		The Forum agreed they would support the introduction of additional Quiet Roads at identified locations across West Lothian particularly where there were no available off-road paths.
		MH was of the view that the need for targeted Quiet Roads should be addressed again and that the previous Initiative had led to insufficient and/or limited action taken.
		MH also felt the Bathgate Venture Group could make a welcome contribution to the discussion as he was aware that had previously done a lot of work on the Quiet Roads Initiative	TM to approach the Bathgate Venture Group and invite them to contribute to the discussion.	TM
		JS agreed that more could be done and thought more Quiet Roads around Bathgate in particular were needed but also elsewhere in West Lothian should be considered again

		TC thought more should be done to introduce quiet roads where these were needed but this would require need proper assessment and public consultation  JS, as the NFU representative on the Forum, advised that local farmers supported an extension of the Quiet Road scheme.  MH felt that this issue should be looked at alongside the Council's Open Space Strategy. 7	Questions on: National Access Forum matters – latest meeting for which minutes available:  National Access Forum - 8 February 2023   Scottish Outdoor Access Code (outdooraccess- scotland.scot)	The NAF papers had been previously circulated and were discussed by the Forum including:  School curriculum The Forum unanimously were of the view that the school curriculum should incude compulsory modules on the Scottish Outdoor Access Code.  SE questioned why the Outdoor Access Code it was not already on the school Agenda and why it was left to be dealt with piecemeal by schools or left to external organizations.  JS felt the Government should be lobbied.  JY felt that the lack of education within schools was making problems relating to Outdoor Access far worse and in particular was resulting in problems for landowners. JY supported a call for a national debate on this Issue.  TC felt there should be a more coordinated approach and WLC could have a role in this with a more consistent use of bulletins and social media to help get the message out.  GA referred the Forum to the online materials prepared by Nature Scot:	The Forum agreed that the Forum would write to the Scottish Government / Nature Scot and to NAF to ask for a national debate on the teaching in schools of access laws and requesting that the Scottish Outdoor Access Code should be made a compulsory element of the Scottish school curriculum	CHAIR

WLC are presently looking for feedback via a survey administered by external consultants, Jacobs UK Ltd on behalf of West Lothian Council, and the Forum were encouraged to contribute the ongoing survey:  West Lothian Active Travel Plan Refresh (2023-28) - West Lothian Council  Active travel is primarily defined as making journeys by non-motorised means and the Council's Active Travel Plan aims to link people to places by active travel means.  The Scottish Government has ringfenced £320 million from the roads budget for Active Travel purposes across Scotland. West Lothian's share was £1million.  TC asked why the West Lothian share of the global Scottish Active Travel budget was not higher.  VM advised that the assessment process favoured urban areas although the Scottish Government had acknowledged this was unfair to rural councils and had indicated they intended to review the allocation criteria.  MH agreed that the assessment process prejudiced rural councils (when compared to urban schemes) as the distances involved in any rural scheme tended to be greater with fewer people directly benefitted.  SE also agreed that the budget allocation needed to be reviewed but that any money was welcomed to create new off-road schemes.  JS wished it noted that farmers with agricultural vehicles should not be forgotten and they should be consulted on any Active Travel proposals where this was appropriate. 11	Control of Dogs - Education  Dogs (Protection of Livestock) Act 1953 (legislation.gov.uk)  Responsible dog walking in Scotland flyer (nature.scot)  Dog training and resources   Scottish Outdoor Access Code (outdooraccess- scotland.scot)	MH raised his concern that dogs not under control and off lead have become an increasing problem in West Lothian.  Many dog owners do not recognise the damage their dog can do. MH argued that there should be a clear Scotland-wide message promoting responsible dog ownership and more effort focussed on educating dog owners on what they acting responsibly 'should do' rather than can do under the 2003 Act.  The Forum discussed whether more could be done to promote the responsible dog owner message using social media and also whether there was a need for changes in the law.  The Forum however acknowledged that stricter laws would be difficult to enforce and could result in more confrontation.  JS felt that the debate needed to extended beyond farmers and to include the need to keep dogs under control where there were nesting birds.  In summary, the Forum were of the view that this needed a wider debate and resolved that letters should be written to Scottish Government / NatureScot and to NAF asking for a national debate.	The Forum agreed that the Forum would write to the Scottish Government / Nature Scot and to NAF to seek a change in the law to tighten legislation and guidance the dogs under control legislation	CHAIR
