ONLINE FEEDBACK PROVIDED	Date received: 6th October 2026 Total cost of work: £644.02 Description of work: To replace damaged dry verge tiles on the roof. Comments: Having used the firm sometime ago, I contacted them for a quote. A survey team arrived within a couple of days and the resulting price was acceptable. The firm kept me informed throughout the process, and when the date for the job arrived, Jack and Andy were in good time. They cracked on with the job, explaining what they intended to do. There were no issues and I was pleased with the result. I have no problem recommending Taylor roofs.

ONLINE FEEDBACK PROVIDED	Date received: 15th September 2026 Total cost of work: £ 11500 Description of work: Chimneys need attention including new rendering, new barge boards, zinc ridges for whole house, replacing slates at required, leadwork, quite a few things needed attention to address what was on our home report when we bought a few years ago but was not as much as we expected. Comments: Multiple teams working at different times, each team just got on with things and communicated with each other and us in a professional and timely fashion. As part of the process we received multiple updates with photographs of how the works were progressing. Being in Scotland we experienced delays due to weather but the off-site team kept us informed of upcoming weather and when work would likely restart. Was confident in their abilities and easy to recommend to others.

ONLINE FEEDBACK PROVIDED

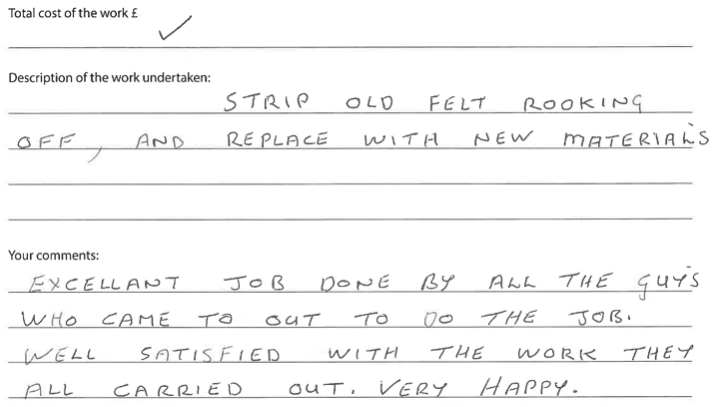

Date received: 20th June 2026

Total cost of work: £3096.86

Description of work: Rough casting our half of the chimney and new lead flashing, some minor tile repairs, cleaning the gutters. - They arrived and started working on the whole chimney not just our half and never asked the neighbour's for permission to use their garden for access. -Broke 6 ridge tiles which they then tried to repair with tiles that didn't fit and had no overlap between them. -They caused so much damage we asked them to stop before the tile repairs away from the chimney and ridge. -didn't tidy up

Comments: I was really disappointed with Taylor roofs. We selected them despite the higher prices due to the good reviews but I wouldn't use them again. - 2-3 day job took 1 month. - Had to complain to the CEO twice to get a reasonable standard of work done. - Roofers would turn up for an hour and leave, no updates from the office to explain the delays. - They were screaming at each other on the roof and arguing all the time. - Final roofer sent was good, but so much hassle and very over priced.
