conditions placed on any additional monies, if in fact any are going to be made available.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your response. 4708	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	there are too many open posts for teachers in schools .	Education Services (general)	7. 4709	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Teacher entitlement to RCCT and McCrone time costs a fortune, as additional teachers are required to cover this time. No other professionals are afforded this luxury and spend the working day doing what they get paid for. Their job!	Education Services (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Teachers are employed under national conditions.

4711	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	FSM entitlement. Those who qualify for a Clothing Grant should only be able to purchase this from the school or the school wear provider used by the school as cash payments are open to abuse and are sometimes not used for this purpose.	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted and will be considered as part of any development of the proposal.
4712	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Education Services needs to take its Corporate Parenting responsibilities seriously to reduce the number of young people having to be placed in expensive resources outside West Lothian.	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted and will be considered as part of any development of the proposal.
4713	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Can school management not do more to discourage pupils from purchasing often unsuitable food from supermarkets and other sources outside of school premises? This would improve diets, improve the cost effectiveness of school meals services and reduce litter in surrounding areas.	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted and will be considered as part of any development of the proposal.
4714	An individual	1c. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted and will be considered as part of any development of the proposal.
4715	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	There is a danger of undervaluing teachers further if there are reduced pay enhancements. Recruitment of quality teachers and retention of experienced teachers may be affected by these restrictions.	Education Services (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. Teacher's pay is determined nationally.
4716	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Please ensure there are enough teachers to support our children in their education.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Class size limits will be adhered to.
4717	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Get volunteers to work in the council as well as staff, esp in the teaching area. That way you get the expertise, but don't have to pay salaries	Education Services (general)	5c. 4718	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Reading between the lines, you need to outsource some support and management functions. This is common in the corporate world. So one must be mindful of SLAs and penalty clauses in these arrangements. One also needs to be wary of the lowest cost offered. A change freeze is required during transition and a cultural shift in staff mind set also needs to take place if TUPE is actioned by third party providers. Doubtful if real cost savings can be achieved because figures can be fudged to support any outcome. The real saving will be in the reduction of public sector staff and all associated pensions, holidays, sick leave etc as it becomes someone else's problem. You just have to pay your supplier bill at the end of the month - OR NOT, depending on how happy you are with the service.	Education Services (general)	5c. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is not consistent with the council's values and priorities.	The Council will consider outsourcing where it cannot provide a service itself, or where there are clear quality or efficiency benefits, but the proposals are not for large scale outsourcing of school provision.
4719	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Furthermore, schools could make more use of existing services (WL Leisure - albeit not part of Council, but it is partly funded) to keep income within the WLC loop.	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Schools and the Council should explore a wide range of options in sourcing services to deliver an enriched curriculum.
4721	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Who are the third party providers. They should not be private companies as private companies first priority is to make profit.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will only use third party provision where there are quality and or cost benefits.
4722	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Find out rather models in Europe where literacy and numeracy are better.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	West Lothian Council follows the national Curriculum for Excellence, but will, of course, investigate and adopt best practice where appropriate.
4723	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Look at the curriculum and the non achievers who aspire living in poverty.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Closing the poverty related attainment gap is a key strategic priority for the Council.
4724	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Are schools in Linlithgow have the same organisation and curriculum as schools in Blackburn and Whitburn.	Education Services (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	West Lothian Council follows the national Curriculum for Excellence. Learning and teaching is adapted to meet the needs of each individual child regardless of where they live.
4725	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Who are third party providers? Consultants with high fees? Shocking if this is so. All the brains in the civic centre can't see how to restructure? Too much tampering has already left chaos and demoralised employees in education. How can that raise attainment. More big words, more jargon. What does it all mean. Save money cut jobs.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will only use third party provision where there are quality and or cost benefits.
4726	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Will the Scottish Government aim to remove Pupil Teacher Ratio constraints on schools as currently with a lack of teachers there is the option to use central staff to make up the ratios which will no longer be possible with central education staff being back in schools? It is yet to be determined by the Scottish Government what the outcome of the Governance Review for schools will be and so it may be that reduction at LA level will have less impact on schools if monies are to come directly to schools from government. Although this will also depend on the terms and conditions which come with this additional duty on schools as has been the case with Pupil Equity Funding.	Education Services (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	West Lothian Council is not responsible for the pupil/teacher ratio, future funding models and national conditions of service.
4727	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Surely resource sharing is an opportunity for the subjects that are not part of the key curriculum	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Schools and the Council should explore a wide range of options in sourcing services to deliver an enriched curriculum.
4728	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	My local catholic school is always full for places and people fight to get their kids into this, yet many of the children never even took part in the first communion this year! Being Catholic I want to make sure there are places for my children if I so have them into the correct schools!	Education Services (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The Council plans provision to meet the changing needs of local populations, and admits children to schools in terms of a national legislative framework. West Lothian Council policy is to give priority to baptised roman Catholics for entry into their catchment denominational school.
4729	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Consider a review of schools being able to carry-forward any underspend at the end of each financial year.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council will keep its scheme of devolved school management, including provision for carry forward, under review, within the confines of national guidance.

4730	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The school system needs a complete overhaul - there are many people on PTC salaries who are not doing their jobs effectively as they have had responsibilities piled on the - so jack of all trades master of none. There are people doing development posts for the short term - to aim to develop them for future PTC role - they are getting paid - they have absolutely no impact on improvement in the classroom - what a waste of money - bring back PTs give people the chance of promotion - subject experts who can drive through change and make improvement happen. Get rid of "educationalists" at the council who attend meetings, discuss education, discuss improvement - but have absolutely no impact on what is happening - frontline people are needed - not those who just sit and talk about it. You will get rid of a lot of big salaries that way	Education Services (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	As a result of the recent governance review, individual headteachers will have greater autonomy to put in place management structures to meet the needs of their school. Headteachers will be best placed to judge whether these suggestions will lead to improvement within their school. Central support for quality improvement and raising attainment is largely through collaboration, making use of the skills and experience of school based staff, with reduced central support.
4731	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I think that Education is one of the most important departments within the council. Any savings here must be carefully looked at as children's education and development should not be jeopardized, this includes any extra curricular activities like music, sports etc. Children are the most impressionable level of society and should have all the opportunities available to them. They are also the most vulnerable and should have any support available when needed.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals seek to balance the needs of all sections of society.
4732	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I am frustrated that the services available in schools are already minimal. My daughter was supposed to receive learning support, but received it only 4 times in a term (instead of weekly, as we were told) because the Learning Support teacher was covering for sick teachers, maternity leave, etc. It's pretty much the same as if the resource wasn't there... and now you are suggesting to cut this type of support further?	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The tasks undertaken by support staff are valued by the council, schools, parents and teaching staff. The council is required to maintain a pupil teacher ratio with the result that spending on teaching staff cannot be reduced, thus increasing the impact of any savings required on support staff, even when these staff may play a significant role in supporting learning and teaching.
4733	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Some schools desperately need an upgrade in key areas e.g. the Home Economics department in St Margaret's Academy is a health and safety hazard and the EHD would close it if it was to see it	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council has invested significantly in improving school infrastructure. Robust Health and safety arrangements are in place.
4734	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Not quite sure what is meant by "embed teaching resources, processes and activities within schools", but I am sure we need more teachers if we are to raise attainment in schools. I know this will not save money but less admin will contribute a great deal.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council has participated in the national taskforce on reducing bureaucracy and taken appropriate steps as a result.
4735	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Although you may seem to have phrased this in a fairly impersonal manner the cuts suggested will have a monumental impact on the lives of our young people. Shocking suggestions for a number of reasons.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4736	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	A more coherent approach is required in primary school teaching as the way each subject delivered differs greatly from school to school. Secondary education has a much more streamlined approach to teaching this should be adopted for primary education	Education Services (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Both primary and secondary schools follow the national curriculum for excellence.
4737	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	A central team that exists for subjects such as P.E and music should be responsible for the delivery of these subjects to all primary schools to ensure a coherent and fair approach to all pupils	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All pupils will still receive PE and music delivered through curriculum for excellence.
4738	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Plus given the fact there is a massive shortage of teachers at the moment and class sizes are on the increase again all you seem to be proposing here is extra work for the schools	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All class sizes within West Lothian conform to national class size limits.
4739	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Attainment is good but I am more concerned with pupils of all abilities having a good experience at school.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Raising attainment and closing the poverty related attainment gap remain key strategic priorities for the Council, but the Council shares the aim of ensuring that pupils have a positive experience at school.
4740	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Sadly, the curriculum of excellence and focus on attainment has taken over why people go to school - to learn. There is too much focus on reaching targets and teachers filling out paperwork that its becoming an administrative job and changing why people have went into that profession.	Education Services (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Progressing through the curriculum for excellence and maximising attainment are integral to learning. The Council has participated in the national taskforce on reducing bureaucracy and taken appropriate steps as a result.
4741	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The importance of good mental health is of paramount importance for our young people's learning. Not only their own mental health, but the impact that teachers mental health has on their learning. We know from endless amounts of research that pupils are happier and thrive in supportive and nurtured environments, and that raising attainment is not a matter of solely increasing knowledge but it is also about ensuring children are being cared for, that they feel valued, that they are mentally ready to learn. This proposal sounds like you are wanting to remove support from schools.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council is committed to implementing the proposals without detriment to pupils.

4742	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Could there be a saving by charging for school meals for P1 -P3 for those who can afford it?	Education Services (general)	8. Whilst every positive suggestion deserves careful consideration, it is the case that this is a statutory requirement and therefore outwith the control of West Lothian Council.
4743	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Education Transport savings:- Change to the school week - Full term or part (August â€ October & Easter to end of education year (June) Extend school days Monday to Thursday - to take up the ½ day Friday teaching time. â€ this would then allow schools to be closed on a Friday. Savings â€ Transport cost reduced by one 5th â€ Saving on energy (Heating & Lighting Bills) plus saving of cleaning & catering costs. Cleaning programme could be set up to carry out a deep clean of a property each Friday (protect cleaners hours) â€ same could happen with catering staff. Pupils could still attend some designated schools - Open for extra curriculum activities - but this would need to be at a small covering cost (Â£10 per pupil) with parents provide transport. (Income to the council).	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Officers will consider whether these suggestions are practical and would result in cost savings.
4744	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Education transport cost savings:- Change school week - Part (August till October & Easter till end of team) or full school year - Change would mean extending the school day - Monday to Thursday - with the Friday 1/2 day time being added on to the four days. School closed on a Friday. Savings:- Transport costs, Heating& Lighting costs - cleaning costs. Re Friday morning education - Council could open up some schools to offer extra curricular activities at these schools for a small cost (Â£10 per pupil) - income to the council. - Possible cleaners (to protect their hours) could also attend one school each Friday and carry out a deep clean. Teaching staff possible attend a nominated school - open to for prep time/training. Hope the above changes are looked at as savings would be substantial.	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Officers will consider whether this suggestion could be developed, taking account of the views of parents, pupils and staff.
4745	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The euphemistic language does not disguise the fact that the bottom line is cuts and that the resulting situation will be less satisfactory than at present.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Any proposal that the council progresses will continue to meet the needs of parents and pupils.
4746	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I also agree with this, but think this could be done in house and not by a third party	Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The Council will consider outsourcing where it cannot provide a service itself, or where there are clear quality or efficiency benefits, but the proposals are not for large scale outsourcing of school provision.
4747	An individual	1c. 4748	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	too many deputy heads on large salaries , more pupil support for teachers would be the answer	Education Services (general)	2. 4749	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	In principle, idea is fine. Monitor third-party providers to ensure cost effectiveness.	Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The Council will consider outsourcing where it cannot provide a service itself, or where there are clear quality or efficiency benefits, but the proposals are not for large scale outsourcing of school provision.
4750	An individual	1c. Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Any proposal that the council progresses will continue to meet the needs of parents and pupils.
4751	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Optimal management teams and support staff are essential. Quality education will be provided only if sufficient teacher's are funded in order to deliver the curriculum full, with each child's needs at the centre.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals seek to strike an appropriate balance between front line, management and support functions, all of which play an important role in the service.
4752	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Teacher/pupil contact time should be protected.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Class contact time is set by national agreement and will not be affected by the proposals.
4753	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	schools are already undermanned they do not need reducing further	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals seek to strike an appropriate balance between front line, management and support functions, all of which play an important role in the service.
4754	An individual	1c. 4755	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I see no problem in this as long as the system proves more effective and children within schools reap the benefits.	Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Any proposal that the council progresses will continue to meet the needs of parents and pupils.
4756	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As far as I'm aware, teaching in schools is at a height that is very efficient and I don't think any changes are absolutely essential. However if this is in the best interest of providing a structure then I would recommend to make minor changes.	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The respondent recommends minor changes.
4757	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I believe that teaching staff do the most important job for our community and it always impresses me how passionate and dedicated they are, I would not want any added pressures or extra workload to reduce the passion that they have for teaching our young people. The council has put forward proposals for budget reductions across the full range of its responsibilities.#
4758	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I wouldn't ask you make savings in education. Rather, I see this as a core responsibility that you should seek to pursue with increased vigour and investment.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Education remains one of the Councils key priorities.
4759	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Cuts to ASN schools have already had a devastating result on our children. The lack of experience of the staff used to replace the nursery nurses is ridiculous and has had a detrimental effect on our kids. They don't have the experience to deal with these kids and are making behaviours worse. So much so parents are being called into schools to deal with their kids as staff can't cope. More cuts within these schools will lead to more disruption as there will be less staff per heads in schools where they already have issues recruiting, so staff to pupil ratios are never where they should be. Classes are often left with 2 staff in a room of 8 and then they wonder why the children misbehave.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Previous decisions regarding staffing of ASN schools were taken after careful consideration of the best staff mix to meet the needs of children, and based on the evidence of success in other ASN schools. The Council will continue to conform to national Pupil Teacher ratios.
4760	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I don't believe this approach will deliver a good and fair educational basis across the authority. There will be division between school offerings and this extremely unfair to our young learners.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All schools care funded according to the formulas contained within the Scheme of Devolved School Management. It is the responsibility of each Headteacher to use that funding to best meet the needs of learners within the school.

4765	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Might also be worth looking at closing some of the small rural schools and bussing them into their nearest school. 4766	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I do not think that there should be any cuts to the schools and education as this is our future for our kids. 4769	No Response	1c. 4778	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Why not close smaller schools?	Education Services (general)	5c. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is not consistent with the council's values and priorities.	The proposals do not include any plans for school closures.
4779	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Totally disagree. Any reductions to school funding or support should be resisted and no funding or services deductions should be implemented	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council is consulting on savings across the entire range of its activities.
4780	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As a teacher I also spend my own money supplying materials for lessons which is not reimbursed.	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	There is no expectation or encouragement for teachers to do this.
4781	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Schools do not receive enough money, support, teachers. Any cuts in schools I feel will only worsen the current situation	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council is consulting on savings across the entire range of its activities.
4782	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	No I strongly disagree with cutting education	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has put forward proposals for budget reductions across the full range of its responsibilities.#
4783	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Too much money wasted in schools. I.e. Breakfast clubs	Education Services (general)	5c. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is not consistent with the council's values and priorities.	The Council is committed to ensuring children have the opportunity for a healthy breakfast, in light of the health and educational benefits .
4784	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Until the Scottish government fully understand what they wish to achieve in this area, reduce focus and promise future activities	Education Services (general)	3. 4785	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Review childrens school clothing grants as maybe the gran is too much. lots of shops sell school clothing very cheaply.	Education Services (general)	6. 4786	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I am intrigued to ask the question, is there a need to have two Heads of Service for Education? 4787	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	More support should be offered to primary schools to hopefully eradicate such poor behaviour before the young people enter secondary school. Parental education is also paramount. With a high level of deprived areas in West Lothian, it is essential that parenting classes are provided to hopefully teach the parents how to handle their children's behaviour before it reaches crisis point and residential care is the only option.	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Officers will consider how schools and parents can work together to promote positive behaviour..
4788	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	This needs increased funding to raise attainment and it needs to far more than Mr Swinney thinks. Attainment improve not start at home, parents need to put their phones down and help their children.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council has limited influence on national funding levels, but does support parental engagement as an essential building block of raising attainment.
4789	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As a national policy there is very little the council can do to change the impact already being pushed through against the wishes of the EIS.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council has limited influence on national funding levels
4790	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Protecting service provision is key, providing this new model is not to the detriment of current provision. Fair enough.	Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The aim of the proposals is to protect core service provision.
4791	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Does third party mean buying in a private provider? If so please ensure the tender is drawn up with input from those who will be dependant on the service. DSM and more management tasks to be undertaken in school have to be looked at in conjunction. The two are interdependent.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will consider outsourcing where it cannot provide a service itself, or where there are clear quality or efficiency benefits, but the proposals are not for large scale outsourcing of school provision. The proposals seek to strike an appropriate balance between front line, support and management staff, all of whom perform an important function within the service, within available resources.
4792	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Cutting teachers and parents pay for trips etc anyway	Education Services (general)	5c. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is not consistent with the council's values and priorities.	Maintaining the pupil/teacher ratio has been made a condition of funding by the Scottish Government. Parents already contribute to the cost of excursions, extra-curricular activities etc.
4793	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I think the teachers show commitment which has been displayed in the excellent exam results. These teachers are working long hours both after school and often at lunch times. They show dedication, are under pressure to deliver results and produce reports within a ridiculously short time scale. I am not a teacher.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	West Lothian Council recognises the professionalism and dedication of its education staff.
4794	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	We strongly object to any cuts in this area. Cuts to this area of council provision impact directly on the children of West Lothian. This impacts on the future of the borough itself as it is these children that will primarily contribute to the future financial stability and artistic and cultural integrity of the area.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council is consulting on savings across the entire range of its activities. Pupils will retain music and art education through curriculum for excellence.
4795	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Cuts in this area need to consider strongly the pressure this puts on existing staff. With the supply bank of teachers in West Lothian being practically at zero, Head Teachers and teaching staff are already under tremendous pressure. Cuts in this area may lead to further stress related leaves of absence or resignations putting greater drain on teaching provision which in turn affects children's learning.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Nationally agreed staffing levels, and the pupil/teacher ratio will be maintained.
4796	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Reviewing 3rd party providers is important and getting the best from them but its not just about cost - quality should still be considered.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will consider outsourcing where it cannot provide a service itself, or where there are clear quality or efficiency benefits, but the proposals are not for large scale outsourcing of school provision.
4797	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Not enough time spent on the basics reading writing and arithmetic to set pupils up for getting a job. Perhaps WL is different -	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	West Lothian Council follows the national curriculum for excellence.
4798	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As above comments. Transformational change in schools - change that impacts on attainment, achievement and wellbeing of our pupils and young people - requires strong leadership. It doesn't necessarily require larger teams but it does require necessary support for sustainability.	Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Headteachers have a very high degree of autonomy and responsibility and this will increase as a result of the Scottish Government's governance review.
4799	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	We should move to all pupils being provided with a tablet computer and schools should become paper light with a minimum of paper text books and resources.	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The Council invests heavily in IT, and will continue to consider appropriate opportunities for investment.

4800	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Again just because this is a statutory service, doesn't mean they shouldn't look at their position, use what they have try different approaches. Some of the older teaching staff have no interest in learning new things they are short in temper and just waiting to retire. Then when they do retire and they have had a big collection etc for the they return!!!!? And you find they are working so many days a week to cover? Also gift for the teachers this is now amounting to a substantial amount of money. Some teacher were given spa days, and lunch gift vouchers. I thought council staff couldn't accept gifts, what makes the teachers different? A donation to the schools would be better.	Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	All council staff are bound by the employees code of conduct.
4801	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Just do it, don't waste time & money on a review !	Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The review will be undertaken in house by Council staff as part of their regular duties.
4802	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Cuts to schools should be minimised. Children are the future. Need to stop reinventing the wheel with initiatives like curriculum for excellence and focus back on the basics. There is for too much change resulting in uncertainty for children, parents and prospective employers.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council is consulting on savings across the entire range of its activities. West Lothian Council follows the national curriculum, and national initiatives such as the National Improvement Framework and the introduction of new qualifications. These issues fall outwith the control of the Council.
4803	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Cuts to schools should be minimised. Children are the future. Need to stop reinventing the wheel with initiatives like curriculum for excellence and focus back on the basics. There is for too much change resulting in uncertainty for children, parents and prospective employers.	Education Services (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	The Council has put forward proposals relating to all areas of activity including education. Most change is national and not local.
4804	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	If it works then it doesn't need replaced or changed.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council has put forward proposals relating to all areas of activity including education.
4805	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Sounds like it could be a costly review! Hoping efficiency savings will not be made in staffing numbers within schools/nurseries as they already very stretched.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The review will be undertaken in house by Council staff as part of their regular duties. The Council will continue to meet the needs of every child. Staffing ratios set by statute or national agreement will be maintained. The Scottish Government has made maintaining the Pupil/Teacher ratio a condition of funding, and so the council and schools are compelled to focus on the employment of teachers where, in some cases, they may prefer to increase non-teaching staff in preference to this.
4806	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Protect the jobs!	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will continue to meet the needs of every child. Staffing ratios set by statute or national agreement will be maintained. The Scottish Government has made maintaining the Pupil/Teacher ratio a condition of funding, and so the council and schools are compelled to focus on the employment of teachers where, in some cases, they may prefer to increase non-teaching staff in preference to this.
4807	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Under SNP our children's education is already shown to be deteriorating. Be sure any changes do not risk further deterioration in performance by detracting head teaching staff from education to management	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Headteachers have a very high degree of autonomy and responsibility and this will increase as a result of the Scottish Government's governance review.
4808	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I would prefer it were kept in house. Outsourcing is not an easy solution and may well end up being more problematic.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will consider outsourcing where it cannot provide a service itself, or where there are clear quality or efficiency benefits, but the proposals are not for large scale outsourcing of school provision.
4809	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Extra-curricular activities, such as music, helps children and young people to develop as a person by allowing them to gain confidence in themselves. It also encourages young people to work as a team to achieve an end goal, and this prepares children for life in the adult world. As well as this, things like bands and clubs help children to create positive relationships with other children with whom they share the same interests with. This may not happen in a classroom as children may get bullied for many things, and in this case, coming to band or a club allows a positive escape for them, where they can actively take part in activities and not have to worry about being themselves.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All pupils will experience Instrumental Music Tuition in Primary School through the Youth Music Initiative. It is proposed that some access to tuition will remain. All children will retain appropriate music provision through curriculum for excellence.

4810	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	It can never be right to scrimp on education services or provision of teachers	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has put forward proposals for budget reductions across the full range of its responsibilities.#
4811	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Are you suggesting that the council will save money but paying a profit making firm to run things? If you are paying third parties to run things that is clearly going to be more expensive than doing it yourselves. If I clean my house it is free if I get someone else to it costs more.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will consider outsourcing where it cannot provide a service itself, or where there are clear quality or efficiency benefits, but the proposals are not for large scale outsourcing of school provision.
4812	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Cut back on denominational schools, special needs schools, etc. - everyone should learn to live and work together from an early age.	Education Services (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	The provision of denominational schools and support for children with additional support needs are governed by statute.
4813	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Children are our future and should be given the best education available. There should be no cutting of teaching jobs.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council is consulting on savings across the entire range of its activities. Teaching jobs are currently protected by the national pupil/teacher ratio.
4814	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The current offer for WLC employees to re-train to become teachers is an excellent opportunity for staff who may then move into an area which requires more staffing.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. The Council is promoting this scheme.
4815	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As a parent of a child in high school this term alone my daughter has 2 teachers who have left and not yet been replaced. Whilst cover is provided it is not necessarily by another teacher of the same subject therefore they are not being taught, this is unacceptable.	Education Services (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Each secondary school will seek to provide cover for absence from appropriately qualified staff, and to recruit suitably qualified staff to fill vacancies, but this may be constrained by the availability of staff nationally. This is not within the control of the Council.
4816	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Most of the savings will come from staff reduction. This can be achieved by stopping doing things and simplifying how they are done. These can be achieved by asking "do we need to do all of these processes?"	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4817	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Disagree with third party providers being involved if you have to pay someone else to do it you should be able to provide that service within the council remit.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will only use third party provision where there are quality and or cost benefits.
4818	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Why waste money on third party providers, surely someone in the council should be able to do this.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will only use third party provision where there are quality and or cost benefits.
4819	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I would like to see the top 3 items/specific deliverables that contribute to this redesign.	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The proposal will focus on: 1. redesigned DSM scheme, 2. delivery of agreed savings, 3. greater use of technology to achieve efficiency.
4820	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Concerns re use of 3rd party providers, where profit is built into the costs - care is needed in allowing and negotiating such contracts to avoid exploitation of staff and reductions in service levels as companies often cut corners to improve their profit margin,	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will only use third party provision where there are quality and or cost benefits.
4821	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Again have to be careful not to dilute or loose specialist knowledge. Schools are already struggling to attract teachers and inevitably the children's education suffers. My daughter attends Bathgate Academy where already this term she is 2 teachers short and the school struggles to provide cover. As a parent this is not acceptable.	Education Services (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Each secondary school will seek to provide cover for absence from appropriately qualified staff, and to recruit suitably qualified staff to fill vacancies, but this may be constrained by the availability of staff nationally. This is not within the control of the Council.
4822	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Again it is ensuring that no valuable skillsets are lost and the right balance is achieved to deliver the best possible service.	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4823	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	No detriment to our children's education is key	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has put forward proposals for budget reductions across the full range of its responsibilities.

4824	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Schools struggle as it is!! Staff are already under extreme pressure. They need support, not cuts! For the well being of our children and their future	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council is consulting on savings across the entire range of its activities.
4825	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Again, a deplorable proposal. Schools are running on empty just now and an interference like this will only reduce the capability and morale of a school further. Parent councils are already forced to arrange a number of money raising events to help- this situation is not right in order to build a greater future of prosperity for the area.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has put forward proposals for budget reductions across the full range of its responsibilities.
4826	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Whilst many adolescents are not staying in full time education or moving into employment EMA funding should not be paid just to entice these people to stay in education as they are not gaining from this and are draining the public purse. If people who do stay in further education need financial assistance then the way in which this cash is spent should be closely monitored as it's widely abused. It's all very well training people for employment but the jobs are simply not there to be had	Education Services (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Education Maintenance Allowance is a national scheme.
4827	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Central educational services already streamlined. Too much on consultation basis; insufficient input from current senior managers.	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. The proposals were formulated by senior managers.
4828	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Teacher entitlement to RCCT and McCrone time costs a fortune, as additional teachers are required to cover this time. No other professionals are afforded this luxury and spend the working day doing what they get paid for. Their job!	Education Services (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Teachers work to national conditions of service.
4829	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	FSM entitlement. Those who qualify for a Clothing Grant should only be able to purchase this from the school or the school wear provider used by the school as cash payments are open to abuse and are sometimes not used for this purpose.	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment which will be considered as part of any service redesign
4830	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	FSM entitlement. Those who qualify for a Clothing Grant should only be able to purchase this from the school or the school wear provider used by the school as cash payments are open to abuse and are sometimes not used for this purpose.	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment which will be considered as part of any service redesign
4831	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	School is one of the most important things in your life and if you are at a disadvantage to other schools how do they expect to put us in for Highers. It's all good and well making cuts but it will effect the attainment in a bad way	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Attainment will remain a key priority for the Council. The Council is committed to implementing the proposals without detriment to pupils.
4832	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Anything that effects teachers who are already over worked is a false economy and pupils will suffer. How about less staff in council admin teams, less admin full stop and more time in the classroom? Less 'in service' days to re train teachers on changes to our education system which did not need changing in the first place! Let the teachers teach.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council seeks to strike an appropriate balance between front line, management and support services all of which make an important contribution to education.
4833	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I am dubious that the level of investment being sustained over the years is bearing fruit. The skills and life-readiness of those leaving secondary and tertiary education seems to be in decline.	Education Services (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4834	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	All foreign children should be taught English for 3 months minimum before entering mainstream classes. This would enable the class to go on without the teacher having to learn the pupils English thereby freeing their resources. Concentrating on The three r's should be the main priority.	Education Services (general)	5c. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is not consistent with the council's values and priorities.	The Council does not support the segregation of children for whom English is not their first language, but is committed to equipping teachers to support these children effectively, as they do children with other additional support needs.
4835	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Do not involve third party providers they cast more money. While this all sounds good on paper, the reality is it is less cost effective.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will use external providers where it lacks capacity or expertise to make provision itself, or where there are quality or efficiency benefits.
4836	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Stop allowing teachers to retire and collect their lump sum and a good pension and the re-employing them on a higher salary than before.....total waste of money. If they want to retire that's fine. There are people looking for work, who, whilst they may not have a "diploma" they would be good teachers after one year training. A diploma only proves you attended university for 4 years.	Education Services (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The Council will continue to follow pensions legislation, and best HR practice in recruitment to ensure the best possible staff are available within schools.
4837	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I also think they should stop paying a fee for children who stay on after 4th year parents who are hard working and earn over £26000 children do not get this privilege again if you are hard working you get no help	Education Services (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Education Maintenance Allowance is a national scheme.

4838	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I think we need to be careful when it comes to school and our children - they are the future and we cannot afford to scrimp on their education - under curriculum for excellence - every child is different - not all are academic - some are sports, musical, drama - they should all be supported to try and achieve they best that they can. Do we need all the smaller schools - would it not be more financially viable to have larger school to help children integrate with each other.	Education Services (general)	5c. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is not consistent with the council's values and priorities.	The proposals do not include any plans for school closure.
4839	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Education must be protected at all costs. To mess with education is to mess with the future of the next generation.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has put forward proposals for budget reductions across the full range of its responsibilities.#
4840	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I have three children in secondary school in west Lothian and can only speak for my children's experience but the teaching time is already minimal and low grades are a direct result. To make teachers undertake more admin tasks in my own opinion will have extremely poor outcomes. I am already considering home schooling due to how poor the outcomes are.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review. Teachers in West Lothian are employed to deliver curriculum for excellence, as directed by their headteacher, within the confines of national conditions and their working time agreement. Parents are entitled to exercise their right to home education.
4841	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The cost of bringing in nat 4's and 5's is a disgrace and the outcomes are shocking - that is development for you! It is something we can do without, a complete waste of money. My youngest child (S2) lives in a state of permanent anxiety that she may get moved into a Nat 4 class. It has actually increased bullying and lowered self esteem and increased anxiety. Curriculum for excellence is ANOTHER development - another useless tool which parents, kids and teachers all hate and it has added nothing absolutely nothing to my childrens learning. It is unattainable for teachers - get rid of developmental posts and start listening to parents, teachers and pupils. Stop bringing in useless tools from managers far removed from the day to day school life.	Education Services (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Changes to national qualifications are outwith the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Headteachers have responsibility for how their budget is spent, including the creation of development posts.
4842	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Teachers should get a raise	Education Services (general)	8. 4843	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	far too many making decisions in offices that have never been in a school...	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4844	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I don't agree with any cuts to education spending, especially to music services which brings much joy beyond academic studies to our kids.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. The proposal would continue to fulfilling the council's duty to meet the needs of every child.
4845	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	More should be done to recruit into posts that are unfilled. Already my son, who is at West Calder High School, does not get Home Economics because of no teacher, and has some of his English lessons covered by teachers who cannot teach in this subject - this is due to unavailability of English teacher - this is extremely unsatisfactory in such a vital core subject.	Education Services (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The respondent's comment was not relevant to the question
4846	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	All but one of these are linked to lack of education, not in the sense that 5 Higher Grades would improve life dramatically but that education isn't only academic, it should promote community spirit, equality, people skills. Education should include how to protect the environment, fellow inhabitants of this planet and ultimately protect the planet. There should be a bigger picture in education other than academic. There is too much focus on academic attainment. This does not create happy fulfilled human beings. I do not have faith in the current education system.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Curriculum for excellence has a broad focus, including sustainability. The curriculum is tailored to meet the needs of individual pupils.
4847	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	In addition I believe teachers are underpaid.	Education Services (general)	8. 4848	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	There have been cuts already in the supply of support staff in schools. These cuts have a negative impact on the educational progress of pupils. This effect will reduce the efficacy of supplying inclusive education in schools for children with a learning difficulty or learning disability. Such cuts have also been carried out in schools providing special education and further cuts will damage the educational outcomes for these particular children unfairly.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school.
4849	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Get rid of the denominational sector and treat rc and non-dom schools the same to simplify catchments areas and placements	Education Services (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	The provision of denominational education is governed by statute.
4850	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	We should be encouraging people into teaching. In the last year and a half that my son has been at St Margaret's the turnover of teachers he has had has been incredible. He is currently without an English teacher and is having this covered by a teacher from another department.	Education Services (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The proposals do not seek to influence teacher recruitment.
4851	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Allowing individual schools to make decisions and to direct their funding targeting what they assess to be the needs of the school and the children within it. Head teachers will be better placed to decide on this rather than those not based in the schools. Care should be taken to ensure that such cut backs do not impede the opportunities for learning within schools and children are afforded all the resources and activities they need to achieve and to ensure that attainment in West Lothian improves for all children and young people of all levels and abilities.	Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
4852	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Schools are under pressure at this present time in providing the right amount of support to children who have additional needs that are integrated into main stream. Not every child can cope with this and more places are required at specialised schools not less.	Education Services (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The proposal is not about the number of places in special schools.
4853	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Getting help from an Ed Psych is already difficult. This will target the poorest and most struggling people. Giving head teachers more to do will reduce both the number of head teachers and the quality of what they can provide.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. The Council intends to implement the proposal whilst still fulfilling its duty to meet the needs of every child.
4854	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Personally think higher attainment can be achieved in fewer, but core competencies. I think sometimes the curriculum is ever expanding and more work dumped onto teachers resulting in poorer coverage of all subjects. You really need to sort this out. I also think higher attainment for the majority would be achieved if some extra help could be made for school children who are not a good fit in a classroom	Education Services (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The Council intends to implement the proposal whilst still fulfilling its duty to meet the needs of every child.
4855	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Have the kids in for a full day on Friday and reduce School holidays. Pay teachers to teach	Education Services (general)	5d. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it has been previously considered and will not be progressed.	The Council has no plans to change the pattern of the teaching week or reduce school holidays.
4856	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	My main concern over schooling in West Lothian is our own example of certain aged estate assets straining under increased pupil numbers, plus the negative effect of these high pupil numbers has on potential for extra-curricular activities.	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council plans services for anticipated pupil numbers.
4857	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Yes, this is all good and well but what about people who do not have any computer devices and still prefer to talk to someone on the phone. It is important that multiple channels of communication are maintained.
4858	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Improving attainment in children means more teachers and support assistants in school.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Services must be delivered within the resources available to the Council.
4859	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Children must remain at the very heart of education and be equipped as effective and responsible contributors to society. Schools should not be run by accountants! The goal of 'saving money' should not cloud the judgement of the provision of an outstanding educational experience for all children which can only be achieved by having the NECESSARY staff in place in ALL areas and not looking at cuts which will impact negatively on the world class education we should be providing to children.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your response. 4860	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. 4861	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I think it would be vital to reduced/redirect non teaching jobs to direct teaching jobs to ensure continued attainment for students of all abilities.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. Headteachers will have the ability to determine where resources should be spent for the benefit of children, although a continuation of the Pupil/Teacher ratio may result in expenditure on teacher posts where support staff would have a greater impact on learning and teaching.
4862	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I feel that it is important to review services to ensure that they are efficient, yet I feel this publication is not clear on how the council intends to do this. Educational services are an important priority for me, in particular I would like to hear more about children with disabilities within mainstream schools, which is an important consideration	Education Services (general)	3. 4863	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. 4865	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Stop constantly changing the education structure to save money. The changes have been hugely detrimental to peripheral subject areas which is going to result in a dramatic consequential decline in Expressive and life skill subjects and overall creative capabilities of this country. The glut of academia will not provide the depth of skills for this country to flourish for there will not be the employment opportunities for all as a consequence. Granted core skills in literacy and numeracy is essential but where's the breadth?	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Individual Headteachers can consider this comment. The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
4866	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Bring back principal subject teachers. PTC's are over-stretched and are dis-functional puppets at the disposal of senior management teams. Stop massaging figures for attainment and let the teachers do their subject teaching instead of being buried under a pile of paper work the function of which ticks boxes for senior management rather than benefiting the experience of pupils. g	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Headteachers, who in future will have greater control of their management structure, will be able to consider this proposal.
4867	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Education has been messed around with so much to fulfill the needs of Curriculum for Excellence that early levels are not covering core skills. It is a crying shame that teenagers cannot tell the time on an ordinary clock!	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4868	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The morale of teaching profession and self -worth as a consequence is crushing the service. This is having a serious knock-on effect people entering the profession and the quality of possible candidates.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Teachers duties are set out in national conditions. Teachers activities are directed by the Headteacher in line with the locally negotiated Working Time Agreement.
4869	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	If cover is about covering classes for teachers being absent. There is more need for identifying why cover is needed, e.g. no teachers being available for some subject areas because people are less inclined to want to enter a profession where they are not valued and the salary reflects this. Make the profession mean something again and pat teachers what they are worth.	Education Services (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. Teachers pay is set nationally. Teacher recruitment is a national issue, and West Lothian Council has a limited ability to influence it.
4870	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Revised model should allow resources and funds to be easier to share between schools to ensure teacher shortages and savings made are equally shared.	Education Services (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4871	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Get the (paid) council out of schools, and have them run by (volunteer) trustees, thereby saving "council management" moneys.	Education Services (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	The Education Bill will set out responsibility for delivering education, and the ongoing role of the council in this provision.
4872	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	There are too many people working in council offices for education....move them into schools and into classrooms!! They aren't really providing support....just number crunching.	Education Services (general)	5b. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is likely that the costs of this proposal would outweigh the benefit.	The proposals have been developed after rigorous analysis of the contribution of all teams across the Council.
4873	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Why is there 2 Heads of Education? Paying a little more to one could save tens of thousands.	Education Services (general)	5d. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it has been previously considered and will not be progressed.	In drawing up its proposals, the Council considered all options.

4876	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I want further details on this proposal. Will there be a minimum level of management and support staff, below which schools will not be allowed to fall. Teaching staff numbers are protected, but there isn't a similar protection for non-teaching support staff. The job these employees do is ESSENTIAL to the efficient and effective running of our schools. Support staff are often the "front line" in working with and supporting our most vulnerable and complex children. To reduce this workforce, will impact greatly on the ability of these pupils to access the curriculum.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. 4877	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	We should be investing now in our young people as they are the tax payers of the future. Cutting back on activities that promote their general mental and physical wellbeing effectively results less future tax revenue and a higher burden on future health and well-being resources. Yet improved health is supposed to be one of the top eight priorities, doesn't look like it to me.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council has put forward proposals across the whole range of its activities.

4881	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	There are many new funded programmes within schools that are not essential yet staff are paid to carry these out. These should not be carried on if it means others may lose their job.	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The context of the comment is not clear.
4882	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	There is scope to look at cluster head teachers of executive head teachers rather than every school having a highly paid headteacher - particularly small schools can be managed better	Education Services (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Joint Headships have been established. Opportunities to extend this will be examined.
4883	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	A review of staffing will need to be done and savings made however I'm worried about teachers as pupil teacher ratios are becoming a cause for concern My children at Linlithgow academy are in big classes for almost all their subjects	Education Services (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	National class size agreements are met. The maintenance of the pupil/teacher ratio has resulted in teaching jobs being safeguarded.
4884	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	education was working in the sixties, what has changed?	Education Services (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
4885	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Extremely concerned by persistent cuts to education. This has impacted support staff, reduced admin support resulting in teachers having to do much more admin tasks including minute taking, and other clerical tasks which it was agreed under McCrone that teachers should not be doing. This results in all teachers working a minimum of 50-60 hours a week and unfortunately the bigger percentage of this in admin tasks. Teaching time needs to be freed up for preparing engaging lessons and providing valuable feedback and next steps to pupils. They should not be doing clerical/admin tasks. Significant increase in office support staff to redress the cuts already made is essential immediately before even more teaching staff leave the profession creating further shortages in many subject areas impacting profoundly on attainment and therefore development of our young people and their life chances. Classroom support staff should also be increased as this has a significant impact on engagement and therefore attainment. So called PEF money doesn't even reimburse cuts already made. Very much a political spin which masks to the public the severe cuts already made. We either want to help these kids or we don't. Should not be saying we want to help when we are presiding over cuts that impact upon them.	Education Services (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. This will include the appropriate mix of staffing, although maintaining the pupil/teacher ratio may require the employment of teachers in preference to support staff. Teachers duties are set out in national conditions. Teachers activities are directed by the Headteacher in line with the locally negotiated Working Time Agreement.

5084	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I think it should be dealt with from nursery. Teach children the rights and wrongs about life. Teach them to get good qualifications, explaining why this is important. It's all about education, education, educating people and the rest will follow. Get the young into apprenticeships. Keep the young busy all day and then won't be up all night causing havoc. If the young are in work they'll be paying their way which will help the old people. Circle of life. Educate the young in all aspects of life not just english, maths ect. What life is about is you have little money coming in - people on small incomes. Education is the way forward. Teach about drugs. Teach about poverty. Teach about helping society ect.	No preference given	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5085	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Could I also ask for absolute honesty in education, no obstruction. The council will only use third party provision where there are quality and or cost benefits.
5087	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Again, work replication should be reduced.	Revised funding for schools (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted

School budgets are set according to the factors contained in the Scheme of Devolved School Management.
5089	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Give schools control over their budgets.	Revised funding for schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review.
5090	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Schools are already struggling with the budgets they have.	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council must look at opportunities for efficiency and service transformation in all areas of its responsibility.

5091	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Again if this is about job losses you need to make sure that you have people who actually get the job done not just sit making changes for the sake of looking busy.	Revised funding for schools (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The council is proposing a transformation in the way it provides services, and to the services it provides, as this is necessary to meet the gap between funding and costs.
5092	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Third party involvement in how education is not cost effective and has not ensured educational standards have been improved or at the very least maintained.	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	In general third party providers are used where this is more efficient or provides a higher quality service than can be provided in house, or in some cases where specialist experience is not available in house.
5093	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I can't comment on this really, only to repeat, less resources means less service provision.	Revised funding for schools (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The Council intends to implement the proposals whilst focusing on key priorities for pupils, parents/carers and staff.
5094	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I would also like to see schools looking for ways to increase or generate an income to support the schools budgets: Hiring out of halls. School fund raising days.. (I am sure that in some schools parents would be happy to part fund/ support their child/rens education, I.e a part private/ public schooling system... just a thought!!	Revised funding for schools (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Opportunities for fundraising are often pursued by parent councils, and should be encouraged.
5095	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	however the funding streams have to be agreed and each school should be on an equal footing with the other. How does WLC intend to achieve this when we have several schools in dire need of investment & renovation as opposed to those such as West Calder High which has had millions of recent investment to bring it up to date with an entirely new build?	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	School buildings are assessed and prioritised in terms of need with investment programmed into the council's capital programme. West Lothian Council has one of the highest quality school estates in Scotland, as measured by the Scottish Government.
5096	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Don't agree with involvement of 3rd party providers, this is the road to privatisation which we all know is a disaster.	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	In general third party providers are used where this is more efficient or provides a higher quality service than can be provided in house, or in some cases where specialist experience is not available in house.
5097	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Use of third party providers can be cost effected providing the council has a robust specification in place and third parties are managed.	Revised funding for schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	This comment reflects the intention of the proposals.
5098	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The money for schools such as PEF is ring fenced for those pupils on free school meals, attempts to use this as an excuse to cut money to schools is probably illegal.	Revised funding for schools (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council is following, and will continue to follow appropriate national guidance.
5099	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	If by third party provider you mean an external agency then I don't agree. This could be done in house cheaper and with people who are much more aware of current situation	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	There is no plan for large scale outsourcing of education functions.
5100	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Agree in principle but not a review by a third party. This is expensive and should be carried out by the council or potential a different council for impartiality.	Revised funding for schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The review will be undertaken by Council staff as part of their normal duties, at no additional cost.
5101	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	It is essential that any review of services is carried out by appropriate parties with an overview that isn't just financial but understand the impact on the frontline.	Revised funding for schools (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The review will be undertaken by Council staff as part of their normal duties, at no additional cost.
5102	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I do not feel this would beneficial at all. All education needs promoted and not cut to have a better outcome in the future for individuals to live and be able to work in the future and also to be able to change the future with good early education.	Revised funding for schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5103	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Cuts should not be made at the "chalk face". The lack of text books in schools is already a major cause for concern.	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has put forward proposals that cover the entire range of its activities.
5104	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I'm not entirely sure how you propose to squeeze any extra money from the education budget	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has put forward proposals that cover the entire range of its activities.
5105	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Provide financial & support structures to Headteachers to provide the service we need.	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council has made proposals across the whole range of its activities, including Education. A reduced funding settlement for local government results in less resources, not more, available from local government for schools.

5106	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	We do not have enough information or detail relating to this saving to make an informed opinion. Has an equality impact assessment been completed for this saving. The council have not made each of the proposals very clear and no specifics, savings appear to be estimated, what is the clear background information relating to each saving, what are the staff/employee implications as well as the implications for service users and the community	Revised funding for schools (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5107	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	So many people can barely afford the council tax and rent right now. Why not cut down on luxury items like councillors and those in higher money positions.	Revised funding for schools (general)	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5108	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Any cuts in this regard should only happen if education and childcare are at least supported as much as at present, or ideally more so.	Revised funding for schools (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5109	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	This sounds more like a threat to service provision. My experience is that there is a shortage of teachers at both primary and secondary level. I am concerned that this is a threat to my children's educational attainment.	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	National class size limits will be adhered to, and the pupil/teacher ratio maintained as required.
5110	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Each school needs to have stable management at the school. This is integral to the greater aims of the council regarding early years intervention and pursuing positive outcomes after school for children. There are so many 'acting' roles within West Lothian education that it seems an unnecessary temporary state for many staff.	Revised funding for schools (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council seeks to have stable management wherever possible, but also recognised the organisational benefit of appropriate secondments. Arrangements to cover maternity and sickness are of necessity temporary.
5111	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Staffing ratios should be protected to ensure the delivery of high quality teaching and learning for all learners.	Revised funding for schools (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	National class size limits will be adhered to, and the pupil/teacher ratio maintained as required.
5112	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	This impact on the council's provision and is not enough to provide the quality public services required. Concern that this will have an impact on school's ability to support learning and teaching without increasingly the unrealistic demands on class teachers and enable pupils reach their potential.	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school. National class size limits will be adhered to, and the pupil/teacher ratio maintained as required.
5113	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I see this could prove beneficial, I believe the size of school & context should also be given consideration. Working in a school with over 700 pupils, over 50 staff & having no BSM available is extremely challenging (the position is currently a vacancy). In times where there is a national shortage of teachers, leaders in schools are already filling that absence gap on top of their increasing remits giving them less & less time to focus on the expectations of competing demands such as HR, responsible person duties, learning & teaching, curriculum, raising attainment etc. We must try to get a careful balance if this is to have a positive impact without creating a negative one on staff & pupils.	Revised funding for schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5114	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Support staff in school are a vital part of any school if you are getting it right for every child.	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school. National class size limits will be adhered to, and the pupil/teacher ratio maintained as required.
5115	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Our schools are already struggling to deliver good results for the children, any change to this must be made to empower our educators rather than cut funding to make their job harder	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. 5116	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Stop changing things for the sake of change and let the teachers and other staff get on with the job of teaching. Not more money wasted on consultants who don't hang around to see the consequences of their actions. Sounds like you are outsourcing which will come back and bite you.	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will only consider outsourcing where this would bring efficiency or effectiveness benefits, but the proposals do not include large scale outsourcing of education services.
5117	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As noted in my comments above, as long as it is not detrimental to the education of our children. Can you guarantee that?	Revised funding for schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. This is the intention of the proposals.
5118	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Please see my response to 1b. - I do not currently have a personal stake in education services and feel unable to comment on how things may be improved. Educational attainment is key in addressing inequalities and other social issues and I do not support	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5119	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Again a good idea if managed correctly and if it does not result in too many redundancies.	Revised funding for schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5120	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Has an equality impact assessment been carried out for each of the budget proposals? It is essential that this is done at the earliest opportunity in order to assess what the impact will be on those in the protected characteristics groups and those already experiencing disadvantage.	Revised funding for schools (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Equality relevance and impact assessments are being carried out as the proposals progress.
5121	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Hear, hear. Oh no. Look. What is the purpose of this little exercise and how do we assess our success? Savings. Now, no one says that we don't need to make savings. No one says we don't have the money to deliver an excellent service. But it's looking pretty obvious that we are window dressing. And for how many years has this been happening? And for how many years will this continue? Scary stuff.	Revised funding for schools (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5122	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As above - Agree however council needs to ensure consistency of delivery across all schools. Not to detriment of children with autism special needs.	Revised funding for schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school.
5123	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As above the council probably made a hash of the original set up so review would be long overdue.	Revised funding for schools (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5124	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The Scottish Government are forcing this agenda. I think the council should be giving less central resource to schools if the government are giving them money direct. I also think that the protection of schools in the past is wrong - are we saying that schools are fully efficient and no savings can be made? Appreciate this will be hard to deliver due to the PTR (which is not how we should focus on attainment - surely it should be outcomes rather than inputs). I think we need to continue to lobby the Scottish Government on the PTR.	Revised funding for schools (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The Council will continue to discuss the impact of PTR with the Scottish Government. The Scottish Government has issued clear guidance that the additional funding that it has provided is not intended to replace activities currently being undertaken.
5125	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Again given the shortage of teachers etc. how can you have efficient management .support staff etc by cutting funding	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Teachers are employed according to national conditions of service setting out their duties. Their work is directed by Headteachers within the confines of these conditions and their working time agreement.
5126	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Any decision should involve the management and teaching staff in the schools.	Revised funding for schools (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Staff have the opportunity to respond to this consultation, and implementation of any agreed proposals will conform to the normal consultative and collaborative structures in the Council and schools.
5127	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	This is also fine as long as all pupils still get their teaching needs met to enable them to perform to their maximum ability.	Revised funding for schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Any proposal that the council progresses will continue to meet the needs of parents and pupils.

5128	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Can details of this plan be published for interested parties to view electronically and/or hardcopy? If there is a reduction of staff does that mean the roles and responsibilities carried out by those people are no longer needed by the schools? If it means more responsibilities by existing staff how will their currently workload be managed and so on? Who are the third party providers referred to in 1c? Maximise technology where possible is ideal, where is it tried and tested and is 'off the shelf' with known upgrade paths.	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals seek to strike an appropriate balance between front line, management and support functions, all of which play an important role in the service. The Council will consider outsourcing where it cannot provide a service itself, or where there are clear quality or efficiency benefits, but the proposals are not for large scale outsourcing of school provision. The Council has invested in the appropriate use of technology including administrative and educational systems with a focus on national systems which benefit from a high level of support and development.
5129	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Again makes sense with suitable safeguards and independent complaints procedures, so long as is suggested that there is no change in service provision.	Revised funding for schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. An appropriate complaints procedure will be maintained.
5130	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	School have had teacher levels imposed from government level a new funding model needs to be found	Revised funding for schools (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Meeting pupil teacher ratio is a condition of funding.
5131	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Why do you only aim to achieve such small saving of £2.5M - I think the savings should be considerable more as presumable Schools' budgets are way much bigger plus don't schools get extra funding from Scot Gov?	Revised funding for schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The Council has produces proposals balancing savings across all of its activities.
5132	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I agree with this proposal. Education budgets cannot continue to be immune from budget cuts if the Scottish Government continue to cut council's funding	Revised funding for schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council has put forward proposals relating to all areas of its activity.
5133	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	More should be done to encourage those who contribute to make regular school donations. Certain activities should be organised regionally to save costs. More volunteers should be employed to help at schools. Pupils should be expected to remain throughout the school day and not leave for lunch. The weekly half day should be scrapped.	Revised funding for schools (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Officers will consider whether these proposals could contribute to budget savings,, and how they could be implemented.
5134	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Can West Lothian Council complete the funding model review rather than a third party whom WLC would need to pay a fee to?	Revised funding for schools (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The review will be undertaken in house by Council staff as part of their regular duties.
5135	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Scotland's education system is already struggling with teacher shortages and pupils attainment levels low, this could only deteriorate with the expansion of IT and staffing cuts.	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals seek to strike an appropriate balance between front line, support and management staff, all of whom perform an important function within the service, within available resources.
5136	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I would like to see more information on what this would mean in practice, but in principle would support this. Any third party provider would need to meet security requirements and go through a competitive tender exercise to clearly demonstrate any savings over delivering those services in-house.	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will only use third party provision where there are quality and or cost benefits.
5137	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	i have grandchildren at school and i feel they deserve a better education	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The quality of education in West Lothian has improved, as recognised by HMIE and Audit Scotland.
5138	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Certainly review structures but do not cut services where there is a detrimental effect on the pupils.	Revised funding for schools (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The proposals seek to strike an appropriate balance between front line, support and management staff, all of whom perform an important function within the service, within available resources.
5139	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As 1A - Excellent if all of the above are carried out. However on current personally experienced performance it will take a huge effort to even provide an improvement. Further why has the " efficiency and effectiveness" not been applied to current procedures. No real criteria to be reach is actually stated and the starting point for these " efficiency and effectiveness" upgrade to services is not evident. Vagueness in targets to achieve . How will residents know when this is achieved?	Revised funding for schools (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Residents will know this is achieved when agreed savings are made and the revised DSM scheme in place.

5149	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	revised staffing models(presuming this means less staff) at a time of increased pressure is a dangerous approach.	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 5150	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	This is a dreadful proposal. Schools can barely support the children they have. If any school management are removed then who will do their work? No head teacher or deputy head sits idle, or are doing work that doesn't need doing. They provide fantastic education and opportunities for all children. Support staff help children who cannot cope alone in mainstream education. The policy of integrating children with additional support needs means that more, not less support staff are probably needed.	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. 5156	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Caution! When you embark upon a review, with an open mind, you may discover that there are deficiencies in your provision and that you will have to employ more people! However if the required result is to cut numbers, then you will. Of course regarding third party provision, you only get what you pay for. Less, if the contractor can get away with it, especially if the support staff from sections 1 a and b have already been made redundant.	Revised funding for schools (general)	2. 5158	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. 5159	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	However, 'revised staffing models' causes me concern. What does this actually mean? 5167	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Support workers in schools are vital to the smooth running of the school and support of the pupils. Non-teaching staff are employed to undertake important roles within schools, and are valued by their teaching colleagues, including senior management. 5173	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The description has a lot of words, but actually says very little. I grasp that the intention is to try to use the already under resourced existing supplies and staff to try to deliver more. Teachers are already working far beyond the hours they are paid for. Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review. Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review.
5186	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I know that administrative and support staff in many schools are extremely overworked. I'm not sure that a reduction in staffing in this part of the service provided in schools would be the most effective way to achieve savings. However, I do appreciate that alternative management structures and ways of operating within schools could be organised more effectively.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The Council intends to implement the proposals whilst still delivering key priorities for pupils, parents/carers and staff.
5187	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Cutting support staff is probably counterproductive in financial savings. However cutting head office staff is unlikely to impact on the education of pupils.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals affect staff across Education Services. Savings are focused on where they will have least impact on core services. The Scottish Government has made maintaining the Pupil/Teacher ratio a condition of funding, and so the council and schools are compelled to focus on the employment of teachers where, in some cases, they may prefer to increase non-teaching staff in preference to this.
5188	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The greatest cost in education is teachers' salaries. This review seems to be focused on reducing support staff numbers and their terms and conditions. How can this be cost effective in saving money? The Scottish Government has made maintaining the Pupil/Teacher ratio a condition of funding, and so the council and schools are compelled to focus on the employment of teachers where, in some cases, they may prefer to increase non-teaching staff in preference to this.

5204	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	School management structures are a joke - you need to flatten and SIMPLIFY - "business managers", "principle teachers".....??? 5205	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I think any cut to support in schools will result in a reduced provision for children. 5212	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	A word to the wise - very few head teachers are managers with a business brain?? Reshape job descriptions for admin staff - think very carefully before leaving HT's in charge of the business side of running a school - is this a step too far? Centralise the function and train people properly. Do NOT reduce support staff for children in schools - do this at your peril - look at the numbers of pupils who require not just support but SIGNIFICANT support as there are fewer and fewer specialist places to accommodate them. SEB needs are rising and becoming more complex - think of the impact on pupils generally of these individuals in the school community. Invest in training in this area do not trim it. 5217	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. The council is already doing this.	The Council has a statutory duty to meet the needs of every pupil, and this will continue.
5222	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	PTCs in high schools are already stretched to their limits. Actually introducing more leadership/management roles with smaller remits within schools would improve productivity and reduce stress.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Headteachers may consider this suggestion within their autonomy to set their own management structure.
5223	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Schools are already operating on skeletal staff numbers, with massive workload and lack of support forcing teachers to seek other avenues of employment. Morale is low and services to young people are impacted as staff in schools do everything they can to keep their heads above water and support the students to achieve their potential. To streamline support staff further would thrust more responsibility into the class teacher, who is already drowning in their own workload. If education remains a priority then the value of properly staffed schools with in-house support must be recognised.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. 5225	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Cutting staffing in areas like pupil support have a massive impact on not just the people who have lost jobs but on the people they support. In teaching, where are numbers are "safe" the reduction of pupil support assistants has made everyone's job harder and means that I regularly teach classes containing pupils with significant Additional Support Needs with no support at all. In previous years classes like these would have had at least one and possibly more support assistants. The lack of these assistants impacts not only on the attainment of the pupils who need them, but on the other pupils who the teacher gets to spend less time with. Additionally, this has an impact on teacher mental health.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The revised scheme of Devolved School Management will allow Headteachers greater freedom to prioritise resources where they are most needed, including determining the appropriate staffing within their school. The maintenance of the Scottish Government's pupil/teacher ratio, however, will continue to constrain choice and may lead to the employment of more teachers and less support staff where this may not necessarily be the staff mix Headteachers consider most desirable.
5226	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	PTC system is not fit for purpose. Bring back paid proper, paid, heads of department that can lead pedagogically. Kids are losing out because their teachers have to plug the gaps that the introduction of PTCs has left behind. As a class teacher, I'm just about managing to do my job...with support from GP and medication...i may add. I have no time or indeed 'power', perceived or otherwise, to make strategic decisions.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Headteachers will be able to consider this proposal in terms of their new autonomy to set management structures.
5227	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Additionally, PTCs are stretched to the absolute maximum and wedged between a rock and a hard place. They have so many roles and responsibilities that they are not effective at all levels. Whilst collegiate working practices are undoubtedly the way forward, this is not the way to plug a middle management funding gap. As to narrowing the attainment GAP, how can this be done in schools when we can't even fill the recruitment gap? I suggest bringing back the role of Principal Teacher - perhaps job sized so PTs with large departments get remunerated accordingly.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Headteachers will be able to consider this proposal in terms of their new autonomy to set management structures.
5228	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	This should provide fairness across the management structure where currently some people have more responsibility than others on the same wage. You should clarify what 'fit for purpose' means in this instance. I think we need to protect those non-teaching members of staff who are held in promoted posts in order that they can continue to deliver their service. As before, those members of staff who are not efficient should be held accountable for their actions.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. Headteachers will have the ability to determine where resources should be spent for the benefit of children, although a continuation of the Pupil/Teacher ratio may result in expenditure on teacher posts where support staff would have a greater impact on learning and teaching.
5229	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As a teacher in a promoted post I find this proposal very disturbing. At this point I do not have enough time in my working week to complete the extensive responsibilities of my role which results in me working at home, being in school early each morning and staying late each evening. Any revision to staffing models which will increase staff workload even further will result in increased absences due to the stress staff find themselves under.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Teachers duties are set out in national conditions. Teachers activities are directed by the Headteacher in line with the locally negotiated Working Time Agreement. West Lothian Council has roust policies to address stress and sickness absence.
5230	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	"Revised staffing models will also be introduced that will make changes to management, administrative and support staffing arrangements." - This is NOT how you support students through their education. A students education should be a top priority and not something that the council should be making cuts to. Young people are the future and if they do not have the support, skills and qualifications they require to move onto further/higher education and then into (or) work, you are setting them up to be at a disadvantage to those that were taught in other local authorities.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council has made proposals across the whole range of its activities, including Education. A reduced funding settlement for local government results in less resources, not more, available from local government for schools.
5231	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Remove one DCE: Remove one of the Education HoS posts in recognition of changing national landscape; Remove head of corporate services post and divide duties amongst other HoS; Reduce 'performance and improvement team' as responsibility is embedded in services; Reduce 'anti-poverty' work.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	5d. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it has been previously considered and will not be progressed.	The review of Council activities which gave rise to the current proposals considered all options, but decided not to progress all possibilities. West Lothian Council already has a very lean management structure.
5232	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Redesign can be achieved but needs to be with no affect on support services.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. 5241	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Direct support services to young people such as classroom assistants should not be cut. Contracts with service providers should be reviewed to look for savings - these are always too expensive and rarely provide value for money.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council, Schools, Parents/Carers and Pupils all value the contribution of support staff. Headteachers will have the ability to determine where resources should be spent for the benefit of children, although a continuation of the Pupil/Teacher ratio may result in expenditure on teacher posts where support staff would have a greater impact on learning and teaching. The Council will consider outsourcing where it cannot provide a service itself, or where there are clear quality or efficiency benefits, but the proposals are not for large scale outsourcing of school provision.

5259	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Changes in management, admin and support staffing arrangements can work well and allow such departments to support more and better but this needs to be done properly. If this turns out to be another way to cut staff or increase their workload without giving them the proper resources to carry out their work it will turn into a disaster. I have seen it in the company where I work where my own department staff level and support were cut and cut again for several years. This ended up costing the company dearly at the end and they now realised that this support department is vital for the rest of the company. 5277	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As a classroom teacher I feel very strongly about the role of support staff at the schools. This includes additional support needs workers, classroom assistants, various technicians and catering and cleaning staff, all of which are fundamental in supporting teaching staff. It is understandable that savings need to be made in order to meet the proposed target however I believe that these positions should be protected as the services provided are essential in the smooth day-to-day running of the school. If there is to be a reduction in staffing levels I believe this would have an adverse impact for teachers as these these roles are integral in supporting the profession. A lack of qualified personnel in these areas can lead to increase in stressful situations which teachers may struggle to manage. This can have a knock on effect since teaching professionals may feel unable to work effectively under these conditions.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. Technology has its uses in improving efficiency, however, that will not be able to completely remove the need for staff. The reference to making greater use of resources is concerning. We should already be using our resources as fully as possible and if we are not that should have been addressed. If we are using our resources very well then it is of concern that unrealistic expectations and increased work and pressure will be placed upon staff that are currently employed. The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school.
5294	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Our parent forum have raised concerns over the vague information given to date with deep concerns about many cuts hidden within this lengthy, complex and ill distributed survey. Revising staffing models will be required given national proposals however our school will need support taking on devolved school management and we cannot see how this can be provided with £3.6M cuts being made. We are very concerned about how stretched Head Teachers are already and feel there are health implications for them and their support staff who will undoubtedly bear the brunt of this. 5299	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Does 'revised staffing models' actually mean a reduction of front-line teachers? Economies must be at management/administrative level and not through further increases in student/staff ratio	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	1. 5300	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Every year the support budgets seem to get cut. If the council wish to integrate children who have special needs they have to be prepared to provide sufficient support otherwise they are denying children the education they have a right to. 5301	An individual	1c. 5302	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	OK. Third party providers is one of the areas that may prove most costly under DSM - there must be opportunity for economy of scale/better contract management if third parties provide services to clusters or numerous schools. And this would also provide consistency of service/advice etc for pupils across West Lothian.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will only consider outsourcing where this would bring efficiency or effectiveness benefits, but the proposals do not include large scale outsourcing of education services.
5303	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Standardize the school day across the council. Multiple calculations are required by schools and HR to ensure that staff, particularly teachers, are paid correctly if working at multiple schools. Headteachers are finding increasingly difficult to cover 5 day a week posts as staff returning to work after maternity leave opt to work part time leaving HT's with the difficult task of covering a vacancy which generally include Friday mornings. 5306	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Again there are no details to make comment on. The statement is wide and very difficult for a lay person to know what you are really proposing. Yes we all want an efficient service, however not at the expense of reducing staffing to levels which affect workload and morale. Where will these revised staffing levels take place, what changes to management and support staff arrangements? Until these are identified it is not possible to make further comments with accuracy.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The respondent had no comment to make.
5307	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Don't make head teachers and deputy head teachers do even more as part of the budget cuts. There is already a national shortage of teachers, please don't add to their work load by expecting them to do three peoples jobs. We will lose valuable and hard working staff because they are burnt out and stressed.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals do not seek to address the issue of teacher recruitment and retention, which is a national issue. As all local authorities face similar budgetary pressures, it is unlikely that proposals will place West Lothian at a competitive disadvantage in terms of recruitment.
5308	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Management restructures are maybe needed in schools which need two Depute Head Teachers. However in some smaller schools there maybe is a need for a HT, DHT and PT. I know certainly in my workplace due to the excessive workload of our HT that we would be lost without our DHT role. Who would this extra work then fall onto - myself as a teacher or other staff members.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Teaching Staff are employed according to national conditions of service, which set out clearly the duties they will perform.
5309	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Teacher and Senior Leadership Team workloads have been increasing at a fast pace since the introduction of Curriculum for Excellence which has led to more and more administrative burdens being placed on head teachers and their staff. It is feared that a reduction in admin and management team time will lead to a continued increase in workload as when staff are no longer there to fulfill current duties this will ultimately lead to increased responsibilities being placed on teachers, head teachers etc who do remain in schools. With the current recruitment issues with regards to Head Teachers this may in fact make the situation worse at a time when there are real concerns about those wishing to take on the role of the head teacher. Will these fears be shared with the Scottish Government. If head teachers are in fact to be given time to focus on leading learning and teaching and not be school administrators then this will have to be addressed through governance as ultimately savings at local authority level will lead to more administrative burdens being placed on head teachers rather than less. Will thought be given to the fact that reduced resources, which are already stretched, to support the GIRFEC agenda and presumption of mainstream may negatively impact on attainment and widen the poverty related attainment gap rather than reducing it? What will happen if this is the case? Are these concerns being shared with the Scottish Government who have a clear agenda on closing the poverty related attainment gap? Could free school meals for all P1-3 children regardless of need be readdressed and go back to a system which is currently in place for all P4-7 children based on ability to pay? Could this also be the case for Breakfast Club provision with those able to pay being charged a nominal fee each day? All of the above is all dependent on decision made as a result of the Governance Review and what these will look like when they eventually come to fruition.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Teaching Staff are employed according to national conditions of service, which set out clearly the duties they will perform. They undertake their duties as directed by their Headteacher, within the confines of national conditions and their working time agreement.
5310	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Does "revised staffing models" just equal staff cuts? Aren't schools understaffed as they are? Apart from management?	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	West Lothian Council meets national class size regulations in all of its schools, and maintains the pupil/teacher ratio.
5311	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I think a review of management could be helpful but the council have already cut support staff in schools. With 'social inclusion' class teachers need support in a number of classes. The cuts should not be applied here! There has to be an assurance that our children are not short-changed.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The tasks undertaken by support staff are valued by the council, schools, parents and teaching staff. The council is required to maintain a pupil teacher ratio with the result that spending on teaching staff cannot be reduced, thus increasing the impact of any savings required on support staff, even when these staff may play a significant role in supporting learning and teaching.
5312	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Firstly, our young people with additional support needs require more and not less support. Supporting them and promoting equity should be top priority.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. 5314	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I agree that greater use of resources are required. 5315	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	We have scores of primary schools managing a dozen staff yet all having their own manager, depute manager, senior posts etc., - these should be rationalised and primary schools made accountable to the secondary school which they feed. 5319	An individual	1c. 5320	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	It completely depends on the detail of this restructure. 5327	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Depends on whether the council are going to remove teachers from schools and put them into 'development posts' or secondments in supporting roles to the schools, therefore having to pay for these new roles whilst also having to recruit new teachers in schools to fill these roles (often at management pay scales) or, worse, not being able to replace them at all (or not having the money to).	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The Council and Headteachers will require to consider carefully the cost and benefits of secondments and development posts in every case.
5328	No Response	1c. 5349	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I assume by 'revised staffing models' you mean to cut jobs. 5353	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	By removing Some Education officers you could save money and use some more to support children with special needs. I think good support staff is necessary and it seems to me that there are still too many layers of management	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals seek to strike an appropriate balance between front line, support and management staff, all of whom perform an important function within the service, within available resources.
5354	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As mentioned earlier, reductions to middle management can be a great aid to improved efficiency. However, as a parent, it is clear that there is no room for further cuts in the current education system.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals seek to strike an appropriate balance between front line, support and management staff, all of whom perform an important function within the service, within available resources.
5355	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	teachers must be given required support	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The proposals seek to strike an appropriate balance between front line, support and management staff, all of whom perform an important function within the service, within available resources.
5356	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	This sounds like a reduction in support and admin staff. I have had the good fortune you work with pupil support workers, they are stretched to capacity as it is, what are our schools going to look like with less of them? How about the young people that depend on them for practical help or emotional help to make their school days bearable.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals seek to strike an appropriate balance between front line, support and management staff, all of whom perform an important function within the service, within available resources.
5357	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Support staff are already at a bare minimum in our schools and they are struggling to cope with pupils (and their behaviour) who should not be in mainstream schools. What strategies do you plan to put in place to cope with the loss of additional staffing? Schools NEED admin staff, technicians, librarians, support workers etc to support teaching staff do their jobs - teach. Schools cannot function properly with less support staff - this will lead to pressure on remaining staff, challenging behaviour from pupils and ultimately will affect attainment - a key priority for WLC. PEF funding was put in place to support pupils - and we also need to retain the staff we have to support this initiative further.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals seek to strike an appropriate balance between front line, support and management staff, all of whom perform an important function within the service, within available resources.
5358	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	"Revised staffing models" again sounds like the proposed saving will come from the reduction in numbers of council staff, something that would be counter-productive with a growing population, increasing demand for council services and increasingly overworked members of staff.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals are designed to reduce expenditure, but budget increases to cope with demographic change operate independently of this process. Revised staffing models will be supported by increased use of technology. Class size limits and the pupil/teacher ration will not be breached.
5359	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	If current work load continues the reduction/ change of management and revising staffing models will only increase stress and have a negative impact on staff's Health and Well Being.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Revised staffing models will be supported by increased use of technology. Class size limits and the pupil/teacher ration will not be breached.
5360	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Justification is also required regarding cutting support staff when there is an anticipated 8% increase in children entering Primary Education	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals are designed to reduce expenditure, but budget increases to cope with demographic change operate independently of this process.
5361	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Management structures should be as light as possible whilst maintaining proper levels of service and effectivity.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals seek to strike an appropriate balance between front line, management and support functions, all of which play an important role in the service.
5362	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I think your support staffing arrangements have been whittled to the bone and could endure no further cuts without endangering your early years and schooling priorities.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals seek to strike an appropriate balance between front line, management and support functions, all of which play an important role in the service.
5363	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. The proposals are designed to reduce expenditure, but budget increases to cope with demographic change operate independently of this process.
5364	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I also think that changing classroom support assistants based in mainstream schools should not be fixed in one particular location but flexible to work in different settings depending on a month by month rota (when working with children who have no additional needs).	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Officers will consider how this could be developed, where practical.
5365	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Perhaps instead of paying third part providers for support, the council could make this provided by in-house staff, encouraging experienced local staff to be responsible, as they'd have more of an interest in looking for the best.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will consider outsourcing where it cannot provide a service itself, or where there are clear quality or efficiency benefits, but the proposals are not for large scale outsourcing of school provision.

5366	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Again, need to ensure reduction in admin support does not mean these tasks being given to teachers. This could result in a need for more teachers - which will be more expensive.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Teaching Staff are employed according to national conditions of service, which set out clearly the duties they will perform. They undertake their duties as directed by their Headteacher, within the confines of national conditions and their working time agreement.
5367	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	schools are already struggling to cope with the pressures put in place with limited (or no) support staff.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The tasks undertaken by support staff are valued by the council, schools, parents and teaching staff. The council is required to maintain a pupil teacher ratio with the result that spending on teaching staff cannot be reduced, thus increasing the impact of any savings required on support staff, even when these staff may play a significant role in supporting learning and teaching.
5368	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Reviewing staffing models is fine - but perhaps look at the salaries of your management structure within the council and take some of that money to pay support assistants for schools!	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The proposals seek to strike an appropriate balance between front line, management and support functions, all of which play an important role in the service.
5369	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	It seems a pity that this has to happen when teacher numbers are once again protected - regardless of performance.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Maintaining the Pupil Teacher Ratio is a requirement of the Scottish Government.
5370	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	will this result in job losses?	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. This will depend on the outcome of the consultation, and the budget decisions taken by the Council.
5371	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Again, lessons can be learned from private organisations in terms of efficient operations.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will use external providers where it lacks capacity or expertise to make provision itself, or where there are quality or efficiency benefits.
5372	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I agree that restructuring and better management can provide savings, but care must be taken that already overworked and stressed members of staff are not pushed beyond what is acceptable.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Teachers are employed according to national conditions of service setting out their duties. Their work is directed by Headteachers within the confines of these conditions and their working time agreement.
5373	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As I have highlighted above there is a need to protect frontline staffing and admin posts - less of a need to protect the senior management grades within school structures in my opinion and developmental posts perhaps need to be reduced at present until we are in a better economic position.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals seek to strike an appropriate balance between front line and support services. Headteachers are responsible for how they spend their budget, including the creation of development posts.
5374	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Again we need more staff working with children and fewer on admin. As it is support for less able children is very patchy and these are our most vulnerable pupils. Let's have more trained learning support staff and support assistants.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school.
5375	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Management of third party providers is crucial to ensure value for money. Would hate to think tasks functions delegated to industry partners with poor control over negotiated contracts and recharge rates.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will only consider outsourcing where this would bring efficiency or effectiveness benefits, but the proposals do not include large scale outsourcing of education services.
5376	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	WLC already has a staffing model which has less school management roles per school roll than other local authorities. How can reducing this further make the schools more effective and help close the attainment gap which we repeatedly hear of?	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. 5377	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Revised staffing models that reduces staffing levels to already stretched staff in schools means the children suffer as a result as their education is compromised. We should be putting money into our schools.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. 5378	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	In both the Primary school and secondary school where I am involved via my children, it seems that there is already a real stretch on management, admin and support staffing. Surely there is a tipping point on how fewer and fewer staff can cope with an ever increasing workload. As a health professional, I am very concerned as to the health implications for staff and an increase in sick leave. Staffing systems could crumble if you continue to withdraw resource and support. Again, it is time for council and the Scottish government to look at generating revenue; we are no longer in a position to justify free meals, school clothing allowances, prescriptions, travel passes etc across the board, while continually making cuts in crucial areas.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 5382	No Response	1c. The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. 5384	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Revising staff models should not mean marginalising the staff already in place. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. Individual Headteachers can consider this suggestion within the context of the needs of their school.
5385	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Improved efficiency in management is appealing. Again, provided this does not mean removal of support from head teachers.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5386	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Fine with proposed review and rationalisation of school support arrangements, but this cannot lead to a degrading of the learning experience for our young persons. If the burden of administration, management and educational support passes to teaching staff due to restructuring / reductions in resourcing then there maybe a corresponding negative effect to teaching quality.	Revised staffing models for schools - Admin, Management & Support Staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. 5391	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Any revision of staffing of schools will have to ensure there is no further reduction in staffing. Schools are already working on reduced staffing due to previous cuts however still expected to provide the same level of education fo children. 5395	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. 5396	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I would be appalled if administrative staff or support staff were cut from schools. 5397	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Likewise, if there is reduced administrative staff, there will be an increased burden on teaching staff. The proposals envisage greater devolution to schools, not increased centralisation.
5400	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Changes to support staffing in school will place extra stress of teachers who are already unable to meet the needs of all children. The children who will suffer are those most vulnerable and in need of support. It would be a poor system which identifies need and then lacks the resources to meet that need.	Revised staffing models for schools (Admin)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will continue to meet the needs of every child. Staffing ratios set by statute or national agreement will be maintained.
5401	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	In my opinion the support and admin provision in education in WL is already inadequate. I fear these proposals will lead to a deepening the recruitment/retention crisis in teaching which will ultimately impact outcomes for children in WL. As both a teacher and a parent living in WL these proposals deeply concern me.	Revised staffing models for schools (Admin)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals seek to strike an appropriate balance between front line and support functions. 5403	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Each school should be allocated additional funding to cope with the additional admin support and effect of decentralisation. There are opportunities to maximise the benefit of shared services between secondary schools and feeder primary schools that should be examined such as HR, sport, health, counselling and environment within schools.	Revised staffing models for schools (Admin)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The proposals are to reduce, not increase funding, but suggestions for potential savings will be examined.
5404	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As long as support staffing arrangements are maintained- would be a false economy.	Revised staffing models for schools (Admin)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The tasks undertaken by support staff are valued by the council, schools, parents and teaching staff. The council is required to maintain a pupil teacher ratio with the result that spending on teaching staff cannot be reduced, thus increasing the impact of any savings required on support staff, even when these staff may play a significant role in supporting learning and teaching.
5405	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I hope the council will ensure that reducing support staff of any kind within schools has no effect on the type of educational help some children require within mainstream or special needs schools. Often children need support during the school day which cannot always be provided by a teacher alone, who has a class of sometimes up to 30 children. Teachers can work with groups of children who needs greater support for longer because they have support within their classroom.	Revised staffing models for schools (Admin)	2. 5409	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I have worked in different local authorities where the administration has been drastically reduced and passed onto other workers, this is ok on paper but careful consideration needs to be taken to get a balance as paperwork is a big part of staff's jobs to meet the objectives and standards required and to provide an continuing excellent educational service. Through this experience I have seen and been involved in instances where the amount of administration in a job role is underestimated and I am concerned this may impact on the work being carried out but can understand that decisions and cuts have to be made but I feel this needs to be done in a realistic understanding of what is involved in each role. The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school, including the appropriate mix of staff. Individual Headteachers can consider this suggestion within the context of the needs of their school.
5411	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Admin support must be increased as a matter of priority in schools.	Revised staffing models for schools (Admin)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The purpose of the proposals is to achieve savings rather than to identify areas for increased expenditure.
5412	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Administrative and support staffing MUST be increased not 'revised' otherwise pupils will suffer. 5413	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The reduction in support staff in our schools is detrimental to the health and wellbeing of teachers and will only continue to see people leaving the profession. There is too much pressure on teachers and the reduction of support staff will not alleviate this but will increase it as teachers struggle to fulfil their commitments to the very mixed classes of children in front of them everyday/.	Revised staffing models for schools (Admin)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will only consider outsourcing where this would bring efficiency or effectiveness benefits, but the proposals do not include large scale outsourcing of education services. The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school.
5414	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	All teachers should be expected to use modern technology. It is a lottery for many children who have teachers who do not know how to use resources properly.	Use of technology in schools	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	All teachers are trained and support is available in the use of appropriate technology.
5415	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	What further use of technology??? This provides no details and is simply hollow promises	Use of technology in schools	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Significant investment has been made by the council, and also nationally, to provide electronic systems to reduce bureaucracy.
5416	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Better use of technology to decrease face to face meetings or letters etc.	Use of technology in schools	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thanks you for comment. Your feedback has been noted. Increased use of technology already features in proposals.
5417	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	technology is a great aspect for education but children are loosing the skills we find so basic like writing spelling etc all by using millions of pounds of computers and so they can have access to these things people who have worked for 50 years or less are loosing jobs to make cuts. There is no need to fancy smart boards etc when cuts have to be made sadly it is a waste of money children learn equally well using pens and paper with less of a use of computers they equally become more social and learn new skills they have not learned before.	Use of technology in schools	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your response. 5418	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	dont just write "including further use of technology," without actually explaining that. It potentially places a huge strain on existing IT resources without any accountability.	Use of technology in schools	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Significant investment has been made by the council, and also nationally, to provide electronic systems to reduce bureaucracy.
5419	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Is it possible to have children's details that are regularly required for school trips held electronically to avoid filling in the same form each time? Trip payment and acceptance could be through the IPayimpact system.	Use of technology in schools	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The Council has started to look at electronic solutions, and will explore electronic management of the school excursion process further as part of the channel shift process.
5420	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Use of technology can reduce costs but it is the effective management and delivery of services which is key & this is usually delivered by people so this needs to be considered carefully.	Use of technology in schools	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The Council intends to implement the proposals whilst focusing on key priorities for pupils, parents/carers and staff.
5421	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Introduce Virtual Teaching class studies to 5th & 6th year students with the new I-Teach Pads	Use of technology in schools	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Opportunities for individual learning supported by IT exist, but all suggestions for increasing these opportunities will be considered.
5422	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I fully support further use of technology within schools but not at the expense of 1-1 learning. It is important for pupils to be able to interact 1-1 with teaching staff, with technology added as a support.	Use of technology in schools	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Staffing levels required by statute and national agreement will be maintained.
5423	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Technology use is great but the infrastructure needs to be there first. In my school building there are more than just a few "dead zones" in wifi/network coverage which is blamed on thick walls and no additional routers can be installed due to "asbestos risk"....so how did the original ones get installed/maintained??	Use of technology in schools	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	This comment would be best directed to school management who would be in a position to assess and address it.
5424	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Careful consideration should be given to less obvious revenue costs that may be associated with areas such as increased use of technology (license fees, increased energy consumption etc).	Use of technology in schools	4. The council is already doing this.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. These costs are considered.
5425	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	"Further use of technology" - like the dozens of iPads bought which spend most of their time locked in a cupboard.	Use of technology in schools	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5426	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	In terms of further use of technology support workers who have a smart phone should have them internet enabled so that they can check information without having to use their own phones or return to the office.	Use of technology in schools	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Thank you for your response. 5427	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	The use of tablets and other technology should be reviewed if there are not enough in the class to provide one for each child to use at the same time. Maintenance of electronic equipment is essential and if not done properly can end up costing more in replacements, or nothing gets done and the equipment is left unused (eg smartboards), which is a big waste of money. Perhaps this should be more restricted and a other delivery methods used.	Use of technology in schools	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	These points will be considered in relation to their purchase and use of technology.
5428	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Improved technology that helps provide savings is always a bonus, but again any savings should be put straight into the actual schools budget.	Use of technology in schools	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	If savings are returned to school budgets, they would not, unfortunately, be savings.
5429	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As above schools are tight for paid staff as it is.... it is good to introduce more technology but we need teachers and helpers to provide the support especially as there is more and more children in mainstream classes that have additional support needs...	Use of technology in schools	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The Council, Schools, Parents/Carers and Pupils all value the contribution of support staff. Headteachers will have the ability to determine where resources should be spent for the benefit of children, although a continuation of the Pupil/Teacher ratio may result in expenditure on teacher posts where support staff would have a greater impact on learning and teaching.
5430	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Again the use of technology is a positive. As is redesign to optimise resources. As long as it has no negative impact on employment.	Use of technology in schools	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The Council has invested in technology to support education , management and administration, including systems such as GLOW and SEEMIS.
5431	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	As long as further use of technology is correctly supported.	Use of technology in schools	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The Council has invested in technology to support education , management and administration, including systems such as GLOW and SEEMIS. These are well maintained, up to date, fit for purpose and secure.
5432	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	It cannot be underestimated the improvement to the quality of teaching available by having suitable support staff in place. If technology is going to be used to supplement this then it needs to be well maintained , up-to-date, fit for purpose and secure.	Use of technology in schools	4. The council is already doing this. 5437	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	however I am not certain that new IT systems and third party intervention is the way forward. Systems that have recently been introduced have resulted in duplication. I think given the grade of staff you have in post in school they are great value in many ways.	Use of technology in schools	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council has already increased efficiency where appropriate with educational and admin packages such as GLOW and SEEMIS to reduce workload and duplication. The Council will only consider outsourcing where this would bring efficiency or effectiveness benefits, but the proposals do not include large scale outsourcing of education services.
5438	An individual	1c. 5445	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1c. 5455	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Why is the use of technology always mentioned - when the council cannot afford to keep up to date with new technologies - therefore you cannot be at your most efficient if you are not up to date with technologies. It's easy to say we will become more efficient with better use of technology - it doesn't happen unless true investment is put in place - so if this is a way forward you need to invest in it.	Use of technology in schools	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council has invested significantly in management and educational software and its effective use, for example SEEMIS and GLOW.

5458	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I agree technology could be exploited to improve these areas, making them more cost efficient. 5459	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Reviews do not have to mean expensive changes - if it aint broke, don't fix it. 5460	No Response	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	I question whether money spent on technology in schools is spent wisely for example, do pupils share equipment etc or does each individual need to be provided for. 5463	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	When technology doesn't work, which has been happening of late the system fails. We are too reliant on technology. Children are forgetting the basics of writing and spelling as machines do it for them. We are also making an assumption that all households have access to technology. If you cut library services, pupils who have no internet - where do they go. If we continue to aim solely on technology we are making a difference to children who can't readily access it.	Use of technology in schools	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. 5470	An individual	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Education is an area where the increased implementation of technology devices (i.e. smart boards) would save costs. The council is already doing this.	The Council will continue to explore options for efficiency, as suggested.
5471	An employee of West Lothian Council	1c. Redesign Scheme of Devolved School Management	Further use of technology is a cop-out to save money but DOES NOT WORK! 5473	An individual	1c. 5720	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	A focus on getting the right support and resources in place in the early years, to enable school readiness and attainment will alleviate the pressures of the other priorities identified later in life, enabling a more robust and resilient population which is less reliant on council services in West Lothian in the future.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3
5721	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I would minimize savings in this area as it is important to focus on supporting children and their parents/carers. These children are the future of our community/country and therefore most in need of investment.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to implementing agreed proposals without detriment to children
5722	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	As the rest of Europe have the full time nursery available from generation this is great idea. the only think is that working parents which received child benefit will have reduced charges for full time nursery, as many people are unemployment and they not want to change their status as they better on benefits that the minimum pay I think that the nursery should be only available for am or pm session. We should encourage people to work not to stay on a benefits which is happened now.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	The increase in hours is Scottish Government policy. Longer hours are intended to encourage people back to work. High quality early learning and childcare has significant benefits for young people
5723	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	parents are charge a lot of money for the private care and often one pay goes to the nursery this is not really encourage people to back to work. Free nurseries will be damage budget and please remember that full day nursery required more space, place for folding beds for the nap time, each class should have own bathroom suitable to the children, nursery teacher, medical nurse etc... 5724	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The proposal is to use existing resources more efficiently.
5725	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I think more resources need to go in main stream secondary schools first.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The increase in hours is Scottish Government policy. Efficient delivery of the increased service will minimise budget reductions in other areas.
5726	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The increase in hours is Scottish Government policy. Efficient delivery of the increased service will minimise budget reductions in other areas.

5730	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I have no idea how this will save money. I expect increasing the provision to commit to 1140 hours will cost money. How is every eligible 2, 3 and 4 year olds going to increase their hours to double and save money. Where are the extra rooms in nurseries to accommodate, staffing and the hours to ensure every child receives this quality learning.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The increase in hours is Scottish Government policy. Additional funding and workforce planning will ensure availability of suitably qualified staff.
5731	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Feel the provision for 2 year old care is not required to be funded by WLC as this appears to be a resource for some and not all - better use for 3 and 4 yr old places.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	Provision for eligible 2s is National policy.
5732	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Wraparound care is not as user friendly or cost effective for parents.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Access to and uptake of wraparound care has expanded significantly over the last three years. Further increases in hours and flexibility and choice will improve the situation.
5733	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	There are extremely high rates of success from early years centre's for children and their families. One of the main Factors for this was the outreach support that staff could offer to support parenting, nutrition, child development and more over child protection. This is an invaluable resource in improving outcome for children and their families in the early years.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The approach adopted by early years centres will remain within the expanded service.
5734	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Totally believe in this suggestion and feel that this would be of a benefit for all.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5735	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I have a young family so looking forward to eventually making use of these services so support development and consistency. 5736	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I agree as long as adequate provision for wraparound care is available	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Access to and uptake of wraparound care has expanded significantly over the last three years. Further increases in hours and flexibility and choice will improve the situation.
5737	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This seems to be sensible.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5738	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Good proposal but needs to be high quality in areas of deprivation. Under 3 in Blackburn has significantly different needs from one in Linlithgow. The provision should not be a cheap child care option for well off parents.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thanks you for comment. Your feedback has been noted. This will be considered as part of the implementation plan for the expansion of early learning and childcare.
5739	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Does this mean the full commitment will be met by council facilities only or that private facilities will be included? And if they are, how will the council ensure standards across the service?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The Council currently employs a full time officer to support the 6 partner provider nurseries.
5740	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Nursery education is a fantastic service one which I use for my son. I do disagree however with unemployed mothers and fathers having a service in which their children get extra hours of childcare in these services when they do not work themselves they are at home they should be looking after their children they choose to have. I work full time and so does my partner yet I can't afford to pay for child care yet people I know don't work have multiple children and yet get child care so they can in turn sit in front of a television a little longer. And if they council and the governments are that blind to think this is not what is happening they need to visit people's homes and speak to people living in these areas because working class people are sick of being cut back and left to get on with it while every other person gets hands out we all pay for!	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Early Learning and Childcare is a universal service offered to all children regardless of whether their parents work or not.
5741	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	primary schools offer earlier intergration to offer nursery care invite more parent or voluntary help to staff and run these schemes	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thanks you for comment. Your feedback has been noted. This will be considered as part of the expansion plan for early learning and childcare
5742	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The council should consider charging parents (where able to) for the care of their children while looked after away from home by the local authority.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	The council has a statutory responsibility to provide services to children with additional support needs.
5743	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Having supported education as the number 1 priority, I am in favour of any method which will aid the early learning ability of children	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted

5745	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Agree education needs to modernise	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5746	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Nurseries should provide learning through play not just child amusement.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Early learning and childcare is an important part of the early stage of curriculum for excellence and should not be considered 'child amusement'.
5747	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Do the Head Teachers have time and resources to do this?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review. All but three nurseries are already managed by primary HTs. This arrangement ensures continuity of the 3-18 curriculum and eases transition from nursery to primary.
5748	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Where will the additional necessary staff and resources come from to provide this? Does the council have enough capacity in their current estate to make this workable. If staff and buildings are no problem, then yes, this would probably work.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Staffing and physical resources will be considered as part of the implementation plan for the expansion of early learning and childcare.

5750	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I genuinely don't see how this can result in a reduction in spend.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Savings can be achieved through efficient use of existing resources.
5751	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Presume this is the removal of partnership funding to private nurseries. No issues as long as wrap around care is in place at ALL state nurseries. Otherwise this doesn't help working families and impacts on the ability of the Council to deliver its employability priority	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The funding framework will be set nationally by the Scottish Government.
5752	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Pressure should be placed on Scottish Government that if they want to implement a policy they should fully fund the delivery of it.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	This will be considered as part of the implementation plan for the expansion of early learning and childcare.
5753	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	A more focused and streamlined approach will be beneficial for all service users.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5754	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	You are tinkering with the biggest part of your budget when you should be bold and realise bigger savings. Charge for early learning.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council has no plans to close schools as part of the current proposals.
5755	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Charge for it.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	The funding framework will be set nationally by the Scottish Government.
5756	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	People who can afford to pay for childcare should do so. Agree	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The funding framework will be set nationally by the Scottish Government.
5757	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Will this actually be deliverable while still making savings	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The Council is committed to introducing change with no detriment to children. The expansion of early learning and childcare is expected to improve outcomes for young people.
5758	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I would like the current nursery support to continue, but perhaps on a means basis. If parents can afford to pay for their children to attend pre school they should pay, this way the council isn't having to fund the full amount.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	The funding framework will be set nationally by the Scottish Government.
5759	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. 5760	An individual	1d. 5761	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I do not have children so do not have any first hand experience. Agree with the principles outlined.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5762	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The council must ensure robust checking is in place in terms of children's addresses falling within council boundaries, to ensure NO instances of children outwith the county being given preference in and funding for the nurseries.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Each council is funded for the children who attend nurseries in its area, not those who live in its area.
5763	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This should not be subject to cuts due to the fundamental importance of early years learning. If standards drop then the local authority will face, in the future, a drop in school performance and a drop in the employment prospects (and associated income generation for the council) of its people.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council is committed to introducing change with no detriment to children. The expansion of early learning and childcare is expected to improve outcomes for young people.
5764	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Nursery provision may be critical to early learning and child welfare. As I said above, employment leads to wellbeing; a parent (usually the mother) able to access child care and nursery facilities or kindergarten of some description is available to the job market. Employed parents means a happy, prosperous and stress-free household ideal for children's early development.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Increased hours of early learning and childcare with accessible wraparound care will support parents into employment
5765	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	It would be difficult not to agree with the statement above, however there is insufficient detail to allow me to comment specifically.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5766	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	let parents provide the child care I had too	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	The expansion of early learning and childcare is a national government initiative.
5767	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Agree savings should be made here. Schools should not be seen by parents as crÃches and if kids do have to have these services; that they are productive and learn.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5768	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Again disabled and special needs children and their carers are not adequately provided for. Yet this is a crucial time of learning; failing to provide this support is a catalyst in widening the gap between the able and less able. Failure to assess, diagnose and identify the childâ€™s needs is also critical at this stage. The current service acts more as a brick wall to carers and their children opposed to support.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The council has arrangements to meet the needs of children with additional support needs in early learning and childcare.
5769	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Sounds sensible....but theres no detail in this statement....does using all resources mean that some children will be asked to travel for early learning , or does it mean that skilled staff will be deployed where the need is greatest ?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will retain its practice of offering early learning and childcare a reasonable distance from each child's home.
5770	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	make sure you have the staff to be able to offer this - also appropriate facilities and resources and space	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Staffing and physical resources will be considered as part of the implementation plan for the expansion of early learning and childcare.
5771	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	It is important that 1140 hours funding follows the child and gives parents a choice as well as then being able to deliver flexible high quality childcare. The council will also need to invest in new staff to accommodate these flexible hours as well as up to date training for their current team to ensure all national policies and best practice can be adhered to. Where vulnerable twos are concerned council staff working in local authority nurseries will therefore need to be trained in the pre-birth to three curriculum and be aware of the importance of attachments within the first three years of a child's life. As above the teams could be led by a graduate as opposed to a teacher	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	This will be considered as part of the implementation plan for the expansion of early learning and childcare.
5772	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Flexibility needed. Why not give vouchers that can be used across nursery providers locally?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	The funding framework will be set nationally by the Scottish Government.
5773	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	if this proposal will help deliver a good service then yes I agree.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. 5774	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	There is no outline in this statement saying how you are going to make sure the resources are available whilst redesigning the support within the business model.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Staffing and physical resources will be considered as part of the implementation plan for the expansion of early learning and childcare.
5775	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Like this idea, closer relationships with primary schools	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to making early learning and childcare available which is integrated to the local primary school through the 3-18 curriculum
5776	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Make parents more accountable in their contribution.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	The expansion of early learning and childcare is a national government initiative.
5777	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	1,140 hours of early learning seems excessive, but that's what we're stuck with, so looking at ways to save money whilst taking on this new responsibility seems sensible. 5787	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This is a decent idea in that the nurseries will wrk closely with schools and integration etc will be better however more needs to be done on the education and teaching side of nursery. 5791	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	For the future workforce, it is essential that children leave school to a positive destination where they can evolve into well rounded individuals with experience as well as qualifications therefore benefiting the working environment. By intervening early in a child's life, you can stop the cycle of deprivation hitting these children and thereby promoting equality for all children. To do this, you cannot detract from education by adversely affecting teacher numbers or by adversely affecting the staff:student ratio.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. 5794	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Resources available for early learning and childcare must be focused on the outcomes of the families involved. It will be entirely possible to redesign this service to ensure savings are made but offered a reduced outcomes to those families using the service. If outcomes for families are met then the best possible use of the resource will be made. To focus on service and delivery is a short sighted approach and loses sight of the outcomes that the provision of additional support is designed for. The council must take care not to create a new system that is unworkable for families intending to use the additional childcare.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. 5795	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	More flexible childcare could enable parents to work if they wanted, care during school holidays and extended hours would be needed. This would have to be looked at with the child's best interest at heart. It poses the question that do young children benefit from being separated from principle care givers for long periods of time? What if someone wants to be a "stay at home parent", how will they be supported?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. 5803	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Research suggest that there should be a greater investment in childcare/early years in order to provide supports and interventions at the earliest opportunity to remediate the development lag of those children from less advantageous backgrounds. The taper in investment in learning should be greatest at EY reducing through primary and being lowest at upper secondary (c.f Finland and Canada and Namibia - all proven successful POLITICAL choices - not those of arithmetic driven accountants).WLC should demand of their CPP partners that they fulfil their statutory/expert duties as best possible ensuring that universal offers are such e/g. not 'missing 25% (528 children) a year in their development assessments.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
5804	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Parents need to take a larger role in the care of their offspring. I did, my extended family, friends and colleagues do. Society is broken when there is A£5.2 Million to be SAVED in the councils budget for child care - which should NOT be their responsibility in the first place.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government.
5805	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	While we all appreciate the value of early learning. In my view it is a parents right and duty to spend time with their children in the formative years. I do not feel providing full time early learning is the most appropriate way forward for most children.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government.
5806	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I think the national priority to provide increased provision in early years will result in a "watered down" service which will not match current provision. I think having a national priority to raise attainment will not be supported by removing qualified teachers from our nurseries. What will be provided is free child care, not quality learning experiences which will ultimately have a positive impact on attainment for all children.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government.
5807	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Although I am completely for better child care provision for early years I feel education at this stage is being viewed as free childcare rather than an importance placed on educational benefits.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
5808	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Nursery provision is essential to provide children and families with the fundamentals pre school..i.e socialization, providing educational building blocks, introduction to core subjects.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
5809	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Too much offered and often additional hours taken up by parents who don't need it for work or retraining often used by parents, the long hours make it difficult for staff who have their own children .	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government.
5810	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I support the national commitment - but they need to make sure the funding is in place to deliver this commitment. If WLC needs to deliver more early learning and childcare hours, how has an estimated saving been identified. Don't understand this proposal.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The proposals will reduce costs in service delivery, but additional funding from the Scottish Government will be utilised to support the service expansion.
5811	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Early years is a high importance and should not be cut	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
5812	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Should be trying to reach more eligible 2's by more ground work speaking to people at the centre helping to complete forms etc.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Although this is already done, opportunities to do it better will be explored.
5813	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Is it childcare or education we want to provide?? Decide - incentivise childminders, playgroups and the private sector (most children do not thrive in a busy nursery school environment in any case) get businesses on board - surely they would benefit from reduced absence, recruitment and training costs if they invested in facilities for their staffs children. Put teachers back into nurseries - tie them in with local playgroups and childminders to achieve valuable synergies??	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
5814	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	There is no consistency when nursery nurses are being replaced with support workers. Just a cheaper replacement but still expected to tick the same boxes.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
5815	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Agree with this opportunity to review and change. This point doesn't clarify anything further.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. 5816	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	As an early years worker and working closely with eligible 2 year olds I don't understand how the council intend to save money in early years when they are doubling the amount of hours a 2,3 and 4 year old receive at nursery. Surely you will be recruiting staff needing resources and looking at how establishments can achieve this and this takes money! Children at this age should have a balance of education and being with care givers, Doubling the hours is not the answer.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals will reduce costs in service delivery, but additional funding from the Scottish Government will be utilised to support the service expansion. Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government.
5817	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Not increasing the early years 1140 hours would be a start. Early years do not have to be at nursery for 6 hours per day. Having 2 disabled nephews and my sister receiving Cla and having the boys picked up in taxis and both getting free meals. I'm sure my sister and other families as she receives more money for having disabled children could afford to subsidise her own children's packed lunches or dinners.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government.
5818	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Childcare should be free for working parents of 2 year olds. Love Parents who are not working are at home getting benefits to look after their children -income support.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government. The Council has increased flexibility and choice to benefit working parents.
5819	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	See above. Also priority for increased early years provision should be given to working parents.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government. The Council has increased flexibility and choice to benefit working parents.
5820	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Emphasis on providing quality of early learning is not only cost effective, but has been proven to raise productivity and enhance general health as part of long term future planning.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	West Lothian Council recognises the benefit of Early Learning and Childcare.
5821	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Parents should take responsibility for raising their children and I do not agree that the rest of society is responsible for providing paid child care for other people's very young children.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government.
5822	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Availability of affordable childcare (and the impact on employment of parents) is of concern, but the approach taken by Westminster does not encourage long-term solutions in this area. Focus should be on provision, even if this lessens the savings in this area	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5823	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This is something that needs to be very carefully thought through. Will these new hours be taken up? are they cost effective? how will they be staffed? and most importantly do they meet the needs of the CHILDREN??	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government. Additional investment in staff and facilities will be made utilising additional funding to be made available by the Scottish Government.
5824	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Really? Child care is paramount to enabling a large section of the population gain employment and support the economy. Without this or reducing this will have a large impact on the ability of parents to get back into the workforce whilst their child or children are young or at school. Again, without the detail required, I can only assume that you are thinking of reducing this service and cannot therefore, comment any further.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
5825	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The issue is not provide policies to get public support but don't look at the cost implications	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. The comment does not propose any specific action.
5826	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	As long as parents do not have hours taken away for early learning as this means they may not be able to work due to childcare issues. More people not working can surely only negatively impact the community and make West Lothian look poor in this area compared to surrounding areas.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision. Increased hours will be provided.
5827	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Not very clear how you are going to achieve the saving. As long as the quality and accessibility of early learning and childcare don't suffer, it's a good way to save.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The proposals will reduce costs. Additional investment in staff and facilities will be made utilising additional funding to be made available by the Scottish Government.
5828	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I do not feel that changing early education would benefit any future endeavours if the children and their opportunities they have are cut	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision. Increased hours will be provided.

5829	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	We should means test early childcare.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. 5830	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Nursery teachers are essential to the quality of the education!	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The implementation plan will include a workforce plan which will assess and deliver the appropriate staff to each nursery.
5831	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	It concerns me that nursery classes are not always run by a qualified teacher (although I know some very good support workers who do a good job). If we are serious about improving the early years and Closing the Gap we need to engage those parents with learning activities to allow them to view education in a more positive manner.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision. Increased hours will be provided.
5832	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Nurseries need teachers to lead the learning. Teachers are trained and equipped to deal with meeting the needs of all learners and can provide support & challenge where required. Removing teachers from nurseries will lead to children not being able to reach their own personal potential.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The implementation plan will include a workforce plan which will assess and deliver the appropriate staff to each nursery.
5833	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Pupils are already starting secondary school with reading ages of 6 and 7. This is totally unacceptable and only goes to exacerbate the attainment gap problems. Reducing provisions in early learning will make this problem worse not better.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision. Increased hours will be provided.
5834	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	If the council will 'make sure that all resources available for early learning and childcare are appropriately used to support service delivery' why haven't they been doing this before now and how is it £1.5 Million can be saved all of a sudden? Have those responsible to date for making sure of these matters suddenly had an epiphany? Details?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5835	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I do believe that the Council has not helped itself by focussing on provision of care within Council services rather than working effectively with private sector partners who have suffered job cuts and financial hardship as a result. This model should change.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	West Lothian Council has extremely efficient early learning and childcare, as it does not rely on high cost private sector providers, as is the case in many other areas of Scotland.
5836	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	There is a big difference in the quality of early learning and childcare that can be provided by a nursery nurse compared to a pupil support worker. Nursery nurses have a deep knowledge of child development and learning that pupil support workers don't have. I am concerned that nursery teachers are being removed from nurseries and support staff are being increasingly used to cover staffing gaps.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The implementation plan will include a workforce plan which will assess and deliver the appropriate staff to each nursery.
5837	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Please do not sacrifice school attainment for universal childcare provision - people who can already afford to use private nurseries will have free childcare at the expense of older children.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government.
5838	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	There is no doubt that the provision of childcare should be a top priority although there would appear to be an imbalance between any cutbacks and a rapidly increasing population as shown in the National Statistics predictions for the next ten years. Again I would hope that officials can work hand-in-glove with Head teachers in the implementation of their management of nursery provision in associated(?) primary schools.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
5839	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Stop giving free childcare you have the children you look after them and feed them, why should other people take care of your children.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government.
5840	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I simply do not understand, why unemployed people with children receive free childcare, where working couples have to pay for such service. Stop giving away money to such people and give more to disabled ones and you still have thousands of pounds in your pocket.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government.

5841	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I would comment that early learning and childcare is a minefield for parents and when considering the impact this can have on family life, it is important to get this right. Early learning provision needs to be prioritised to those who need it most, as far as national commitments will allow. There seems to be great promises to deliver early learning and childcare to those on low incomes and whilst I can understand the rationale behind this being to encourage parents to move into or to increase employment - there is little incentive or support for those parents already in employment! An example being the prospect of two working parent family having to opt to keep their child in private nursery beyond the age of 3, despite an entitlement to, as well as some financial need, for state nursery provision, due is largely due to the fact that there is no priority given to nursery hours required by working parents over non-working parents. I also believe that nursery provision is not clearly managed/ facilitated by either the nursery's or pupil placement with various points of crossover creating confusion, delay, extra workload and often mistakes to be made - all of which ultimately result in increased costs on the council.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government. The Council has increased flexibility and choice for working parents. Centralised placement contributes to the very low costs of the service in West Lothian.
5842	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Will this saving have a negative impact on children and young people with varying disabilities. Has an equality impact assessment been completed for this saving. The council have not made each of the proposals very clear and no specifics, savings appear to be estimated, what is the clear background information relating to each saving, what are the staff/employee implications as well the implications for service users and the community.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The Council has a statutory duty to meet the needs of all children, including those with a disability, and will continue to do so.
5843	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	You say that you are committed to early learning and childcare and yet reduce nursery teachers to .5. Research has shown that the quality of early years provision is directly related to the educational level of the staff delivering it. Clearly, the local authority chooses to ignore this finding as early years learning and child care provision is increasingly staffed by those with fewer qualifications and consequently less knowledge and understanding of pedagogy. Economically it makes more sense to invest more in early years and early intervention rather than pick up the pieces later.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The implementation plan will include a workforce plan which will assess and deliver the appropriate staff to each nursery.
5844	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I think the standard sessions are enough for early years children. They are given opportunities to create bonds with peers in small doses and are beginning to wean themselves from parents in preparation for school. Not to be babysat. Some parents actually enjoy spending time with their children and longer hours is just encouraging parents to have more "free time".	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government.
5845	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I am not in agreement to the extra hours I feel this is not being used for working parents and is being used for the wrong reasons.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government.
5846	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	More money is needed to support families before their child enters nursery. If you can support these families when their children are younger, they won't come to nursery/school with as many problems as they currently have. We need more health visitors visiting Home rather than putting the pressure on school nurseries and HT.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Greater integration of children's services is a positive suggestion for officers and partner agencies to consider.
5847	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Early learning and care will be increased from 600 to 1140 hours in 2020. Increasing the entitlement will require a substantially larger workforce, significant investment in infrastructure, and new, innovative models of delivery. With this in mind how will the money be saved? .	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The proposals will reduce costs. Additional investment in staff and facilities will be made utilising additional funding to be made available by the Scottish Government.
5848	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Further, is the council proposing integrating a full 10 hour 250 day nursery service? How is the new service to be integrated with current private sector nursery providers? There are too many unknowns to answer this question. Come up with a workable model and ask again.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5849	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I have had a very positive experience with early learning with my own child. I would like to see the standard continue.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
5850	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Allow all early years services to remain the same level but under the control of central government and the school. Remove all local authority services	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	The Scottish Government has determined that local authorities are best placed to take responsibility for this service.
5851	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Agree with this but the extra 'hours' have not always been user friendly for parents, therefore not used..is it a waste of time...sounds good but it was always a way to get parents to 'feel good ' about current administration at government level. 5856	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	It is important that consistency of service is agreed at some stage but priority should be given to those areas with most need i.e. where there is a lack of affordable or quality private care. What assistance will head teachers be given to allow them to focus efforts on this and how to effectively manage new budgets/spending powers?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. 5863	An individual	1d. Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Hours and eligibility are set by the Scottish Government. West Lothian Council has increased full day provision and will continue to do so.
5864	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Parents should be paying for this service rather than being subsidised by tax payers who don't have children. After all these parents already receive tax credits from the government and they should be using this money to pay for nursery care	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government.
5865	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Parents need to feel responsible for their children's development, I do appreciate the need to support them in this however is it really the best use of taxpayer's money?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government.
5866	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Parents are being led to believe that the best start for their children is to increase the number of hours in nursery. I believe that this is undermining the role of the family and credit should be given to the valuable learning which happens at home. It's not true to say that every or even most children need these additional hours.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. 5867	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Ridiculous proposal - how on earth do you expect a 3 year old to cope with almost 22 hours per week . In addition, has anyone actually worked out how much this initiative will cost as the additional resource to deliver will be considerable The estimated saving quoted is laughable !	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. Costings have been undertaken, and submitted to the Scottish Government, which will then decide on resources available to fund expansion. At the same time the Council has calculated that it is possible to provide the service, including the expanded service, in a more efficient way. Hours of attendance are set by the Scottish Government, and offered to parents, they are not compulsory. The estimated saving is achievable, the proposal sound.
5868	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This should be arranged in the most efficient way. Cuts may be needed to achieve this.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. 5873	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Nursery education always seems to be another easy target for cuts, this seems like an area which is being unfairly marginalised.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. 5876	An individual	1d. Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	All but three nurseries are run by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.

5879	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	There should be adequate provision for working parents. Staffing levels should be maintained to provide good pre school care and education.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision. Flexibility to support working parents has increased.
5880	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	It is widely acknowledged that the first five years of a child's life are the most crucial in terms of learning and development. I understand that the electorate respond well to policies promising more childcare provided by the government, however, this has led to nurseries turning into crèches with the learning aspect stripped out of them. I believe that the provision of extra hours is unhealthy for children who spend hours and hours away from their families. This will impact on the bonds and attachments that they form with their families which will affect their whole lives and places stress on not only the children but also the staff who are already stretched to their limits and underpaid.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Early Learning is not childminding. Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. 5881	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I am concerned what level of care / learning opportunities that children will receive by a £1.5 million reduction - this does not make sense considering Early Intervention as a Key Priority?! 5882	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	You say that early learning and care will be increased from 600 to 1140 hours in 2020. so more teachers, significant investment in infrastructure, and new, innovative models of delivery including perhaps a full 10 hour 250 day nursery service. I am concerned that this will cost rather than save money, and your mission statement is ambiguous, either intentionally or not.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The proposals will save money through greater efficiency but at the same time additional investment will be made to expand the service.
5883	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Fine words that are difficult to disagree with. What does it mean at the coal face? Where will the £1.5M actually come from?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The proposals will save money through greater efficiency but at the same time additional investment will be made to expand the service.
5884	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The provision of free childcare hours is vital to allow parents to return to work and contribute their taxes to society. Childcare hours must take work patterns into account, as short time slots spread across different days are impossible for most working parents to utilise, given that most people have to commute to their work place.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision. Flexibility to support working parents has increased.
5885	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	With the increase in early learning services that will come through doubling the hours provided by the council, this seems a sensible option to make savings while improving the level of service.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. This is the purpose of the proposals.
5886	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This comment applies to many sections in this document - anywhere where the words 'redesign', 'rationalisation', 'restructure' 'streamlining' are included. The saving is given but not the current spend, or the cost required to achieve the 4 million, or the time for return on investment. I am puzzled that after 10 years of cuts the service is thought to still have enough fat to achieve this saving without impact on service. There is a lot of building going on in WL. If the current funding (even with the resulting increase in council tax) is not sufficient to cater for the increased population this expansion should be stopped, or the developers charged to cover the cost.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5887	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	If this means also being able to use private nursery and registered childminding facilities to deliver this commitment, then I would welcome this proposal.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The proposal is to make best use of existing resources.
5888	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	There should be more focus on early intervention for children with additional support needs, such as autism spectrum disorder; including the roll out of courses to help parents support their child's development. This should be made available to children under the age of 3 years, as the earliest intervention is critical.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The proposal is not about services for children with additional support needs.
5889	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	More integration of nursery and primary schools	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. This is the purpose of the proposals.
5890	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Early years provision in my opinion is a top priority. Getting it right for every child will surely reduce pressure on services in the future. Mental health and psychological problems might be reduced along with addiction issues which in my opinion will reduce pressure on all services. I think this needs to be our starting point if we are going to build resilient communities for the future.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
5891	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Again, staff are having to take on unrealistic workloads and the removal of early years teachers is short sighted as they make a difference for young children. The evidence is clear that teacher-led provision leads to better outcomes for children.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The implementation plan will include a workforce plan which will ensure suitably qualified staff matched to each setting.

5892	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I absolutely believe that every pound spend on children education or protection now is several pounds that the taxpayer will not have to pay in the future. Early learning, childcare, social services, schools . . . etc are all necessary and I don't think any further cuts in these areas can be justified. I remember a polish flatmate who absolutely love the fact that she could pretty much pick and chose any job she wanted in certain areas of Glasgow. When I asked why/how she explained that the people looking for jobs in these areas were so badly educated that even with her poor english speaking she was still a better choice for employers in the area. While I was a retail manager for a few years in Edinburgh I was also regularly shocked by the poor education and manners displayed by some of the british young job seekers and had to use non-local staff on many occasions. I remember using nearly 80% foreign employees on one occasion to cover the extra needed three months before christmas as the british applicants were just awful. No communication skills, no manners, no education. Foreigners who could barely speak english were a better choice!	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has put forward proposals across the whole range of its activities.
5893	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I think that the money would be better spent on training the parents to take an interest in their children's school work. It reads well but words are cheap.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The forthcoming Education Bill will increase school responsibility for parental engagement.
5894	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Funding should be given to provide early intervention to families. The education role of early learning settings should be kept at the centre and parents should be supported to make sure their child's health needs are met through outside agencies. BCore staffing rather than shift working should be maintained to allow children to develop vital attachments in their early years.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
5895	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The withdrawal of teachers from early years provision will have an impact on the quality of this sector. 5898	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Again, this is totally out of sync with any kind of research around the early years. It is proven that these are the most important stages in a child's development and they already receive a pittance compared to, say, higher education. Please, please reconsider cuts to early learning and child care. The work done in this area is extremely good value.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
5899	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I don't believe teachers should be removed from Early Years/Nursery classes. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The implementation plan will include a workforce plan which will ensure suitably qualified staff matched to each setting.

5902	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	West Lothian council unashamedly ignores the childcare problem for parents of disabled children. They offer no financial support to ventures like The Tree Club to enable parents to continue to work full time and pay their taxes. In short talk of further cuts is a disgrace.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The proposal is not about services for children with additional support needs.
5903	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	To ensure consistency robust monitoring will be needed.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. 5907	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	1D) The National commitment to deliver 1140 additional hours of early learning and childcare is despicable. People have children to look after them. It should not be the job of nurseries to rear children until they reach school age, this is Parental responsibility. 5919	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I would prefer that the core years of children's education (P1 - S6 and in particular the secondary school years) are prioritized. I'm slightly surprised at the commitment played out here as this is seen, for many, as free child care for the parents rather than a demonstrable benefit for the child. 5923	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Early years services need to be effective and give children the best start in life and education, helping them to attain better and to live in a more healthy environment. Reductions in such services would seriously impact and potentially undo good work by practitioners and the centres. Consistency of offer is a great ideal however each centre and community have their own issues so they need to be afforded flexibility to allow them to respond appropriately to the need of the children and families in their care. Increasing burdens on head teachers further is not the answer to making budget cuts at the centre. Early years services are a crucial intervention and access point for vulnerable families, a review needs to examine this carefully and be sure that reduction is the right way forward. Does the budget cut outweigh the needs of those vulnerable families.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. 5925	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	It was felt that although there is a statutory requirement to provide early years education from 2 years, a lot of our children only received a few hours, a few days a week and this was not to their detriment. Perhaps the Scottish government need to reassess their commitment and if they won't find the funding to allow councils to carry this out.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. Eligibility and hours are set nationally.
5926	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Nursery Education has ceased to be an education, it's merely become an extension of child care. Over worked and under paid Nursery nurses cannot cope as it stands.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
5927	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Each Primary school should have childcare provision from 1 year. This would be paid for by the parent as they would pay for private nursery but because the child would be able to attend playgroup and then nursery with wrap around care, paid for by the parent, this would give consistency of care for the child, would be a pathway to school and would provide the school with income.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours are set nationally. The Council cannot charge for core Early Learning and Childcare.
5928	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	We need to ensure that our youngest children get the best start possible. Any cuts in Nursery provision will impact negatively.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has put forward proposals across the whole range of its activities.
5929	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Parents should supply the money, if not they shouldn't have children-responsibility! Why	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. 5931	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Does consistency of service, cover staff needed to help children in nursery with learning difficulties, on top of teaching children to go to the toilet, showing children how to eat, teaching children words helping them to speak, dealing with tantrums and changing nappies. Over and above the usual day to day running of a nursery.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The implementation plan will include a workforce plan which will ensure suitably qualified staff matched to each setting.
5932	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	As above - lets have a root and branch review of the service and delivery. It isn't necessary to increase costs when efficiencies can be identified. A business approach is what is needed to ensure the correct spending on items needed is controlled.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. This is the purpose of the proposals.
5933	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I think that this is an area where savings can be made. I think so much free nursery provision is unnecessary in my experience- I think there needs to be clear evidence that this is cost-effective. I am unclear how the council can influence this if it is a government directive though.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours are set nationally. The Council cannot charge for core Early Learning and Childcare.
5934	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Early learning should be integrated into an efficient model of schools provision, giving a continuum of education. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
5935	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Part of the problem is that some children are 'neglected' by their parents as they do not know how to look after them.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Promoting parenting skills remains important.
5936	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Redesigning the early learning and childcare system is an excellent way of supporting families for getting back into work, however if this is to go ahead to help with the employment figures, then reducing essential services such as Educational Psychology will be reducing the supports available for early intervention. Providing early intervention with interventions such as parenting programmes (for support), assessments for additional support needs and training in areas such as trauma and attachment, help to minimize supports required later on in a child's life, which could have a significant beneficial impact to the councils expenditure in years to come.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council intends to implement the proposal relating to educational psychology whilst still fulfilling its duty to meet the needs of every child.
5937	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Again use of volunteers ,retired teachers etc	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	5c. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is not consistent with the council's values and priorities.	The implementation plan will include a workforce plan which will ensure suitably qualified staff matched to each setting.
5938	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Quality Early Years Learning is essential, a review of these services is welcomed, as reviews can identify efficiencies, however, cuts cannot lead to a reduction in quality or availability of services, as this will have an impact upon the future education and welfare of our children.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
5939	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Do parents have no responsibility for early teaching and childcare? Why is it assumed that government should increasingly supply said services whilst parental child responsibility and care is reduced?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. 5940	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	How much are staff who are delivering the service being involved in its re-design? They have a lot of knowledge to offer, which I don't. Do not include only managers in re-design plans. This is true for all points.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Implementation will be informed by staff engagement.
5941	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	However for the early learning and childcare hours to have a positive impact on children and families they have to be flexible to respond to the very real needs of families, and can then also have a positive impact on other priority areas such as employment and reducing poverty.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
5942	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Where is the context. Are you already providing in excess of this? What does it mean? Is moving it internally to associated primary schools cheaper and there will implications for private providers.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	All but three nurseries are run by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
5943	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	We would be keen to encourage West Lothian council to utilise all provision for council delivery and maintain jobs and help to get displaced staff qualified for the additional posts required. 5946	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. 5947	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Please see my response to 1b.I do not currently have a personal stake in education services and feel unable to comment on how things may be improved. Educational attainment is key in addressing inequalities and other social issues and I do not support any change that leads to fewer chances for young people in West Lothian. I therefore support rationalisation where this addresses duplication and achieves administrative efficiencies rather than measures that would cut activities of direct benefit to children and young adults	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
5948	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Simply Play would welcome the opportunity for increased partnership working, in childcare and play provision, through co-production of new/expanded services, in order to meet the increasing demands of the sector and to meet Government's targets. A more co-ordinated, strategic approach would reduce potential duplication and/or competition, eg. Wraparound and out of school care. This would maximise the opportunities from Simply Play's best practice model, which has already been recognised for delivering on quality, flexibility, affordability and accessibility across West Lothian. To maintain out of school care provision across West Lothian it is essential that Council continues its practice of not charging community-based out of school care groups for lets in schools and community centres. This recognises the essential nature of this provision and its significant economic and community impact in enabling parents to maintain their employment and bring in Millions of pounds to West Lothian's economy.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your response. 5954	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	As long as there is oversight by the Council ensuring minimum safe standards of provision.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Robust oversight will remain, to the maximum extent allowed by the Scottish Government when funding follows the child is introduced.
5955	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The National commitment to deliver 1140 additional hours of early learning and childcare is despicable. People have children to look after them. It should not be the job of nurseries to rear children until they reach school age, this is Parental responsibility. The money would be better spent educating the parents on proper parenting skills and those parents identified as needing this and refusing it should be referred to Social Services or risk having their family allowance payments stopped. 5956	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Broxburn Family Centre would like to maximise the opportunities for partnership working, in family learning, early years, play provision and childcare for our most vulnerable families. Across the sector we have the expertise and relationships with local people and the wider community, to continue to deliver best practice and reduce any opportunities for duplication, thus delivering best value for all. There are key issues around parenting, early childhood development and a widening attainment gap in schools that need the support of local community organisations to effectively address. Through working together we can continue to be an effective partner in addressing these issues.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Officers will consider how the expertise of existing family centre staff can contribute to the expanded early learning and childcare service.
5957	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Meeting the national level of childcare provision is a must but the focus should be on the quality of education these young people are receiving, something which will become increasingly more difficult with a stretched and under pressure workforce. 5958	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Personally I think there should be childcare provision for families who need the support, but other families would be better looking after the children themselves - I realize this is central government issue but I think we are pushing people back to work too fast as a society this is detrimental to healthy families. Childcare allowance for stay at home mums should be introduced instead. We should be proud to bring up our own children.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. 5959	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	A focus on getting the right support and resources in place in the early years, to enable school readiness and attainment will alleviate the pressures of the other priorities identified later in life, enabling a more robust and resilient population which is less reliant on council services in West Lothian in the future. 5979	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Early learning and childcare will be increased from 600 to 1140 hours in 2020. Increasing the entitlement will require a substantially larger workforce, significant investment in infrastructure, and new, innovative models of delivery. With this in mind how will the money be saved? Further, is the council proposing integrating a full 10 hour 250 day nursery service? How is the new service to be integrated with current private sector nursery providers? There are too many unknowns to answer this questions.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	West Lothian policy is designed to ensure the highest quality provision, with clear transition through the early stage of curriculum for excellence.
5993	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Again councils going round in circles. Nurseries do what they are told to do. They have children attending now with nappies, speech problems, behavioural problems, no social skills, dietary problems, eyesight, hearing problems, family issues. These need addressed and not by restructuring.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The proposals are not designed to address the issues raised. The council already has a duty to meet the needs of every child.
5994	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	There looks to be new costs here; rather than savings. Consistency costs money especially where delivery is 'devolved'	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals are designed to reduce not increase expenditure. Overall costs in Early Learning and Childcare will rise as the service expands.
5995	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The Scottish Government will need to commit to increased staffing with the introduction of 1140 hours as this will ultimately lead to more staff being employed to meet these demands which ultimately will lead to greater funding levels being put in place for nurseries.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The proposals are designed to reduce not increase expenditure. Overall costs in Early Learning and Childcare will rise as the service expands.
5996	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	As I understand it, the 1140 hours is an increase. This does not explain how that increase will be achieved, nor where 'savings' are coming from. This provision is fundamentally important and should be fully supported.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The proposals are designed to reduce not increase expenditure. Overall costs in Early Learning and Childcare will rise as the service expands.
5997	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Nursery provision is good in West Lothian and should continue to be so.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Current council practice designed to maximise quality of provision, consistency of delivery of the 3-18 curriculum, effective early intervention, effective transition and best value.
5998	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	How will you meet targets such as attainment and closing the gap if you effectively reduce the quality of this service?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Current council practice designed to maximise quality of provision, consistency of delivery of the 3-18 curriculum, effective early intervention, effective transition and best value.
5999	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The West Lothian policy to deliver funded nursery places via school placements is to be commended. However only if this offers flexibility to working parents. I note that wraparound care charging has changed from by the hour (even if the service was only open for part of the hour) to per session. The addition of the pilot scheme and 2 full days at nursery is welcome. How will West Lothian deliver the additional funded nursery places. Is this to be via school placements or will it be supplemented by funding private nursery placements? If there are to be extensions to school nurseries to accommodate the additional places how and when will this be delivered?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Current council practice designed to maximise quality of provision, consistency of delivery of the 3-18 curriculum, effective early intervention, effective transition and best value, with a focus on making best use of existing resources. Additional resources are expected from the Scottish Government to increase provision.
6000	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I believe nursery is where children learn to socialise mainly through play. Over the last few years there has been an increase in the amount of work/observations the staff in nurseries have had to do. I would rather the staff concentrated their time teaching the children through play instead of trying to get observations. School is when they start to learn through work.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The proposals do not affect the range of activities undertaken in nurseries.

6001	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Do not know a lot about this but I think it should not be necessary to provide free child care for under 3s	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	West Lothian Council will meet its statutory duty to secure 1140 hours of free early learning and childcare for every parent who requests it. Statutory Guidance requires provision for eligible 2s.
6002	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I do not know enough about early learning changes, however, I understand that West Lothian Council are committed to giving the children and families a better start in life and consistency of service delivery will help to improve this. Current council practice designed to maximise quality of provision, consistency of delivery of the 3-18 curriculum, effective early intervention, effective transition and best value.
6003	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The council should not become a 'nanny state'. Parents (in the main) decide to have children - they should live with the consequences rather than burdening everyone.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	The provision of Early Learning and Childcare is statutory.
6004	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Statement is unclear how Â£1.5 million savings can be made without creating cuts to delivering services to children and their families. Staffing cuts will impact on the consistency of existing nurseries and childcare arrangements.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. 6005	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Again as a parent early intervention is key. I wouldn't want my daughter going to an institution where they were not receiving the best early care and education. Another must keep.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. Current council practice designed to maximise quality of provision, consistency of delivery of the 3-18 curriculum, effective early intervention, effective transition and best value, with a focus on making best use of existing resources.
6006	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Is the implication here is that you will remove assisted places at private nurseries? Or is it that you will remove Headteachers from Council Nursery Schools? (I feel I would be better placed to respond with this clarified.)	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Current council practice designed to maximise quality of provision, consistency of delivery of the 3-18 curriculum, effective early intervention, effective transition and best value, with a focus on making best use of existing resources.
6007	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	reduce nursery teachers and have senior nursery nurses instead.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The proposals seek to identify the most appropriate staffing and management arrangements for early learning and childcare.
6008	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Childcare provision to designed around supporting parents to be able to work and enter the world of work after having a children. Hours and options for childcare to be devised around the needs of the children and support parents accessing jobs.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Early Learning and Childcare has a strong focus on ensuring that young people have the best possible start in life, in line with Council values.
6009	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Universal provision seems inconsistent with prioritising support for those families who are most disadvantaged. Is there evidence to support even the current level of spend on EL&C?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Statutory guidance requires universal provision to be offered. Parents are not compelled to accept this offer of provision.
6010	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Unrealistic to provide this support for everyone , Nursery teaching is the foundation of a good education. This will turn our nurseries into cr�ches and puts unnecessary strain on the staff . Far too many changes and I assume people are getting paid to come up with this , ,	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Statutory guidance requires universal provision to be offered. 6011	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	for those employed in he childcare/education sector, salaries do not reflect the amount of work and responsibility they are asked to take on. Better salary would attract better quality of staff and boost morale. early years are important but we need to back up policy with staff support and salaries.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The ELC expansion plan will include a workforce plan setting out the skills required by staff to deliver high quality ELC.
6012	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Using Family Centres to their full potential, ie,affordable childcare for working families which will also generate an income for them to help with running costs. Savings could be made on the cr�che facility that is used for group work, as currently if the cr�che staff are not required they need to be given a weeks notice, if not they are still paid. Any other agency staff are given 24 hours notice, savings could be made here?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Officers will examine potential synergies between family centres and the provision of ELC.
6013	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Should be looked at.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted

6014	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I think that the recent pilot of offering two full days rather than mornings or afternoons has been a fantastic resource to parents within West Lothian. I think this should be offered throughout West Lothian. Good quality childcare benefits the child and childcare that is flexible and allows the parents to work supports parents to work. Previously parents had to be reliant on private provision due to inflexibility in the council nurseries. This is changing and is something that should continue.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council will continue to expand this service in response to positive reaction from parents, and demand for other areas of West Lothian.
6015	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	1,140 hours is not always achievable , its high cost and people use it for baby sitting rather than educational . 6020	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Early learning always get hit the most , which costs parents even more money , we need early learning to socialize and get kids ready for school	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. Current council practice designed to maximise quality of provision, consistency of delivery of the 3-18 curriculum, effective early intervention, effective transition and best value, with a focus on making best use of existing resources. 6021	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Being able to combine pre school nursery hours with paid childcare for working parents ie wraparound was ideal when our children were at nursery and hopefully this set up will continue to be available to parents in West Lothian.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Wraparound care will continue to be available where sufficient demand exists. The Council has expanded this service.
6022	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	You don't say what the redesign is. It's worrying that you seek a reduction when required to meet a national commitment. Why not exceed the commitment. If you fail at this provision you will fail in education, falter in education and contribute to further deprivation, crime, poverty and unemployment. I vote against any cuts in nursery provision, and prefer an investment in services.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals are designed to reduce not increase expenditure. Overall costs in Early Learning and Childcare will rise as the service expands.

6024	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I think that no cuts should be made to early learning ad childcare. All support and funding and additional support is always best. The early years for our children is very important and the correct support should be given to the children, parents and staff.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. 6026	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Can details of this plan be published for interested parties to view electronically and/or hardcopy? What will the impact be on the Primary Head Teachers with this level of increase in pupil and staff numbers, both from a managerial and administrative perspective? What other staffing will be put into place to support the Primary Head Teacher? What will the HT's estimated time reduction be in matters dealing with their Primary School Pupils? 6027	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I believe early learning investment should be concentrated where the need is greatest and be means tested. For example, working parents who can afford to pay contributions for early years, should be contributing towards this agenda.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	West Lothian Council will meet its statutory duty to secure 1140 hours of free early learning and childcare for every parent who requests it. Statutory Guidance prevents charging.
6028	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Personally I feel that services should only be free to those who require them to be. This does not just relate to this topic but services as a whole. Yes I understand things like everyone gets so many hours free childcare is a good news story for political parties and in many cases this is fantastic especially for those on low incomes or who are looking to get back into employment etc. but for those who are on a substantial income who are able to afford within affecting true priorities like inclusion, education, I don't see why it should be free when important services are being cut due to this.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	West Lothian Council will meet its statutory duty to secure 1140 hours of free early learning and childcare for every parent who requests it. Statutory Guidance prevents charging.
6029	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Provision needs to meet statutory obligations and not contain padding to relieve parents of basic obligations such as getting their children to the establishment made available to them.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council will continue to meet its statutory obligations. No transport to nursery will be provided.
6030	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	What impact does this have on private nurseries and thus choice for parents.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	West Lothian Council will meet its statutory duty to secure 1140 hours of free early learning and childcare for every parent who requests it. The Council expects to be able to offer a place in its own establishments to all parents who want one. Scottish Government proposals for 'money to follow the child' are not yet finalised.
6031	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This could be effective and efficient and support integration	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this. This will be facilitated by integration of ELC with school provision.
6032	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Won't there be a high initial cost involved? Making nurseries bigger to accommodate all children at 1 time, kitchens to cook lunches, more equipment for all children to have access at the same time? Are lunches going to be free like with P1-3?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals are designed to reduce not increase expenditure. Overall costs in Early Learning and Childcare will rise as the service expands. Lunches will be provided in line with statutory guidance to eligible children
6033	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	As above - Again makes sense with suitable safeguards and independent complaints procedures, so long as is suggested that there is no change in service provision.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. Access to a complaints procedure will be maintained.
6034	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I believe that including childminders in the funded provision of early years childcare in west lothian would provide parents with a better choice, more flexibility and continuity of care. For some children a blended care approach of childminder and nursery provides the best option for that particular child.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The ELC expansion plan will address this point.
6035	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Cutting teachers out of nurseries devalues what is trying to be achieved in the early years.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. 6037	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	All research points to early intervention and to the fact that more qualified staff have an impact on children's learning and development. So I find it difficult to comprehend how taking away nursery teachers from this sector of education can even be considered. It would not be tolerated in primary or secondary schools. Why are young children considered to need less qualified staff? I understand that the Scottish Government have allocated funding for 19 Early Years graduates in the most deprived areas of West Lothian. However, not all of these will be teachers, and those who are teachers will not be paid at the same salary rate or have the same kind of training. It also leads to the question of the other children in the nearly 40 nurseries who will not be allocated a graduate.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The ELC expansion plan will include a workforce plan setting out the skills required by staff to deliver high quality ELC.
6038	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Early education is vital to the success of any community, we must get it right and qualified staff are essential from early years onwards. The ELC expansion plan will include a workforce plan setting out the skills required by staff to deliver high quality ELC.
6039	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Early learning and care will be increased from 600 to 1140 hours in 2020. So more teachers, significant investment in infrastructure, and new, innovative models of delivery including perhaps a full 10 hour 250 day nursery service. How can this save money? The proposals are designed to reduce not increase expenditure. Overall costs in Early Learning and Childcare will rise as the service expands.

6041	An individual	1d. Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council has expanded this service in response to parental demand.
6042	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Nursery provision should not be free	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	West Lothian Council will meet its statutory duty to secure 1140 hours of free early learning and childcare for every parent who requests it. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The ELC expansion plan will include a workforce plan setting out the skills required by staff to deliver high quality ELC.
6044	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Let parents do childcare, it is not the function of the state. We will pass your feedback onto the relevant organisations responsible for this.
6045	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Again seems to be a lot of more workload being handed to head teachers. Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals are designed to reduce not increase expenditure. Overall costs in Early Learning and Childcare will rise as the service expands.
6047	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This does not state any method of saving money what so ever. It merely highlights the work that is being done at present and the council agreeing to make sure nationally stipulated levels of childcare are provided. Where is the magic £1.5 million coming from.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals are designed to reduce not increase expenditure. Overall costs in Early Learning and Childcare will rise as the service expands.
6048	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Providing value for money through consistency of service delivery is the key factor here. 6049	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I think this will be a good way to go only if Education in WL really can run their school as an effective business and all that entails. Giving more control to schools for their funding without them seeing themselves as business managers will be a disaster.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal. West Lothian Council is proud of the quality of its ELC provision, supported by all of the staff in the service.
6053	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The removal of primary school teachers from preschool classes should be reversed.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The ELC expansion plan will include a workforce plan setting out the skills required by staff to deliver high quality ELC.
6054	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I think 3 years old is too early for kids to be at school in the first place.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Provision of Early Learning and Childcare is a statutory requirement.
6055	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The priority in nurseries should be education with staffing to include a teacher rather than a childcare facility.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The ELC expansion plan will include a workforce plan setting out the skills required by staff to deliver high quality ELC.
6056	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This service is important to a lot of families, and probably requires more money not less !	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals are designed to reduce expenditure, but additional investment will be made to support expansion.
6057	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Strongly disagree. The money should be pumped into secondary and primary school funding and NOT nursery care and free childcare for under fives. This is not good use of the extremely limited funding (and now cuts) - a national decision I know. I would be supportive of money being diverted from under 5 age group to help fund secondary and primary schooling.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Provision of Early Learning and Childcare is a statutory requirement, as is the expansion and the provision of increased flexibility and choice. West Lothian recognises the positive impacts of ELC.
6058	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Cuts to schools should be minimised. Children are the future. Need to stop reinventing the wheel with initiatives like curriculum for excellence and focus back on the basics. There is for too much change resulting in uncertainty for children, parents and prospective employers.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has put forward proposals for budget reductions across the full range of its responsibilities.#
6059	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I don't understand this, 1,140hours for children that's parents don't work. This means more wages for the staff, more heating bills and more electricity bills.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Provision of Early Learning and Childcare is a statutory requirement, as is the expansion and the provision of increased flexibility and choice. West Lothian recognises the positive impacts of ELC.
6060	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	It is a large commitment which should include increasing staff to support the services so it is hard to see where real cost savings could be made in this area.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The proposals are designed to reduce expenditure, but additional investment will be made to support expansion.
6061	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This is extremely important. Early years are as important as S4,5 and 6	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	West Lothian recognises the positive impacts of ELC.

6062	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	To provide a suitable environment for three year olds to have essentially double the hours of nursery entitlement they currently have, a massive investment in infrastructure will be necessary. As an early years officer in a West Lothian nursery, the environment of existing buildings is not suitable for children who still require sleep during the day. I appreciate that this is a Scottish government initiative that the council must implement and that the council can only work with the resources it has however to force the staff to change their working hours, often to the detriment of their own families, is not fair. Nurseries will be offering childcare from 7.00am to 6.30pm to encourage parents to go back to work, but what happens when the child starts school? Will school hours also be changing to allow this?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Expansion will be supported by investment in both infrastructure and staffing.
6063	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I think Nursery Education is very important, but would question the need for so many hours. Surely one to one with the child's parent or guardian must be a priority. Some children will scarcely spend time with their parents. We should not be a babysitting service!	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The provision of early learning and childcare is a statutory requirement.
6064	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Would comment that this again places additional pressures on Head Teachers based on the information provided but I would have assumed that Head Teachers were involved in the running of nursery facilities associated with their school anyway. If efficiencies can be made that allow commitments to be met then this would seem to be appropriate.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	All but three nurseries are already managed by primary Headteachers. There are significant benefits in terms of continuity of delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and effective transition from ELC to primary.
6065	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Too much emphasis on early years, more should be spent in later education and not so much in early years.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The provision of early learning and childcare is a statutory requirement.
6066	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I think excellence rather than consistency should be an agenda. Our kids and society don't need consistency over excellence. Diversity might even bring more value. I do not support this strategy yet.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	West Lothian Council supports consistency of quality, and does not believe quality should be compromised. Within this consistently high quality provision, flexibility and choice is available.
6067	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This would depend on the change of how this was delivered and what types of families may benefit/may not. I would not want WLC to cut corners or savings on early learning and childcare. Speaking as a mum, it is difficult for the working class families (financially) to provide childcare with childcare costs being so expensive when other families are means tested on benefit but yet having the opportunity for free childcare places and education for their children as early as 2 years old but this is not available to working families with an income. I think if anything, money should be injected into re-design and not saved.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The proposals are designed to reduce expenditure, but additional investment will be made to support expansion.
6068	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	If they have the right ideals and outcomes for young and not too stretched	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
6069	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	will you have enough head teachers?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Staffing levels required by statute and national agreement will be maintained.
6070	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I believe early learning investment should be concentrated where the need is greatest and be means tested. For example, working parents who can afford to pay contributions for early years, should be contributing towards this agenda.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Provision of early learning and childcare is a statutory requirement, and it is not possible to charge for the statutory hours.
6071	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	If you want to "close the gap" you have to invest in early years. This is the point where the biggest impact can be made.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	West Lothian Council remains committed to early years education.
6072	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	we would have the same concerns with early years interventions as commented on before	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	West Lothian Council remains committed to early years education.
6073	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This is needed because it is a huge part of young children's life and effects there full school career and there life after, and these nursery's give the adults a change to be with children and help them at the beginning of life which is what all humans need.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	West Lothian Council remains committed to early years education.
6074	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	A vital services again with staff who are dedicated to providing the best service possible for our young children, hopefully all things have been considered including how this will effect the people who provide this service. As with any job in this sector the hours are never just school ones.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	West Lothian Council remains committed to early years education, and is proud of the quality of the service supported by dedicated staff.
6075	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I fully support further extension of early learning provision. Having a son in private nursery, i can see how much it benefits him in terms of developing social skills and being independent, each kid should have this opportunity	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted

6076	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	There needs to be considerable discussion with those who are involved in the current models; which should include questions such as 'Is the establishment fit for purpose'; are there sufficient staff members to meet the ratios? The Council should be evaluating the service with higher priority being placed on the valuing of staff members. Once again, the statement is generic and insufficient information gained to make transparent informed choices.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Expansion will be supported by investment in both infrastructure and staffing.
6077	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Why not set up the local authority early learning and childcare services as business, charging the same as the private sector. This would subsidise the free services provided as the national commitment.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Charging for wraparound care already happens.
6078	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Numerous studies have shown that young children should be with their parents/carers for as long as possible. Many parents nowadays are unable to "parent" their children. They fail to discipline properly, don't seem to realise that children need structures and boundaries and all too easily look for "professional" help to gain these skills. They have lose confidence and this money would be better spent on teaching young adults how to bring up children rather than childcare.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government. Breakfast clubs have health and wellbeing, and educational benefits.
6079	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Could voluntary and charities be used more to support this service?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council is in partnership with playgroups to deliver services to eligible 2 year olds, and will continue to explore this option.
6080	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I do not feel i can comment on this as I am unfamiliar with how nurseries operate. However I feel it is vital that any learning provider has the autonomy to make decisions for the best of their learners this means looking at their children, families and staff and acting in their interests not following a prescribed set of guidelines - across all life stages one size does not fit all.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Headteachers have a high degree of autonomy to tailor services to the needs of their school and to individual children.
6081	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	As 1A - Excellent if all of the above are carried out. However on current personally experienced performance it will take a huge effort to even provide an improvement. Further why has the "efficiency and effectiveness" not been applied to current procedures. No real criteria to be reach is actually stated and the starting point for these "efficiency and effectiveness" upgrade to services is not evident. Vagueness in targets to achieve. How will residents know when this is achieved?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Residents will know this has been achieved when any savings agreed following consultation are achieved, and service standards maintained or improved as described in the proposal.
6082	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Too much spent on nursery care,parents need to contribute more.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government.
6083	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The Curriculum for Excellence is a 3 - 18 years curriculum which should be led by teachers on a full time basis with support from nursery staff.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Expansion plan will include a workforce plan to ensure that staff are suitably equipped to deliver the expanded service. West Lothian Council is proud of the quality of its ELC provision, supported by all of the staff in the service.
6084	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	As above - Use resources to maximum effect. Cut out duplication and waste	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
6085	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I strongly believe that all 3 and 4 year old should have DAILY access to a fully qualified early years teacher. If WLC priority is early years, then retain and invest in the best staff possible.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Expansion plan will include a workforce plan to ensure that staff are suitably equipped to deliver the expanded service. West Lothian Council is proud of the quality of its ELC provision, supported by all of the staff in the service.
6086	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Early Education and Childcare is a non statutory sevice and while it is important I am firmly against the extra funding that has been reserved for the increase in hours for Nursery aged children. This extra funding could be divided between other vital services at this vulnerable time. Our Nursery Education provides a high quality service. If it isn't broken don't mess with it.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	The extension to 1140 hours is a national policy aspiration.
6087	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This sounds like staff working in Nurseries are going to have to adapt to big changes over the coming years and possibly not for the better.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Current council practice designed to maximise quality of provision, consistency of delivery of the 3-18 curriculum, effective early intervention, effective transition and best value. These principles will be maintained in the proposed service.

6088	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I believe the early years as proposed is not the correct balance. A poorer quality of education over a longer period is not a replacement for quality education/staff over a shorter period. Perhaps a better solution would be to subsidise childcare in general through private nurseries which would be paid for from the tax revenue of the families who use the facilities rather than offering free child care for those who do not need it and would be a means for having someone take their kids off their hands. Educating our children to a high standard and training them in work which is relevant to the current economic demands is what will support our economy, attract new business and drive employment and in turn would remove the burden from the state and provide a quality of life. You give a poor man a fish and you feed him for a day. You teach him to fish and you give him an occupation that will feed him for a lifetime. Tackling these issues will help solve others.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	The extension to 1140 hours is a national policy aspiration, and its implementation will be guided by statute or national guidance.
6089	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I don't believe in saving money here, why not improve provision instead?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	West Lothian Council is proud of the high quality provision in its pre-school establishments.
6090	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	As there is a national directive to increase the availability (hours) of early learning and childcare (I believe at no or reduced cost to the parents) - I am not sure how this directive for more resources and a plan to reduce the overall cost by Â£1.5 million fit together. Certainly within WLC - there is currently a mix of Private Nurseries and School based Nurseries/Early Learning centres - would the plan be to utilise both the private and state services together? I understand the expansion of the school based Nurseries has put some pressure on the private nursery sector - not sure how this "competing" element within this sector will impact the need to ramp up the available spaces and resources.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The proposals are designed to decrease expenditure, but additional expenditure will be made to support expansion, funded by the Scottish Government. West Lothian Council will continue to make best use of existing resources.

6093	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Need more information on plans = if you take teachers out of nursery classes I think that this is acceptable as nursery practitioners are highly specialised and more than capable of meeting the needs of the child.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The Expansion plan will include a workforce plan to ensure that staff are suitably equipped to deliver the expanded service. West Lothian Council is proud of the quality of its ELC provision, supported by all of the staff in the service.
6094	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I would like to see the top 3 items/specific deliverables that contribute to this redesign.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The proposal will consider: 1. ELC better integrated with primary education. 2. expansion of service. 3. appropriate staffing deployed to support ELC.
6095	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Fine if resourced and set up but will need support through transition	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. 6096	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I can't see the potential savings in this section from the description provided. The proposals are designed to decrease expenditure, but additional expenditure will be made to support expansion, funded by the Scottish Government.
6097	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Nursery children require the day time sessions. The extra hours given are they really needed. Head teachers can manage nursery and staff. A saving could be made within nursery provision by removing the extra hours given in the morning or afternoon. Breakfast clubs are the same is this the best use of monies?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. 6099	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	TUS would be keen to see the majority of nursery provision being provided by the Council. This is in line with current council practice.
6100	No Response	1d. Early Learning and childcare should not be compared to babysitting.
6101	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Early years is very important, this drive to increase kids hours is great however there is more that could be focused on! Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government. West Lothian Council recognised the benefits of ELC.
6102	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Nursery provision is already falling behind England and Wales. 6104	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The National commitment to deliver 1140 additional hours of early learning and childcare is despicable. People have children in order to look after them. It should not be the job of nurseries to rear children until they reach school age, this is Parental responsibility. The money would be better spent educating the parents on proper parenting skills and those parents identified as needing this and refusing it should be referred to Social Services or risk having their family allowance payments stopped. 6106	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The new initiative to encourage younger children to attend nursery is great. 6114	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I think the extra hours should not be a babysitting service . 6116	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Whilst the delivery of early learning and childcare no doubt has the best interests of the child at heart, it seems that the role of the parent has been replaced by the Council. All too often nurseries are being used by parents and carers as unpaid childminding services and no responsibility taken by them for the early learning of the child. Perhaps more emphasis should be placed on educating the parents/carers.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision. Working closely with parents is a positive suggestion.
6117	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I believe that children do not need to go to early childcare until they are age 4-5	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours are set nationally.
6118	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Early years provision is essential however providing breakfast and extended hours is of benefit to parents (childcare) and not of any educational benefit to children.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. 6119	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	See above - Sounds like staff reductions. This is not good.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. 6120	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	where are you going to find staff??? we are always needing PSW's and teachers - they aren't any!!!! space in schools for these children??- if you cut back anymore money from schools they will not have the right resources?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your response. 6121	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Should we integrate early years services with social care?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.
6122	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I agree that Early Years is important, however the provision for free childcare for three year olds in Nursery is killing Playgroups. Again, can this not be subsidised by parents?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours are set nationally.
6123	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Too much maybe being asked of head Teachers. Early years intervention is important though to eradicate attainment gap from the start of young lives and may offset more expensive interventions later.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	All but three nurseries are currently managed by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6124	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	deliver what the government require no more	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
6125	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Early learning is important and gives children the basic skills to set them up for school however I would say the focus should certainly be school education. It is also up to parents to learn and teach their children.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
6126	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	1d It is not clear what is to be changed so where are the savings to be made? As far as I am aware all resources for Early Learning and Childcare are already appropriately used. I can understand that it makes sense for Primary Headteachers to be responsible for local nurseries. This works well and is a continuation of changes that have already taken place.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	All but three nurseries are currently managed by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial. The proposals will reduce costs. Additional investment in staff and facilities will be made utilising additional funding to be made available by the Scottish Government.

6127	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	It is important to help young children from an early age as it can help those who are most vulnerable to achieve later in life. Money spent now is money saved later on.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
6128	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	What is being consulted on here? The first detail in this consultation is provided which is good. However, not all relevant detail is provided for me to make any actual comment on this point. Are all nurseries in West Lothian currently associated with a primary school? Will they be when there is a change? What happens to those nurseries which are not associated with a primary school? Is a primary school head teacher qualified to manage a child's early learning needs provider? Are primary school head teachers going to get paid more money to take on this dual role? What will happen to nursery school staff? Will the head teacher be in control of the nursery staff or will this remain with the council? What does the phrase "The council will make sure that all resources available for early learning and childcare are appropriately used to support service delivery" tell me about what is going to happen and how this will result in an estimated saving of £1.5m.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The response contains no suggestions for action.
6129	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	this is very important and should always be supported	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
6130	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Management by Head Teachers at associated PS is a positive suggestion. However I think the implementation of the expanded hours will be difficult as parents who work will be looking for a different offering of hours than those who do not and/or have children already in school and this will need to be considered as many families use flexible working to allow for childcare to be used to allow them to work.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	All but three nurseries are currently managed by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial. The council has expanded flexibility and choice and will continue to do so.
6131	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Good services in this area are essential to ameliorate the effects of poor quality home childcare and to free up parents to seek employment which ultimately leads to better environments for pre-school and nursery age children. Head teachers at primary schools will be in a good position to ensure the consistency of the services provided but primary schools are themselves failing at the moment.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
6132	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Our schools need more funding than early years does.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Early Learning and Childcare is statutory provision.
6133	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Start diet and exercise classes at nursery, start with breakfast to ensure all kids know what it is	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment which will be considered as part of any service redesign
6134	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Don't agree with the national commitment stipulated by the Scottish Government. How you plan to meet resourcing to achieve this provision while reducing costs must mean a cut in some other locations. It would be interesting to know the details of how this is going to be achieved.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours are set nationally.
6135	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Please include Childminders as part of this provision - getting it right for every child as a full day in a nursery setting may not be what each child needs	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Childminders are engaged to provide services for eligible 2 year olds.
6136	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	As long as hours remain the same and children still get same amount of hours at nursery and good level of activity	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Hours will expand, and quality will be maintained.
6137	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I dont actually agree with increased nursery hours/childcare for preschoolers; days as long enough for most children as it is!!	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Hours and eligibility are set nationally.
6138	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Whilst supporting children and their families is important, early learning should be play focused including access to outdoor facilities and parks.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Learning through play, and outdoor learning are important features of Early Learning and Childcare.
6139	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Another role for the Head Teacher. Deputy Head and Principal Teachers could also offer support to early years team. I think councils need to look at early years supply bank as it can be hard to cover staff when off sick. Early Years staff who have temporary contracts for a year at a time and have contributed well within a team should be offered a new contract each year. Gives children continuity.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	This is a positive suggestion. 6140	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I don't agree with this national commitment, so would do the minimum possible.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Hours and eligibility are set nationally.
6141	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Sounds reasonable. Consolidation of hours into 2-3 days per pupil instead of Monday - Friday in more nurseries could make efficient use of the resource and also make arranging childcare easier for working parents.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted and will be considered as part of any development of the proposal.
6142	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Fine if you can do this without too much impact on day to day nursery. Consolidating the hours for each child across a few days instead of Mon-Friday could be more efficient for nurseries and make it easier to arrange childcare for working parents.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
6143	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Effective early learning and child care cannot be provided with insufficient staff.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The implementation plan will include a workforce plan which will ensure suitably qualified staff matched to each setting.
6144	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This is not effective consultation as there is no clarity about the nature of the proposals. Any changes to the provision of early years education would be counter productive. Removing teachers from early years education would be a mistake. It was recognised some time ago that teachers play a vital role in early intervention. The removal of teachers from early years will inevitably mean that greater resources will be required at a later stage. Why are we now departing from the principles of early intervention?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals to rationalise central support to schools seek to balance the important contribution of professional, support and managerial staff, all of whom make an important contribution to the service. They recognise the increased autonomy to be given to headteachers, who will have the ability to prioritise budgets to meet the individual needs of their school.
6145	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This will then allow the parents to work more without child care costs which with then in turn reduce our benefit payments.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
6146	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I can't really comment on this as my children are passed nursery stage and I'm not sure what the provision is like. When mine were small if you wanted to work you had to use a private nursery and pay for it. More affordable childcare would make it a lot easier for people to go back to work.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
6147	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Agree. Volunteers should be used to enhance services.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	West Lothian Council is committed to ensuring all staff are suitably qualified.
6148	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	There is no doubt that effective early intervention will improve the lot of children's level of attainment. I trust that is your objective.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.

6150	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	not only consistency of service but QUALITY and of best impact (tailored accordingly)	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
6151	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I don't feel education services have coped with the extra hours provision to our communities two year olds. Evidence and studies have produced and quantify that what happens in the early years has biological consequences for what happens in later years. There fore monies put in to early years saves society money in the long term and it has been shown that it is better economics and also has a positive impact on individuals well being which relates to human physiology. Family centres should provide this nurturing service for two years olds.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Options to integrate the expertise of family centres into the service will be explored.
6152	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Too much intrusion into Nursery Care can be counter-effective. A child becomes institutionalised all too soon at school - a more open approach to PLAY LEARNING is much more appropriate.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. Learning through play is recognised as an important tool. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
6153	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Early education is crucial and it is important that West Lothian council continues to fund this area sufficiently. A key resource to nursery provision is a full time member of teaching staff in the nursery to work with and lead the nursery team effectively.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. 6155	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The link between private nurseries and the current school nursery provision appears to only be through checking provisions carried out by the care commission, The funding will still come from the public purse via tax benefits and child tax credits , why cant there be a communal approach in these deliveries.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted

6158	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	At what cost? Which service is reduced to address this? 6159	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	by improving services for pre-school and school aged children will raise attainment, encouraging more private business and more apprenticeships, would solve a whole host of social problems that blight all towns and villages in west lothian; unemployment, drug and alcohol abuse and crime.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council remains committed to improving outcome for young people through effective early intervention and high quality pre-school and school services.
6160	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This is a Government policy that we must deliver on. Early years is a vital stage in Education and should be staffed by suitably qualified nursery teachers.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The implementation plan will include a workforce plan which will ensure suitably qualified staff matched to each setting.
6161	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This is crucial - if any potential educational issues are identified early, it means that early interventions can be put in place to stop young people from falling through the net later in their school career.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Early intervention is a key feature of the Council's provision.
6162	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Seems fair - major savings already in recent years with Early Years Centres being managed by Head Teachers at associated Primary schools.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
6163	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I don't know how this would be a saving at all as there are more family houses in West Lothian Area now than every before. I think we were they highest at building new homes, this of course means that we know have more young people having children which will increase the Early Learning & Childcare and schools not decrease. There are not enough schools in Livingston to accompany the children now (including high schools) so I can't see how there are going to be savings made.	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	Investment is made to increase service provision when the population expands. The proposals will make this provision more efficient.
6164	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	do nursery teachers and managers not need to be registered with the SSSC?	Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	All Council staff are qualified as required by their role.

Early Learning & Childcare (general)	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council has increased flexibility and will continue to do so.
6168	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. 6171	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Need quality staff with the right qualifications in our early years settings. The increase in hours is Scottish Government policy, whilst the council must still ensure efficiency in delivering the service.
6320	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I am all for head teachers being in charge but for this extra hours to work the council are going to need a lot more qualified nursery nurses on board I am intrigued as to how you are going to implement this with the resources you have.	Nursery management provision	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Additional funding and workforce planning will ensure availability of suitably qualified staff.
6321	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	There is no detail on how Â£1.5m will be saved here. Is this proposal about cutting nursery HTs?	Nursery management provision	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The proposals include consistency of management structures across all early learning and childcare provision..
6322	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This is putting too much power and responsibility in the hands of Head Teachers. This crucial responsibility needs to be shared.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of responsibility and autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review.
6323	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Primary HT roles are already over stretched, start respecting them and our nursery provisions my increasing staff not reducing it	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review. All but three nurseries are already managed by primary HTs.
6324	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The idea of nurseries being managed by head teachers is a good idea that will help the nurseries integrate better with the school and also help with transfer from nursery to school for the children	Nursery management provision	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	This comment reflects the intention of the proposal.
6325	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Nursery provision yes, all for it. baby-sitting service absolutely not. About time people took responsibility for their own children instead of passing the buck.	Nursery management provision	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Early learning and childcare is an important part of the early stage of curriculum for excellence and should not be demeaned as akin to 'babysitting.'
6326	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Nursery provision is good in my experience. No problems to changes in management if delivery standards continue	Nursery management provision	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	All but three nurseries are already managed by primary HTs. This arrangement ensures continuity of the 3-18 curriculum and eases transition from nursery to primary.
6327	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I think primary head teachers have enough to do looking after the school without the nursery as well.	Nursery management provision	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	All but three nurseries are already managed by primary HTs. This arrangement ensures continuity of the 3-18 curriculum and eases transition from nursery to primary.
6328	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Nurseries should be managed by Head teachers	Nursery management provision	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	This is contained within the proposals in order to ensure continuity of the 3-18 curriculum and ease transition from nursery to primary.

6330	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Again the Head Teacher posts seem difficult to fill so burdened them with more duties is not likely to improve this. 6331	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	At what point do Head Teacher stop becoming Head Teacher and become Administrators. Surely all this is doing is push the work that should be done centrally and not buck pass this on the teaching staff. Teachers are their to teacher children how to read and write and not be baby sitter and mother.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review. Early learning and childcare is an important part of the early stage of curriculum for excellence and should not be demeaned as akin to 'babysitting.'
6332	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Would it not be better to use all head teachers to manage all facilities in local clusters?	Nursery management provision	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thanks you for comment. Your feedback has been noted. This will be considered as part of the expansion plan for early learning and childcare
6333	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This does seem to make good sense giving the head teacher the authority to manage nurseries.	Nursery management provision	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to making early learning and childcare available which is integrated to the local primary school through the 3-18 curriculum
6334	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	more work for heads, not a good idea	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as part of the national governance review.
6335	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I absolutely agree with this - why small nursery schools have a head teacher all to themselves is a joke. They are paid a fortune for doing the same job as someone with multiple classes/staff/children...	Nursery management provision	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The Council has taken the opportunity to combine headships where possible and will continue to do so.
6336	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Agreeing by the fact the head teacher should manage the nursery that is integrated	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	All but three nurseries are already managed by primary Headteachers, and this model ha proved successful.
6337	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	See previous comments - Schools, like every other service in the council, are already stretched to their limit. Giving the schools and head teachers responsibility for attainment and more direct control over funding is just another way of saying you're going to take away jobs at the back end and give more work to the teaching staff, causing more stress. Teachers already spend a lot of their own money and time to support the schools and what is being proposed is completely unfair (I am not a teacher but I do know what's happening in our schools	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. There is no expectation that teachers use their own money to support learning and teaching. Teacher duties are set out clearly in national conditions, and all teachers work within a working time agreement.
6338	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Do HTs have time to so this if they are also getting additional responsibility regarding management of their own schools?	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school.
6339	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Care should be taken to ensure that primary school principals have sufficient knowledge and experience in relation to the needs of nursery students as this can vary dramatically from the needs of primary aged children.	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	All but three nurseries are already managed by primary Headteachers, and this model ha proved successful.
6340	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	See answer to 1b - Sharing a home with three local authority teachers I am acutely aware of the work demands and pressures experienced by teaching staff, which are well beyond the average experience in other areas of council employment. Further increasing education staff responsibilities without a corresponding increase in staffing or resources is more likely to erode the work-force than increase efficiency, which will in turn reduce service and morale and ultimately result in increased costs. I advocate any measures that free teaching professionals from the many and increasing additional demands, for example picking up the slack in reducing social services, so they can focus on what they do best.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. There is no expectation that teachers use their own money to support learning and teaching. Teacher duties are set out clearly in national conditions, and all teachers work within a working time agreement.
6341	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Again not being informed but what jumps out at me is the additional pressure on Head Teachers if this is an additional responsibility expected from them.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. This will include the appropriate level and mix of staffing, within available budget.
6342	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I feel that the link with the nurseries and associated primary schools would benefit families, children and staff ensuring that the delivery of services is monitored and lead with best practice and continuity	Nursery management provision	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
6343	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	As long as there is no detriment to the child's needs. My concern would be if the Head Teachers didn't have enough experience with all issues that arise.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. All but three nurseries are currently managed by primary headteachers and this model has proved successful.
6349	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I understand the logic of HTs managing associated nurseries - however I would be interested to know how these HTs feel about this suggestion, whether they think it is feasible within their current workload and responsibilities. Also, it is not clear what would happen with regards to current nursery management - presumed job losses but no detail.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are currently managed by primary headteachers and this model has proved successful.
6350	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Hopefully the head teacher work load not heavily over subscribed as their day is already extremely busy.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. Headteachers will have the ability to determine where resources should be spent for the benefit of children.
6351	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Having no nursery teacher to manage the Curriculum in nurseries means that our children are at a disadvantage. The very people that we should be protecting.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The implementation plan for expansion of early learning and childcare includes a workforce plan which will ensure appropriate staffing to support early learning and childcare.
6352	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Head Teachers of primary schools do not run nurseries. The needs of a toddler developing an awareness of their world and self are vastly different from that of a child embarking on a formal education in school. To burden a primary head teacher with the running of an early learning and childcare provision would be irresponsible. The methods of teaching a toddler in nursery to teaching a primary 7 are worlds apart and cannot be reduced down to component "good practice" models. The pre-school provision takes a whole different approach and the Shannari indicators of a thriving child at this stage look very different than a child in P3, P5 or P7, preparing for high school. This cannot be combined.	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	Headteachers of primary schools run all but three council nurseries, and this model has proved successful.
6353	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I feel that the role of the head teacher is already one that is quite stretched. To give them responsibility of Nursery schools I think would result in poor management of the nurseries	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	Headteachers of primary schools run all but three council nurseries, and this model has proved successful.
6354	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Adding to Head Teachers' workload at a time where we are in the midst of a recruitment crisis, particularly in the recruitment of Head Teachers, seems short sighted.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council has put forward proposals across the full range of its activities.
6355	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Is this putting more pressure on head teachers ?	Nursery management provision	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
6356	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	If providing high quality early level education is so important then it should be reflected in the appointment of those specifically tasked with this. To 'tag it on' to the remit of Primary Head Teachers already under huge pressure due to the difficulties of their own job lacks foresight and screams of financial motivation rather than in what is best for children.	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	All but three nurseries are currently run by Primary Headteachers, and the arrangement has proved successful.
6357	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I don't think head teachers should have to manage nurseries and that early care should not have money reduced.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are currently managed by primary headteachers and this model has proved successful.
6358	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Head teachers at primary managing nurseries too? Where will the time to do this be fitted into the heads day? What role will they play. What about private nurseries? This is a risky and potentially an over burden on the heads already busy role. The idea would be good for consistency of younger learners translations and development recording.	Nursery management provision	2. 6359	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	We have greatly benefited from our children attending a private nursery with funded places - the nursery was well managed and appropriate early learning provided without intervention from the teachers of local primary schools. I would hate to see private partnership nurseries close as a result of having to be managed by someone remote who knew little (nothing) about small scale nursery provision.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are currently managed by primary headteachers and this model has proved successful. The proposal is not for council headteachers to manage private nurseries.
6360	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Head Teachers who are responsible for nursery provision should be able to appoint quality staff (EYO) to lead and manage the early learning and childcare. There are many establishments where this has not been possible because of existing staffing structures. It's really important that all establishments have an EYO in place now in preparation for these changes - ideally with all of them taking part in the leadership learning programme.	Nursery management provision	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The early years expansion plan will include a staffing plan to ensure appropriate staff are available to support expansion. Headteachers will have greater autonomy to set their own staffing structures.
6361	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	More work for Head Teachers at a time when central government are already adding to their responsibilities?	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. Headteachers will have the ability to determine where resources should be spent for the benefit of children.
6362	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I don't know enough about the proposed change to management but I do wonder how we expect head teachers to effectively take on more responsibility to an already over stretched role?	Nursery management provision	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. Headteachers will have the ability to determine where resources should be spent for the benefit of children.
6363	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Again, I don't fully understand this. To me, it reads like an additional burden being placed on the Head Teachers. 6365	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	It is good to link the nurseries to schools as gives a natural progression for the children however not all council nurseries support working families who need full day support or the flexibility with hours. Often nursery hour blocks don't March the schools with alot of children not getting the opportunity to utilise the full allocated hours due to early pick up of school children etc....	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council has increased flexibility and choice and will continue to do so.
6366	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Do head teachers at primary schools not have enough to do?	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
6367	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Yes I believe shared management allows for a stronger transition programme from nursery to primary..	Nursery management provision	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	All but three nurseries are currently managed by headteachers and this arrangement works well.
6368	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Nurseries used to be managed by head teachers at local primary school and this worked well and helped enhance z consistent approach and smooth transition to primary school	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	This is the purpose of the proposal.
6369	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	How will applicants who wish to attend private nurseries claim funding, as this is only a small proportion of the applicants as a whole, and if these are all granted automatically this will have a detrimental effect on budget available to deliver council places especially with the increased cost of increasing the provision.	Nursery management provision	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Officers will require to consider the detrimental impact on the majority if greater priority is given to providing a higher cost service to the minority.
6370	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This is adding to an already over worked and underpaid role of Primary school headteachers - this will result in a reduction in quality and service. Do not pay for kids to go to private nurseries - everyone should go to state nursery (when full time care is provided) to save costs.	Nursery management provision	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed, within the confines of a national proposal for 'money to follow the child'.
6371	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Many nurseries are already managed by Head Teachers of the associated primary anyway.	Nursery management provision	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. This arrangement has proved successful.
6372	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Nursery staff in my experience are few and far between at the moment so in order to provide the 1140 hours a recruitment drive is needed to utilise the fantastic knowledge, passion and resources we have in West Lothian.	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	The expansion plan will include a workforce plan to ensure suitably qualified staff can be employed.
6373	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	It sounds like you are putting a lot onto Headteachers who are already stressed and overworked.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Headteachers will take on more responsibility, but support will be available from the new Regional Improvement Collaborative as well as from Local Government.

6374	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I think that the head of the associated primary taking control of the nursery is an excellent idea. Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
6375	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Again, this doesn't tell us what we need to know. By them being managed by head teachers to we mean there will only be nurseries at schools? Will they close them in small areas meaning people have to travel to take their kids to them and possibly make it impossible for them? If it does it won't save money.	Nursery management provision	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Nursery provision will be expanded not reduced.
6376	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Nursery and Primary school connection is important for the transition of children into education so Head Teacher Management seems sensible. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal. Efficient use of existing resources will achieve further savings.
6377	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	In practice, how will management of a nursery by a head teacher be feasible ... given the head teacher at present will rarely be seen in a nursery.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are run by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6378	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The emphasis is on nursery provision being managed by Head Teachers. How much time do these professionals have? There are only 24 hours in any one day and considering other management duties that are being allocated to teachers, the job objectives will be difficult to achieve.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are run by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6379	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	If nurseries are to be managed by Head teachers at associated primary schools without a Nursery teacher presence then I believe that to maintain a quality provision we need to appoint a nursery manager for each setting. Perhaps this would be the next step up from an EYO, giving Nursery Nurseries a much need career progression pathway. With the knowledge that 1140 hours is approaching, which will most likely lead to our nurseries being open 50 weeks a year, resulting in 11 weeks in a year when the Head teacher is not present in the building. This will lead to possibly two scenarios: a head teacher dealing with issues while on holiday or a reduction in quality where nursery staff are dealing with issues beyond their knowledge and experience. I believe that each nursery needs their own manager who would in turn be managed by the head teacher. This would ensure each setting is being well led and would result in a quality provision as these managers would be experienced early years practitioners who could lead the pedagogy in the setting.	Nursery management provision	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Appropriate support for Headteachers will be considered as part of the implementation plan.
6380	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	My concern here is nurseries being managed by Head teachers. I know a few head teachers and they are currently over stretched and already working very long hours and during holidays. I feel that taking a Nursery Teacher away will result in a decline in the quality of provision and may push Head teachers over their limit. I also feel it devalues and shows no respect for the Nursery Nurse profession as they are not paid the salary to reflect the duties they will need to perform if a teacher is taken away.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are run by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6381	An individual	1d. Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are run by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6382	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Many Primary Head Teachers come from an upper primary background and have little knowledge of early childhood development, or even little interest in it. As they are now in control of the nursery sector, which is very different from the primary sector, or should be, they need training and advice on how best to deliver education to the early years. Childcare is not always concerned with education but education can make a huge difference to a child's life chances when delivered at this age.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are run by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6383	An individual	1d. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours are set nationally.
6384	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Head teachers are already stretched in what is expected of them. If they are to take on full responsibility for nurseries I hope that will have proper support.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are run by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.

The implementation plan will include a workforce plan which will ensure suitably qualified staff matched to each setting.
6389	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	1d Increasing work load and pressure on head teachers, great idea, when it is difficult to find and keep headteachers in schools due to workload.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are run by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6390	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	More work for head teachers! Do we need to put more into nursery services? Can parents not care for their children.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are run by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6391	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I have no concerns with nurseries being managed by Head Teachers at associated primary schools. However, the saving versus attainment needs to be clearly demonstrated.	Nursery management provision	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	All but three nurseries are run by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6392	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	It sounds again as though more and more will be placed on the headteachers.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are run by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6393	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Where are these head teachers to get the time? Again too little information here.	Nursery management provision	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	All but three nurseries are run by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6394	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I actually thought this was already the case. My son is now a P2 pupil and he (and my wife and myself) have always seen the Head Teacher of that school as the over-arching figurehead of the school since he was in pre-school nursery. The school itself is fantastic and staff are enthusiastic and dedicated. If this school is run in this way others should follow suit. Both nursery provision and learning opportunities in his first two years have been excellent.	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	All but three nurseries are run by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial, as reported in the comment.
6395	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This sounds all right in principle, with the Head Teachers of associated primary schools being in overall charge, but there should always be a trained early learning teacher on the nursery staff.	Nursery management provision	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The implementation plan will ensure that suitably qualified staff are employed in each nursery.
6396	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Learners should be adequately supported at these early stages of development. Nursery and primary school teachers are under a great deal of stress to provide and deliver a curriculum that will be effective in preparing learners for the transition to secondary school. This includes the development of appropriate literacy and numeracy skills and levels. Science is also a broad subject that should be introduced at primary school level and should be continuously supported throughout the years of learning. The council should ensure that structures are present to support primary school teachers in ensuring that learners are able to make the transition seamlessly and therefore develop further at the secondary school level. With this proposal Head Teachers must also be given sufficient time and resources in order to manage the early learning stages effectively.	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	Current Council practice is to provide high quality early learning, accessible to all parents, with integrated delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and clear transition to P1. The proposals aim to strengthen this provision.
6397	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Why primary head teachers ? why not worker coops or worker and parent coops running nursery and child care provision ... set them free to trade and care	Nursery management provision	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. Parents or other individuals are free to set up provision.
6398	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Again, what is the detail of the 'how'? Who is accountable if the Head Teachers simply fail to be able to take on this additional load whilst doing all the other matters?	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are managed by headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6399	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Again, even more tasks given to already overstretched Head Teachers. Set up times are already affected in Nurseries by wraparound care as staff are involved in manning this so are unable to prepare for the day ahead as effectively as they used to.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are managed by headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.

All but three nurseries are already managed by Primary Headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6402	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This should be implemented and the link with primary school would mean the janitorial services would be of more benefit.	Nursery management provision	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	All but three nurseries are already managed by Primary Headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial, with benefit for educational as well as support provision.
6403	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	There would need to be a great increase in the amount of nurseries to accommodate this. Would this mean Headteachers being allocated nurseries off campus as part of their responsibilities. Proper management of a busy nursery is not a bolt on to already onerous responsibilities within a school.	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	All but three nurseries are already managed by Primary Headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6404	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	An obvious question would be do Head Teachers not already have enough workload to deal with and by then asking them to manage nurseries which will take commitment of their time how will they then be able to deal with this additional task?	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are run by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6405	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	What are you writing about please answer. All but three nurseries are run by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6406	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	It is important that there is still a qualified teacher in every nursery. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are run by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.

The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The implementation plan will ensure that suitably qualified staff are employed in each nursery.
6413	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	A good idea to have Head Teachers manage nurseries. This should help secure a focus on learning and build a consistent approach across West Lothian, if there are sufficient measures in place for quality assurance/improvement.	Nursery management provision	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	All but three nurseries are run by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6414	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	We shouldn't have a shortage of teaching staff, never mind head teachers running both primary schools & nurseries. They are already over-stretched with unfair workloads (as with other education staff). We want quality education staff who aren't strained under an ever-growing load.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are run by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6415	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This is already happening. It's ok if you get a good head or deputy head who commits to leading the nursery effectively as well as looking after the school, but as I said in my previous comment, it's asking more and more of already stressed and hard working staff.	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	West Lothian policy is designed to ensure the highest quality provision, with clear transition through the early stage of curriculum for excellence.

6416	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. 6417	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Head teachers are already overloaded with work. Surely making them responsible for nurseries will serve only to put further pressure on the Head Teachers as well as reducing oversight of everyday running of the nursery. Headteachers are expected to exercise a high degree of autonomy, and increases are anticipated as a result of the national review of governance. 6427	An individual	1d. 6428	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Nursery managers over head teachers any day. As a recently qualified nursery practitioner now studying a HND to become a nursery manager, it is my belief that a head teacher could not manage a nursery as well as their own school. 6455	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This is a good idea. My son has recently started attending a nursery school where overall responsibility is with the head teacher. This can help transitioning from nursery to primary school.	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	The Expansion plan will include a workforce plan to ensure that staff are suitably equipped to deliver the expanded service. West Lothian Council is proud of the quality of its ELC provision, supported by all of the staff in the service.

6456	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Adding more pressure on Head teachers?????!!!!	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are already managed by primary Headteachers. There are significant benefits in terms of continuity of delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and effective transition from ELC to primary.
6457	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Sensible if necessary support is provided to head teachers to support and manage this additional responsibility. If appears a lot is being devolved to already stretched staff without any concessions to support this. The council must not place itself in a position of forcing valuable staff out of the area.	Nursery management provision	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	All but three nurseries are already managed by primary Headteachers. There are significant benefits in terms of continuity of delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and effective transition from ELC to primary.
6458	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	In terms of Head Teachers managing nursery facilities this is a good idea. Head Teachers should get to know early years officers on an individual level to ensure that lines of communication are clear and to encourage an effective integration of education and social care	Nursery management provision	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	All but three nurseries are already managed by primary Headteachers. There are significant benefits in terms of continuity of delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and effective transition from ELC to primary.
6459	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This doesn't say how this likely to be done. Yes, consistency across the sector is important, but will this put the head teachers under more pressure with extra work.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are already managed by primary Headteachers. There are significant benefits in terms of continuity of delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and effective transition from ELC to primary.
6460	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I am unsure how this will be delivered and would be interested in being provided with more clarity to the information about how this will be taken forward. Again, this has an impact on the work load of schools. I fear that the cost cutting exercise so far is just cutting services at the centre and pushing added workload out to schools. Schools are already managing with tight budgets and staffing. I fear that the service delivery will not be manageable without appropriate support and funding.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are already managed by primary Headteachers. There are significant benefits in terms of continuity of delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and effective transition from ELC to primary.
6461	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Yet again more work being given to schools to deal with - early years is scientifically proven to be crucial - those in charge should be focused solely on this, which through not fault of their own, HTs of associated primary schools may not be as they have schools to run!	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are already managed by primary Headteachers. There are significant benefits in terms of continuity of delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and effective transition from ELC to primary.
6462	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I would prefer nursery provision be managed by those in the know the Nursery Teachers themselves although if this saving is necessitated to save other services for children, then I agree.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	All but three nurseries are already managed by primary Headteachers. There are significant benefits in terms of continuity of delivery of the 3-18 curriculum and effective transition from ELC to primary.
6463	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
6464	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	If the head teacher can handle the doubled-up workload then go ahead.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Current council practice designed to maximise quality of provision, consistency of delivery of the 3-18 curriculum, effective early intervention, effective transition and best value, with a focus on making best use of existing resources. This will be facilitated by integration of ELC with school provision. All but three nurseries are already managed by primary Headteachers.
6465	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I thought nurseries were already run by their local head teachers!	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	All but three nurseries are currently managed by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6466	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Do Head Teachers have the capacity to management nurseries as well as primary schools? My thoughts are that this may spread resources too thinly, thereby reducing efficiency in both nursery and school. My preference is that Head Teachers focus on the primary school environment where their expertise lies.	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	All but three nurseries are currently managed by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6467	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Not sure where you will get teachers for this, there isn't enough teachers as it is.	Nursery management provision	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The proposal is not to employ more teachers.
6468	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The strain on head teachers is already immense. This would be a step too far without proper resources. 6469	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I can understand that it makes sense for Primary Headteachers to be responsible for local nurseries. This works well and is a continuation of changes that have already taken place.	Nursery management provision	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	All but three nurseries are currently managed by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6470	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This isn't clear but it looks like a proposal to remove head teachers from nursery schools and reallocate the duties to head teachers of primary schools.	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	All but three nurseries are currently managed by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6471	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Fine but it sounds like you are diluting a head teacher's efforts in achieving attainment targets. Otherwise no opinion	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	All but three nurseries are currently managed by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6472	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Agree that this area must also be reviewed and continue to be under the management of associated Head Teachers with efficient staffing arrangements and maintaining high quality staff development.	Nursery management provision	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	All but three nurseries are currently managed by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6473	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	If the proposed model where all nursery settings are managed by HTs of associated schools there must be delegated management within the school with a commitment to maintain the high quality provision of ELC which most of our ELC settings are now offering.	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	All but three nurseries are currently managed by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6474	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Again, this is more work being added to a HT's remit. Whilst not against the idea of HTs managing their associated nurseries, more support/staffing has to be available to HTs in order to take responsibility for another area of work.	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	All but three nurseries are currently managed by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6475	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I feel that the policy of having a teacher within each nursery was the correct one and I am worried that the redesign of EL provision will see the complete removal of this provision.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council is investing in appropriately qualified staff to ensure effective early learning and childcare. The link with primary schools ensures continued access to qualified teachers.
6476	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Don't remove Teachers from nurseries. Head Teachers can't take on anymore	Nursery management provision	2. 6478	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I trust all nursery schools/classes WILL have a qualified teacher on their staff. Nursery nurses are wonderful, but a qualified teacher with infant experience is also essential. How many of West Lothian's primary school Head Teachers have nursery experience, or even infant experience? Cutting teaching staff from nurseries will NOT increase attainment.	Nursery management provision	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council is investing in appropriately qualified staff to ensure effective early learning and childcare. The link with primary schools ensures continued access to qualified teachers.
6479	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Hopefully Head Teachers involvement in the management of the nurseries will not be detrimental to the education of the pupils in the primary schools.	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	All but three nurseries are currently managed by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6480	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Feel too much pressure on Head Teachers as it is and therefore there should be someone appointed to be in charge of the nursery provision.	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	All but three nurseries are currently managed by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6481	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	agree with integrating the head teachers to manage the nurseries, cuts costs and keeps everything central.	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	All but three nurseries are currently managed by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6482	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Managing nurseries with an off site headteacher who has no experience of early years pedagogy is not a wise move. However nurseries can be effectively managed by competent skilled early years officers who are in many cases much better leaders of learning than head teachers whose experience does not cover early years	Nursery management provision	4. The council is already doing this.	All but three nurseries are currently managed by primary headteachers and this arrangement has proved beneficial.
6483	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Many of your services could / should be provided by others (Nurseries) but no one else will provide these things.	Nursery management provision	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The context of the comment is not clear.
6484	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I feel that those households that can afford private nursery care should pay for it.	Nursery places in partner providers	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	National policy will be to deliver 1140 hours free to all parents by 2020.
6485	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Maybe include childminders in the proposals for extra childcare hours. Again, they play a vital role but are badly paid and receive very little recognition. The majority feel they will no longer have a role to play as more parents apply for the increased hours in nurseries. Surely a better way, would be to work in partnership with childminders and that would ease the burden on the finance of building new nurseries and employing more staff.	Nursery places in partner providers	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed. 6487	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	More partner organisations helping to provide early learning and childcare provisions for 1140 hours would benefit working parents and provide a much more nurturing environment for children.	Nursery places in partner providers	4. The council is already doing this.	National government policy is likely to increase access to private nurseries. It is not agreed, however, that these provide a 'more nurturing' environment.
6488	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Remove duplication from the system by reducing the number of unnecessary private sector places purchased. 6489	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The issue of quality and capacity is a huge issue of this. Certainly partnerships need agreed but quality must be a key driving factor - without managing the quality of the childcare it is pointless	Nursery places in partner providers	4. The council is already doing this.	Maintaining quality is a central principal of the expansion plan.
6490	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Unsure of provision being provided by a third party as I would be wary of the council choosing the cheapest provider regardless of competency and how the council would oversee the running of this provision.	Nursery places in partner providers	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will only consider outsourcing where this would bring efficiency or effectiveness benefits, but the proposals do not include large scale outsourcing of education services.
6491	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Private nurseries are being put out of business due to lack of partner provision allocation so please don't cut early years services now on top. 6492	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This seems okay on the surface, but could this childcare be provided for less by the Council outsourcing some work to private nurseries?	Nursery places in partner providers	5b. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is likely that the costs of this proposal would outweigh the benefit.	West Lothian Council has one of the most efficient Early learning and childcare provisions in Scotland. One of the reasons for this is that it is not compelled to depend on the private sector, as is the case in many other areas.
6493	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Ensure that non-statutory family & early years support funded and included in partnership to complement the work of the statutory services, ensure a more holistic approach to early learning & childcare.	Nursery places in partner providers	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council works closely with community planning partners to provide integrated support to early years children and families.
6494	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	women who could drop their kids of locally may have to give up their jobs and collect benefits. Like most cuts it will unfairly impact women who take most of the caring responsibilities.	Nursery places in partner providers	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. Nursery provision will be expanded not reduced.
6495	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I read this to mean, the council will stop providing funding to partnership nurseries. This will marginalise children whose parents have to work long hours and for whom council nurseries cannot ever meet their childcare needs as a result. It is supposed to facilitate childcare for all, and with these changes, it most certainly is not.	Nursery places in partner providers	4. The council is already doing this.	Flexibility and choice has increased and this will continue. Surveys have revealed that parents support greater flexibility at a Council run establishment, and patterns of choice have demonstrated that parents will choose this option when available.
6496	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Full day nursery provision (albeit requiring use of wraparound services) has had a detrimental impact on a number of the private nurseries in the area and I don't believe it has been in the best interests of the children.	Nursery places in partner providers	4. The council is already doing this.	Flexibility and choice has increased and this will continue. Surveys have revealed that parents support greater flexibility at a Council run establishment, and patterns of choice have demonstrated that parents will choose this option when available.
6497	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Vouchers for private nurseries giving parents real choice	Nursery places in partner providers	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	The Scottish Government may consider this option.
6498	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I fully agree a review is required as a local council nursery has multiple afternoon spaces where as council are paying for children to go to a partnership nursery, also allocation seems crazy in that those who has birthday's earlier in academic cycle are allocated partnership places as requested but those with November birthdays are not meaning the council nursery has 'held' the place for a few months meanwhile paying partnership nursery since august. I'm also unsure on cost per child of council nursery v. Partnership nursery for current 16hr/wk.	Nursery places in partner providers	4. The council is already doing this.	Current allocation policy has resulted in one of the most efficient early learning and childcare provisions in Scotland. This is, in part, due to avoiding costly private placements where sufficient capacity exists in Council establishments.

6499	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Would using partner providers to support early education be more efficient? There is currently a reluctance to do so. This model would allow flexibility without employing staff or building, leasing or extending existing nursery buildings. Any increase in nursery provision could be dealt with quickly and would improve employment in West Lothian. Would staff costs, building maintenance costs and capital investment really be more cost effective?	Nursery places in partner providers	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Current allocation policy has resulted in one of the most efficient early learning and childcare provisions in Scotland. 6500	On behalf of a Group/Organisation	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	All nurseries need to meet national standards irrespective of whether third party or Council run. 6501	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I actually agree with this my sons nursery was attached to his primary which allowed his peers to socialise with him that he wasn't singled out as different I think that nursery should be part of school that older kids should be involved with teaching and playing with preschoolers	Nursery places in partner providers	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	West Lothian policy is designed to ensure the highest quality provision, with clear transition through the early stage of curriculum for excellence.
6502	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The removal of payments to private nurseries, if this is part of this, should be reviewed. Nursery places in partner providers	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment which will be considered as part of any service redesign
6505	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Most other authorities currently have nurseries attached to the schools which again provides further opportunities for growth and development within staff. I agree that all children should be offered the free hours of nursery care as it should be fair for all and every child should get the same opportunity in life.	Nursery places in partner providers	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted
6506	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The 1,140 is unachievable in many Nursery buildings. The council should ensure that all nurseries have suitable space inside and outside before proposing this. An audit should be made of each nursery building and any changes that have to be made should not come from the schools budget. Nurseries should also still have access to a Nursery Teacher - at least of 0.5 of the time as it has been this year. Although NN and EYO's are an excellent resource, not all have the training to ensure that the learning is being brought forward. How are the council going to ensure that the new benchmarks for early level and also the key aspects of Learning are met? To ensure that the service provided is consistent a teacher is essential.	Nursery Places	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Staffing and physical resources will be considered as part of the implementation plan for the expansion of early learning and childcare. Officers will consider appropriate qualification levels for staff, and how best to achieve access to a teacher as part of these deliberations.
6507	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	By increasing school hours for some may mean some can't get a place at all.	Nursery Places	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The expansion plan will guarantee a place for every child.
6508	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Good in theory as long as all units that are staffed are full, examples of nursery staff out numbering the pupils at certain times of the day, not cost effective.	Nursery Places	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	In order to provide flexibility and choice staff must be available at times that meet parent's needs, which can decrease efficiency. This flexibility is a statutory requirement and valued by working parents.
6509	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Child care needs to make life easier for children and parents; not harder. Full day places in nurseries, rather than half days, should be available to all. What is the point in parents still having to pay childminders to keep places, pick up during the day etc?	Nursery Places	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council has expanded flexibility and choice significantly and will continue to do so.
6510	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I think that parents that can afford nursery education should pay for it, or at least part of it, themselves rather than being subsidised by the taxpayer.	Nursery Places	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	The council cannot charge for statutory provision.
6511	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Perhaps more flexibility on spaces not just being afternoon or morning (unless this has changed since my kids were young. Full days at a time would be more beneficial for many working parents than 5 half days.	Nursery Places	4. The council is already doing this. 6516	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I'm of the 'old school' and uneasy at transfer of child care from parents to others outside the family. We, as parents, took responsibility for looking after our own children and appreciated sessions at playgroup, nursery school then on to primary school. there was no expectation that our children would be farmed out from early morning until late afternoon to enable us to go out to work. Today's young parents - in the main - are pressured into feeling the need to 'have it all'. SO.....i'm not a supporter of public money being spent on ever increasing childcare provision. 6518	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The National commitment to deliver 1140 additional hours of early learning and childcare is despicable. People have children to look after them. It should not be the job of nurseries to rear children until they reach school age, this is Parental responsibility. The council is already doing this.	Flexibility and choice has increased and this will continue.
6524	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Will there be the same focus from private providers where the council are unable to place children in the authorities nurseries?	Nursey Places	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	Current council practice designed to maximise quality of provision, consistency of delivery of the 3-18 curriculum, effective early intervention, effective transition and best value, with a focus on making best use of existing resources. 6525	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	There is already disparity in service provision. Due to my child being a Feb birthday she was denied her funded place the the private nursery. I do not see how a cut in funding will lead to better consistency.	Nursey Places	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Intake dates are set nationally by the Scottish Government. The proposals are designed to reduce not increase expenditure. Overall costs in Early Learning and Childcare will rise as the service expands.
6526	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	keep money for nursery place. all children should go to nursery.	Nursey Places	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The proposals are designed to reduce not increase expenditure. Overall costs in Early Learning and Childcare will rise as the service expands. The Council will continue to offer a place to every parent who requests one, but parents are not compelled to take up a place.
6527	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	All children should have nursery places	Nursey Places	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council will continue to offer a place to every parent who requests one, but parents are not compelled to take up a place.
6528	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	it is important to provide nursery places for all young children	Nursey Places	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council will continue to offer a place to every parent who requests one, but parents are not compelled to take up a place.
6529	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This is being abused. Parents who don't work are using this provision to the full extent for no reason. I have seen 1 child in a nursery until closing time and the parents waiting until the last minute to pick them up because it's their right to do so. The hours were increased to support working parents but again is open to abuse with no monitoring of this.	Nursey Places	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	West Lothian Council will meet its statutory duty to secure 1140 hours of free early learning and childcare for every parent who requests it. Statutory Guidance prevents restricting provision to working parents.
6530	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Is there a way to work with private nurseries to improve capacity and training and further commercialise wrap around to generate income? Less teacher time in nurseries is a backward move	Nursey Places	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council already has contractual relationships with private nurseries to provide capacity, flexibility and choice.
6531	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Early learning and childcare should be free for the poor. The people who can afford to pay for it should pay.	Nursey Places	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	West Lothian Council will meet its statutory duty to secure 1140 hours of free early learning and childcare for every parent who requests it. Statutory Guidance prevents charging
6532	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Free good quality childcare is very important in order to encourage employment/education and provide children with a positive start in life- investing in the future.	Nursey Places	4. The council is already doing this.	This is in line with Council values.
6533	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Do early yeas children really require that much time? For decades the timing system of pre school has worked so why change and cost the council even more money it doesnt have especially when majority of hours will only be used by 2 year olds whose parents are on benefits. Not a fair system at all!	Nursey Places	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	Hours and eligibility are set by statutory guidance.
6534	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I see no reason why ability to pay for nursery provision should not be means tested as university education is means tested. Then more families who need access free childcare might get it, and those who can pay, should pay	Nursey Places	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	West Lothian Council will meet its statutory duty to secure 1140 hours of free early learning and childcare for every parent who requests it. Statutory Guidance prevents charging
6535	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Why is the council having to provide nursery space for 2 year olds when the parents do it work and are already at home and able to look after their child surely this should be stopped as I dread to think how much it costs	Nursey Places	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	It is a statutory requirement to provide Early Learning and Childcare to eligible 2 year olds.
6536	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	provided no impact on number of nursery places for children	Nursey Places	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The number of nursery places for children will increase as the service is expanded.
6537	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The Council need to ensure that nursery places continue to be available to all families in West Lothian - it is important for children to become familiar with the school environment before starting P1.	Nursey Places	4. The council is already doing this.	Current council practice designed to maximise quality of provision, consistency of delivery of the 3-18 curriculum, effective early intervention, effective transition and best value, with a focus on making best use of existing resources. This will be facilitated by integration of ELC with school provision. All but three nurseries are already managed by primary Headteachers.
6538	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I absolutely agree with being able to condense nursery hours over certain days. This would certainly allow parents, especially mothers to return to work. In my situation it would mean I would have to pay out less for childcare in turn helping my financial situation. This should be rolled out to all nurseries in West Lothian.	Nursey Places	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	This reflects current practice, with expansion of flexibility and choice continuing year on year.

6539	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	The National commitment to deliver 1140 additional hours of early learning and childcare is despicable. People have children to look after them. It should not be the job of nurseries to rear children until they reach school age, this is Parental responsibility. The money would be better spent educating the parents on proper parenting skills and those parents identified as needing this and refusing it should be referred to Social Services or risk having their family allowance payments stopped.	Nursey Places	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government. West Lothian Council has no authority to stop benefit payments.
6540	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Provision should be provided as cheaply and efficiently as possible. Government stipulate this requirement and they should pay for it!	Nursey Places	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The proposals are designed to decrease expenditure, but additional expenditure will be made to support expansion, funded by the Scottish Government.
6541	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Childcare for single parents should be free or the other parent should be made to pay half. The price of childcare is ridiculous and makes it not worth working when you are a single parent bringing home nothing at the end of the week.	Nursey Places	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government. West Lothian Council has no powers to charge for this.
6542	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Should be central funding for this as it's a national commitment	Nursey Places	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make.	The proposals are designed to decrease expenditure, but additional expenditure will be made to support expansion.
6543	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Children do not need 2 years nursery before school. Put it back to one year.	Nursey Places	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours of provision are set nationally by the Scottish Government.
6544	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	the provision of mornings or afternoon sessions at nursery must change as the working population has changed to meet their needs better	Nursey Places	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council has increased flexibility and choice and will continue to do so.
6545	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Child care is extremely expensive to provide. Will funding this not impact on other services such as road maintenance. Only the first child should receive free preschool place. If people want more children then they need to cut their cloth to suit. The state should not simply be used as a child minding service.	Nursey Places	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours are set nationally.
6546	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I don't believe in the national commitment. Anybody who has children should be prepared to pay for childcare costs themselves and not expect others to pay for them	Nursey Places	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours are set nationally.
6547	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Why should parent who do not work be entitled to free childcare when working parents have to pay. Scrapping the funding for under 3 will result in saving and encourage stay at home parents to interact with their own children.	Nursey Places	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours are set nationally.
6548	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Looking into 2yr provision, quite possibly even scrapping it or tightening the requirements.	Nursey Places	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours are set nationally.
6549	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Need to ensure nurseries are open when people are at work. otherwise no benefit	Out of school care	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thanks you for comment. Your feedback has been noted. This will be considered as part of the implementation plan for the expansion of early learning and childcare.
6550	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Some parents will see Breakfast clubs and after school clubs as cheap child minding, tough!. It's a cost to the council as is providing free school meals during summer holidays. I accept there will be genuine cases where a family needs help / support.	Out of school care	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The comment does not make any proposal for action.
6551	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	what about youth clubs and afterschool clubs they are also given children and young people from poor background chances to do thing we need theses	Out of school care	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council will continue to produce a statutory CLD plan, to be delivered through the learning community partnerships centred of non-denominational secondary schools, with a focus on partnership working between schools and the third sector.

6552	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Nursery provision beyond the normal school day would help those parents who have working commitments.	Out of school care	4. The council is already doing this.	Flexibility and choice have increased and this expansion will continue.
6553	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Use childminders to provide free early learning and childcare. They are rated higher by the Care Inspectorate than nurseries !	Out of school care	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed. Childminders are already used to provide services to 2 year olds.
6554	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Please make sure that provision in this area is accessible for the increasing number of working parents. Afternoon only places make this very difficult.	Out of school care	4. The council is already doing this.	The council has increased significantly the number of full day places and will continue to do so.
6555	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Too much spent here. Encourage parents to look after their own children. My generation didn't have child care. If you want children then pay for them.	Out of school care	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours are determined nationally.
6556	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	A widening of flexible options for children in early years child care across West Lothian would enable a greater proportion of the working age population to enter employment. For example some nursery's offer full days care while others do not. Considering standardising this could at low cost meet one the 8 objectives highlighted.	Out of school care	4. The council is already doing this.	The council has increased significantly the number of full day places and will continue to do so.
6557	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Priority for full day provision should be given to working parents	Out of school care	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted and will be considered as part of any development of the proposal.
6558	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	3 hours of care a day with no widely available wrap around care options is not suitable for many parents who are then forced to pay for full time private nursery with no funding given by the council.	Out of school care	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council has expanded full day placement significantly and will continue to do so.
6559	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Pre school provision is a luxury and should be considered by parents when planning their family. Parents themselves have the biggest role in their child's pre school education and need to ensure that they can provide this demanding time.	Out of school care	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Eligibility and hours are determined nationally.
6560	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Consistency of early learning and childcare is long overdue. Mostly the affluent areas such as Livi village, Linlithgow and murleston have wrap around but more deprived areas don't. Wraparound costs should be available for all schools. Commercial rates should also be considered too.	Out of school care	6. This is a positive suggestion. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Wraparound has expanded significantly, and future consultations will seek interest from parents to support further expansion.
6561	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	I think extended childcare should be available specifically to those who require/benefit from it, e.g. single parents who ARE out at work.	Out of school care	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Thank you for your response. 6562	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Affordable childcare for working parents	Out of school care	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The proposals are designed to increase efficiency, not costs, as suggested,
6563	No Response	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	This is killing local nursery private business - and these are the businesses that provide what working parents need. This could be means tested - give the extra childcare hours to those who really need it- to get them back into work. Those on higher salaries will pay for childcare needless of whether they get 'free hours' or not!	Out of school care	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	West Lothian Council will meet its statutory duty to secure 1140 hours of free early learning and childcare for every parent who requests it. Statutory Guidance prevents charging for these 1140 hours.
6564	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Bring childcare back in-house and use as a potential revenue stream for the schools. you already own the buildings so take advantage of this	Out of school care	4. The council is already doing this.	This is the basis of current council practice designed to maximise quality of provision, consistency of delivery of the 3-18 curriculum, effective early intervention, effective transition and best value.
6565	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Unemployed parents who are not actively looking for employment should not be using free childcare as a babysitting service	Out of school care	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	West Lothian Council will meet its statutory duty to secure 1140 hours of free early learning and childcare for every parent who requests it. 6566	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	More 8-6 provision	Out of school care	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council will continue to increase full day provision.
6567	An employee of West Lothian Council	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Also, parents and management need to realise that school Nurseries are not babysitting services and are trying to provide an education service to the children. However having young 3 year olds put in school nurseries for full days is making this very difficult.	Out of school care	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. 6568	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Childcare and early learning improvements are vital to allow families to maintain jobs and a sufficient standard of living. However, nurseries need to be suitable in terms of numbers of children and activities and not just a place to leave children for the day.	Out of school care	4. The council is already doing this.	West Lothian recognises both positive impacts of ELC.
6569	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Make use of registered Childminders within council area. As an ex-childminder the provision of care provided offers a higher level of interaction than nurseries due to the lower Adult to child ratio than nursery can offer- thereby reducing the need for extensions to nursery building and hours to provide the care required .	Out of school care	4. The council is already doing this.	Childminders are used to provide services to eligible 2 year olds and many parents make use of a blended model including both Council Nurseries and childminders to give them the overall childcare they need. This will still be the case after the expansion to 1140 hours, as 1140 hours does not equate to the working week.
6570	An individual	1d. Redesign of Early Learning & Childcare	Parents should be encouraged to stay at home to look after their children until they are 4 years old and only get one year of nursery education. How much would that save?	Out of school care	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.
