Covid Poem

I try to stay safe as far as I know
2 metres apart wherever I go
Out and about I sometimes have fear
With some people coming far too near

All said and done I am not too bad
I have my face covering for which I am glad
I use the sanitiser when available to me
I also wash my hands very regularly

My Mum washes my face coverings every day
So I am trying to protect me come what may
But not everyone unfortunately obeys the rules
The papers calls them idiots and fools

We can beat this Covid it is not a big task
But everyone needs to do what the Government ask
If we all do our bit and follow the rules

Nobody but nobody can call us fools
I just wish everyone would really try
So at the very least fewer people will die
Please I beg you all to do your best
So we can finally put Covid to rest

All of you then can do as you please
We all will have fought and beat this terrible disease
